Q. Have you any information, first hand, of refusals?
A. Why, the attorneys told us they were refused.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is hearsay.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Certain of those attorneys are here?
A. Yes sir.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: In the light of saving time, if those attorneys are here we will call them.
CHARLES UHL a witness called in behalf of the complainant being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. UHL you are a practicing member of the bar of Somerset County?
A. I am.
Q. Did you ever have occasion to ask for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company as guardian or other trustee before Judge Berkey?
A. I have.
Q. When?
A. On the 28th day of November, 1922, I presented the petition of the father of Mr. Miller McQuade asking for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company as the guardian of his minor child under fourteen years of age.
Q. Was there suggested the appointment of any particular trust company or person as guardian?
A. I said I asked for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company.
Q. Had you drawn up the usual form of order to that effect?
A. I had not drawn the order, Judge Berkey wrote out the order.
Q. Did you ask for that appointment in open court?
A. It was presented in open court on the first day of the court, as I recall it, and the paper was handed up to the Judge and later I was informed that the County Trust Company was appointed.

Q. Did you see the order since?
A. I have seen the order since. I saw it last Saturday, that is how I recall the date.
Q. Was there any conversation between Judge Berkey and yourself concerning the appointment?
A. None that I recall.
Q. Any statement made by him as to why the other trust company was not appointed instead?
A. None whatever.
Q. Have you had any other similar experience?
A. I don't recall of any similar experience, and this would probably escaped my mind if it had not been called to my attention.
Q. Have you any knowledge of any similar occasions while in court?
A. No, I don't think so.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. What was the amount of the estate, Mr. Uhl?
A. As I recall the paper, I looked at it Saturday evening, I think $1,100.
Q. $1,100. Have you had the Somerset Trust Company appointed trustee or guardian by Judge Berkey in any other case?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Since this time?
A. Some time during the fall of 1924, in the DiRenzo estate, I petitioned Judge Berkey for the appointment of guardian of four children, minor children. Three of them, as I recall it, under fourteen years of age, and one over fourteen years of age, in each instance asking for or suggesting as to three of them the Somerset Trust Company, and in the case of the other minor over fourteen we asked that the Somerset Trust Company be appointed by Judge Berkey.
Q. Any Question made about it?
A. I don't recall, I am not sure as to that. I believe I told Judge Berkey that the funds of this estate were in the Somerset Trust Company, but I am not sure as to that.
Q. How large was that estate?
A. That estate, I think, was $2,700 for each of the children; four children.
Q. Four children, something over $10,000 involved in that case?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And the one in which you say that the suggestion was made, and the appointment not made by Judge Berkey, that was handed up in motion court when there are a lot of papers handed to the Judge, is that right?
A. I presume so; it was the first day of the court when motions are presented of that character.

E. E. KIERNAN a witness called in behalf of the complainant being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. You are a member of the bar of Somerset County in active practice?
A. Yes sir.
Q. A member of the bar of Somerset County?
A. Yes.
Q. Were you concerned in the asking of the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company as guardian or trustee during the years of 1922 or 1921 by Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Do you recall any particular cases?
A. No, I got the subpoena to come here on Saturday afternoon, our court house being closed on Saturday afternoon, our officers resting that afternoon, I could not see the papers and I came down here early.
Q. Do you recall any instances?
A. I cannot recall the estate, but I recall the facts of my going before Judge Berkey with a petition asking for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company, having previously asked the Somerset Trust Company to act.
Q. What if anything happened when you asked Judge Berkey for that appointment?
A. Judge Berkey said he would not appoint the Somerset Trust Company but would appoint the County Trust Company.
Q. Had you prepared the petition for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company?
A. I actually cannot recall that, but I rather presume that I did.
Q. What is your best recollection as to it?
A. It must have been three years ago.
Q. Do you recall any similar circumstances or experiences of your own or fellow members of the bar?
A. Well, only the gossip of the bar.
Q. Were you present in court at any time when you observed any appointments?
A. Well, I know that the county trust company was appointed, frequently appointed.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Have you had any appointments made of the Somerset Trust Company?
A. Not since the time I was refused.
Q. Have you presented any petitions for the appointment of them since?
A. No, I always ask for the appointment of the County Trust.
Q. You always ask for the appointment of the County Trust Company?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. STADTLANDER:
Q. In the instance that you refer to was the Somerset Trust Company, in any way, related to your client in a fiduciary capacity either as administrator or executor?
A. No, my client asked for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company through some favorable impression of it evidently.
Q. Did the Somerset Trust Company have any funds belonging to your client in a fiduciary capacity?
A. That I cannot recall but rather think they did not have. It was a division of an estate and a guardian was to be appointed for some minor children.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. How old were the minors?
A. They were evidently over the age of fourteen years as they were not present in chambers.
Q. You mean they were under?
A. They were under the age of fourteen.
Q. Do you know the amount of the estate?
A. No, I don't recall. We don't have large estates in Somerset County, however.

By Mr. STADTLANDER:
Q. You were formerly a member of the bar at Pittsburgh, were you not?
A. Yes sir.
Q. We have larger estates out there, is that the idea?
A. Well there are some, but I never met those people.

B. B. BOOSE recalled.
DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. Boose, you testified before that you are a member of the bar of Somerset County?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Had you occasion to ask for the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company from Judge Berkey as trustee or as guardian.
A. I had, sir.
Q. What was your experience?
A. Judge Berkey said that, to use his words as nearly as I can, he will not appoint the Somerset Trust Company but he will appoint the County Trust Company.
Q. When was this?
A. Possibly two and one-half years ago.
Q. What appointment was it, guardianship?
A. Guardianship.
Q. Was any reason given?
A. No.
Q. Were the minors over the age or under the age of fourteen?
A. It is my recollection that they were under the age of fourteen, as I cannot recall that they were in the court at that time.
Q. Is that the only experience of that character?
A. That is the only one, sir.

Q. Do you have any personal knowledge or any similar experience by being present in court?
A. No, I have never witnessed any.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Do you know the rate of interest paid by the Somerset Trust Company?
A. You mean on trust funds?
Q. On trust funds.
A. I have heard Judge Berkey say several times that he holds all fiduciaries to the payment of six percent.
Q. I am asking you whether or not—
A. It is my recollection that that is the rate of interest they all pay.
Q. Do you know that they pay a lower rate than the County Trust Company?
A. No, they don't.
Q. Do you know that as a fact?
A. Not more than I stated, I heard Judge Berkey say that he holds them all to the same rate of interest.
Q. You had one case where the Judge refused to make the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company? Have you ever had them appointed at any other time?
A. Yes, I have had the Somerset Trust Company appointed guardian since.
Q. How many times?
A. Only one that I can recall, the Henbach case.
Q. When was that?
A. Within the last year.
Q. By whom was that appointment made?
A. By Judge Berkey?
Q. It was made by Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. How many members of your bar actually practice in the Courts of Somerset County?
A. I would have to guess, Mr. Ludlow, I would say about 25.

By Mr. STADTLANDER:
Q. Was there any relation between your client and the Somerset Trust Company in a fiduciary capacity.
A. No sir.

RUFUS F. MEYERS, a witness called in behalf of the complainants, being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. Meyers, you are a member of the bar of Somerset County?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And in active practice?
A. Reasonably so.
Q. Willing to be more active?
A. Yes, indeed.
Q. Are you connected with any of the trust companies in Somerset?
A. Yes sir.
Q. With which one?
A. The County Trust Company.
Q. Did you have any conversation with Judge Berkey concerning trust company business?
A. I have had, yes.
Q. When?
A. Well, I hardly know what conversation you allude to.
Q. You know better than I do, Mr. Meyers. Did you have any about the time that certain bonds were being offered and notes given to the street railway company.
A. I think I know what you want to prove, because Mr. Kooser told me. I had a conversation with Judge Berkey three or four years ago. I am attorney for the County Trust Company, and they directed me to get a financial statement, I believe, from Judge Berkey and A. Kent Miller; the board of directors directed me to do so. I went to Judge Berkey and asked him for that statement and he didn't like it very well, and he said, our institution was the only institution in the county that asked for a financial statement out of the twenty-five he had done business with. He said he was being annoyed by our institution, by some of them, and that if we did not quit annoying him he would start another, and would take the patronage away from us, start another trust company and turn the fiduciary funds over to them. He said we were a large beneficiary because of patronage.
Q. Any other suggestion as to forming a new institution in town?
A. Not that I recall. He said he would take the patronage away from us.
Q. Does the name "Windber" suggest anything to you?
A. Well, I don't recall whether he said anything about that or not. I repeated this back to the board of directors when I took the statement in to them, and they asked me what the Judge had said, and I told them the conversation. I think it was pretty small business to leak out of that corporation's secret meetings.
Q. At that time the corporation had enjoyed the patronage of Judge Berkey?
A. Our corporation?
Q. Yes.
A. It had along with the other two trust companies in the county. There are three trust companies in the county, and I am vice-president and attorney for one of them, the County Trust Company.
Q. Did your county trust company take in the $35,000 of notes, which Mr. Wagner testified about?
A. No. We never had a bond or stock of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company to my best knowledge.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Who are the board of directors of your company?
A. Just at this time, I think we have thirteen; Senator John S. Miller, and I see there, across the way, is one of them, A. Kent Miller, his cousin, I, myself, I name myself early, so I don't forget myself, and let me see; J. B. Davis, of Ursina, Josiah Specht, of Stoyestown, John W. Lambert, of Lambertville, Captain C. J. Harrison, our president, C. J. Harrison, Jr., Milton J. Pritts, the other vice-president, William H. Cantner, of Somerset, John H. Beards, of Somerset, and Paul L. Casebeer, of Somerset, and Jerome Stuft. Did I name thirteen?
Q. You are a cousin Mr. Meyers, of Mr. Kooser?
A. Yes, a second cousin.
Q. You have not received any special favor of the Somerset County court?
A. My bank?
Q. Yes sir.
A. No sir, I don't think so, my bank or me?
Q. Your bank?
A. I don't think our bank did, no sir. I know Judge Berkey appointed three of the trust companies and I never kept a schedule of the amount given to each one.
Q. Mr. Meyers, those notes that were in question, that were the result of this conversation, did you state you had called on Judge Berkey with any notes in connection with the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company?
A. I don't recall.
Q. Were they not relative to the sale of a house?
A. There were several notes, there, overdue at the time of which Judge Berkey was not the maker and I was instructed to call upon him and Kent Miller to get a definite statement of the assets and liabilities and to check the same up with the deed records and valuations, and so forth, liens, and report back to the board.

CHARLES R. McMILLAN re-called.

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. McMillan, where do you live?
A. Confluence, Somerset County.
Q. Do you know Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you have any conversation with Judge Berkey about the purchase of bonds of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?
A. Yes sir, I did.
Q. Where was that conversation?
A. In Somerset.
Q. And when was it?
A. That was after I purchased the bonds. I had no conversation with him, that is before I subscribed for the bonds, I mean to say.

Q. First, did you receive a letter from Judge Berkey concerning these bonds about the 9th day of September, 1921?

A. I did. But previous to that in July one of his salesman called upon me to purchase bonds and I refused to purchase telling him I had no money to put in bonds. I turned him down and he went away. Some time after that, probably a week after that, I am not sure as to the time, the second man came back with a letter, several letters, in fact one letter was directed to me. He had a bunch of letters from banks and I think he had one from the Addison bank recommending the purchase of these bonds, and a letter from Judge Berkey directed to me stating that he was sending his personal representative to me to see me, that he would gladly call upon me himself, but his official duties required him to stay there, and his personal representative would explain to me how I might purchase these bonds at no serious or great obligation. I don't know exactly how it was expressed, but without any great obligation upon myself, and his explanation was that I would not need to pay for those bonds, that those bonds were to be taken over by the Equitable Trust Company of New York, and all that I would need to do would be to give my notes to the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company and those notes would be taken over later by the Equitable Trust Company of New York.

Q. Do you have this personal letter of Judge Berkey's?

A. I don't have that letter. That letter the agent took with him. I have two letters that you have there that I got in at a later date. This first letter I don't have.

Q. First, Mr. McMillan, I show you a four page prospectus marked exhibit No. 43, and ask you whether you saw this?

A. Yes I did. I saw that, I received it before any of his agents called upon me.

Mr. GEYER: I offer in evidence this prospectus marked exhibit No. 43.

The CHAIRMAN: Has the other side seen it.

Mr. GEYER: You know what this is, don't you?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Yes sir.

Mr. GEYER: I offer this in evidence without reading at this time the entire prospectus. If your honors care to look at it, I will hand it to you. Certain matters in it will be referred to later.

The CHAIRMAN: What is your desire in regard to the making up of the record. Do you want the entire exhibit copied into the record.

Mr. GEYER: I think we probably better have it.

(Announcement of Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, dated July 30, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 44).

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. I show you a circular letter marked exhibit No. 44, an announcement, did you receive one of those?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And at or about that time?

A. Yes, I think I received those two together.

(Form letter of the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 45).

Q. I show you a form letter of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company marked exhibit No. 45, on this form being addressed to you and ask whether you received a letter like that?

A. On that form?

Q. Look on the body of the letter and see whether you received a letter like that?

A. I am not sure that I received that kind of a letter. I might have but I am not sure.

Q. Don't tell us unless you are certain.

A. I have two letters there that I received.

Q. They are personal ones?

A. Yes, but I am not sure whether I received a letter like that or not.

Q. I show you a letter dated August 10, 1921, a form letter of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company and ask you whether you received a letter on that form?

Mr. GEYER: While he is reading that I will offer in evidence exhibit No. 44, being the prospectus, and the announcement which the witness said he received, being exhibit No. 45.

Mr. WITKIN: Did he say who he got it from, or how did he get it. He just stated he received it, he didn't say from whom he received it.

Mr. GEYER: I think we may assume that.

Mr. STADTLANDER: You have not proved that Judge Berkey signed this.

Mr. GEYER: Pardon me, they are all signed by Judge Berkey.

Mr. STADTLANDER: You have not proved that they come from Judge Berkey at all.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Do you recall it?

A. I recall receiving that letter.

(Form letter of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company, dated August 10th, 1921, produced and marked complainant's exhibit No. 46).

Q. You received exhibit No. 46. Now, Mr. McMillan, are you familiar with the handwriting of Judge Berkey?

A. Yes sir.

Q. How did you receive these circulars and announcement?

A. By mail.

Q. Addressed to you?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Look at exhibit No. 43, and tell us whether the fac simile signature at the end of the communication is in the handwriting of Judge Berkey?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I object to that, because it is a printed signature, it is a form signature, and there is no proof here that Judge Berkey authorized it, or had anything to do with it.

Mr. GEYER: I certainly assume that when a paper comes through the mail from a company, signed with a fac simile signature, it is prima facia evidence that the man sent it.

The WITNESS: That is a fac simile of his signature I would say that.

(Discussion off the record).

The CHAIRMAN: The committee can consider that for what it is worth; if he can testify it is his fac simile signature, if you can prove that he put it there we would accept it for what it was worth.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. I show you exhibit 44, which purports to be a fac simile signature of J. A. Berkey, do you recognize that as a fac simile of his signature?

A. I do.

Q. In like manner, do you recognize the fac simile of his signature to exhibit No. 46?

Mr. BIDLESPACHER: Have those papers been introduced?

Mr. GEYER: Exhibit 46 is the letter dated August 10, 1921, the announcement which is 44, is dated July 30, 1921, and the larger circular is dated June 30, 1921.

(Form letter of the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company dated September 9, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 47)

Q. I show you exhibit marked 47 being a letter to you under date of September 9, 1921, signed with pen with the name of J. A. Berkey. Do you recognize that as Judge Berkey's signature?

A. Yes sir, I do.

Q. Mr. McMillan, you stated that the agent first produced a letter to you from Judge Berkey, of which you have given us your best recollection of its contents?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What did he represent as the plan?

A. That first letter?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, you mean the agent, what did the agent say?

Q. Yes?

A. He represented that I could purchase these bonds by giving my notes—

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Now, that is mere hearsay.

Mr. GEYER: But the gentleman overlook a communication from Judge Berkey to this man in the first instance.

Mr. BIDLESPACHER: What transpired between this man and the agent I don't think has any bearing.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Will you state again, Mr. McMillan, what the letter was which the agent brought to you from Judge Berkey?

A. The letter stated that—

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The letter speaks for itself.

Mr. GEYER: He says he lost it.

The WITNESS: This is another letter.

Mr. GEYER: This is the first letter that he lost.

The WITNESS: That letter is dated some time in September and the letter I am speaking of is in July. This leter was something like this, that he was unable to come and see me himself and was sending his personal representative and he would explain to me how these bonds might be purchased without any obligation upon myself. His personal representative explained that I could take those bonds by giving my notes and that they would be taken over by the Equitable Trust Company, and that the notes would never need be paid and if I subscribed for the bonds in that amount that I was never to pay the notes, while I was to receive the bonds. He said that Judge Berkey wanted to favor his friends in Somerset County by giving them this stock.

Q. What proportion of stock did you get?

A. Fifty percent.

Q. Of your bonds, common stock of this company?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What was the amount of bonds for which you subscribed?

A. $5,000.

Q. Did you give a note or notes?

A. I did.

Q. What, if anything, was said about discounting them?

A. The notes were not to be discounted in any bank.

Q. What form of notes were they?

A. These notes were just promissory notes. They were not judgment, the first notes given, is my recollection.

Q. Did you go to see Judge Berkey about this matter?

A. Yes, I did after subscribing for the second lot. I didn't see Judge Berkey until after having subscribed for the second $5,000.

Q. I show you letter marked exhibit No. 47, dated September 9, will you tell us whether you received that letter before you went to see Judge Berkey or afterwards?

A. I received this before I saw him.

Q. State whether or not it was before you subscribed for the second $5,000.

A. It was before I subscribed for the second $5,000.

Mr. GEYER: We offer this letter in evidence and I ask permission to read it. It is on the stationery of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company. First, Hon. John A. Berkey, Somerset, President, President Judge, 16th Judicial District of Pennsylvania, ex-Banking Commissioner of Penn'a, with a notation of other directors and officers. Authorized capital $1,500,000, trustee: Equitable Trust Company, New York Executive office Vannear Hotel, "Somerset, Pa., September 9, 1921. Mr. Charles R. McMillan, Confluence Pa. My dear Mr. McMillen: I was very much gratified to learn through Mr. Kirshbaum, my personal representative, your kind expressions and enthusiasm regarding the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company. We are glad to state of the wonderful progress so far and trust it will not be far off when we can prove our enthusiasm to be assured, both as to the road's absolute necessity in Somerset County, and its financial returns. I would esteem it a very great favor if you will assist Mr. Kirshbaum all you can in your vicinity to close what little is left of our bond issue. Thanking you in advance and with kind personal regards, I am

Very truly yours,
Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company.

Per (Signed) J. A. Berkey,
President.

P. S. I would like you very much to qualify on our Board of Directors before the issue is closed out this week."

Q. What happened after you received that letter, Mr. McMillan?

A. I subscribed for another $5,000 of the bonds.

Q. And what did you give?

A. I gave three notes.

Q. In what amounts?

A. One $2,500, and two of $1,250 each.

Q. Did you see Judge Berkey thereafter about this?

A. I did.

Q. When?

A. Well, I cannot exactly state the date but it was not long after that till I went to Somerset and went to see him.

Q. Where did you see him?

A. I saw him in his chamber.

Q. In the court house?

A. In the court house, yes.

Q. What conversation took place between you?

A. I told him about having subscribed for those bonds and what representations these agents had made to me.

Q. Just tell us what you told him the agents had represented?

A. That the agents had represented to me that I would not need pay for these bonds, and that the notes would be held by the—

Q. Equitable Trust Company?

A. Or held by the Johnstown or Somerset Railway Company, and that I would not need to pay for the bonds and that all I would need would be pay the interest on the notes while they held them, and at a later day the Equitable Trust Company of New York would take over all of these bonds. Judge Berkey told me that he was not sure that the Equitable Trust Company would take care of all of these bonds. He said, "In your case it does not make any difference whether the Equitable Trust Company takes them or not. Your bonds will be resold and your notes returned to you, and he would guarantee me that." I told him that I was getting a little uneasy about the affair, that these representations were made to me in that way, and that I didn't have any money to invest in the bonds and was only taking them under those conditions and he assured me that I would not need to pay for the bonds, and the notes would be returned to me.

Q. Did you have any later conversation with Judge Berkey about it?

A. I did, I had quite a number of conversations afterwards.

Q. What was the next occasion, Mr. McMillan?

A. I have had so many conversations with him it is pretty hard, I did not keep any date of my conversation, not all of them and I don't know just when I did talk to him the next time.

Q. In the meantime what had become of your notes?

A. Well, the notes when the six months was due, C. C. Smucker was sent to me to have the notes renewed, I think that was some time in March, 1922, about the 12th of March, and I explained to Mr. Smucker that those notes were not to be paid, that the bonds were to be resold or taken over by the Equitable Trust Company, and I objected to renewing the notes. He asked me who I had this agreement with and I told him with J. A. Berkey, Judge Berkey, and Mr. Smucker said, if I had that arrangement that was all right but he insisted on a renewal of the notes, so I renewed the notes with that understanding, that they were not to be collected or were not to be discounted in any bank, but afterwards the notes, or a number of the notes, were discounted, a part of the notes were discounted, and $2,500 was issued upon at a later date. After the first note, there was, I am not sure whether it was $2,500 or the $1,250 note, that was entered by the Boswell Bank, and I went to Judge Berkey and objected to its entry and telling him that he was to take care of this matter, and why those notes had been entered, or just one note was entered before the other, and he promised me then that he would see C. C. Smucker and have him strike that off the record, he would get that off the record. He never got it off the record; instead of that, there was another one put on the record.

(Letter signed by Charles R. McMillan on judicial stationery of John A. Berkey, dated July 20, 1922, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 48)

Q. I show you a letter dated July 20, 1922, signed by yourself, but written on the stationery, the official stationery of Judge Berkey, and ask you whether you wrote that letter?

A. I did, I wrote that letter.

Q. Where were you when you wrote it?

A. I was in the Judge's Chambers in the court house at Somerset.

Q. How did you come to write that letter?

A. I wrote it as his dictation and from his promise that he would take care of this Boswell Bank situation, and before its next due date the $3,750 would be taken care of.

Q. You said Judge Berkey dictated this letter to you?

A. Yes, and I wrote it.

Q. And you then wrote it and signed it?

A. I wrote it as he dictated it to me.

The CHAIRMAN: How is that letter evidence? Who is this letter to?

Mr GEYER: The cashier of the bank.

The CHAIRMAN: Is there a name given, I didn't catch it?

Mr. GEYER: We offer this letter in evidence to J. L. Brant, Boswell, Penna., "Dear Sir:— After consultation with Judge Berkey to-day I beg to advise you it will be satisfactory to me for you to discount my notes to the Johnstown and Somerset Ry. Co., referred to in your letter of of July 1, 1922. As the consideration for which the notes were given is satisfactory to me. Very truly yours, Charles B. McMillan."

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Did you then renew the notes?

A. No sir, they were entered.

Q. Did you have any later conversation with Judge Berkey about taking up those notes?

A. You mean after that letter was written?

Q. Yes.

A. I did.

Q. Where?

A. That was in Somerset.

Q. What was the conversation?

A. Well he promised to pay off these notes at the Boswell Bank, and he said that he had parties out, Smucker, I think he said, and Josiah Specht, to pay off that Boswell Bank note of $3,750. Then again, at another time, I cannot give the dates just when I talked to him, but it was after this letter was written, he said that there was a party in the north of the county that owned them $700, and that he was going to see this party and have a renewal of that $7,000 note, he would take up two notes, he would get one for the right amount to pay off the Boswell bank. I suggested to him that he get that done, and he said that the Boswell bank would take it. I suggested that he get it done, and if the Boswell Bank didn't take the paper which he claimed was perfectly good, to turn it over to me and I would raise the money on it, but he never got the paper.

(Letter signed J. A. Berkey, on official stationery without a date, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 49)

Q. I show you a letter marked exhibit No. 49, signed J. A. Berkey, do you recognize that as Judge Berkey's signature?

A. Yes, I do.

Q. And the whole letter is in his handwriting?

A. Yes, all in his handwriting.

Q. Mr. McMillan, can you tell us about when you received that?

A. I see I made a notation of the time mailed at Somerset, April 30, 1923.

Q. From what did you get that information you noted on the bottom?

A. Why I got that off the date of the envelope.

Q. Have you the envelope?

A. No, I have not. "Mailed at Somerset, April 30, 1923." I probably got it the next day.

By The CHAIRMAN:

Q. Of what year, April 30th?

A. 1923.

Mr. GEYER: I offer in evidence this exhibit No. 49 "Dear sir, Please date above note, sign and mail with your check direct to Boswell-bank wants prompt return—you have the due date—when you are at Somerset call to see me. Yours truly J. A. Berkey."

(Letter signed J. A. Berkey on judicial stationery dated November 18, 1924, produced and marked complainants exhibit 49 A)

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Have you, Mr. McMillan, a letter dated November 18, 1924, marked exhibit 49 A on the official stationery of Judge Berkey addressed to "Dear Mr. McMillan" purporting to be signed by J. A. Berkey. Is that his genuine signature?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And the letter in his handwriting?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Can you tell whether you received it about that date?

A. November 18, yes I received this about that day or probably the next day, November 19.

Mr. GEYER: We offer in evidence letter dated November 18, on the official stationery of Judge Berkey, addressed to "Dear Mr. McMillan. I have just learned counsel for the Boswell bank have ordered real estate advertisement in your matter. I am doing all I can to arrange as we suggested to Mr. Uhl. I shall be away all week after noon Wednesday, endeavoring to give you my assistance I hope I shall succeed. Yours truly, J. A. Berkey."

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. There is a reference here, "As we suggested to Mr. Uhl", what was that, Mr. McMillan?

A. That day I was there he says it was the last day for advertising and he went with me down to see Mr. Uhl, who is attorney for the Boswell bank, and he suggested that he would pay the Boswell bank at the rate of $500 a month, $500 in November, and $500 a month thereafter to pay this $3,750.

Q. How does it come to be the amount of $3,750?

A. Why, there is a $2,500 and a $1,250 note.

Q. What were the total notes which you had given?

A. I had given $10,000.

Q. Yes.

A. There was $3,750 returned to me.

Q. Yes.

A. And I returned the bond.

Q. Then that left $6,250 and $2,500 of that amount was placed in the Addison bank and $3750 placed in the Boswell Bank. Will you tell the gentlemen the circumstances under which the $3,750 of your notes was returned to you?

A. Well, I say he had promised to take care of the latter situation, so to speak, and all of those bonds were to be resold and the notes all returned to me, and I was urging on him to do so. That was done in his chambers at Somerset, and he went to the desk and he said "I believe I got your notes here," and he gave me $3,750 of the notes.

Q. And what did you do?

A. He didn't give them to me that day, I think he told me to return with the bonds and he would give them to me, that is my recollection. It is a little dim in my memory as regards to that. Anyway, $3,750 of the notes were returned to me and I returned the bonds to him, but I only returned $3,500, there was one bond that he made a notation on.

Q. One of your bonds?

A. One of the bonds, yes sir. I will put my glasses on, I will read it.

Q. Yes.

A. "One-half of this bond belongs to the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company." I put my initials below.

(Bond No. 1600 for $500 of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company produced and marked exhibit No. 50).

Mr. GEYER: I do not want to offer this bond in evidence, I just want to read the notation into the record.

I offer in evidence notation contained in bond No. 1600 for $500 of the Johnstown and Somerset Railroad Company.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Mr. McMillan, the notation in pencil at the top is that in the handwriting of Judge Berkey?

A. Yes it is in the handwriting of Judge Berkey. The initials are in my handwriting.

Q. Will you read what Judge Berkey?

A. "Due the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company one-half of this bond." It is almost rubbed out there.

Q. And below the "C. R. Mc." are your initials?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And the Judge left it in your possession?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What happened next, Mr. McMillan?

A. I don't know just where we are at?

Q. You were down to the time where you got $3,750 back, $3,750 of your note and you had passed on to the time when the sheriff's sale was advertised on your property. Was there a sheriff's sale on your property?

A. No, there was no sheriff's sale.

Q. What happened?

A. I instituted proceedings, entered—

Q. Entered a defense?

A. Yes sir a defense.

Q. To the judgment?

A. Yes sir, asked for an opening of the judgment, presented a petition to court to open judgment and stay the writ.

Q. What Judge heard that matter?

A. Judge Langham.

Q. You spoke originally of having given promissory notes; how did there come to be judgment notes?

A. When the notes were renewed, a judgment was given.

Q. Who filled out the judgment notes?
A. They were filled out by C. C. Smucker.
Q. And on how many of these notes has judgment been entered?
A. Well the Boswell bank has entered on two notes, one of $2,500 and one for $1,250, and the Addison bank has entered a $2,500, or probably it may be two notes for $1,250 each, I am not sure, anyhow it is $2,500.
Q. Is your litigation with both banks?
A. No, just with one bank.
Q. What about the bank with the $2,500 note?
A. They have not issued on me.
Q. Simply entered?
A. Yes sir.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. You say you bought $5,000 worth of bonds in the first instance, but up to that time you had not seen Judge Berkey?
A. I subscribed for them—
Q. You subscribed for a second $5,000 before you saw Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. You never had any conversation with him about it?
A. No sir.
Q. You subscribed for the second $5,000 before you had a second conversation with Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Have you paid any of those notes?
A. No.
Q. Not paid anything on account of any of them?
A. I paid $250 on account of the Boswell bank note.
Q. You paid $250 on account of the Boswell bank note?
A. Yes sir, or tried to get Judge Berkey to pay it; he agreed to take care of it.
Q. Why did you pay it?
A. I paid it at that time because of a threatened issue, and I believed that he would take care of it, I believed the Judge would take care of the situation.
Q. Were you depending upon the promise that they would be held by the Equitable Trust Company?
A. I was depending upon Judge Berkey's promise.
Q. Then you were not depending upon any statement made to you that those notes would be held by the Equitable Trust Company and returned to you?
A. I don't get you exactly right, there?
Q. I understood you to say in your examination-in-chief, that you had given those notes with the understanding that the notes were to be held by the Equitable Trust Company, and at the completion of the road you were to return the bonds and they were to return the notes?
A. The notes were to be held by the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, or Judge Berkey, or the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?
Q. And not negotiated?
A. Not negotiated.
Q. Then if that were true, why did you pay $250 on account of this note?
A. I paid simply because Judge Berkey promised he was making promises to me, and I was getting in deeper water all the time and I was trying to keep the matter from being issued upon thinking that he would make his word good at some time, but so far he has not made his word good.
Q. Then you were not relying on any promises that they were to be kept, that was your defense to the notes?
A. I was relying on promises he made to me.
Q. Anything else to be paid?
A. Sir?
Q. Anything else to be paid?
A. Yes, I paid some interest.
Q. And you kept on paying interest on account of the notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. All of the notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. If you were not to be charged with the payment of any interest, and the notes were simply an accommodation, why did you pay interest on acount of all of those notes?
A. I paid that after they got into the hands of the bank to avoid them pushing the case.
Q. You paid that to avoid pushing the case?
A. Yes, thinking that the Judge would make his word good.
Q. You consented to the negotiation of those notes, didn't you?
A. I did at a later date by that letter.
Q. And you agreed that the notes should be discounted?
A. That was the first time I did agree.
Q. How long was that after you had them?
A. Let us see-that letter was written July 20, 1922, I think.
Q. When was this execution issued against you?
A. That was issued some time in 1924.
Q. So that two years before any notes were entered or an execution issued against you, you directed your letter to the bank at Boswell asking them to discount this paper?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And that in light of the promise you say that was made you that there was not to be any negotiating of the paper, but was to be held by the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway, in their custody, and that after the road was finished—
A. That was the original agreement, yes.
Q. Then yau varied the original agreement didn't you?
A. Yes we varied the original agreement.
Q. And agreed that the note should be negotiated?
A. Yes, I did—I agreed to that, and further than that I made an offer to Judge Berkey to pay for $2,500 of those bonds, and would poy for them if he took care of $3,750.
Q. So that you endeavored to deal a settlement of your liability on the bonds with Judge Berkey, is that it?
A. I was trying to settle with Judge Berkey because he had agreed in the beginning to take care of it.
Q. When you got $3,750 returned to you, you made that credit on the $500 bond that $250 of it belonged to the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company, did you not?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Thereby indicating that you claimed ownership in the other half of it?
A. Well I don't claim to own any of the bonds in reality.
Q. You held the bonds?
A. I had them in there and I put my initials on one of them.
Q. Yes, you put your initials on it, did you surrender any of those bonds, outside of the $3,500?
A. No sir.
Q. You were not willing to surrender the $500 bond but wanted Judge Berkey to make a note of it that you were entitled to credit for the half, $250?
A. I offered to return all of the bonds.
Q. Yes, but when your offer was not accepted, you held the bonds with the notation in your handwriting that there was $250 belonging to the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company, is that so?
A. That is the way it appears on the bond.
Q. You hold every one of those bonds to-day, don't you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And have not made any effort to return them to anybody?
A. I did make an effort to return them.
Q. When?
A. I made an offer to Judge Berkey several times in 1921 and also in 1922.
Q. When did you make this offer to compromise on $2,500?
A. That was about July 20, 1922.
Q. 1922, and this litigation started in 1924?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What time in 1924, in December?
A. I don't know, just when it started, exactly, but it was about the middle of November.
Q. The sale was advertised for December 9?
A. Yes, for December.

Q. You say Judge Berkey made an offer that he would pay Mr. Uhl at the rate of $500 to pay these notes?

A. Yes. I then went to see Judge Berkey, after Uhl said that I went up to see the Judge and the Judge said that Uhl said that he would take the responsibility of accepting or staying the writ, and not advertising if there was $500 paid that day and I went to see the Judge up in his chamber.

Q. When was it that the Judge said he would pay at the rate of $500 a month?

A. That was that same day.

Q. Isn't it a fact that Mr. Uhl said to you if you would pay $600 on account of the note he would stay the writ?
A. No sir.
Q. You are sure of that?
A. I am.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is all.
The CHAIRMAN: We will now take recess until 7:30 o'clock this evening.

EVENING SESSION.

And now, the hour of 7:30 o'clock P. M., having arrived the committee met pursuant to adjournment.
Members of Committee present.
Chairman MARSHALL presiding.

CHARLES R. McMILLAN—re-called.

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
(Letter signed by J. A. Berkey on stationery of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, form letter, dated September 10, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 51)
Q. Mr. McMillan, you have testified that you were familiar with Judge Berkey's signature. I show you a letter dated September 10, 1921, addressed to Charles R. McMillan, containing the signature of John A. Berkey, is that his genuine signature?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you receive this letter on or about September 10, 1921?
A. I did.
Mr. GEYER: I offer in evidence this letter dated September 10, 1921, addressed to Mr. Charles R. McMillan, Confluence, Penna., signed by Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, per J. A. Berkey, president: "My dear Mr. McMillan: I want to thank you for your kind expression and sentiments conveyed to my representative Mr. A. M. Kirshbaum, who reported to me that he had a very pleasant interview with you, and to assure you that same is appreciated by me.
"I would call over and see you personally but my official and other duties make it imperative that I send my representatives personally to thank you and my other friends for their loyal support in one of the biggest enterprises ever put through in Somerset County. It is such men as yourself, whom I can depend upon, and no doubt you are aware that you have been placed upon the Board of Governors as one of the Founders of the Road, which in my opinion will be one of the best dividend payers when completed than any line of its size in the United States.
"We are completing the Board of Directors which will consist of ten of the most prominent and influential citizens, and among my most loyal supporters, and I am taking the liberty of extending to you my personal invitation to qualify as a member of this board, and to represent me in your section, as to the governing of the road. My representative will explain to you in detail just how your acceptance will be taken care of, which I assure you will in no way discommode or inconvenience you in the least as I want your advice and assistance on matters which will be of mutual benefit to us both.
"Again thanking you for your loyalty and kind expressions toward myself and trusting that you will close and accept the Directorship with my representative, as it is very important that I complete the board at once, I am with kind personal regards, very truly yours, Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, per J. A. Berkey, President. I hereby accept the above."
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: What is the date of that letter?
Mr. GEYER: September 10, 1921.

NO CROSS EXAMINATION.

ANDREW COUGHENOUR, a witness produced in behalf of the complainant, having been duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Where do you live?
A. Addison Township, Somerset County.
Q. What is your business?
A. Farmer.
Q. What?
A. Farmer.
Q. Did you buy any of the bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company in 1921?
A. Yes sir.
Q. From whom?
A. A man by the name of Lawlor, I think it is.
Q. Did you have any conversation or communication with Judge Berkey about it?
A. Not at that time I got this railroad stock, no, but after the fellow came there the second time I told him I would not buy that stuff off of him, and he insisted pretty hard but I told him if I wanted to buy any of it, I would buy it off of Judge Berkey, if he convinced me it was all right. I told him if I wanted any of that stock I would see Judge Berkey and if he would convince me that the stuff was all right I would buy it off of him. That seemed to satisfy the fellow and he went away, and then in about a week he came back with a letter from Judge Berkey and it explained to me that this man represents.
Q. Have you that letter?
A. No sir.
Q. What became of it afterwards?
A. Well,—
Q. Explain the circumstances, who got the letter from you?
A. The agent Mr. Lawlor.
Q. Will you tell us what the letter was?
A. Well, I can repeat a good deal of it, not all, right smart of the letter, I can repeat nearly all of it.
Q. Will you give us as much as you can recall.
A. Stating that this man represented him, and whatever he said, the agent said, means me—John A. Berkey, and I should not be afraid to sign up for these notes, that they would not ask me to pay these notes, that they would be taken care of by the Equitable Trust Company later on.
Q. What did this man Lawlor tell you about the Equitable Trust Company?
A. Well, he told me so much I could not tell you near all, but he said that they would take this road over and pay these claims, they wanted to use these notes as credit, he said, to buy material to build the road.
Q. What if anything did he say about the engineers of the Equitable Trust Company?
A. I don't remember that he told me anything about the engineers.
Q. What did he say about the cost of building the road?
A. I can't remember, he told me quite a lot of stuff, I don't remember just whether he told me anything about the cost of the road or not.
Q. What if anything did he say about your paying the bonds?
A. He said I never would be asked to pay for those notes, he assured me of that. Well, I didn't believe him at the time, but after I got Judge Berkey's letter, I began to think it was all right.
Q. Did you sign a note for them?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In what amount?
A. $5,000.
Q. Did he give you any agreement at the time as to signing the note?
A. Well, before I did sign he guaranteed me that I would not have to pay these notes, that if I didn't want them, he would recall them. I asked him if he would give me an agreement to that effect, and he said he would, and he wrote one out.
Q. Did he leave the agreement with you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What happened next?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Did he say he brought that agreement with him?
Mr. GEYER: No, he said the agent left it with him. We will come to what became of it afterwards.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. What happened next?
A. Well, after I signed those notes, of course, on the strength of the letter and the agreement, I signed the notes, and as soon as he reached for the notes, after signing them he grabbed the letter and I objected, and told him I signed those notes on the strength of that, and I wanted it.

Q. Which letter do you mean?

A. The letter from Mr. Berkey. He said he could not let me have that letter, that it would be on record at Somerset and I could see it any time I wanted it but he could not let me have it and he went off with it.

Q. What happened after that?

A. Some time after that I went to Somerset and I went in to see Mr. Berkey.

Q. Yes, where?

A. In his chamber, and I told him about the circumstances, and he seemed to be very much surprised about an agreement and asked me to show it to him. I did and he looked over it and then he called his business manager to come in, Mr. Cohen, I think, and he came up there and they had a consultation, and then Mr. Berkey went away some where and left Mr. Cohen and me in his court for him to fix matters up. Mr. Cohen asked me to go down to his office and he would give me a copy of this agreement. I objected to that and I told him he could copy it but I didn't propose for me to take the copy he could have the copy. We went down to his office and he took me into his office and gave me a chair and told me, "Just sit down a minute. I want to go outside and speak to some parties just a minute or two." I never saw him since that nor the agreement either.

Q. Where, Mr. Coughnour, did you meet Judge Berkey, in what office?

A. In Judge Berkey's private office.

Q. In the court house?

A. Yes sir.

Q. When you say you went to another office, was that in another building?

A. That was down in the hotel, the hotel Vannear, I believe.

Q. What became of the notes?

A. Why, I paid them.

Q. When?

A. Why, I paid one, $2,500, I think in 1923, as near as I can recollect, and I paid the other one this last January a year ago, I believe I just finished the payments the first of this year.

Q. Mr. Coughnour, were you shown this exhibit 43, "The Road to Revenue."

A. Why, I don't recollect that,—oh, yes, I had papers of that kind down there.

Q. How did you get this?

A. That was mailed to me.

Q. And did you receive any other letters from the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company about these bonds?

A. I had different letters from Judge Berkey. I think one or two, I am not certain, I don't just remember. It was concerning the bonds, after I bought this stuff but I remember having a couple of letters from him.

Q. Before you paid these notes did you discuss the matter with Judge Berkey?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What did you say to him?

A. Well I said a good deal, among some of the things, before I paid I clipped those coupons for a year and asked him to take care of them, that I thought I was entitled to that interest for credit on those notes, and he did agree with me that I was entitled to it and agreed to take care of that part of it but he never did.

Q. When you say you said a great deal, what do you mean?

A. Oh, about the paying of those notes. I called on him two or three times that I had known of and he always made me believe that, leave that matter to him, he will straighten that out with the sheriff. But I finally did get him and I agreed to let that to him and he agreed that I would not be sheriffed on those notes, but they finally did send the sheriff on me.

Q. They finally did send the sheriff and then you did pay up?

A. This last $2,500.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. You have that agreement?

A. No sir, they took it from me.

Q. The one the agent gave you?

A. No sir, I have not got it.

Q. When did he take it from you?

A. When I went down to the Vannear hotel.

Q. How long after you got it?

A. Oh, I could not say how long; it must have been two or three months, I suppose.

Q. Two or three months?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Before you went in to see Judge Berkey about it; did you show it to Judge Berkey?

A. Sir?

Q. Did you show the agreement to Judge Berkey?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you ever show it to anybody else?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Who?

A. Mr. Levy saw it.

Q. When did you show it to him?

A. The same day.

Q. Any time after that?

A. No, I did not have it.

Q. Only showed it to Levy one day?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you know what was contained in that agreement?

A. He agreed in that agreement if I didn't want this stock that he would resell it.

Q. That is, Cohen agreed to resell it?

A. No the man I bought this stock from.

Q. Who was he?

A. Lawler, I believe.

Q. And Lawler agreed to sell it for you if you didn't want it?

A. Yes.

By The CHAIRMAN:

Q. You say the man that you bought the bonds from that his name was Lawler?

A. Mr. Lawler, as I recollect. I don't know just how he spells his name.

Q. After the man came and took this agreement from you did you go back after that and tell the Judge what occurred?

A. No sir, I was coming home that day on the train when we went down to his office and I only had about twelve or fourteen minutes to get down to the station, and I sat in there until I only had about eight minutes, and I asked the lady in there what became of that man, I said I wanted to get home on that train, and she said she could not tell but she would go out and see. She went out and looked but could not find him, and I went out and looked for him and could not see him and I went on home.

Q. How long did you stay in the office after you went down to Mr. Cohen's office; how long did you stay there?

A. I must have been there five or six minutes. I just gave myself time enough to get down to the station to make the train to get home.

Q. Who signed the agreement that you had, was that Lawler.

A. Lawler gave me the agreement, yes.

Q. Mr. Cohen is the man that took it away from you?

A. Yes, I think that is the name, the Judge's business manager he told me, I think his name was Cohen.

Q. And the man that took it away from you is the man that the Judge called into his office and turned you over to.

A. Yes sir.

By Mr. WITKIN:

Q. Did you ever go back to Cohen's office to get the agreement?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you ever write to him and ask for it or call him up?

A. It seems to me he got away. I never could hear or tell of him. I was not back there anyways soon. When I did get back there I could not find him again.

Q. How soon did you go back?

A. I don't recollect, maybe three or four months before I got back.

Q. Three or four what?

A. Months.

Q. Why didn't you go back sooner?

A. Well, I don't know just why I didn't. I seen afterwards I should have gone back and had him pulled for taking my paper away from me, had him arrested; that is what I guess I should have done.

Q. Do you know where he is now?
A. Oh, no sir.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. What was done with those notes; I am not certain whether you covered that or not?
A. I paid them.
Q. How did you pay them?
A. I paid them, the first note I paid at the Addison bank.
Q. Were they discounted at the bank?
A. Yes sir that note was, and I suppose the other one. The sheriff got hold of the other one and I paid it in the sheriff's office.
Q. Do you know who issued on it when the sheriff had it?
A. The bank I think issued on it.
Q. The notes were both given to the street railway company or to Judge Berkey?
A. Yes, the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company, is my recollection.
Q. What were they, judgment or promissory notes?
A. Judgment notes, I think. I am pretty certain about that.
Q. Was the agreement that you say you had on the stationery of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?
A. Now, I cannot recollect that, I cannot say. I don't recall just what kind of paper it was on.
Q. Was it typewritten or written?
A. No it was written.
Q. Written in longhand?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did he write that while he was with you or did he bring it to you all ready prepared?
A. No, I saw him write it.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. Did he only agree to resell that for you or did he make any other agreement on that paper that he gave you?
A. That is all; just resell the stock if I didn't want it. I told him at the time I didn't think I would want it at all, and he said he would agree to resell it for me if I didn't want it. I asked him if he would give me an agreement to that effect and he said he would, and he wrote this agreement out.
Q. Did he put down the price at which he agreed to resell it?
A. No, I don't think he mentioned any price.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:
Q. Why, if you mistrusted, and you say he would not give an original agreement as you testified, why did you wait three or four months before making any inquiry about this Mr. Cohen?
A. I didn't hardly think it was worth while because I had inquired about him, and it seems I was told that he had left Somerset, he was not about, and I didn't think it was worth while.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. How far do you live from Somerset?
A. About thirty miles.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. How long did Cohen remain there?
A. I don't know.
Q. Did you make any inquiry?
A. No sir.
Q. You say this agreement was in longhand?
A. He wrote it with a pen he had.
Q. With a pen?
A. Yes sir.
Q. So it was not typewritten?
A. No it was not typewritten, he wrote it right on my porch.
Q. He wrote it on your porch did he?
A. Yes sir.
Q. How did he sign it?
A. Oh, don't remember just how.
Q. Did he sign his name?
A. I cannot recollect whether he signed his name on that agreement or not.
Q. You don't know whether he signed his name on that agreement or not?
A. I am not certain about it, no.

JAMES L. GOWER a witness called in behalf of the complainant being duly affirmed was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. Gower, where do you live?
A. Fort Hill.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. Where was that?
A. Fort Hill, Somerset County, Pa.

(Letter on stationery of Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company signed by J. A. Berkey, President, dated July 28, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 52).

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Passing by all of the details of your first conversation with the salesman, I show you a letter marked
A. Yes sir.
Q. Are you familiar with Judge Berkey's handwriting?
A. Only from seeing it on papers.
Q. Correspondence that you had with him?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In your opinion is that his genuine signature?
A. I think so.

(Carbon copy of letter signed by James L. Cower, dated July 28, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 53)

Q. I show you carbon copy of a letter marked exhibit No. 53 and ask you whether that is a carbon copy of a letter which you sent to Judge Berkey under date of July 28, 1921?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you mail that letter?
A. Yes sir.

(Letter on stationery of Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company signed by J. A. Berkey, dated July 29, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 54)

Q. I show you a letter marked exhibit No. 54, being a letter addressed to you under date of July 29, 1921, beginning "Yours of July 28th received yesterday", and ask you whether you received that reply from Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In your opinion is the signature to it, "John A. Berkey", in the genuine handwriting of Judge Berkey?
A. That is my opinion.

(Form letter on stationery of Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, signed J. A. Berkey, President, dated August 10, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 55)

(Form letter on stationery of Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, signed by J. A. Berkey, President, dated August 10, 1921, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 56)

Q. I show you a letter marked exhibit No. 55, being a letter on the stationery of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, dated August 10, 1921, addressed to Mr. James L. Cower, at Harnedsville, Pa., and ask you whether you received that letter in the mail?
A. I think I did.
Q. I show you one marked exhibit No. 56, and ask you whether you received that letter in the mail?
A. Yes, that is my recollection that I received that letter through the mail.

Mr. GEYER: I offer in evidence exhibit No. 52, being the letter of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, under date of July 28, 1921, addressed to James L. Gower, Harnedsville, Pa., "My dear Sir: This is to advise you that the progress of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company has been so rapid, and urgent matters so pressing, it has been impossible to make delivery of your bonds and stock to which you recently subscribed. This will therefore serve as a confirmation that we shall deliver to you, at an early date, your full amount of bonds and stock subscribed for. Your bonds will bear the coupon dated July 1, 1921, which is payable January 1, 1922.

The company, by its officers, wishes to thank you for your loyal support and co-operation, and extends to you an earnest invitation to inspect the road now under construction, that you may better appreciate our rapid progress and fully realize the firm security behind your investment. The completion of the road should be the dominant factor in the upbuilding of all Somerset County. It should benefit you directly and indirectly, and we feel sure in counting on your continued co-operation. Yours very truly, Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, by J. A. Berkey, President."

Mr. GEYER: I also offer in evidence a carbon copy of the letter from the witness to Judge Berkey, marked exhibit No. 53, which reads as follows: "Harnedsville, Pa., July 28, 1921. Hon. Judge John A. Berkey, President, Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company. Somerset, Pa., My dear Sir: There was a Mr. Lawler called here yesterday agent, for the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Co., soliciting credit for the above company by me giving notes to the amounts of $5,000 and in return would receive a bond for that amount and $2,500 common stock of the company guaranteeing me that at the end of four months I could take the bond to you and get my notes saying that you would take the notes to the bank and have them certified and that you would hold the notes yourself and by returning the bond to you I could get the notes without me having to pay one dollar.

"Now Mr. Berkey is this statement correct? Because if I would have to pay the notes it would be impossible as I have no way to get that amount of money.

"Anxiously awaiting your reply by return mail, I am, very truly yours, James L. Gower."

Mr. GEYER: I also offer in evidence exhibit No. 54, being the reply of Judge Berkey on the stationery of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, dated July 29, 1921, as follows: "Mr. James L. Gower, Harnedsville, Pa. My dear Mr. Gower: Yours of the 28th received yesterday and I am sending you the bearer of this letter, Mr. C. B. Lohman, as my personal representative to see you in reference thereto.

"The writer was heartily appreciative of your loyal support and co-operation in our railway project, and the company considered it a pleasure to add your name to the Board of Governors. We trust that after your interview with Mr. Lohman, and everything has been explained to you in detail you will be entirely satisfied with your investment.

"Again thanking you for your loyal support and hoping that you will favor me with a visit when you are again in Somerset, I remain, yours very truly, Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, by J. A. Berkey, President."

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Have you written any other letter to him? That is, under date of July 28th, than the letter of which you have a copy?

A. Not to my recollection.

Q. Did you talk to Judge Berkey about the matter afterwards?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Where?

A. Well, I think it was in his chambers, in his office at the court house.

Q. How long after that?

A. My recollection is it was September.

Q. And what was the conversation?

A. Well, I went up to inquire whether those statements were true that the agents had made.

Q. Did you repeat the statements to the Judge?

A. I cannot recall whether I did or not, and he told me it would be counted an out and out sale. Well, I said, that was not the way I understood, or something to that effect. I said that was not the way it was represented to me; that was not the way I understood, and he told me well if you get tired of them, just do like you would do with a horse or cow, sell it to somebody else. I said that is not the thing. The first $5,000 I never was to pay a dollar on, and the next $5,000 Mr. Cohen said he would resell them, and he said, "Did Mr. Cohen tell you that?" I said, "Yes"; he said you go down and bring Mr. Cohen up. I went down to Mr. Cohen's office at the Vannear hotel and he was so busy and in such a hurry to get away that he said, "I will make that all right with the Judge." He said, "I will fix that all up;" he said, "You write an order of sale," and that order of sale should be there somewhere, I don't know whether it is or not, "for the sale of those bonds, $10,000."

Q. Did you sign it?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did they sell the bonds?

A. No sir.

Q. Did you pay the notes?

A. No sir.

Q. But the judgment had been entered on them?

A. I think some of the notes were entered.

Q. Now Mr. Gower, will you tell us what the statements were that Lawler made to you, on the strength of which you gave the notes?

A. I told him that I had no money and didn't want the bonds, and even if I did want them I didn't have any money to buy them, and he said, "We don't want any money"; he said, "You just simply give us your note for six months." Well, I said, "When you give a note that means pay"; he said, "Usually that is the case but not in this"; he said, "We want you to loan your credit to Judge Berkey for that period of time to enable him to buy stock so that he may go ahead with this Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company."

Q. What was said about the Equitable Trust Company?

A. He told me that after they had a certain amount of the road complete the Equitable Trust Company of New York would advance them $500,000 and that would be in four months, and any time after four months I could take my bonds up to Somerset and exchange them for my notes.

Q. What, if anything, was said about the notes being negotiated?

A. Well, I asked him if they would be entered against the property, and he said "No, they would not." I told him I would not want anything like that.

Q. Was anything said as to where the notes would be?

A. He said simply as I understood, and as probably you all know from the letter I wrote the Judge, that he would take them to the bank and get them certified and would keep them in his own possession.

Q. Who would keep them in his own possession?

A. Judge Berkey, he would take care of them.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. You say you had the assurance that those notes would be locked up in Judge Berkey's safe?

A. He didn't say they would be locked up, I understood they would be in his care, that he would take care of them.

Q. These notes were not to be used?

A. Used as collateral, take them to the bank as I said, which I am not so familiar with the banking rules, and get them certified, and thereby enable him to buy stock.

Q. What do you mean that the notes were not to be used?

A. Well, certified, I don't know what means; that is the way I understood it. And for this favor to the Judge I was to receive $2,500 of common stock.

Q. That is to say, you were to give your notes for the amount of the bonds, and then when the road was completed you were to get your notes back, surrender the bonds and get your notes back, and have $2,500 of common stock as compensation for the favor you were doing, is that it?

A. That is the way I understood it.

Q. That is to say you understood that you were to get for this accommodation of your $2,500 worth of stock free from any cost to you?

A. For the accommodation of loaning the Judge my credit.

Q. Yes, you were to loan your credit to the company?

A. Yes, that is what they asked for.

Q. When the road was completed you were to get $2,500 of common stock and be returned the amount of the notes?

A. When the road was built a certain amount it, I could take my bonds to Semerset and get my notes.

Q. When a certain amount of the road was built you could take my bonds to Somerset and get my notes.
your notes back?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And in addition you would have $2,500 in common stock?

A. $2,500 in common stock.

Q. That is to say, any time you would surrender the bonds you would get your notes returned and get a certificate of stock for $2,500?

A. Any time after four months.

Q. Any time after four months? So any time for the four months use of your name you were to get $2,500 of capital stock?

A. They took the notes for six months, and they said we will take them for six months, and any time after four months you can take them up.

Q. Any time after four months you can deliver the bonds, get your notes back and get a certificate of stock?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Who told you that?
A. Mr. Lawlor.
Q. Did you ever tell Judge Berkey That?
A. I Wrote it to him—I don't remember.
Q. Where did you write it, where is that letter? You were careful enough to have a carbon copy of the one letter, where is the other letter?
A. What other letter?
Q. The letter you say you wrote.
A. It is here.
Q. Where is it?
A. The gentleman read it.
Q. No, that is not the one. You say that you had a letter wherein it was written you could get my money back?
A. Not my money, my notes.
Q. Your notes, where is that?
A. Isn't that the letter right there (indicating)?
Q. That letter that was just read?
A. Yes sir.
(Exhibit No. 53 handed by Mr. Geyer to Mr. Beidleman).
Q. Where is there anything in that letter about your getting $2,500 worth of stock, there is nothing in that letter?
A. He was to give me $2,500.
Q. Who was to give you $2,500?
A. Don't it say something about stock in there.
Q. You say "There was a Mr. Lawlor called here yesterday, agent for the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company soliciting credit for the above company, by me giving notes to the amount of $5,000 and in return would receive a bond for that amount, and $2,500 common stock of the company guaranteeing me that at the end of four months I could take the bond to you and get my notes, saying that you would take the notes to the bank and have them certified, and that you would hold the notes yourself, and by returning the bond to you, I could get the notes without me having to pay one dollar". Where is there anything in there about your having a $2,500 bonus for this favor?
A. It is in there, sir, that is what he told me, that is in there.
Q. You didn't say anything in your letter about their giving you a bonus of $2,500, did you?
A. I don't know whether you call it a bonus or not, that is as nearly as I can recall, that is two or three years ago.
Q. That is as near as you can recollect. Where did you have this letter?
A. Why I had that letter myself a good while.
Q. Up until when?
A. A few years ago.
Q. To whom did you give it?
A. I gave it to Mr. Walker.
Q. Who is Mr. Walker?
A. An attorney in Somerset.
Q. Has he had it for two years?
A. I don't know just how long.
Q. He never returned it to you?
A. No sir.
Q. When did you see it since you gave it to him two years ago up until now?
A. I didn't see it until I came here.
Q. Who showed it to you?
A. Mr. Kooser.
Q. Have you discussed this matter with Mr. Kooser?
A. No sir, not very much.
Q. Did you discuss it at all?
A. Nothing, only he asked me about it.
Q. When did you discuss it with him?
A. This evening.
Q. Any time before?
A. No sir, I don't think so.
Q. Did you authorize your attorney to turn it over to Mr. Kooser?
A. When I was subpoeaned in this case I wrote for that, I wrote for them to send my papers down?
Q. To where?
A. Fort Hill.
Q. Did you get them at Fort Hill?
A. No sir.
Q. Where did you get them?
A. I didn't get them.
Q. Why not?
A. Well, he said that Tuesday, the 22nd of February, being a legal holiday, that I would not be able to get them.
Q. Did he say where you would find them?
A. He said that he would turn them over to some one in Somerset.
Q. Did he say whom he would turn them over to?
A. I asked him—
Q. Asked him to turn them over to whom?
A. Mr Kooser.
Q. You asked him to turn them over to Mr. Kooser?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And you did not see them until you came to Harrisburg?
A. No sir.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. Where are those notes now?
A. I don't know.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Where did you last have the bonds?
A. I have them yet.
Q. Where are they?
A. In the bank.
Q. What bank?
A. In the Confluence bank.
Q. How many of them?
A. $10,000.
Q. Where is the stock?
A. It is with them.
Q. Did you ever offer to return it to anybody?
A. Offer to return it?
Q. Yes?
A. Yes.
Q. When and to whom.
A. I cannot remember just when.
Q. To whom?
A. Mr. Smucker.
Q. Mr. Smucker.
A. Yes.
Q. You don't know when?
A. No sir, I don't know just when, when Mr. Smucker called at our house in Harnedsville.
Q. Don't you know the time of the year?
A. I don't know but it has been a couple years ago.
Q. A couple years ago?
A. Yes sir.
Q. You say they are in the Confluence bank, in your safe deposit box?
A. They are in the Confluence Bank, in the vault.

By Mr. MOFFAT:
Q. You gave $10,000 worth of notes?
A. Yes, at two different times.
Q. Did you pay any of these notes?
A. No sir.
Q. Upon how many has judgment been entered; do you remember?
A. I am not positive, but I think about $3,750; I am not positive of that.
Q. Has any execution been issued on any of those judgments?
A. No sir.
Q. Do you know who is the plaintiff on those notes?
A. My recollection is it is for the use of the Addison bank.
Q. For the use of the Addison Bank?
A. That is the way I think it is.
Q. Have you paid any interest?
A. No sir.

By Mr. BIDLESPACHER:
Q. Who holds the notes that are not entered against you, if you know?
A. Well, the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, I think.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. You had yourself sold out by the sheriff on the judgment of your brother and sister didn't you?
A. I don't understand that.
Q. You had yourself sold out by the sheriff on an execution issued by some member of your family; did you?
A. No sir.
Q. Have you been sold out by the sheriff?
A. Yes sir.
Q. On whose judgment?
A. D. L. Miller.

Q. Related to you?
A. It was not a judgment, a mortgage.
Q. So that any property you had has been sold out by an execution on a mortgage executed against the property, when?
A. I cannot just remember.
Q. How long ago, how many years ago did you give the mortgage?
A. I cannot just remember that.
Q. Can't you tell how long you had that mortgage on your property?
A. Something like three years.
Q. You were sold out, when?
A. Less than two years ago, I believe in May.
Q. Two years ago; you are now execution proof, are you?
Mr. MOFFATT: Now wait a minute—
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Why not. Where can he suffer anything by these notes being due if he is execution proof.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. How much was involved in the execution against you?
A. I think $4,000.
Q. Are you still living in the same property sold by the sheriff?
A. No sir.
Q. Moved out, have you?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. How long after you executed your $4,000 mortgage did it take before the time that you were sold out?
A. I don't recollect.
Q. About, approximately how long?
A. Somewhere between six months and a year; It may have been a year or six months, I don't just remember.
Q. What was the term of the mortgage?
A. Do you mean the amount?
Q. No, the term, how long a time was it supposed to run?
A. A year I think.
Q. And why were you sold out under the mortgage? What default was alleged that caused the mortgagee to sell you out?
A. Was not able to pay it.
Q. Was not due was it?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Was the principal due?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Was it six months or a year?
A. Probably a year and six months, I don't just recall, probably a year and six months.
Q. How long had the mortgage been on record; do you know?
A. Well, I suppose a year and six months.
D. A. MUSSER a witness called in behalf of the complainant being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Where do you live?
A. Berlin, Somerset County.
Q. Berlin?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What is your business?
A. Farmer.
Q. Did you have a visit with Judge Berkey, did you have Judge Berkey as a visitor before you bought those bonds?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Whom did he come with, Mr. Musser?
A. Mr. Feltman was the name, something like that.
Q. Was that the first time Feltman had been there?
A. No sir.
Q. How long before that had Feltman been there?
A. About three weeks before.
Q. What did you tell Mr. Feltman when he first solicited you?
A. That I didn't want to buy any bonds.
Q. What did he say?
A. Well, he said it was a good thing, I should go and see Judge Berkey; he will explain the matter to me.
Q. Told you to go and see Judge Berkey; did you go and see Judge Berkey?
A. No sir.
Q. What happened next?
A. Well, they visited me frequently about six or seven times, and I told them I didn't want any bonds, should not take any more of my time up, I didn't want any.
Q. Yes. Then what finally happened?
A. Well, about three weeks after that this Mr. Felton and Mr. Berkey came to see me.
Q. What was said?
A. Well Mr. Berkey explained the matter to me, what a good thing it would be, the railroad, and he would not ask me to invest any money if he would not invest any. He said he had got his money invested, and would not ask me to invest if it was not a good thing.
Q. What was said about what was to be done with the notes you gave?
A. Well, that was after Mr. Berkey and I talked, and Mr. Feltman wrote the notes; after it was wrote, Mr. Feltman said we are going to use $2,500 right away.
Q. Yes, then what?
A. They are due in six months and if I don't want the bonds why they would return them.
Q. Was Judge Berkey there when he said that?
A. Yes sir.
Q. How many notes did you sign?
A. $5,000.
Q. That is a total of $5,000.
A. Yes sir.
Q. In how many notes?
A. Three notes, one $2,500 and two of $1,250.
Q. What was said about the Equitable Trust Company?
A. Well, they said the Equitable Trust Company would stand good for the notes after the road was built.
Q. What was said in the presence of the Judge or by the Judge about your paying the notes?
A. Well, I don't remember that there was anything said just then.
Q. Was there at any time?
A. Yes, I think, afterwards.
Q. Now, my question is, you were or were not to pay the notes?
A. Yes, if I didn't want to pay them in six months I could get my money back and they would take the notes.
Q. And what was said about paying the interest in bank?
A. Nothing, that I remember.
Q. I think you said something about $2,500 going in bank right away?
A. Well, Mr. Feltman told me that they wanted to use $2,500 right away.
Q. Yes, and what about the others?
A. I would not need to pay them for six months and if I didn't want them I did not need to pay them at all?
Q. What happened shortly after they left, Mr. Musser?
A. Well, they went to the bank at Berlin and wanted to have the note discounted.
Q. How do you know?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: What?
Mr. GEYER: He said they went to the bank in Berlin and wanted to have the notes discounted.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. How do you know that?
A. The bank called me up.
Q. How long after they left did the bank call you up?
A. After—they left my place about 12:00 o'clock and at about 2:00 o'clock the bank called me up.
Q. For what purpose?
A. I should come in, they wanted to see me.
Q. Did you go in?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you see your notes there?
A. No, they were not there, they would not accept them; they were written in lead pencil.
Q. What happened after that?
A. Next morning Mr. Feltman came over and said that they had written the notes in ink, that they would not accept them in lead pencil and that I would have to resign them.
Q. Did you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you pay the notes?
A. I paid one.
Q. Where?

A. Philson Bank, Berlin.
Q. In what amount?
A. $2,500.
Q. What about the other one?
A. Got them back.
Q. You got the other notes back?
A. Yes sir.
Q. From whom?
A. Judge Berkey.
Q. When?
A. About two years after.
Q. Under what circumstances did you get them back, Mr. Musser?
A. Well, I went to him and told him that I would like to be out, and he says, "All right, I will give you those notes back." I went to him frequently and he said, "You got your notes back, I will always be as good as my word."
Q. Did you afterwards get them back?
A. Yes, I got them back.
Q. You had signed notes originally for $5,000?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And you got back $2,500 of the notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And the other $2,500 you paid for?
A. Yes sir.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Mr. Musser, did you have the bonds delivered to you?
A. No sir, I went after them.
Q. What is that?
A. I went after them.
Q. Did you get them?
A. Yes sir.
Q. $5,000 originally?
A. Yes sir.
Q. When you gave these notes, they told you that they were going to use $2,500 right away, didn't they?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And you say that same afternoon you were called upon by the cashier of the bank at Berlin to come in?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did he tell you that they had accepted the three notes at the bank?
A. No, just one.
Q. Just the $2,500 note?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Then they didn't make any effort to discount the three notes on that day, did they?
A. No sir.
Q. When they came again—and the question that took you in the bank was the $2,500 note?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What was the name of that fellow?
A. Feltman.
Q. And when Feltman came back to see you the next day he told you that those notes were written in pencil, that the bank would not accept them, and then you signed three notes in ink?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And when Judge Berkey gave you the two $1,250 notes back, you refunded part of the bonds in this transaction?
A. I did.
Q. How many?
A. Two.
Q. What amount?
A. $2,500.
Q. $2,500 of bonds?
A. Yes sir.
Q. So that the only note that was used was the note they told you they were going to use on the day you gave it to them, so the other two notes came back and you surrendered $2,500 of bonds of the company, and kept the other $2,500 and still have it?
A. Yes sir.

By the CHAIRMAN:
Q. Mr. Musser, when you bought these bonds of $2,500, you bought $5,000, in all?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Was it your understanding at the time that if you did not want any of these that the entire amount of your notes, that is $5,000, was to be returned, or was it your understanding that you were to keep $2,500 of the bonds, in any event?
A. No, I was to have them all returned later on.
Q. Did you ever ask to have the other $2,500 returned?
A. I did.
Q. Whom did you ask?
A. Judge Berkey.
Q. What did he say?
A. He said he will try and sell them for me.

By Mr. BEIDLESPACHER:
Q. When you signed that $2,500 note it was with the distinct understanding that it was to be used right away?
Yes sir.

By the CHAIRMAN:
Q. When you paid this $2,500 note, to whom did you pay it?
A. Paid it at the bank.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. When were you to get this money back, did you say after the road was completed; didn't I understand your testimony to be to that effect?
A. Well, there was nothing said about that.
Q. Nothing said about it?
A. Mr. Berkey said he would sell the other notes for me.
Q. Sell the other notes for you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Nothing said as to the time?
A. No sir.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. You say that Judge Berkey said that he would try to resell $2,500 of it, and he said they were going to use the note right away; is that right?
A. They did use it right away.
Q. They said they were going to use the $2,500 note right away?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And later when you went back and told him about this $2,500 bond, he said he would try and sell that for you?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. MOFFATT:
Q. In your direct examination I understood you to say that your understanding was at the time you signed those notes that if at the end of six months you wanted them returned they would return them to you, is that correct?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And did you make a demand or request for the return of those notes at the end of the six months?
A. Yes, before that.
Q. All of the notes?
A. Before that.
Q. For all of the notes you requested the return of all of the notes, did you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. The full $5,000?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. BIDELSPACHER:
Q. This $2,500 note that was used right away, was that a six months note too, or was that—
A. I cannot tell you till I look.
Q. You don't know?
A. Not unless I look at the notes.
Q. Did you eventually pay that at the Philson bank?
A. Yes, I asked my banker what was the best thing to do and he said you gave the notes, you better pay them; if you don't pay them here you will have to pay them some place else.
Q. So you paid that $2,500?
A. Yes sir.
Q. You got the other two from Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. After you paid the first $2,500 note?
A. Yes sir.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. When you asked the Judge to return the money he said he would sell the bonds; did you insist upon him carrying out his agreement by returning the notes?
A. Yes, he told me he would return the two notes, and I went to him frequently and he said he would be as good as his word.

Q. No, you don't get me; the understanding in the beginning was, they agreed to return all of the notes?
A. Yes, that is the understanding in the first place.
Q. They did return two notes totalling $2,500 and you paid the other note?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Later when you went to the Judge you testified that he said he would try and sell those bonds for you?
A. Yes, the balance that I had paid.
Q. His agreement was, you testified, that he would return your notes if you surrendered the bonds; did you insist upon his carrying out that agreement instead of trying to sell them, as he said he would endeavor to do—
A. How is that?
Q. Maybe I can clarify that. His agreement with you was, he would return the notes and you could return to him those bonds?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Now, when you went to him and asked him to do that he said he would try and sell the bonds?
A. Yes, $2,500.
Q. His agreement was to surrender the notes instead of the bonds in lieu of the notes, did you insist upon his carrying that agreement out?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What did he say in reply?
A. Well, he said he would try and sell them.
Q. That was not his agreement; his agreement was not to sell them, it was to return the notes?
A. Well he returned the notes of $1,250.
Q. And the other $2,500 he didn't return; you paid that?
A. Yes, I paid that.
Q. My question is, did you insist upon his carrying out the original agreement?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And what did he say?
A. He said he would try and sell my other bonds of $2,500 that I had paid.
Q. But he didn't agree to try and sell them later for you in the beginning?
A. No.
Q. My question is, did you insist upon carrying out his original agreement, which was not to try to sell them but return to you your notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you insist upon him carrying out that agreement?
A. Not particularly.
The CHAIRMAN: I guess you don't get it.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. Your original agreement with Judge Berkey was that the $2,500 was to be used right away?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And he told you if you wanted the money back that they would try and resell these bonds for you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. That was your original agreement as to the $2,500?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Now, as to the other $2,500, he told you that he would not use your notes for six months, didn't he?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And if, at the end of that time, you wanted your notes back you could get them?
A. Yes.
Q. You did get back those notes from Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And of the other $2,500 that you had, he said he would try to resell them when you came to him and asked for them?
A. Yes sir.
Q. That is the correct story, is it not?
A. Yes sir.

G. H. WALKER a witness called in behalf of the complainant being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Where do you live, Mr. Walker?
A. Berlin.
Q. What is your business?
A. Farmer.
Q. Did you have any transaction in the purchase of certain bonds of the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And in doing that did you come in contact with Judge Berkey?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Who first approached you?
A. The agents.
Q. Do you know their names?
A. I know one of them, Mr. Saxon, and the other one I don't recall.
Q. Before they come did you receive any literature concerning these bonds, any letters?
A. No sir.
Q. When they came had they any letter from Judge Berkey?
A. No sir.
Q. Just tell what happened when you came in contact with Judge Berkey.
A. Well, there is a little just before that to explain how I came in contact with Mr. Berkey. When the agent came to my place they told me, of course, what their business was, and explained things, and gave a description of the road and told me, of course, that it was a very good proposition and all that. They said that the president of the company was Judge Berkey, and of course they wanted me to take stock. I told them that I was not in a position to take stock on account of finances, that I had payments on my farm to make and had no loose money to buy stocks or bonds. So they told me that I didn't need any money, that all that Mr. Berkey wanted was my credit. Well, I could not understand this quite, and they explained to me and told me that it was all arranged with the Equitable Trust Company of New York to finance this thing, and wanted the credit as collateral. Of course, I didn't buy any stock at the present time, and they were there on four different occasions. The fifth time they came was early in the morning. They told me that they came direct from Judge Berkey and asked me as a special favor from me to buy those bonds, so he could have my credit, use my credit, and I finally consented to take some bonds.
Q. Did you sign the notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In what amounts?
A. For $5,000 worth of bonds.
Q. What was said about what was to be done with the notes?
A. They said the notes would be held, I don't just recall whether they said they would be held by the railway company, or whether the Equitable Trust Company would hold them, I don't just recall that. At any rate it was arranged, they told me it would all be taken care of, I never needed to pay anything on those bonds. I told them that was the only way, I could not buy bonds because I had no money at the present time, and they insisted it was only credit, and therefore, they finally pursuaded me to take the bonds.
Q. When did you see Berkey?
A. Why the third day, this was on the 14th of July, right in the busy haying season.
Q. Of the year 1921?
A. I was very busy and I was going to go up the next day to see Judge Berkey because I was not satisfied;I was somewhat alarmed this after I signed the notes, I thought, perhaps, the statements these agents made to me were fraudulent. I admit my ignorance in these transactions because I was never approached by any salesman of any kind for bonds or anything, and I practically knew nothing and I was somewhat alarmed so I made it my business to go to Judge Berkey the following Monday; that was the third day.
Q. Where did you see him?
A. I saw him at his residence.
Q. What took place?
A. I asked him as to the statements that the salesmen made to me regarding the bonds, the railroad, the assets, and the arrangement with the Equitable Trust Company and so forth, told him in detail as they were presented to me.
Q. And as you told it here?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What did Judge Berkey say then, if anything?
A. He wandered, he said, "Did the salesmen make those statements?"
Q. What did you say?
A. I said, "Yes, they did."

Q. What, if anything, did he say?
A. He said those men, they were sent there to you or came to see you are our representatives, and what they told you is straight and right. I don't know whether he said just those exact words, but that is what he gave me to understand. I asked him—I asked to be relieved of those notes and told him at the time I had no money.
Q. What did he say?
A. He said that it was not in his power to release me, that I would have to go and see Mr. Cohen.
Q. Who is Mr. Cohen?
A. As I understand it, or understood it then, he was the head man of the set of men, or whatever you might call it, of the salesman.
Q. Did you go to see Mr. Cohen?
A. I went to see him.
Q. What transpired?
A. I didn't get to see him.
Q. Why not?
A. I don't know why not; he was not there. I could not find him there. I went to the Venear hotel to his office and sat around there awhile. I didn't make myself known to any of them. I thought perhaps I could get to see Mr. Cohen there personally, and I hung around looking at all the men that I saw, Mr. Cohen, I don't know him myself, and it seemed to me that I was spotted. The other salesmen around there kept eyeing me and finally one came to me and made some inquiry whether I was looking for someone and I said, "Yes, I would like to see Mr. Cohen", and he told me that Mr. Cohen was out of town.
Q. Did you see Judge Berkey after that?
A. No sir, I didn't go to see him; I returned. I had waited there in the hotel; they told me he should return before long, and I waited there in the hotel until 11:00 o'clock at night but he didn't return. Then I returned to Judge Berkey's residence but I failed to see Mr. Berkey.
Q. Did you go to see him any time after that?
A. No sir, I didn't go to see him after that because I was too busy, it was during that busy season, and I took it for granted, of course. While I was there waiting they talked to me and went over the same story as the salesmen who were to see me. In the first place, he impressed upon me so emphatically that the bonus stock or the common stock which was to be issued with my preferred stock was to be kept in my possession when those other bonds would be redeemed in a year's time.
Q. What were you told about bonds being redeemed in a year's time?

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. By whom?
A. By the salesmen. In tha first place they said this, I asked them how long a time it would be until they would redeem those bonds or take them over, and they said not longer than a year and perhaps in less time than that, and I asked them every time they were over to see me and they told me the same identical thing. I asked them whether they would be taken over at par and they declared up and down, every time, that they would.
Q. Who did they say would furnish the money?
A. The project was backed by the Equitable Trust Company, of New York.
Q. What because of those notes, Mr. Walker?
A. I finally discovered that they were placed—one was placed in the First National Bank of Garrett and the other one in the Philson National Bank, Berlin.
Q. Did you pay them?
A. No sir.
Q. Did you talk to Judge Berkey about it afterwards?
A. Yes sir.
Q. When?
A. When the notes came due six months later I received notice from the banks that they held the notes against me and the interest would be due. So I went to see Judge Berkey regarding the interest, and he gave me a check for the full amount of interest, $150 on the amount of bonds.
Q. What did he say?
A. I don't just remember the particular conversation at that time?
Q. Was anything said about redemming those bonds?
A. I don't recall, whether there was at that time or not.
Q. Was anything said about renewing the notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What was said?
A. I wondered about those notes and about the interest on them.
Q. What did he say?
A. I don't just recall the conversation at that time, but I took it for granted that when the interest on those notes was paid at that time so readily that the interest would be paid regularly as it came due, and nothing much more was said about it at that time.
Q. Did you ever hold a later conversation with him?
A. Yes, when the notes came due again I clipped the interest and sent them to Mr. Berkey.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. When you talk about notes you mean coupons?
A. Coupons, I beg pardon.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Yes.
A. I got no returns whatever; I wrote four letters to Mr. Berkey and never received any communication about it.
Q. Did you go to see him afterwards?
A. Yes, I went to see him and asked him about the coupons I sent, and he seemed to have a faint recollection of having received some coupons from me but he didn't know where they were. He looked around awhile in some of his letters and finally he reached up on the window sill, a wide sill, with a whole stack of letters and fished around in there awhile and finally found my letter with the coupons inside.
Q. In what office was this?
A. This was in his chambers in the court house.
Q. What did he say when he found them?
A. I don't just remember but at first he didn't want to pay the interest. I explained to him that I was short of funds, the money was due, or the notes were due, and that I didn't want the banks to protest these notes on account of the interest and I was up against it and didn't know what to do. Finally, Mr. Berkey wrote me a check for the interest the second time.
Q. What happened next?
A. The third time the notes came due I got notice from the bank that the notes were due.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. Pardon me, how much was that check?
A. $150.
Q. Yes.
A. By the way, I don't know whether this might be of interest or not, the check that he had written to me in the first place was no good.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. How long was it before it was made good?
A. Just a few days. I received another letter from Mr. Berkey with another check and he said that I was to destroy the first check, that there were no funds in the bank on which this first check was drawn. The second check was drawn on another bank which was good. The third time the interest came due I went to Mr. Berkey and I tried to get my interest but it was of no avail.
Q. What did he say?
A. No money.
Q. Did you speak to him about getting your notes back?
A. I don't just remember just what took place exactly in the whole conversation, but I told him that I needed money badly to pay the interest on those notes but he could not help me out. Finally I offered, I asked him whether or not it would be possible to sell any one of those bonds, and he told me it might be possible although he didn't know at the time where, and asked me, and I told him that I would sell the bonds at a sacrifice in order to get some money to take care of those notes if I could sell the bond in some way or manner or another. He finally asked me what I would take for a bond and I told him I would take fifty percent on a $1,000 bond.
Q. When was that?
A. Well that was eighteen months after that, nearabout.
Q. What did he say to that?
A. He said he did not know at the present time where he could place a bond at that, and then I asked him whether it would not be possible for him to take one of those bonds at a sacrifice and he said no he would not give $25 for $1,000 bond today.

Q. That was the eighteen month period?
A. I judge it was about that time; it was the third time the interest came due.
Q. Did you see him after that?
A. No sir.
Q. Mr. Walker, do you know whether this Equitable Trust Company story had been used with other people?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Widely?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: No, we object to that as being hearsay. That is not only hearsay—that is hearsay and hearsay.
Mr. WITKIN: What was that question?
Mr. GEYER: Whether the common report is that the Equitable Trust Company was backing this.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Whether or not he had heard that the Equitable Trust Company story was used with anybody else.
Mr. WITKIN: Don't you think that is pretty far-fetched?
Mr. GEYER: I am not pressing it; I asked it and I didn't get away with it, and I stop.

CROSS EXAMAINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Where are the bonds now, Mr. Walker?
A. In my possession.
Q. How many?
A. Five of them.
Q. Five of them?
A. Yes sir.
Q. When you talk about interest, you mean coupons don't you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Judge Berkey never paid the interest on the note, he paid the coupons, didn't he?
A. Yes, the coupons.
Q. You went in to collect the coupons that were due on the bonds and not to collect the interest on the notes?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And I understood you to say that those agents were there five times?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Before you bought?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In those five visits you never made it your business to talk with Judge Berkey before you closed with them?
A. No sir, I was too busy.
Q. Too busy?
A. I could not get away.
Q. And you talked and you closed with those agents with the understanding that your credit was to be used, you were to give notes and at the expiration of a certain period of time the notes were to be surrendered to you, you were to get your notes back, and then you were to get for that a bonus of $2,500 of stock for what you were doing for the company?
A. Yes, exactly.
Q. $2,500 of stock you were not to pay a nickle for?
A. No sir.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is all.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. What is your name?
A. Walker.
Q. Mr. Walker, how much interest did you pay on those notes?
A. So far?
Q. Yes.
A. That would be—
Q. Approximately how much? Have you been paying the interest regularly?
A. Yes, every time on the dot since 1921.
Q. Never paid anything on the interest?
A. No sir.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. How often did Judge Berkey pay these coupons to you?
A. Twice.
Q. When was that?
A. The first and second time they came due, the notes came due, I went and collected the interest on the coupon.

By Mr. BIDLESPACHER:
Q. How many notes were there, and in what amounts?
A. Two notes, each of $2,500.
Q. Each payable six months after date?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What bank held them?
A. One was placed in the First National Bank of Garrett and the other in the First National Bank of Berlin.
Q. Have they ever been entered against you?
A. Yes, later on.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. You are a farmer, Mr. Walker?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Do you own your farm?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In your own name?
A. Yes sir.
Mr. GEYER: Members of the Committee, we still have a number of witnesses of the same character, but I shall not call any others on that line.
Mr. WITKIN: You have other witnesses, you have not finished?
Mr. GEYER: I have a few other witnesses, but will not call any more on that line.
The CHAIRMAN: We will take a recess for five minutes.

AFTER RECESS.

FRANK AMISPADI, a witness produced in behalf of the complainant, having been duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

The CHAIRMAN: Does the gentleman speak English?
Mr. GEYER: Sufficiently to make himself understood.
The WITNESS. I wont talk about it before. Ask you question here because you know under parole now. I been parole now, I simply ask you question, can you murder man if he tells truth.
The CHAIRMAN: You are sworn to tell the truth.
The WITNES: I talk to you, I want to know if you can murder if tell truth.
The CHAIRMAN: Did anybody tell you they would murder you if you told the truth?
The WITNESS: I under parole now.
The CHAIRMAN: You are sworn to tell the truth and that is what you will have to tell.
The WITNESS: All right.
The CHAIRMAN: The fact that you are on parole does not make any difference, and you must tell the truth and answer whatever questions are asked you.
Mr. LUDLOW: I do not know what the witness who is out on parole has in mind, but if there is any question that grows out of his testifying here, he should report it to you, Mr. Chairman, and if the House is not in session, to the Attorney General of the State. Now let the witness proceed.
The CHAIRMAN: Do you understand that?
Mr. GEYER: I don't know whether he understands that. You can explain that to him at length later on.
Mr. WITKIN: Nobody is going to hurt you.
By the CHAIRMAN:
Q. Frank, did anyone threaten you or tell you not to tell the truth?
A. No, no, just I say myself like that.
The CHAIRMAN: Go ahead.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Where do you live?
A. Tyre Hill.
Q. Somerset County?
A. Yes sir.
Q. How long have you been in this country.
A. 13 years, 13.
Q. 13 years?
A. Yes.
Q. In what business were you last year?
A. I run truck.
Q. Truck?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you go in any other business?
A. No in the mine some time.
Q. In the mine?

A. Yes
Q. Did anyone try to sell you bonds in the railway company?
A. Yes
Q. Who?
A. Smucker, Mr. Smucker, Fred Smucker from Holsopple.
Q. Do you know Mr. Smucker?
A. Yes
Q. Do you see him here now?
A. Yes, he is here.
Q. What did he say to you about buying bonds?
A. He says,—he come one time, two times my house, and says, "Don't forget you buy bonds", he says, "It is better for you you buy bond, you go buy". He said, "Are you going to buy"? I said, "well, I got no money buy bond, because really got no money to buy". Just talk to me and I say I got no money buy bond.
Q. What did he say?
A. He say after he come, I can no say day, and after he come and take me in room and he says, "Frank, you buy $500 bond", because I no want, got no money, I just spend my money on trucks, and he said, "Better you go, you buy, protect yourself you buy bond".

By Mr. MARSHALL:
Q. He said he would protect you?
A. Yes, protect me. Protect me, he says.
Q. What did you say?
A. I have no—I got no money to buy bond, and after he was going away, and after five or six days come this Smucker and say, "You buy $500 street car bond". I say, "I got no money." He talk to me quite a time, and I say, "I buy, I buy $100, I can pay $25 a time". I give him $25 and he give me some receipt, and after ten or fifteen days I get arrested.
Q. For a liquor case?
A. I get three months in Jail.
Mr. GEYER: I will offer the record a little later.
The WITNESS: I got my receipt.
Mr. GEYER: Will you let us see the receipt?
The CHAIRMAN: What did he say.
Mr. GEYER: After ten or fifteen days I get arrested for liquor.
The CHAIRMAN: Did he buy bonds?
Mr. GEYER: He bought a $100 bond and he paid $25.
The WITNESS: I buy bond, $100, pay $25. After ten or fifteen day, I don't know for sure, I no could say any more. This my parole; this my receipt from Somerset Court (Witness produces papers.)
Mr. GEYER: The witness says here is my parole and here is my receipt.
Mr. WITKIN: May I ask are you going to follow this up by testimony connecting Judge Berkey with this transaction?
Mr. GEYER: I am going to show you other people who didn't buy bonds, and I am going to show when they came up for sentence Judge Berkey sent them to the work house for a year.
Mr. WITKIN: What I am thinking of is this testimony that you asked to put in as to what Mr. Smucker said to this witness, was going to be followed up by testimony connected with Judge Berkey?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: We object to that testimony as hearsay. It was upon the basis of the statement that it was going to be followed up by further evidence, and I want to know whether you are going to follow it up before you introduce the record that you talk of here, so that we can see whether or not there was any connection between Smucker and this defendant and Judge Berkey, if you are going to take that order of presenting your facts.
Mr. GEYER: No, I propose to show this set of facts. He has already testified that he signed an agreement to buy a $100 bond, and Smucker said he would be protected. He paid only $25 and then he was arrested. When he got into court he got a fine of $250 and a year in the workhouse, and while in jail he was approached on the question of parole by this same man Victor in the Turrony case with the further request and admonition that he buy some of these bonds and he would be paroled quicker.
Mr. WITKIN: That may all be true, but it seems to me, so far as I am concerned, that this testimony should be inadmissible unless followed by proper testimony so that it will not go beyond the rule of hearsay testimony.

(Discussion with reference to hearsay testimony off the record).
The CHAIRMAN: I would suggest that cross examination be eliminated at least until you finish with direct examination.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that counsel in this case should not be put in the position of being ignorant of all of the facts relating to the admissibility of testimony when you appear before a committee of lawyers.
The CHAIRMAN: Mr. Beidleman, I am not speaking in regard to your cross examination, I am speaking in regard to interruption from this end. Unless we have something that is to be cleared up we ought to let the evidence go in as near as we can, and avoid this breaking of the continuity. You have a perfect right to object any time you see fit.
Mr. WITKIN: If you are speaking of interruptions at this end, I certainly must say that whenever I think it is proper to interrupt, I certainly must do so.
The CHAIRMAN: I think the matter is clear, let us proceed.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Who talked to you about buying a bond?
A. Mr. Fred Smucker, that is all.
Q. What did Mr. Smucker say?
A. He say, Frank, buy a bond, street car bond, it will be all right, it be all right for you.
Q. All right for you, what else did he say?
A. I no can buy $500 because I no got money. I buy $100 bond, I say all right, I come along for you, I no have over ten or fifteen day, Smucker no come any more I get no money, I arrested.
Q. Frank, you said something about protection?
A. Smucker no said protection, he said the other one.
Q. Which other one said it?
A. Smucker no say, other man said it, because he bring me in one room myself.
Q. Who took you in a room himself?
A. Fred Saan.
Q. Where was Smucker?
A. He stay out in the room.
Q. How often did Fred Saan and Smucker come together?
A. They come together in car.
Q. Every time?
A. Two time. After that Smucker come himself.
Q. After that Smucker came himself.
A. Yes sir.
Mr. GEYER: I now offer in evidence the certified copy of the docket entries—
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: We are entitled to see it.
Mr. GEYER: Wait a moment, I will show it to you as soon as it is identified. In the case of Commonwealth against Frank Amispadi and Victor Amispadi.
The CHAIRMAN: Is that marked, Mr. Geyer, as an exhibit?
Mr. GEYER: I simply want to identify it first.
(Docket entry in the case of Commonwealth vs Frank Amispadi and Victor Amispadi to No. 46, September session, 1924, produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 59)
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I want to put on the record my objection to the adminsibility of this record because there is no information here of any communication of anything to Judge Berkey with relation to this line of inquiry connecting him with it.
Mr. GEYER: Violation of the liquor laws, oath of Chas. I. Knepper, June 28, 1924, information made before justice R. N. Craver. June 30, 1924, defendants committed to county jail. June 30, 1924, information and return filed. June 30, 1924, Frank Amispadi and Sylvester Shri entered into recognizance in the sum of $1,000 for appearance of defendant Frank Amispadi at September session 1924. June 30, 1924, defendant waived the finding of a true bill by the grand jury and plead guilty to the within indictment whereupon the court imposed the following sentence: Now 7th day of July, 1924, the sentence of the court is that you Frank Amispadi pay the cost of prosecution, a fine of $250, and that you undergo simple imprisonment in the work house in and for the county of Allegheny for a period of one year and that you stand committed in the custody of the high sheriff of Somerset County until discharged by due course of law. By the court, John A. Berkey, P. J.

Now, the 7th day of July, 1924, the sentence of the court is that you, Victor Amispadi pay the cost of prosecution, a fine of one hundred dollars and that you stand committed in the custody of the high sheriff of Somerset County until discharged by due course of law. By the court, John A. Berkey, P. J.

July 8, 1924, petition of district attorney praying the court to order the destruction of twenty-one gallons of moonshine, twenty gallons of wine and one still, complete with coil, presented an order made as follows:

Now, July 9, 1924, the foregoing petition having been read and considered, the court orders and directs the sheriff of Somerset County to destroy all intoxicating liquor and property seized and as described within the petition, and make return to the court of compliance with this order. By the court John A. Berkey, P. J.

July 11, 1924, petition for parole presented and filed and hearing fixed for Monday, July 28, 1924. (See argument docket Volume I, page 280)

July 28, 1924, petition dismissed at the costs of the petitioner.

A. Around twenty-five, twenty, twenty-five, I no no for sure.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Who is your lawyer, Frank?
A. Mrs. Heckman, Mr. Scott.

HARRY F. BITNER—recalled.
DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Did you bring the record in the Hoffman case?
A. Yes sir.

Q. Mr. Bitner, will you produce the depositions of the officers of the Equitable Trust Company of New York which were taken in this case, subject to cross examination.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: In what case?

Mr. GEYER: In the Hoffman case.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Is this an offer of depositions in a case in which we are not a party and had no right to cross examine?

Mr. GEYER: Wait until I identify it.

The CHAIRMAN: What is it you are offering, Mr. Geyer.

Mr. GEYER: In the Hoffman case referred to, the deposition of certain officers of the Equitable Trust Company of New York to the effect that they did not underwrite or agree to finance this road under any circumstances. The offers of that company are beyond the processes of this committee.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The depositions never have been offered in evidence.

Mr. GEYER: We have the original court record.

Mr. LUDLOW: Who were represented Mr. Geyer, at the taking of the depositions?

Mr. GEYER: I propose to ascertain. I will not go into the question of what was said. The witness produces a rule to take depositions in the case of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, for the use of first national bank of Davidsville, Pa., against Peter Hoffman in the court of common pleas of Somerset County, No. 311, May term, 1922, The rule was entered by the stipulation of C. L. Shaver, attorney for plaintiffs, Ray Patton Smith, Johnstown, Pa., Francis J. Kooser and Earnest C. Kooser, of Somerset, attorneys for the defendant, and the stipulation avere that in lieu of personal attendance by the parties or their counsel with direct examination and cross examination of witnesses it is agreed that the testimony be taken under this rule shall be upon written interrogatories and cross interrogatories filed therewith.

The Notary Public shall swear or affirm the witnesses at the time and place designated in the rule, and shall propound to each the accompanying interrogatories and cross interrogatories; and shall transcribe the witness's answers in typewriting to each respectively.

After the interrogatories and cross interrogatories have been propounded and the answers reduced to typewriting, the manuscript shall be bound together with the said rule and this agreement; and shall be certified by the Notary Public and shall be securely sealed in an envelope and forwarded at once by mail addressed to Harry F. Bittner, Esq., Prothonotary, Somerset, Pa.

Then follows the interrogatories which are nine in number.

Mr. WITKIN: You need not encumber the record with those things. Were they offered in evidence at the trial of that case?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Both lawyers are here, Mr. Kooser and Mr. Shaver.

Mr. WITKIN: Do you know Mr. Gever.

Mr. SHAVER: There was no testimony offered, Mr. Gever, by the petitioner.

Mr. GEYER: They are taken and returned and they are filed in that court.

Mr. SHAVER: I think, Mr. Geyer, under the rule of court, the question as to whether written exceptions are admissable in court has never been raised and the admissibility never been passed upon.

(Discussion with reference to admission in evidence of depositions in case of Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company, use of First National Bank of Davidsville, Penna., vs. Peter Hoffman, to No. 311, May term, 1922, off the record).

The CHAIRMAN: Mr. Geyer, the concensus of opinion of the committee is that although we don't agree with the procedure in handling this matter in reference to these depositions in Somerset, in filing interrogatories and cross interrogatories and so on, we feel that we have been very liberal in admitting hearsay testimony, in reference to statements that were made regarding the purchase of bonds, statements that were made by agents in reference thereto, and we do feel that since these interrogatories in the case in Somerset County, it would be going too far to admit them for the purpose of denying the facts for which they are intended to be introduced. I think that we have had sufficient evidence submitted to form a pretty definite opinion as to whether or not the men who made these representations were actually authorized representatives of this trust company. I make that statement because I don't feel in ruling this testimony out, that we are inflicting any great hardship upon the petitioners in this case, and for the present, we don't think it advisable or proper to admit the depositions.

Mr. GEYER: Then, may I suggest to you gentlemen of the committee inquiring for the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, that one John Y. Robbins of the age of forty years, and now or recently the assistant trust officer of the Equitable Trust Company of the city of New York whose business address is 37 Wall Street, New York City, and whose present residence is 89 Union Street, Montclair, N. J., has records and information of value to this commission, and knowledge on the questions as to whether or not the Equitable Trust Company had ever actually engaged agents to sell these securities, or even had actually agreed to take over these bonds, and to request this committee by the use of the friendly offices of the authorities of the sister State to ascertain whether the presence of the witness in this State may be had.

The CHAIRMAN: The offer will be considered by the committee.

Mr. GEYER: I can do no more than tell you the name of the witness the information available and I have no way of obtaining it.

The CHAIRMAN: We will take such steps to get the information as will be deemed necessary, Mr. Geyer.

(Schedule of assets and liabilities in re bankruptcy of Robert M. McGregor produced and marked complainants exhibit No. 58).

Mr. GEYER: Inquiry was made concerning the bankruptcy petition of one Robert M. McGregor whose name appeared on a note, I think which was held by the county treasurer, and I have exhibit No. 58, produced by the referee in bankruptcy, and I offer the schedules in evidence for the purpose of showing the assets and liabilities in that estate.

Mr. LUDLOW: Can you, in order to save the record, agree with Governor Beidleman as to what particular part of these records shall be offered, and curtail a great deal of irrelavent matter in this proceeding?

Mr. GEYER: I believe we can.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: In the first place I want to put my objection on the record. I want to object to the admissibility of these schedules in bankruptcy for the reason that it was not a full and complete record of the case. I take it, the purpose is to show the value of the note concerning which Shober was examined here, wherein he stated, at the time this note was given the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company it was good as collateral. The schedule itself is only a self-serving declaration upon the part of McGregor. I am advised by counsel who appeared in the case, that there is a stenographic copy of the notes which are a part of this record as well as the schedules in bankruptcy; if we are going to have a record submitted we should have a full and complete record, the same as we should have the copies of indictment, copies of information and of the search warrant in any of the cases that were submitted heretofore, where they simply introduced a certified copy of the docket entries.

They are undertaking in this case to offer schedules that were filed in voluntary proceedings by this bankrupt, who was called before the referee in bankruptcy, examined and the notes taken stenograhpically and reported, they are a part of the record in this case and surely if they are going to play fair and get at the truth in this transaction we are entitled to have the complete record. We have never had a bill of particulars in this case and we are sitting here at this end of the table waiting to see what counsel on the other side may see fit to produce. They come before your honors sitting as a judicial body, and offer only a part of a record when there is a complete record, and we are entitled to have the complete record, as is required to be produced in any court of record where you are endeavoring to produce a case.

(Discussion with reference to admission in evidence of schedules in re voluntary bankruptcy of Frank M. McGregor off the record).

The CHAIRMAN: Mr. Geyer, would it not be possible in that case that the bankrupt might not have disclosed nearly all of his assets, and a later examination might bring out and reveal additional assets which would be later incorporated in the estate. So far as Mr. Beidleman's statement is concerned in regard to evidence disclosed that he had transferred his property to his wife for the purpose of avoiding his debts of course if that was discovered and I take it that the referee would see that it was properly disposed of.

Mr. GEYER: I don't want to try that issue and only brought it up because of some inquiry here.

The CHAIRMAN: Then you withdraw that?

Mr. GEYER: Yes.

The CHAIRMAN: We will proceed then with another matter.

Mr. Geyer called the name of Charles Knepper, but there was no response.

Mr. GEYER: I think we have finished, but there is one other matter that I want to call to your attention. Gentlemen, we believe that the records of the Public Service Commission in the matter of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company contain matters of interest. We have no way of having it here, and I would suggest that the committee request that such records as they have be produced showing what the company has done by way of registration and qualifying before that commission.

The CHAIRMAN: In reply to your suggestion, Mr. Geyer, I would say that a member of the committe has already made arrangements to have those records produced tomorrow.

(Discussion with reference to qualification of interpreter off the record).

WALTER BORDECZEWSKI, recalled.

Mrs. Anna Covolla, an interpreter, was fully sworn to make true and correct interpretations of questions and answers.

Mr. LUDLOW: I would suggest first, Mr. Chairman, that the interpreter state, so that the record may contain it, her official position, and how long she has held it.

By Mr. LUDLOW: (to interpreter).

Q. What is your official position?
A. Court interpreter Somerset County Court.
Q. How long have you held that position?
A. 12 years last September.
Q. You have in pursuance of your position interpreted the Polish language?
A. I have.
Q. Are you the only interpreter who is regularly used in Somerset County?
A. I am.

By Mr. LUDLOW (through the interpreter to the witness, Walter Bordeczewski).

Q. Walter, will you please explain to this committee the first time you were arrested in Somerset County, when and for what?
A. I don't know the date.

Mr. LUDLOW: Mr. Chairman, he is just as dumb in Polish as he is in English.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

A. I don't know.
Q. About how long ago?
A. I think July, 1924.
Q. Have you been arrested four times since then?
A. No.
Q. If the first time was in 1924, and you have not been arrested four times since then, when were you arrested the other five times?
A. I was arrested once.
Q. During what year?
A. The first time it was in the month of July.
Q. 1924?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Have you been arrested four times since then?
A. I was not arrested four times.
Q. How many times altogether have you been arrested?
A. Twice.
Q. When were you arrested the second time?
A. In July.
Q. Were you arrested twice in July?
A. No.
Q. During what two months of 1924 were you arrested?

A. I don't know.
Q. For what were you arrested the first itme?
A. I had a punch board.
Q. Was that on July 4th?
A. No, it was not in July, I don't know the month.
Q. When were you arrested by the state police for having the punching board, or punch board?
A. I don't remember.
Q. What else were you arrested for?
A. I had my barroom leased to another man, and they arrested me.
Q. When?
A. In July.
Q. Is that the same time, or about the same time you were arrested for having the punch board?
A. No.
Q. How many months apart were the two arrests?
A. I don't remember.
Q. When you were tried on February 13, 1924, at the time the state police testified, was not that for the punch board?
A. I don't know sure. I no remember (answered by witness directly).
Q. Whether in English or Polish what were you tried for on September 6, 1924?
A. It was in July, it was not in September.
Q. You were arrested in July, but you plead guilty on September 6th, what did you plead guilty to?
A. I don't know what they mean by plead guilty, I paid the costs.
Q. Did you understand that they destroyed the liquor that they took?
A. They didn't take any of my liquor.
Q. Before you came down to Harrisburg last Wednesday, what lawyer in Johnstown did you consult about this case?
A. I was not to see a lawyer.
Q. After you left Harrisburg last Wednesday, and before Monday of this week, what lawyers have you consulted?
A. I didn't consult any lawyer, I went home.
Q. Did any lawyers talk to you about the case since last Wednesday?
A. No.
Q. Do you understand that you are under oath, and that if you make a misstatement you will be guilty of perjury?
A. I didn't understand the oath.
Q. Do you understand that you are now testifying under oath?
A. I do.
Q. Do you understand the penalty if you don't tell the truth?
A. I know.
Q. Now tell me whether any lawver has talked to you about this case since last Wednesday?
A. No.
Q. None whatever?
A. No.
Q. When did you first buy a bond of the Somerset & Johnstown Railway Company?
A. In January, 1924.
Q. Good. Now you were arrested the first time on November 22nd, 1923, were you not?
A. I don't recall what year.
Q. How did you come to buy the bond?
A. I wanted to buy a bond.
Q. I beg pardon.
A. I wanted to buy a bond.
Q. Did the fact that you were arrested on November 22nd, 1923, make you want to buy the bond?
A. No.
Q. How much did you pay when you bought that bond in January, 1924?
A. $100.
Q. You are refreshing your memory from a paper, when did you write the notes on that paper?
A. I have written that at home.
Q. When?
A. Yesterday and the day before.
Q. What records did you look at that made you put those dates down?
A. On check that I had. I don't have the check now.
Q. Tell us why you Albino Caoli to Judge Berkey's office?
A. He refused to pay me the money, so he said he would pay it in the presence of Judge Berkey, he didn't trust me.
Q. How much did he pay you in the presence of Judge Berkey?
A. $200.
Q. What did Judge Berkey say when you went to see him?
A. He said it was all right.
Q. Did you talk to the Judge in Polish, or by the aid of an interpreter?
A. I talked to him in English, I told him these people wanted to pay me the money, that is all.
Q. Did you pay any of the moneys you received from Albino Coali to Judge Berkey?
A. No, I didn't. (In English). Yes, I found out, I forget, yes, I'm pay.
Q. What was the answer?
A. Yes, I paid.
Q. How much did you pay?
A. $200.
Q. When?
A. No, I didn't give him any money (in English) I have that wrong.
Mr. LUDLOW: Madam Interpreter, will you please look at that memorandum, in what language is it written.
The INTERPRETER. In Polish.
Mr. LUDLOW: Will you translate the memorandum into English.
The INTERPRETER. "One hundred dollars paid for the bond February 19, $500; paid $200 to me, $300 is still in the bank".
The WITNESS: I got note for that.
The INTERPRETER. It was $500.
Mr. LUDLOW: Is there anything on the other side?
The WITNESS: No.
The INTERPRETER: It is all scribbled, I cannot make anything out of the other side.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. In whose name is the $300 in bank?
A. Davidsville.
Q. In whose name is the money?
A. This memorandum mentions a note of $300.
Q. Who signed the note?
A. Frank Caoli.
Q. Did you tell Albino Caoli that if he bought bonds of this railway, this street railway, company, he would not have to go to jail?
A. No, I never said that.
Q. How many other bonds of this street railway company did you buy besides the first one?
A. No.
Q. No what, and don't answer sir. Now ask the question again, how many other bonds did you buy besides the first one, the answer is not no.
A. Yes, I bought a $500 bond.
Q. How much did you pay on that $500 bond?
A. I paid that $500 to the Davidsville bank.
Q. From whom did you buy it?
A. From the Judge.
Q. Where did you talk to the Judge when you bought it?
A. At his office.
Q. What did the Judge say to you at the time you bought it?
A. He said he would sell me a bond.
Q. When did you buy the $500 bond?
A. I don't recall.
Q. Look at your memorandum and see.
A. February 14.
Q. What year?
A. (No answer).
Q. Was that 1924, last year?
A. I don't have it marked here on my paper.
Q. Didn't you buy it the day after your trial in Court on February 13, 1924?
A. No.
Q. When did you buy it?
A. February 14, 1924, (in English) I don't know sure.
Q. What was the size or amount of the first bond you bought?
A. $100.
Q. What did you pay on that bond?
A. $100 check.

Q. Did you say awhile ago that you only had $250 of the bonds now?
A. I didn't say that.
Q. If you made that statement last week that was incorrect, was it?
A. I didn't understand you men.
Q. Did you pay for the $500 bond by giving a note?
A. No, I gave him a note and it is at the Davidsville bank.
Q. What was the last sentence?
A. (By the Interpreter: And it is at the Davidsville bank).
Q. Who drew the note, who wrote the note?
A. I did.
Q. In your own handwriting?
A. The name I did.
Q. Who wrote the rest of the note?
A. One of my boarders.
Q. Judge Berkey didn't write it?
A. No.
Q. You are sure of that?
A. Yes.
Q. Then when you went to the Judge's office did you have the note with you, or did you take the note back later?
A. No.
Q. No what?
A. It was my note.
Q. When you saw Judge Berkey on February 14, did you have any cash with you?
A. No.
Q. Did you have the note with you that day?
A. No.
Q. Did the Judge ask you to bring back a note?
A. No.
Q. Have you seen Judge Berkey to talk to him about this case since last Wednesday?
A. No.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Walter, you read English, don't you?
A. No.
Q. What are you doing with the newspaper in your pocket?
A. Belongs to my friend.
Q. Who?
A. Frank Springer.

By the CHAIRMAN:
Q. What newspaper is it, Walter?
A. I don't know.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:
Q. Just ask him why he said he bought these bonds?
A. Because I want to buy them.
Q. You thought they were a good investment, I suppose?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And at that time did you have any pressing debts that you had to pay?
A. Yes, I had a small debt.
Q. How large, or how small was that debt?
A. $1,000.
Q. $1,000.
A. Yes.
Q. To whom did you owe that?
A. Davidsville bank.
Q. Was that debt in the hands of the sheriff?
A. No.
Q. Do you know a man by the name of Girishenski?
A. No, I don't know the man.
Q. Do you know a man with a name that sounds like that?
A. I never heard that name.
Q. Did you owe any man, at or about that time, $2,900?
A. Yes, I owe some money.
Q. Did you owe any man, at or about that time, $2,900?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What was the name of that man?
A. Jack Galitski.
Q. Was that claim in the hands of the sheriff at that time?
A. Yes.
Q. And had the sheriff made a levy on your property at that time?
A. He was in the house and asked me to pay the debt.
Q. The sheriff was in the house?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did he leave any papers with you?
A. No.
Q. Did you within a week after buy this second $500 bond, and make application to one of the banks in Somerset for a loan of $1,000 to pay on account of this Galitski debt?
A. No.
Q. Do you know Mr. Williamson?
A. Yes.
Q. Who is Mr. Williamson?
A. He is a cashier.
Q. In what bank?
A. Davidsville bank.
Q. Did you make application to Mr. Williamson at the Davidsville bank within a week or ten days after purchasing this second bond for a loan of $1,000?
A. They loaned me some money and then I bought this bond.
Q. That is not an answer to the question. Ask him the question again.
A. Yes, I was.
Q. You were what?
A. At the Davidsville bank.
Q. Did you make application to Mr. Williamson, cashier, to get a loan of $1,000?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And did you say that this $1,000 was to be paid on account of the sheriff's execution in the amount of $2,900 against you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Now tell us why with one debt of $1,000 outstanding against you, and another debt of $2,900 outstanding against you in the hands of the sheriff, with levy made in your case, did you buy a bond instead of applying that money to the payment of those debts?
A. The other debt was not due, not when I bought the bond.
Q. How about the $2,900 debt?
A. I paid that.
Q. Wasn't that in the hands of the sheriff on July 8, 1921, at the time that the bond was purchased?
A. No.
Q. Did you make application, and I asked you this question twice, did you make application to Mr. Williamson for $1,000 within a week or ten days of the time you bought this second $500 bond?
A. Yes, I asked him for a loan.
Q. And didn't you tell us before that you told Mr. Williamson that that was to be paid on account of this $2,900, that the sheriff had levied on your property?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Now tell us again why you chose to buy a bond on July 8th, 1924, when at that time there was in the hands of the sheriff an execution against your property for the non-payment of this debt of $2,900, on account of which you within a week or ten days later made application to the bank for a loan of $1,000?
A. I had four months time to pay that debt.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. Mr. Walter, you paid the $2,900, didn't you?
A. Yes.
Q. Did you pay the bank what you owed them?
A. No.
Q. How much did you owe the bank?
A. $1,500, $1,000 I borrowed one time, and $500 the second time.
Q. Did you pay them?
A. No.
Q. Do you know anybody else that bought these bonds?
A. I sell some bonds.
Q. How much did you sell them for?
A. $450, I sold it to a Hungarian man.
Q. How much was the face value of the bond you sold for $450?
A. I sold $100 worth of bonds.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. Was the Hungarian ever arrested for anything?
A. No.
Q. Has anybody talked to you about this case since you were here last Wednesday?
A. No.

Q. Where did you make that memorandum?
A. At home.
Q. When you made that memorandum a day or two ago, where did you get the facts that you put on it?
A. When I came home I thought about it, and I wrote it down on this paper.
Q. Even though you had left your checks here last week?
A. I was in to see the checks at the Hooversville bank, Davidsville bank.
Q. Did you sell any of your street railway bonds to Caoli?
A. No.
Q. Did you sell any to anybody besides the Hungarian?
A. To this Hungarian, and the fellow at Hystoa, his name is Frank.
Q. How much?
A. Frank Caoli $500.
Q. And the Hungarian how much?
A. $100.
Q. How many bonds had you left? You had them here the other night?
A. $1,000.

The CHAIRMAN: So far as you are concerned you are not going to produce any more testimony.

Mr. GEYER: I think not. If I should happen to think of some that has been inadvertently ovedlooked, I might produce it in the morning. The proceeding is all foreign to me, and a lawyer sometimes feels at the end that he may have overlooked something.

The CHAIRMAN: The hearing will be adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

WHEREUPON, at 11:25 P. M., the hearing was adjourned until tomorrow morning at 10:00 o'clock.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 4, 1925.
Senate Caucus Room, 10 A. M.

(Hearing resumed)

PRESENT: The Committee, Chairman Marshall, Presiding; Petitioners and their counsel, the respondent and his counsel.

CHARLES W. KNEPPER, a witness called on behalf of the complainant, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. What is your name?
A. Charles W. Knepper.
Q. Mr. Knepper, there was produced here by Mr. Shober a certain note for $2,500, said to have been give by you and transferred by the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company to Marlin M. Shober, the note is marked exhibit No. 17, and I show it to you and ask you whether that is your note?
A. That looks like my signature, but the paper that I thought I had signed, I was thinking it was a bond for $5,000, to be used for that purpose.
Q. The question is do you owe that $2,500?
A. I think not.
Q. Will you tell the gentleman why you think you do not owe it?
A. The amount was divided into two parts and there was a note still at the First National Bank of Berlin for $2,500 against my estate. The bankers bought it and they approved the note and bought it against me, and later they notified me that they had bought a note against me for $2,500.
Q. You mean the note was discounted at the bank?
A. No sir, not discounted, it was sold for present worth for $2,500 and I went up to the bank and talked with the two cashiers of the bank and told them that I would accept of the note, that everything was all right.

The CHAIRMAN: That you would what?

A. Accept of the note against my estate. Later I went up and in getting my wife acquainted with the situation I went up and told the bankers at the Filson where I am doing my business, I told them that the First National Bank holds a note against my estate for $2,500, and I would like to have it transferred, and both the cashiers looked at one another and they said they will consider it, what kind of security would you give? I said I would give my wife on the note. I went down and they drawed up the note. I went down for my wife's signature and they called in two other directors. When I came up both directors were there and they had talked it over and they handed me out $2,500, or they handed me the note for $2,500 and I had both signatures on, C. W. Knepper and his wife, her name. I have been taking care of that note ever since that time, taking care of the interest. I wasn't in shape to take the amount of it, I was persuaded into it, and really against my wishes. The solicitors had pushed me farther than I wanted to go, I wanted to consult with members of my family, and they got my signature against my wishes, and then I thought to break even I would take care of $2,500 towards the transaction but I didn't feel able to take care of $5,000, and in visiting with the Judge I presented it that way, that I was not able to take care of $5,000 but I would take care of $2,500, if it had to be.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. What did the Judge say to you?
A. The way I understood the Judge he would take it up for me, he would release me of the $2,500, he said he would bring it before the directors of the bank that he is a director of.
Q. Was it the bank or the Railway Company?
A. No, I dont know where this note was at, you know I don't know.
Q. When was this conversation with Judge Berkey?
A. Oh at different times I visited in his chambers at different times.
Q. Did he ever ask you to pay the note or any part of it?
A. No sir, there never was any interest to be paid, no more than the note the Filson National Bank held against me.
Q. You had two notes of $2,500?
A. I didn't know that, I was ignorant of that.
Q. You didn't know that you had given two notes?
A. No sir, I only wrote my name once, Charles W. Knepper.
Q. And you say you told the Judge you would take care of the one note if he would take care of the other?
A. I said I wasn't able to take care of the two.
Q. What did he say about this other one?
A. He would try and release me of it.
Q. How long ago was that?
A. Four or five years ago, shortly after I had given my signature.
Q. Since that time have you been asked to pay it?
A. Frequently I asked that of him.
Q. Since that time has he ever asked you to pay anything on it?

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. What kind of a bond did you think you were signing?
A. A $5,000 bond.
Q. You thought you were signing a $5,000 bond,—for what?
A. Somerset Street Railway Company.
Q. That is, you were buying $5,000 worth?
A. I put my signature for that amount.
Q. And that is your signature on that note? Look at it.
A. It don't look that way to me.
Q. Well look at it.
A. It is on the bond but not on this note.
Q. Look at the paper and tell us whether or not that is your signature?
A. Yes, sir, that looks like my signature, but can a man write his name on two notes at the same time?

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. How many times did you sign your name?
A. One time.
Q. This note has never been paid; is this the one they are asking payment for now?
A. No, I was ignorant of this. I just noticed in the Johnstown paper as I came over here, I noticed an account of this, that this was going on.
Q. You say you paid $2,500?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you get that note back?
A. No, I am still paying, I am taking care of it.
Q. Who has it?
A. The Filson National Bank of Berlin.
Q. That is not this note?
A. No, sir.
Q. Have you ever been asked to pay this note?
A. No, sir.

Q. When did you first learn of this note being in existence?
A. I asked the Judge to release me of this amount.
Q. That is not what I asked you, I asked you when you first learned of its existence?
A. In the Johnstown paper when I came down on the train.
Q. When?
A. Yesterday.
Q. No, you do not get me. You said you asked the Judge to release you from this note?
A. Yes sir.
Q. I asked you if you asked him to release you from it, you must have known it existed; I asked you when you first learned that there was a note; had you only signed your name once?
A. I knew I had signed the bond for $5,000, but I never knew I signed two notes of $2,500 apiece.
Q. You said you asked the Judge to release you from this note?
A. Yes sir.
Q. You could not ask him to release you unless you knew it existed?
A. I knew I had signed for $5,000, but I wasn't able to take care of it, understand, I wasn't financially, I am not able to take care of $5,000, not condemning the proposition, never did and never want to.
Q. I don't care anything about that. You spoke about asking the Judge to release you from the payment of this note; do you mean this note or the remaining $2,500?
A. No, this note.
Q. Then when did you know that this note existed?
A. Yesterday I noticed it in the paper.
Q. When did you ask the Judge to release you?
A. Different times, frequently, very often.
Q. You could not ask him to release you from this note a month ago if you did not know that there was such a note until yesterday; now think what you are saying.
A. He has done it in other cases, I thought he would do it for me.
Q. You do not get my point, at least you do not answer intelligently. You say you asked him quite awhile ago to release you from what? Was it the payment of this note?
A. For the balance of $2,500, I did not know what form it was in.
Q. Then why did you say that you asked him to release you from the payment of this note several months ago and you did not know until yesterday that it existed?
A. Not this note, but the $2,500 that was in the bond, just release me from that and I would take care of the other.
Q. It is very important that you make yourself clear on the record. You have testified that you asked the Judge to release you from this note, you used the term "note" and then followed it by the statement that you did not know there was such a note until yesterday?
A. No, I never knew I had my signature to a note, neither did I think that was against me at Berlin, I thought it was a bond I put my name to.
Q. Are we to understand when you signed your name you thought you were subscribing for a $5,000 bond?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And you never signed your name but once to any paper?
A. Yes sir.
Q. How many notes have turned up against you, one or two?
A. One, the $2,500 note at the Filson National Bank.
Q. How many notes are in existence against you that have your name on them in this transaction?
A. It appears that there are two.
Q. There are two, are there not?
A. According to the way this looks, but I am not able to take care of this note, between brothers.
Q. It is not a question whether you are able to pay it, I am asking you, to get the record cleared up, it is rather abiguous. From your first testimony there are two notes with your name on them, whether you signed ther or not?
A. I was ignorant of it.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. When you went to the bank at Berlin did they show you a $2,500 note signed by you?
A. It has been some time ago.
Q. Was a $2,500 note signed by you?
A. I tried to investigate but I don't know what I done with the note.
Q. Was it signed by you? Was there a note at the Berlin Bank for $2,500 that you signed?
A. I talked with one of the bankers night before last—
Mr. STADTLANDER: Just answer the question yes or

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Was there a note for $2,500 shown you at the Berlin Bank?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Signed by you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. You signed it, did you?
A. I only signed my name once.
Q. Did you sign your name to this $2,500 note that was shown you at the Berlin Bank?
A. I had it transferred.
Q. Answer it yes or no.
The CHAIRMAN: Answer, then you can explain.
Q. Was that paper signed by you?
A. I expect it was.
Q. Do you say that it was or was not?.
A. It must have been.
Q. Then if there was a paper signed there for $2,500 which you admitted was your signature, how do you reconcile that with the statement that you thought you were signing a $5,000 bond?
A. I only wrote my name once.
Q. I am asking you how you reconcile the fact that you had a $2,500 note at the Berlin Bank which you say you signed and you admit that you signed a $5,000 bond?
A. I think there is where the catch lies.
Q. I am asking you how you reconcile that, you say you admit that you signed the $2,500 note and you have said that you thought you were signing a $5,000 bond, how do you reconcile the two statements?
A. I cannot prove that out.
Q. You got $5,000 in bonds didn't you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Do you still have them? You know whether or not you have them?
A. They are not in my care.
Q. Where are they?
A. Some one has them.
Q. Do you own them?
A. No, I own $2,500.
Q. Where are the other $2,500?
A. I handed them over to another party.
Q. Who?
A. Attorney Kooser.
Q. Did you give them to him?
A. He gave me credit.
Q. For what? Gave you credit for what?
A. I handed them to him.
Q. Did you sell them to him?
A. No sir.
Q. Why did you give them to him?
A. I know that there was a little dissatisfaction coming along and I wanted him to help me along in the work.
Q. You handed the mto Mr. Kooser as attorney?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. So that he has $2,500 of them and you have the other $2,500, do you?
A. No he has all of them.
Q. You gave him $5,000 worth of bonds when?
A. I expect some time in January.
Q. Of this year?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What was the dissatisfaction you spoke of?
A. The protecting of the two notes, the protecting of the bond.
Q. If you did not know anything about this until you got on the train at Johnstown yesterday, how did you have that information about the protecting of the note in January?
A. I didn't know anything of that in January, I know that the Judge held another note.
Q. Then you know that the Judge held another note against you?
A. Now he has a claim against me for $2,500 but I wanted to be released of it.
Q. On another note?

A. No, I don't know the form it was in.
Q. What did you give to Mr. Kooser, or how did you happen to turn the bond over to
A. I handed him all of the bonds.
Q. What for, how did you happen to do it and under what circumstances?
A. I told him I wasn't able to take care of $5,000.

By Mr. MOFFATT:
Q. It was about the 7th of July, 1921 that you purchased $5,000 worth of bonds; had you talked with Judge Berkey about the purchase of these bonds prior to that time?
A. His attorney sold the bonds.
Q. But you didnt talk with him?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you receive any communication, letters or otherwise from him?
A. Later.
Q. But nothing prior to the purchase of the bonds?
A. No.

By Mr. STADTLANDER:
Q. Was it Judge Berkeys agent or the agent of the Traction Company that came to see you?
A. I think they were men employed through the Judge.
Q. They were not for the Traction Company?
A. I couldn't say who for.
Q. What was the man's name who came to see you?
A. I think they were Pittsburgh men, and then there was a home man along with him and he said the proposition was all right and I asked him to just hold off a little until I would get in consultation with some other people, the proposition may be all right but I am unable to take care of it. I just bought a home over in Berlin and it put me on bad street, but I have been taking care of $2,500.
Q. You never talked to Judge Berkey about it?
A. Afterwards.
Q. Frequently?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. But not before?
A. Not before.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:
Q. What sort of a looking paper was this bond for $5,000 that you signed?
A. I couldn't say but it was a bond I put my signature right to the line.
Q. Was it a bond that looked like bonds delivered to you?
A. No.
Q. Was it a paper about this size? (Indicating).
A. No, larger.
Q. How large was it?
A. It looked to me as large as this would be folded,
Q. Do you recall whether it looked anything like this?
Q. Was it printed or written in longhand?
A. I couldn't say about that, I wrote my name in there.
Do you recall whether it looked anything like this?
A. No, it didnt.
Q. You are certain you only signed your name once?
A. Yes.
Q. At the time you signed your name were you given bonds?
A. No those came later.
Q. How long after?
A. I expect about six months.
Q. When was the first time you knew that there was some paper of yours in the bank for $2,500?
A. Some time in the fall I got the first note in my possession.
Q. You mean the first note for $2,500?
A. Yes, that the First National Bank held against me.
Q. Have you it with you?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Let me see it please.
A. Here is the check that lifted the note at the First National Bank.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. What name is torn off of this note—your wife's?
A. I expect both of them, I handed in a new note in place of that one.
Q. Is that your wife's name that is torn off of it?
A. I can't say, they are both gone. No, that is my name, her name is still there.
Q. That is the note, your wife's name is still there and you tore your name off?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. So this was not the original note?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How can this be the original note in the Berlin Bank if they called you in for the purpose of renewing or securing the note that was there?
A. Look at the back of it, is shown it was taken care of.
Q. You have said that when you were called to the Berlin Bank there was a note there with your name on, didn't you?
A. I didn't say that, they said they had a note against me for $2,500 at the First National Bank.
Q. Didn't you say in your examination in chief they asked what security you would give upon the renewal and you offered your wife as your security?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And that was the first time your wife was security on the note?
A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Did you tear the note or did the bank tear it, do you know?
A. Which note?
Q. This note that has the two signatures?
A. I tore it off, I have another one for it.

THOMAS BALDWIN, a witness called, being duly affirmed, was examined and testified as follows on

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. You are employed by the Department of Internal Affairs of this State?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In what capacity?
A. Clerk.
Q. As such are you custodian or in charge of the records of various companies which report to your Department?
A. I don't know whether they call me in charge, I have access to them.
Q. Do you deal with them in your daily duties?
A. Yes sir.
Q. At the request of this sub-committee of the House have you examined your file with reference to the reports, if any, filed by the Somerset Street Railway Company, the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Will you please tell us for what years you have no reports first?
A. I have no reports for 1914-1915. In 1916 we received two reports that year. The time with the Interstate Commerce Commission was changed from June 30 to December 31st.
Q. In that year you required corporations to file a report for the year ending June 30 and another ending December 31st?
A. Yes, sir. No report 1918, 1919, none 1920, none in 1922, none in 1923 and of course the report is not due yet for 1924 until March 31st.
Q. Did you receive any kind of a return during the year 1923?
A. We received a report and it was not correct and it was returned.
Q. Was it ever sent back to you by the company?
A. No sir, we never received it.
Mr. LUDLOW: With the consent of counsel on both sides the Department of Internal Affairs is asked to submit to counsel, and to the Committee, a memorandum showing what the reports for these years contain. As a matter of fact there are a great many inquiries that are not answered and are not relevant; we simply want to know who were the officers, the directors, during these years, what was the amount of capital returned, the number of miles in operation and any other material fact. That probably would be printed in a couple of long paragraphs in each years report. If that meets with the consent of all present, Mr. Chairman, I suggest that memorandum be presented to counsel on each side and offered as an exhibit.
Mr. GEYER: I am satisfied..

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: So far as I am concerned I am perfectly willing to let it go in as part of the record.

B. F. MORGAL, a witness called, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

Mr. LUDLOW: The Committee intends to show on the record for its own information, whether counsel are interested or not, just what returns, if any, have been made by this company.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Why not agree that that can be offered? We have no objection to it, why take up the time to prove it? Why not state certain things have not been done in the way of reports, why not agree to that?

Mr. MOFFATT: We do not know what they are.

Mr. LUDLOW: If you want to say on behalf of the Judge that they have not filed any reports at any time go ahead.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I will not say anything on behalf of the Judge. If they filed any reports the records are in the possession of the Public Service Commission and if they have not filed any, they are not there. If that is the purpose of the inquiry why take up time? I am willing to take the word of the Public Service Commission.

Mr. LUDLOW: You are taking more time to make these remarks than it will take to prove it.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. What reports, if any, have been made according to the records of the Public Service Commission by this company, have you a report since its formation?

A. No annual reports have been filed by either the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company or the Somerset Street Railway Company.

Q. Although the Public Service Law requires that that be done?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Do you have any registry certificate filed by this company?

A. We have a registry card file by the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company.

Q. In what year?

A. On February 12, 1917.

Q. Signed by the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. Signed by J. A. Berkey, President.

Q. Does it disclose that the company was then in operation?

A. The notation on the record is to the effect that it is not in operation.

Q. What, if any, other facts does the registry establish?

A. It shows the officers and directors and the capital stock and bonds outstanding on that day.

Q. What was the capital stock?

A. $66,000.

Q. And the bonds outstanding?

A. $130,000.

Q. Have any tariffs been filed by this Company?

A. One tariff has been filed by the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company.

Q. Of what year?

A. With the Commission on May 26, 1919.

Q. Signed by whom?

A. These tariffs are not signed, it was filed by U. S. Houck, General Manager, Somerset.

Q. Have you any other records in your Department or your Commission filed by this company?

A. This company has filed two certificates of notification with the Commission with regard to securities issued and it has also filed a number of applications for the Commission's approval of construction of crossings at grade.

Mr. LUDLOW: Mr. Chairman, in order to save the time of the witness and the time of the Committee I suggest that the gentleman will leave these papers, the registry card, the two securities applications and the tariff in your custody as the Chairman until the end of to-day. The Governor and Mr. Geyer and you agree as to how much if anything, further should be stipulated on the record.

Q. Can you leave them with the Chairman?

A. I would not like to leave these records here.

Mr. LUDLOW: Then will you stay or come back at the conclusion of the hearing this morning?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: How many applications for approval of crossings at grade have you got here?

The CHAIRMAN: I do not think we are interested in this Governor at all, I think that is immaterial matter.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: It goes to show that this company has been presenting its petition and applications for approval.

The CHAIRMAN: It is in evidence that they have made several applications for that and we understand it.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I do not understand the relevancy of the other matters.

Mr. LUDLOW: Tell us what the number of them is.

Mr. STADTLANDER: You are satisfied, Governor, that the Department will give us copies of all the proceedings in their office.

WITNESS: I would not like to make the statement as to that, because a number of them overlap, and I would have to study them.

as to that because a number of them overlap, and I would have to study them.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Give us a memorandum and also include whether or not you have monthly accident reports from them.

Mr. STADTLANDER: You are satisfied?

Mr. GEYER: Yes, the only thing I am interested in is I would like to see the certificates of notification.

Mr. LUDLOW: If the Department gives us a short paragraph on each as to what happened at the various times.

Mr. GEYER: I am entirely satisfied.

WITNESS: I should like to have from the Committee some information as to just what you want in the paragraphs, the fact that they were filed or what is in the content of these papers?

Mr. LUDLOW: Just give us a brief history of each and every item that has appeared in your office.

Mr. WITKIN: Without going into the details concerning each application for grade crossings.

The CHAIRMAN: Will that be quite comprehensive, what they are asking for?

WITNESS: If they are only to state the number filed without going into detail as to the contents of what is filed it will not involve very much.

Mr. GEYER: May I suggest that he give us the caption of the cases in each instance and it will disclose the proceedings and the character of the application.

Mr. WITKIN: And filed on such a date.

WITNESS: Do you want the Commission's action on those applications?

Mr. GEYER: No.

WITNESS: Just the fact that they were filed.

Mr. LUDLOW: Those two certificates of notification that you produce, will you exhibit them at this time, relating to the issuing of securities.

Can you make a brief statement from the first one filed, as to when it was filed, what it asks for or what it certifies?

WITNESS: Certificate No. 330, filed December 6, 1915, by the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, in the matter of the issuance and sale of $100,000 of 30 year 5 per cent gold bonds.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Whom was that by?

A. Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company.

Mr. LUDLOW: And the application is signed by whom?

A. The affidavit is made by John C. Emert, Treasurer.

Mr. LUDLOW: Any questions, Mr. Geyer?

Mr. GEYER: May I see for what purpose this certificate was to be issued, or was issued? (examining certificates)

I think there are matters through the whole of it which are of value. I am familiar with what goes into these certificates and it would take some time to put it all on record, I would suggest if we might have access to it we might offer certain portions of it.

The CHAIRMAN: When do you want to do that?

Mr. LUDLOW; Will you do that during the noon recess?

Mr. GEYER: Yes.

WITNESS: Is it the understanding that I shall supply the information to the Committee?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: In order that we may not be broken into, may I suggest that we now take a recess in order that this can be done and convene at an early hour. We made assurances to the Committee that we would endeavor to finish to-day and if we are going to be interrupted in this way I do not see how we can do it.

The CHAIRMAN: I appreciate your position thoroughly and I agree with you that there have been a great many more interruptions than I hoped there would be. We will adjourn now until 1 o'clock, and in the meantime go over this matter and determine exactly what you want and then read it into the record.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Why not read it into the record at the conclusion of the day, or why not read it to the stenographer at the noon recess?

Mr. GEYER: (Reading) Certificate of notification of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, filed December 2, 1915: "In the matter of the issue of first mortgage five per cent thirty year gold bond. Setting forth the total amount of the issue to be $1,500,000 the date of the issue to be January 1, 1916, that the amount thereof to be issued was $14,500; the amount thereof to be issued and sold was $13,500; the amount thereof to be issued and pledged was $100,000.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I want to read into the record this letter which is attached to one of these proceedings:

Harrisburg, Pa., December 21, 1915.

To Mr. J. A. Vandergrift,
142 Broadway, New York City.

Dear Sir: I beg to acknowledge receipt of copy of trust agreement between the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company and the County Trust Company, covering the pledge of first mortgage bonds and securities on issue of $1,000,000 of thirty year five per cent trust bonds. We have attached this copy to certificate of notification filed by the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company on December 2, 1915, with respect to the issue of $100,000 of trust bonds.

The certificate now appears to be in proper form and the company has therefore met all the requirements of the Commission with respect to this particular issue.

Yours truly,
C. J. Joyce,
Chief Bureau of Accounts."

Mr. GEYER: The certificate filed December 6th, 1915, is a certificate of notification, sets forth that the total amount of the issue is to be $100,000, intending evidently the present issue as $100,000. The date of the issue being January 1st, 1916, and that the total authorized issue is $1,000,000. There is accompanying this a deed of trust dated September 1st, 1915, to secure the issue of $1,000,000.

WITNESS: The following applications have been filed with the Public Service Commission for approval of the right to construct crossings at grade:

Application No.	Date filed:
3473—1920	April 10, 1920
3475—1920	April 10, 1920
3477—1920	April 10, 1920
3521—1920	April 22, 1920
5292—1921	September 2, 1921
5293—1921	September 2, 1921
5294—1921	September 2, 1921
5311—1921	September 9, 1921
5312—1921	September 9, 1921
5313—1921	September 9, 1921

COMPLAINTS CLOSE.

The CHAIRMAN: The Committee announces that if there is any matter comes to the minds of the Committee that we want to verify we reserve the right, on either side, to call any one to do that, but generally the case of the complainants is closed.

RESPONDENCE TESTIMONY.

JOSEPH McANENY, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Mr. McAneny, where do you live?
A. Johnstown.
Q. How long have you lived there?
A. Forty-five years or more.
Q. What is your business?
A. Secretary and treasury of the Johnstown Traction Company.
Q. How long have you been secretary and treasury of the Johnstown Traction Company?
A. Fifteen years.
Q. How long have you been connected with the Company?
A. Twenty to twenty-five years.
Q. Do you know the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Will you just describe to the Committee in your own way what this railway is?
A. Their road connects with our road at a point known as Kelso, which is about five miles from the central part of the city of Johnstown.
Q. How long is the road?
A. Their tracks are approximately ten miles long, to a town called Jerome.
Q. Is there any work being done beyond Jerome?
A. There has been some grading done between Jerome and Boswell.
Q. How far is Jerome from Boswell?
A. About four miles, a little less than four miles.
Q. What is the character of the road, the roadbed, the construction, cars, etc?
A. They have a good roadbed and two modern cars.
Q. How long have they been in operation?
A. I think they began operating some time in 1920. They came in over our lines in 1922.
Q. And they bought their power at the commencement of operation from whom?
A. We furnished them with power at the beginning of operations. We also furnished them with a car to operate.
Q. And who is furnishing the power to the company now?
A. The Penn Public Service Company.
Q. Will you state whether or not your company had considered the purchase of this line?
A. Well, we had not just considered the purchase of this line, but we had considered taking the line over and operating it. Some time in 1923, I think, Mr. Harry Swank first talked to our Mr. Murdock and Mr. Murdock told me about it and I later met Mr. Swank and he asked me if we would not interest ourselves in the road. So he said that he had a friend in Boswell named Smucker with whom he could arrange a meeting; so he arranged a meeting and we talked in a general way with him. Later on we met Judge Berkey and Mr. Miller. We proposed to them that as they were having trouble in finishing the construction of the road, that if they would agree to the placing of a mortgage ahead of this mortgage for the construction of the road that we would take the road over and operate it and look for our compensation after the interest had been paid on the bonds, that is, on the bonds that are outstanding, which we understood to be about six hundred thousand dollars or something thereabouts, plus the amount of money which would have been required to complete the road to Boswell and the Lincoln Highway. We estimated that that would cost probably two or three hundred thousand dollars.
Q. Did you make any estimate as to the possible revenue there would be from the operation of the line?
A. Well, we had some figures from them. The present method of operating the line was that they collected the fares on their own line, which was their money, and the fares collected on our line was our money and turned over to us each week. The fare on our line was twenty cents a passenger, and in the settlement of their acounts they brought to us the sheets taken from the register so that we knew about what the line was taking in. In 1923, at that time, the road's gross receipts was something like a hundred and sixteen or a hundred and seventeen dollars a day. We estimated that by going on to Boswell, the road ought to produce something like from three hundred to four hundred dolars a day.
Q. Did you figure any amount upon which you could pay interest at five percent if the road was completed to Boswell?
A. Well, we thought to be able to pay on the amount of money that would be required to complete the road, probably around eight hundred to eight hundred and fifty thousand dollars, anywhere up to fifty to one hundred thousand dollars either way.

Q. My recollection was that you said to me a few days ago that this road, if completed to Boswell and to the Lincoln Highway, it would pay five percent on one million dollars?

A. Something like that amount.

Q. That would be about the operating revenues?

A. Yes, oh, yes, sir!

Q. And your proposition was that you would execute a mortgage, a first mortgage for what would be the actual cost of construction of the road between Jerome and Boswell and postpone the present mortgage to the lien of the one that you propose?

A. Yes, sir. It looked to me that it would be difficult to raise this additional money to complete the road, but would not be so difficult to raise it if the lien were prior to this one already on the property.

Q. What, if any reply, did Judge Berkey make to that proposition?

A. Judge Berkey wanted us to guarantee the interest on all the bonds, and he said that he would be glad to turn the road over to us on those terms, or something to that effect, I do not just recall what the exact words were, but we did not want and were not in the position either, to guarantee the interest on the bonds. We thought the road ought to stand on its own bottom.

Q. But you were willing to take it over, take care of the bond issue that was then out, plus the amount that you would put in for the completion of the road, and the company take the chance of getting any money after the interest on the bonds was paid?

A. Yes, sir, and the operating expenses of that division of the line.

Q. At that time, Mr. McAnemy, of the commencement of the construction of this road, if anything, was the demand for accommodations by railway, street railway, from Johnsto Somerset?

A. The proposition looked good to us, because the railroad connection to Boswell, particularly, was a very indirect route, and this railroad would have been a direct route into the Boswell district and Jerome.

Q. Can you state whether or not at the time the Somerset Railway Company commenced operation of its road, or the construction of its road, your company was contemplating the construction of a road of that character through the same territory?

A. We would have built this road as far as Boswell if they had not been in the field in the early days; they were there before we were.

Q. By the same route?

A. Yes, sir; by the same route, practically.

Q. And this line runs through what kind of territory?

A. It runs through a farming country and coal operations.

Q. And it is built on private rights of way?

A. I understand it is. I am not familiar with the right of way, but I understand it is a private right of way.

Q. None of it is built on public roads?

A. No, I do not think it is.

Q. Mr. McAnemy, what has been the condition, in what state of repair has the railway been kept?

A. The road is in good shape. I was over it recently.

Q. How does its equipment compare with other street railways?

A. Their two cars are first-class cars.

Q. Their cars are the most modern type, are they not?

A. Yes, sir, well, they do not have safety features on them for one-man operation, otherwise they are equal to two cars, for which we paid out more than sixteen thousand dollars each.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. You say there is about ten miles of railroad which is now completed and operated?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And were you willing to take over the operation of the ten miles now built and guarantee the payment of the bonds outstanding?

A. No, we did not want to guarantee any bonds.

Q. How many bonds did they tell you were outstanding?

A. My recollection is that they told me it was something like six hundred thousand dollars.

Q. And you would not undertake the matter unless the expansion of the road was built to Boswell and the State Highway, is that right?

A. That is the only way it would carry that number of bonds, yes, sir.

Q. And in order to do that, it would require about how many more miles of road?

A. About four and a half miles of road, and there is one particular section where it crosses the Quemahoning creek that will require rather expensive construction to construct it.

Q. So, to complete the other four and a half miles, with the expensive creek operation, you estimate it would cost between two and three hundred thousand dollars?

A. I think it would, yes, sir.

Q. Mr. McAnemy, about how much of that would this creek crossing operation cost?

A. It looks like that would cost about a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

Q. To cover about how much length?

A. I think it is between seventeen hundred and one thousand feet.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:

Q. What was the figure you just mentioned?

A. About a hundred and twenty-five thousand dollars.

Q. For the creek crossing operation?

A. Yes sir.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. And then for the rest of the four and a half miles you figured it would cost about what?

A. They have some of the grading done, and roughly estimating it would cost about twenty-five thousand dollars a mile.

Q. That is your rough estimate of the cost of laying down the entire roadbed, is it?

A. This particular line where they have some of this grading done.

Q. Well, about how much would you have allowed for grading?

A. Well, the grading along that hillside, from engineering experience, would cost about ten thousand dollars a mile.

Q. And was that difficult grading?

A. I do not know what you term "difficult grading;" Some hills and some fields.

Q. Well, ordinarily you count in laying a street railway interurban on a basis of about thirty-five thousand dollars a mile?

A. That is about what I would estimate.

Q. That is for ordinary and average grading construction?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And you say there was already ten miles laid?

A. Yes sir.

Q. You would not undertake to build this additional line over to the State Highway and let the bonds—unless the bonds for that building would be a prior lien on the whole road?

A. Well, my point was that it would be difficult to raise the money in any other way. I do not see how to do it.

Q. You are familiar with the market price of bonds?

A. Yes, sir, I know something of bonds.

Q. And you considered you would have to finance that additional operation at least on a six percent basis?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And probably on what further basis?

A. Well, I think probably being the first lien on that you would probably get through with six percent.

Q. That is a six percent bond, but could you sell it at par?

A. You might be able to sell a five percent bond at something less than that. You could not—

Q. Can you sell sixcent bonds at all in that neighborhood at par?

A. No.

Q. You cannot?

A. No.

Q. And, of course, you cannot sell a five percent bond at par?

A. No.

Q. The net result of your discussion, however, ended in nothing, I mean your discussion ended in nothing?

A. Judge Berkey would not agree to any other terms except those bonds which were out should be taken care of. He said they were a prior lien.

Q. You should guarantee the interest on those bonds?
A. The Johnstown Traction Company.
Q. And under no circumstances would you do that?
A. No, sir.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Mr. McAnemy, have you any figures as to population in that territory?
A. Well, I have some figures that I got on an application for a buss line to Boswell, hitting Boswell. Boswell is given in Smull's Handbook as two thousand one hundred and sixty-eight; Jenner township is given as five thousand seven hundred and ninety-five. I could not get the population of some of the other districts around there; I had no way of handling it.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. There is a bus line operating between Johnstown and Boswell?
A. Between Johnstown and Somerset.
Q. Through Boswell?
A. No; another line operates then from Boswell over to Jennertown, and connects with this bus line which is operated from Johnstown to Somerset.
Q. And these bus lines are operating under certificates from the Public Service Commission?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And they carry quite considerable equipment? I mean, it is not just an automobile or jitney?
A. No, busses.
Q. Their busses carry how many people?
A. Well, the bus running to Boswell is a small bus, which probably—I did not look into it, but it is a fourteen or sixteen passenger bus.
Q. And the other bus to Somerset?
A. The bus to Somerset, they have some twenty-five passenger busses.
Q. And they operate on a schedule from Johnstown to Somerset how frequently?
A. My recollection of the testimony was that they make seven or eight trips each way each day.
Q. And, of course, Mr. McAnemy, you will agree that the interurban street railways of Pennsylvania had a hard time of it the last three years?
A. Yes, I guess the automobile competition has taken some of the business. That is what you mean?
Q. Yes.
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. This bus line does not cut to Boswell within a mile or so, does it?
A. It is something—
Q. It does not touch Jerome at all?
A. It does not touch Jerome at all; it is two miles, I think, from Boswell, two or two and a half miles.
Q. So that a person going in the bus and getting off the bus running from Johnstown to Somerset would have a two-mile walk if they wanted to get to Boswell?
A. Well, this bus connects with the other bus line that takes them through there.
Q. Just a fifteen-passenger bus line?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And does not touch part of the territory between Boswell and Johnstown through which this trolley lines runs?
A. No, it does not.
Q. There is a mountain between the two, is there?
A. Yes, sir, it is a different valley.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. Mr. McAnemy, are you familiar with the cost of street railway construction, interurban traction construction in your neighborhood?
A. Well, some.
Q. And have been for the past sixteen years?
A. Yes, sir, somewhat.
Q. You say there are about ten miles of this particular company's line in operation?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What, in your opinion, as an expert on the subject, would have been a proper cost of construction of those ten miles, counting the grade as you know them, the grades and fills and crossings, at the time the road was actually constructed?
A. That is a pretty hard question. I can answer in a general way, however.
Q. I wish you would, simply for our information.
A. (Witness refers to memorandum).
Q. And may I ask what are the figures you used to aid you to testify on the subject?
A. I would have been glad to have had more elaborate figures, but our engineer was in Philadelphia with his daughter, and had been there for more than two weeks, and he just came home Saturday night, this past Saturday night, and I just had an hour with him on Monday morning, and the figures which both of us went over make an estimate of a cost of a mile of track in this district and would be without regard to cost of right of way or anything like that, of thirty-three thousand dollars, to thirty-three thousand, five hundred dollars.
Q. And in that neighborhood, what is your average cost per mile for the purchase of rights of way? What has been your experience on that within the past several years?
A. You could not have had any average price on that.
W. What has been your experience?
A. We have not purchased any rights of way recently.
Q. So you cannot tell on that?
A. No.
Q. You could simply give cost of construction, ballast, wires, grades, rails, etc?
A. Yes sir.
Q. All but the rights of way?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Do I understand you to say that if you were to add two hundred thousand dollars to the construction of a bridge and adding these three or four additional miles, that the road under your operation would produce about three to four hundred dollars a day gross?
A. That was our estimate of what it would take in gross per day.
Q. Gross receipts?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Now, what proportion of the operating gross receipts do you set apart in your own line, based on experience for the cost of operation, exclusive of depreciation?
A. Our operating costs is along something like seventy percent.
Q. How much?
A. Something like seventy percent, but we did not think that the operation of this road would cost so much.
Q. It would not?
A. No.
Q. How near to seventy percent did you suppose this road would be?
A. Well, our estimate was a minimum of three hundred dollars a day, and that would produce something like one hundred and ten thousand dollars a year, and we were figuring anywhere along sixty thousand dollars a year for the cost of operation.
Q. That is the actual operating cost?
A. Yes sir.
Q. How much more would you add to this sixty thousand as a proper item of depreciation in setting it up on your books?
A. Well, I do not think I have discussed it.
Q. What is your practice in your own company? Don't you set out a depreciation which is for rolling stock?
A. Yes, we do.
Q. What proportion do you use there?
A. I do not like to answer, because I am depending too much on memory. I did not expect to be asked such questions or I would have brought some of our own figures with me.
Q. I will change the question so as not to embarass you with your own company. What would be a proper charge-off on your books each year for the depreciation on your equipment?
A. I could probably answer that in another way. We had an interurban division, our Windber division, and our rails on that line are twenty-five years old, and they are not worn out yet. The rails on this line ought to last from thirty to forty years with the very little traffic over them, one or two cars going over them.
Q. Then would you charge off three of four per cent a year for rails?
A. That would take care of it.

Q. How long is the life of one of these one-man trolley cars, that cost fifteen thousand dollars?

A. We have some cars that have lasted more than twenty years.

Q. What do you charge off on your books on the average for your cars in making up your various statements, such as federal reports?

A. In our own case we charge off the amount of money required to make the renewals; we base our depreciation on the actual cost of making the renewals. The federal tax examiners allow us a fifty thousand dollar depreciation to cover the rolling stock, building and power house.

Q. In your company?

A. In our particular company.

Q. Taking this company just as you find it, if you were to succeed in purchasing it, what would you think would be a proper charge-off for depreciation of poles, wires, equipment and other depreciable items of capital stock? From your knowledge of the road, what would be a proper sum to charge off each year, approximately?

A. I am not so good in making off-hand figures. (Figuring).

Q. That is a disadvantage of cross-examination.

A. Basing the total cost on the six hundred thousand dollars and figuring a thirty-year life, would be twenty thousand dollars. That would be as near as I can answer.

Q. In other words, on a six hundred thousand dollar basis, twenty thousand dollars would seem to be a fair annual depreciation?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Now, if you add two hundred thousand dollars capital to that figure, which you would propose to put in if you took it over under your scheme, that would be eight hundred thousand dollars engaged in the business, would it not?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And therefore we would increase the twenty thousand dollar charge-off by one-thirtieth of two hundred thousand dollars?

A. Some of this construction would never depreciate. There is only some of it would depreciate. The grading and such like would not depreciate in any way, the cost of that—

Q. What I am leading up to is this: If you took this road over, added four miles of construction to it at a cost of approximately two hundred thousand dollars, bringing the daily gross operating earnings up to somewhere in excess of three hundred dollars a day, and the annual operating expenses were sixty thousand dollars, and there is a reasonable charge-off upon such basis as you have indicated, how could you earn five percent on one million dollars net?

A. You could not do it on three hundred dollars.

Q. Then when Mr. Beidleman asked you whether you did not tell Judge Berkey that—

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I did not ask if he told Judge Berkey. I asked him if he did not tell me.

Q. Pardon me, then. When you told Governor Beidleman that this would earn five percent net on a million dollars, that is incorrect?

A. Well, we were counting on getting fifty thousand dollars off the operating receipts.

Q. Well, how can you do it on this basis? I am taking your own figures. I am trying to show you that after paying sixty thousand dollars for operating and making a proper charge-off, you cannot pay five percent on a million dollars; using your own figures simply in order to show you you could not do that.

A. The depreciation of twenty thousand dollars a year is rather high for that road.

Q. High, if you went to earn five percent on a million dollars?

A. It would be if you did not have greater income.

Q. If you made no depreciation at all and imagine you had a cast iron system throughout, that would not give way, and deduct sixty thousand dollars for operating expenses, are you not still shy of five percent net on a million dollars?

A. Well, you are holding me to three hundred dollars a day exactly, is that the position?

Q. Yes, sir, at three hundred dollars a day.

A. If you got it up to four hundred dollars a day it would be easily enough done.

Q. Did you examine the books of this company before you made them this tentative proposition?

A. No, sir, I never saw the books of this company.

Q. Did your counsel examine into the legality of the transaction?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you know of your own experience, as a neighbor interurban traction, whether the present outstanding bonds have had any market value for the past few years, I mean the bonds of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?

A. To my own knowledge, I do not know of any sale of them.

Q. Through how long a period of time would you say there has been no market for them?

A. I said in my own knowledge I know of no sale of them.

Q. Do you know of your own knowledge whether these bonds have had any value during the past four or five years?

A. They would have some and also have some future value if the road is constructed.

Q. As a current marketable bond, would be your opinion?

A. Well, just about the same as yours would be, I guess; it is only what you can get for them. If you were going to sell to-day and not willing to take a chance in holding them.

Q. Is Judge Berkey a stockholder in your company?

A. No sir.

Q. Does your company own any stock in this company?

A. No sir.

Q. Or any of its bonds?

A. No sir.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Your board of directors is made up of business men in Johnstown and surrounding territory?

A. Our directors?

Q. Yes sir.

A. Yes sir.

Q. Bankers?

A. Mr. Murdock is one of our directors and is connected with the First National Bank.

Q. The First National Bank is probably the biggest bank in central Pennsylvania?

A. It is the biggest in our district.

Q. Carries assets of more than sixteen to twenty millions of dollars?

A. Something like that.

Q. And this proposition was considered by the board of directors?

A. By our board of directors?

Q. Yes sir.

A. Yes sir.

Q. And the board of directors estimated they could get an approximate revenue of five percent on one million dollars and were willing to take their chances, in the event that the railroad would be transferred to them, of getting any revenue that might come to them after payment of the interest on the bonds outstanding and this additional capital that would be necessary to apply in order to complete the construction?

A. That would be our only position, the only way of getting any compensation out of it.

Q. This road was built through the period of the war when prices were high?

A. Yes sir.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. Do you know when the actual construction of this road took place?

A. It has been going on for a good many years, I do not know just the exact years.

Q. Do you know how much of it has been built since 1918 and how much before 1918?

A. No, I would better say I am not familiar enough to answer this question.

Q. So you really do not know when that was constructed, not the dates of the various parts?

A. No, I know the date when they began operating cars.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:

Q. Do you consider four hundred dollars a day as a conservative estimate if the line were built to Boswell?

A. We consider it three hundred dollars a day as conservative.

Q. And four hundred dollars as a big estimate?

A. Well, that would have to be good, to be good business, to get four hundred dollars a day out of it.

By Mr. MOFFATT:

Q. When did this line begin operation?

A. They began operating over our tracks in 1922. They were operating from a point know as Holsopple down to our intersection for a year or more before that and transferring.
Q. The first operation was a year prior to 1922?
A. Yes, sir; 1920.
Q. 1920?
A. Yes sir.
Q. The first operation of any kind?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What is that distance over which they were operating when they first began in 1920?
A. I cannot answer that exactly.
Q. Approximately?
A. It must be five miles.
Q. And are now operating ten miles?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Through Jerome?
A. Yes sir.
Q. They have two cars?
A. They have two modern cars.
Q. Costing fifteen thousand dollars each?
A. Well, I do not think theirs would cost that much. We have probably a thousand dollars more equipment on our cars than they have.
Q. Costing thirteen to fourteen thousand dollars, then?
A. Yes, sir; something like that.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. This oompany also has its own car barn and power house?
A. Yes, they have their own car barn and transformer, they buy their power.
Q. Do you know how many cars they have?
A. No, I do not.

By Mr. WITKIN:
Q. Mr. McAneny, your engineer went over this line prior to the proposition made by your company at that time?
A. We went all over that.
Q. All these records that you have given us and that your engineer gave you were made before the board of directors of your company, that is correct, is it?
A. This estimate that the engineer made?
Q. Yes, sir, all these various estimates.
A. I do not have any, I do not have any such reports made.
Q. What did your board of directors have to pass on?
A. The income principally from the cars operating as far as Jerome—
Q. I see.
A. And their own personal knowledge of the Boswell district.
Q. Did the board of directors have any figures of the engineers' report before them?
A. No. What sort of figures do you mean?
Q. Did the board of directors have any figures before them with respect to the amount of stock outstanding of the Johnstown & Somerset St. Railway Company?
A. No.
Q. What did they have before them that prompted them to act upon this proposition?
A. They did not take much action upon it other than to arrive at what we would do.
Q. Was this proposition that you made to the Johnstown & Somerset St. Railway Company authorized by the board of directors of your company?
A. Yes, they had authorized me to discuss the matter with the Johnstown & Somerset St. Railway Company officials along that line.
Q. Along the line of the proposition that you did discuss with them?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. Mr. McAneny, as of the recent time without completing this proposed four mile extension to which you have testified, what, in your judgment, would be the value of the entire assets and property of this Johnstown & Somerset St. Railway Company?
A. The road might scrap for ten thousand dollars, ten percent,—well, it might scrap for fifty thousand dollars, or something in along there; I cannot tell what the right of way and real estate might bring them.
Q. Are you referring to a lump sum or to a percentage?
A. A lump sum for their property. Well, about all you could get out of it would be the price of the rails.
Q. I do not mean if you tore the railroad up. I mean a going concern with its patrons and rights of way, present equipment, what ought they be worth in the present market. We want to find out what its present value ought to be.
A. I do not believe I could answer that offhand.
Q. You think it is worth at least thirty-three thousand dollars a mile for ten miles, do you, or would that be new cost of construction?
A. It would cost anyone else that much to build it.
Q. Plus rights of way?
A. Plus rights of way, yes, sir.
Q. Plus the equipment?
A. Plus the equipment.
Q. What do you suppose it would cost to replace their present car barns?
A. Their car barn isn't a very expensive one, several thousand dollars, five thousand dollars, I guess, would build it.
Q. And that is subject to depreciation, isn't it, like any other building?
A. Yes, sir, like any other frame building.
Q. And what about the mechanical and electrical equipment? What has it besides the cars and wires?
A. They have a rotary transformer.
Q. What is that transformer worth today, approximately?
A. Five thousand dollars.
Q. And is that subject to depreciation?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What is the life of a transformer of that kind?
A. Twenty to twenty-five years.
Q. How much difference would there be in the values you have just given between this year, early 1925, and, say, five years ago,—say, 1920,—in all the values you have given?
A. The cost of labor was considerably higher then than now.
Q. How much higher in percentage?
A. From thirty to fifty percent higher.
Q. That would be the labor and cost of construction?
A. Yes sir.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Your company has an issue of first 5% mortgage bonds, has it?
A. Yes sir.
Q. On which there has never been a default in payment?
A. No sir.
Q. And what are they selling for in the open market, about seventy or seventy-five?
A. About seventy-five.
Q. And they have been selling at that for the last several years?
A. Well, I do not know what you mean by several years; for the last four or five years?
Q. Yes.
A. Yes.
Q. So that if anyone wanted to invest in a utility five in street railway lines, yours could have been bought, and they are not in default? Yours could have been bought at about seventy or seventy-five?
A. Yes, sir.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I do not see the relevancy of this line of testimony.
Mr. GEYER: This is a question on the market value of defaulted railway securities.
Mr. LUDLOW: The representative of the Department of Internal Affairs has just come in. Can we introduce him and get rid of him?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Yes, sir.
J. M. MURDOCK, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Mr. Murdock, where do you live?
A. Johnstown.
Q. What is your business?
A. Lumber.
Q. For what company?
A. J. M. Murdock & Brother, Incorporated.
Q. Are you connected with any financial institutions?

A. First National Bank, Johnstown, the First national Bank, Rockwood, Somerset County.

Q. Are you connected with the Johnstown Traction Company?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In what capacity?

A. Vice-President.

Q. How long have you been associated with the company?

A. About 8 years.

Q. Are you familiar with conditions in Somerset and Cambria Counties?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. I do.

Q. Own any of the stock?

A. Not any.

Q. Any of its bonds?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever owned any?

A. No, sir.

Q. Will you state, Mr. Murdock, what you know of the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. Well I know quite a good deal about it in a general way, I know its terminus and its starting point, the termini. I have been over the line, I have been over the ground, and was over the road during the course of its construction once or twice, parts of it. Having lived in that vicinity all my life and since grown up, and of course am familiar with the lay of the country and the general conditions. Our lumber operations carried me all over Somerset County for the past thirty years. I was familiar with the road from the time of its inception and the time the first preliminary start was made, the conduct of its organization and up to the present. I was over the road the last time a few weeks ago.

Q. What was the demand for street railway accommodations between Johnstown and Somerset?

A. We considered it very good. It was brought to our attention some years ago by our New York interests and we told them that we were too late, the field was already occupied, that we understood the line had been started and the charter had been asked for, and the first preliminary steps had been taken to occupy the field, the same line over which we would naturally have gone, because it is really the only logical way to go through to Somerset, being largely a water grade, that is, through a valley and not over mountains or anything of that sort. We considered it at that time good and looked on it in such light.

Q. What is the character of the construction of that line compared with other street railways?

A. I would say good, in fact above the average of that class of lines, equal to practically any of them.

Q. What is the character of the bridges along the line?

A. They are, I believe, mostly stone viaducts.

Q. It was stated by Mr. McAnemy that your company, the Johnstown Traction Company, considered the proposition of taking over this line, will you state to the Committee what you know about that?

A. Along in the summer of 1923, Mr. Swank, the other Vice-President of the First National Bank and President of the Swank Hardware Company, one of our very advanced mercantile institutions in the city, brought to my attention the fact that the Johnstown and Somerset was having some difficulty with financing the interest on their bonds and it might be possible for us to take the property over. He said he knew Mr. Smucker, from Boswell, who was supposed to be an officer in the company, and he said he would have him come down to a conference and suggested it might interest us. I told him it did and arranged with him to have Mr. Smucker come down. Mr. Smucker came down and Mr. Smith telephoned me one day that he was there and he said he would bring him down to my office, which he did. We discussed the thing in just a preliminary way, then I called in Mr. McAneny and we had a further conference and I believe another conference a little later in the Board of Directors room at the First National Bank and that Mr. Swank was also present at that time. Then the matter was turned over to our Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. McAnemy, and he wanted me to go with him to see Judge Berkey. I told him "No, you must conduct these negotiations up to a certain point, there is no use for me to devote time to it, you go ahead." He continued his negotations through Mr. Smucker and the other people in connection with the road and I believe talked with Mr. Berkey over the telephone. He reported to me from time to time of the progress he was making and he wanted me to go with him to see Judge Berkey, and later, as I recall it, in the latter part of the summer of 1923, we went to Sommerset by appointment and we met Judge Berkey before lunch in the Judge's chamber. We discussed the matter to some extent, we adjourned and went to our lunch and came back after lunch and we talker with him then for a while on that afternoon, and in a general way our proposition was probably $150,000 to $200,000 would be required to complete the line to the Lincoln Highway through Boswell. That was the point at which we felt it must be completed in order to produce sufficient revenue. At that time we did not feel disposed to put the money up to do this and we did not believe that the additional issue of the first bonds could be sold to bring in sufficient revenue to supply this money and we suggested to him that apparently the only way we could see was if he could in some manner get the holders of the at that time outstanding bonds to appoint a committee to consider the matter of allowing a prior lien against the property of the company to furnish the additional money. We felt we could, with his assistance, sell those bonds to provide sufficient amount of money to do this. He emphatically refused. I recall his answer, which was: "These bonds are outstanding all over the county, they are owned by many of my friends and I will not entertain any proposition that will in any way place their securities second to anything else that may be put on." In view of that the matter just simply dropped and nothing more ever came of it. I recall distinctly his answer in connection with it, that because he stood for the first original outstanding bonds and we did not even tell him so, that we did not believe the money could be secured by the sale of the additional bonds at that time. The matter was considered by us, by our President and Vice-President, and our General Manager and our Secretary-Treasurer, that is four members of our board of seven, who in a general sense constituted our executive committee, and as a matter of fact every detail of a general character in connection with our company is first acted on and brought up to before this board before it is brought officialy before our board of directors meeting.

Q. That was approved by the executive committee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who constitute the executive committee, by name?

A. Mr. DuPont, our President, myself, Vice-president, Mr. McAnemy, Seecretary-Treasurer and Mr. Lee Shannon, General Manager.

Q. Is Mr. DuPont here?

A. Mr. DuPont has been here through the session but yesterday afternoon he went to Washington to meet his brother and see his brother General DuPont sworn in as United States Senator. He promised that he would come back to-day, this morning perhaps, if he could.

Q. What did your executive committee consider relative to the value of this proposition, Mr. Murdock?

A. We believe it would pay the interest, and told Mr. Berkey we believed it would pay the outstanding bond interest, along with the additional bond interest that would accrue on the new bonds, if the road were completed, and we emphasized to him then, and we believe still that the road is an incomplete proposition and until it is completed to the Lincoln Highway it is more or less of an unfinished job, it is like a house that is only partly finished.

Q. What did you consider would be the profit or income to the Johnstown Traction Company on this proposition, how did you intend that your company should be compensated?

A. We believed the receipts would be sufficient to give us return after payment of the bond interest.

Q. Payment of the bonds then outstanding and payment of the bonds that would be sufficient to build the construction?

A. Yes, sir, we estimated that with the completion of the line the receipts should be between three and four hundred dollars a day and with that amount we felt amply secure in undertaking, while we did not guarantee the interest on the outstanding bonds, we did to the extent that we were to get nothing as our return until that had first been taken care of, along with the operating expenses. We believed it would bring us a return, otherwise we would not have considered the proposition. The line at that time had a traffic arrangement with our Johnstown Traction

Company, as they have to-day, they operate into Johnstown, in part of the city, over our tracks, along with their ten miles, but the return to us is a very insignificant part, and whether the line ceases to operate or whether it continues to operate is of very small moment to the Johnstown Traction Company, in so far as it will affect their rights, or their revenues, but we believe that we could make some money out of it by having a sufficient return to justify the trouble of taking the property over under these conditions.

Q. You are the direct representative of your company for the New York interests, are you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is the population of Johnstown?

A. We try to tell you about 100,000 people are around Johnstown and the vicinity. If you look at Smull's book you probably have us down to about 70,000 but we have good sized boroughs on the four sides of Johnstown.

Q. Through what territory does this trolly company operate?

A. Through a rather populous territory and through excellent coal fields, just beginning its development. We do not figure we would make much additional probably for the next few years, we believe the future development of that community would bring us our greatest revenue.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Mr. Murdock, your proposition did not contemplate that you would make available this $150,000 to $200,000 for building the road, did it?

A. Only to the extent that we would assist in selling these bonds.

Q. You did not agree to take the bonds?

A. No, sir.

Q. And you would not agree to guarantee the payment of interest, would you?

A. Only to the extent that we get nothing out of it until that had been done.

Q. Your plan was that you would operate the road and of course you would get all your operating cost?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you would pay interest on the bonds?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. If there was anything left over that would be yours?

A. Yes.

Q. But you would not guarantee that the interest would be paid on the bonds?

A. Not at the time we did not so agree.

Q. You have said you told Judge Berkey that you thought they could not sell additional bonds, in addition to the present issue; you know the present issue was in default, did you?

A. We believed so, I didn't know it.

Q. I think you have said that you had been told in the beginning that they had difficulty in meeting their interest?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know how many bonds were outstanding?

A. Only in a general way.

Q. What was your figure?

A. Around 600,000.

Q. Was outstanding?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know what the authorized issue was?

A. I did not.

Q. Did you know at what cost to the company these bonds that were outstanding had been sold?

A. I had no knowledge.

Q. Did you have any investigation made as to how much money was actually put into the proposition by the company?

A. We did.

Q. You have heard the testimony of your Secretary-Treasurer as to an estimated cost of about $30,000 or $33,000 a mile for the road, did you conserve that figure?

A. I did not.

Q. You assumed that figure to be correct?

A. No, I didn't. He and I do not agree on many of these things, he is what I consider ultra-conservative type, and I am a little bit more liberal. I always place a higher value and estimate on some of these things generally than he does.

Q. You spoke of the present traffic arrangement with this company, what is it?

A. We got the revenue from our line from their cars.

Q. That is, they run their cars over your tracks?

A. Their cars into Johnstown.

Q. A distance of five miles over your tracks into Johnstown?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. For that five miles what is the fare?

A. I believe it is 20 cents.

Q. For each passenger who rides the whole line?

A. It is divided up into zones and you are asking now of some details of which I do not keep in close touch.

Q. What is your standard rate?

A. 7½ cents.

Q. And those 20 cents for that 5 miles do you get all of it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And their cars haul them?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who furnishes the power?

A. We do.

Q. You furnish the power and the track and they furnish the car but you get all the money?

A. Out of that section of the road.

Q. Of course you contemplated that the increase of traffic from this outlying district would bring you added traffic into the territory in which you get the whole return?

Q. In that sense it would be of advantage to you to have this line developed as a feeder?

A. Yes sir.

By Mr. MOFFATT:

Q. I understand that you refused to have anything to do with the proposition unless the line was built to the Lincoln Highway, which would mean practically to Boswell?

A. We did not feel that we would go into anything that did not include the completion of the line to Boswell.

Q. Your negotiations were based on that?

A. Yes, sir, entirely. It is an incomplete proposition.

Q. That would mean a construction of about four miles, approximately?

A. Between four and five miles, on which a great deal of work has been done.

By Mr. WITKIN:

Q. Which construction your company was willing to undertake?

A. Yes sir.

By Mr. MOFFATT:

Q. Do you mean your company was willing to undertake that construction?

A. It was our intention, of course, to build the road to the Lincoln Highway.

Q. On condition that a prior lien bond issue could be put out?

A. Yes sir.

Adjourned until 1 o'clock P. M.

March 4, 1925, 1 o'clock P. M.

Hearing resumed pursuant to adjournment.

E. M. DuPONT, a witness called in behalf of the respondent being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Where do you live?

A. Johnstown, Pennsylvania.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. 25 years.

Q. What is your business?

A. I am President of the Johnstown Traction Company.

Q. Any other connections?

A. No, that is all in Johnstown.

Q. Identified with any banks?

A. No sir.

Q. Identified with any banks anywhere?

A. No.

Q. How long have you been connected with the Johnstown Traction Company?

A. For 25 years.

Q. Do you know the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. Yes sir.
Q. Will you tell the Committee what you know about it?
A. It is a well built road about 10 miles long, runs over 5 miles of our track and we have always felt that if it was completed to Boswell it would be—at one time we had tried to take it over but Mr. Berkey insisted on us guaranteeing the interest on the bonds, which we refused to do, we wanted it to stand by itself and the negotiations ceased there.
Q. Will you just give more in detail the effort on the part of your company to take it over?
A. Well itwas done through Mr. Swank, Mr. McAnemy, Mr. Murdock and Mr. McAnemy met Judge Berkey, and I really was not at these meetings but they would come back and we would have our meetings after they negotiated with Mr. Berkey. The proposition was that we wanted him to take second mortgage, which would virtually be putting a first mortgage of two or three hundred thousand dollars on to build it, and that we would not get any return until the interest was paid on all the bonds, first mortgage and the present one that were out against it.
Q. Did you pay any particular attention to any part of the work of the Johnstown Traction Company?
A. Construction work more than anything.
Q. You are familiar with the construction work?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Are you familiar with the construction of the Somerset Street Railway?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Will you tell the Committee what you know about it?
A. It is built with an 80 pound rail, stone ballast and well constructed. They have stone bridges and some of them are combination of stone and steel and it is built through a country that there is a lot of grading to it and the grading is very well made. The cuts are wide, so that they will not get full of snow, and it is really a very well constructed road all the way through, I would say a little bit better than our Windber road.
Q. Do you know the equipment of the road?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What is it?
A. It has two first class cars, up to date in every way, then they have two other cars that are not so good.
Q. Do you know when this road was built?
A. During the war, most of it, the highest price construction.
Q. What in your opinion would be a fair estimate of the cost of construction of that road per mile, the part that is not finished?
A. About $35,000 a mile, $35,000 to $40,000.
Q. Mr. DuPont, your company had figured that whatever they would get out of the proposition, if it were accepted was after the interest on all the bonds was paid by them that were then outstanding and any new bonds that might have to be issued to carry out the project?
A. Yes sir.
Q. But you did contemplate the construction of this part yourself?
A. Yes, sir, we did.
Q. When?
A. Judge Berkey got in just ahead of us.
Q. And you contemplated the construction over the same territory?
A. To Boswell, we had no idea of going to Somerset but to Boswell.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. DuPont, how many more miles of road would be required to be constructed to reach Boswell?
A. 4 miles.
Q. And there has been some discussion here about building to the Lincoln Highway?
A. That would be 1 mile farther.
Q. And it would be 1 mile more?
A. Yes sir.
Q. So that it would require 5 miles of road to be built?
A. Yes sir.
Q. When you would speak of your company operating the road, you contemplated, of course, an operating agreement?
A. No—well, yes. If we had operated the road it would have been just as we do any other branch of our road.
Q. And when you operate a road of course you would expect that first there would be kept out the operating cost?
A. No, We would have taken it just as one division of our road, just as our Windber line.
Q. And you said you were not getting that until after the interest on the bonds was paid?
A. Yes, sir, your operating expenses.
Q. You would not be out of pocket?
A. No.
Q. But you would not make any profit until after the interest had been paid on all the bonds?
A. On all the bonds.
Q. Were you advised just how many bonds were outstanding?
A. No, I was not.
Q. Did you ever know how many bonds were outstanding?
A. No, I didn't know difinitely.
Q. And it was a fact that you refused to consider the matter until the completion of the road to the Lincoln Highway was arranged for and financed?
A. We would have financed that, we would have done that if we had taken a first mortgage, we would have raised the money if they had given us a first mortgage for that.
Q. Anything discussed about the rate of interest on that first mortgage?
A. Five per cent.
Q. On the first mortgage?
A. Yes.
Q. And the rate at which the bonds would be sold?
A. No, I don't know what we would have gotten for it.
Q. You could not have sold five per cent mortgage bonds at par?
A. Except through our relationship with some of the banks we had.
Q. Five per cent utilities bond is not sold at par?
A. Not on the market, no.

U. S. HOUCK, a witness called in behalf of the respondent being duly sworn was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Mr. Houck, where do you live?
A. Johnstown.
Q. How long have you lived in Johnstown?
A. About 5 years.
Q. Where before that did you live?
A. 3 years previously in Somerset.
Q. What is your business?
A. Civil engineer.
Q. How long have you been a civil engineer?
A. About 41 years.
Q. Where are you employed?
A. Do you mean during that time?
Q. No, where are you employed now?
A. I am employed as the chief engineer and manager of the Johnstown and Somerset Street Railway Company.
Q. How long have you been an occupant in that position?
A. I have been holding both positions for about 4 years, previous to that time I was their chief engineer.
Q. Of course you are familiar with the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Line?
A. Oh yes.
Q. Just tell the Committee what you know about it, describe the line?
A. Do you mean the construction of it?
Q. Yes.
A. I started the construction of it in 1915, that is the survey, although at that time there was some construction work going on but it was not under my jurisdiction, but I started on the surveys at that time and took about a year probably to complete the location for Somerset.
Q. From what point to what point did you locate such survey?
A. From Kelso Junction to Somerset, to the Windber line to the town of Somerset.
Q. How many miles was that?
A. 28 miles.
Q. Did you procure any rights of way?
A. Yes, we procured pretty near all the right of way of the first 10 miles, most of it of the next 5, and from there to Somerset I think it was probably 10 or 12 sections.
Q. The entire line is projected over private right of way, is it?

A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you know the cost of the construction of this line?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Will you state approximately what it cost?
A. It cost about $432,000, according to an estimate I had. I can give you more details.
Q. Will you give us the details?
A. I have preliminary surveys that were made before my time, but this estimate was taken from the pay rolls and so on up to that time, amounting to about $12,000. The right of way of the 10 miles under track cost about $15,000. The clearing and grubbing for ten miles cost $10,000, corrugated drain pipes of $8,000, grading on the line proper $80,000 for the 10 miles. Now in addition to that there was grading that was connected with change of state road, something over a mile, on the very heaviest part of it, and changed the creek channel and so on, cost about $40,000, from estimates from the pay roll and the bridge masonary $12,000.
Q. How many bridges were there?
A. 6 stone and concrete bridges, $12,000, $2,000 for each bridge. Road crossings cost about $7800,, 30 of them. Track laying $10,000. Surfacing $10,000. Stone ballast, some of it was ballasted with heavy slate, not quite all stone, the whole thing cost about $52,800.
The CHAIRMAN: What was that?
A. The first item was just for the laying of the track, the next item was surfacing, for the line to run over without ballast. Ties we had $29,200 and the average cost was abot $1, we go as high as $1.40 and as low as 50 cents.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. You average them at a dollar apiece?
A. Yes, sir. The rails, 70 pound rails 1125 tons at an average price of $60, we go as high at $66 and there was one car load for half a mile relaying rails supposed to be in good condition that we paid $40 for.
Mr. MOFFAT: What is the total?
A. $67,500. The spikes, bolts and angle bars for the 10 miles cost $11,500. Poles 800 at $9 apiece delivered along the right of way.
The CHAIRMAN: How much was that total?
A. $7,200. 3200 pounds No. 0000 trolley wire 30 cents a pound, $9600. The overhead fixtures, including the anchor rods, guy wires and arms and brackets and other incidentals cost $23,000. Car barn estimated at $3000, it cost a little more than that. The convorter cost $10,000.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. The convertor is the transformer?
A. Yes, sir. Well, it is a transformer, there are three transformers, and rotary convertor all combined. This includes Penn public service work connecting, putting it up and some repairs on it, things like that, the whole thing figures up $10,000, a little bit more. Two cars we have on hand cost—actual cost $30,000. We bought a second hand steam shovel, wore it out partly, cost $3000. We have a dozen hopper dump cars that cost $1200, $100 apiece. They were bought before the war time, they were cheaper than they are now. Traction engine, second hand cost $500.
Now we constructed some little stations and paid some rent on some, the whole thing amounted to about $400. The next item is some 20 pound rails that we used for these dump cars,, steam shovel and so on, we still have on hand, at least we have what was left after they got done stealing some of them, will cost about $1800. Then we have a connection switch with the Johnstown Traction Company that was bought from the Lorain Steel Company, a place at Kelso, that cost $500, and the labor for erecting the overhead, that includes the digging of the holes for the poles and putting them up and putting the wire up, cross arms, things like that, actal labor for 10 miles was $10,500.
Q. Anything else?
A. Well I have an estimate of the engineering cost and other things, the usual estimate of 5 per cent on that cost of construction is $22,800.
Q. Was there a Ford car?
A. Yes, Ford car, $400.
Q. Anything else?
A. I have lease on the operating of the line for four and a half years at $9000, four and a half years.
Q. Anything else?
A. I have an item for work done beyond Jerome.
Q. We want that.
A. Pretty near actual figures $44,000.
Mr. LUDLOW: What was it?
A. Where the track is laid now between Jerome and Boswell, grading, bridges, right of way and so on.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Anything else? Have you got an item there for rights of way between Somerset and Boswell?
A. No sir.
Q. You haven't that in?
A. No.
Q. Anything else?
A. No. I have items here interest on the bonds and notes on hand and commissions paid but I don't have any definite knowledge what they were.
Q. The figures that you have given us total $532,800?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And they were an actual outlay in the construction of the line and the grading that has been done beyond the present terminus from Jerome over to Boswell?
A. No. On the 10 miles that is?
Q. Yes.
A. These figures include 10 miles, I have been including the work that is done beyond.
Q. Before you constructed the Johnstown and Somerset road, Mr. Houck, did you have experience in the construction of other lines?
A. Yes, sir, a great many lines.
Q. How does the road of the Johnstown and Somerset compare with other railroads?
A. It is built on the same standard plan as the Pennsylvania Railroad, that is for the single track.
Mr. WITKIN: How many roads have you built?
A. Well I have located probably about a thousand miles of railway. I have been on construction probably that many, I was mostly on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe between Chicago and Topeka, Kansas, about 11 years, on construction work all the time.
Mr. WITKIN: Extending over a period of how many years in this experience?
A. 41. I have been on the Pennsylvania road three different times, I was with Charles A. Simms and Company, railroad contractors, Pennsylvania construction work, for about 13 years, and estimating engineers, stone work and bridges.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:
Q. Will you look at that paper and tell us what the cost of the trolley was, was it $9600?
A. Yes, sir, $9600.
Q. Trolley fixtures were $23,000?
A. Yes sir. My paper shows $533,700. The first item was $457,900.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Do you know anything of the number of passengers carried by the line, Mr. Houck?
A. I have a record what was carried in 1923 and 1924.
Q. What was it?
A. In 1923, round number 187,000; in 1924 177,000.
Q. What is the rate of fare?
A. 5 cents a mile.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. When you say there were 187,000 passengers carried in 1923, does that mean so many different people?
A. That means that many fares collected, and that does not include any employes or dead heads, anything of that kind.
Q. Then your gross revenue in 1923 would be 187.000 times 5 cents, is that right?
A. No sir.
Q. What would it be?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: It is 10 miles long, it is 5 cents a mile.

By Mr. GEYER.
Q. What would it be, give it to us in figures?
A. About $31,100.
Q. In 1923 your total receipts were $31,100, is that right?
A. I will give it to you exactly. $31,107.30.
Q. That was your total gross receipts in 1923?

A. Yes sir.
Q. What was it in 1924?
A. $26,075.75.
Q. How much of that did you pay over to the Johnstown Traction Company?
A. None at all.
Q. This was your receipts outside of the money which you received on the Johnstown line?
A. Yes sir.
Q. What did it amount to on the Johnstown line?
A. I don't know exactly. That is, I do know but I don't have it.
Q. Give us your best recollection?
A. It amounts to about $1000 a month.
Q. You think about $1000 a month?
A. Yes sir.
Q. That money you didn't run through your books at all?
A. No, sir, I kept a separate account and settled with the Johnstown Traction Company individually.
Q. Do you keep the books of the company?
A. Yes, sir, that is that part.
Q. And this information is obtained from the books of the company?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Have you a balance sheet of the company?
A. No, this was taken from the records from time to time, pay rolls and expense account and things like that.
Q. Don't you keep books which show your capital accounts and your operating costs?
A. That shows it.
Q. You know the requirements by the Public Service Commission of the manner in which the books of public service companies are kept, don't you?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Do you keep them in that way?
A. I don't keep anything about the stock records, anything of that kind. I don't keep anything but the expense and receipts.
Q. Do you have capital accounts in your books?
A. No sir.
Q. None at all?
A. Not in my books.
Q. Who keeps these books?
A. I suppose the Secretary.
Q. Who is the Secretary?
A. Kent Miller.
Q. Where does he keep those books?
A. I don't know.
Q. Did you look into the books of the company to see what the different investments in those matters was?
A. No sir.
Q. In order to arrive at these figures you went back over the vouchers or books and counted up as to what was construction cost and that is the way you did it?
A. Some of these estimates were made up from other estimates made from time to time understand, it all passed through my hands at different times.
Q. Mr. Houck, my inquiry is whether these are estimates or whether they are records of the company?
A. They are part records but they were taken—for instance, the rail account I know how much it cost because I bought it and I know how many tons we got from time to time and I know how many it takes for 10 miles, and these things check up, and this paper was taken from that.
Q. Couldn't you turn to a record of the company and find out what the rails actually did cost?
A. Yes, well I have given you the actual cost practically.
Q. On your very first item, preliminary survey, where did you get that?
A. I got that from pay rolls and so forth. That was in the office at the time I took charge of it.
Q. It had not ever been posted to any capital account?
A. Not that I know of.
Q. Did you find any capital accounts at all from which you made up these records?
A. No, sir.
Q. How did you get at your figure for this $29,200,—simply by counting the number of ties?
A. Well yes, practically.
Q. Then you took the average cost of the ties?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And ties were bought locally there, wern't they?
A. Some, yes, sir.
Q. And some bought for as low as 40 cents?
A. Not that I know of.
Q. How low was some of them bought?
A. 50 cents, as near as I can remember.
Q. Some of them as high as what?
A. $1.40.
Q. What you did then was simply to take an average then, as you recall it, is that it?
A. Yes, sir, as I had the record.
Q. You did not look to see what the books showed was the total amount paid for ties?
A. No, sir.
Q. On the question of poles did you go about it in the same way?
A. I had a record of the number of poles.
Q. Did you look to see what the total moneys were paid for poles?
A. I know what they cost, I bargained for them.
Q. And you made it up from your recollection of what they cost?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. When you came to the end you had engineering cost 5 per cent?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Is that an estimate?
A. It is an estimate.
Q. Did you look through the books of the company to know what the engineering cost was?
A. No, I think if I had I would have made it more than that.
Q. Did the books record any other record of the engineering cost?
A. It was mixed up with other costs. For instance part of my engineering costs now is in the construction at different times.
Q. Was this road built by the company or was it built by a sub-contractor?
A. Built by the company.
Q. Was it built under a construction contract?
A. Part of it was built under force account contract.
Q. With whom was the contract?
A. Adam Laidlow and Company. That only applies to the new work between Jerome.
Q. That is not included in the 10 miles actually laid?
A. No.
Q. You say loss of operating four and a half years, $9000; how did you arrive at that figure?
A. I have the figures what we took in and what the expenses were charged up to the operating department and deducted the difference.
Q. Was there any one year in which the company made its operating cost?
A. No, sir, I don't think so.
Q. Was there a general ledger balance sheet of assets and liabilities prepared at the end of the year for the purpose of accounting?
A. Not by me.
Q. Did you ever see any such?
A. I turned over the daily records of my expense account. In fact these records were kept in a personal account, that is, for each month.
Q. And you never saw a general ledger balance sheet of the assets and liabilities of the company?
A. Not of the whole road.
Q. Or of the company?
A. No, sir.
Q. You estimated here that there was $44,000 of work done on the new line?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you get that from the books of the company?
A. I got it from my own records.
Q. But not from the books of the company?
A. No.
Q. Did you report to the company how this was done? I mean to the secretary of the company.
A. At the time it was done some of the reports and some of the bills were paid direct by the company, same of them I paid. The pay rolls I paid checked up with theirs and some of the material was paid from the Somerset office.
Q. Did you have a checking account?
A. Yes sir.
Q. In what bank?
A. I had a checking account in the United States Bank in Johnstown, personal checking account.

Q. You handled these things through a personal account?
A. My expenses, part of it, yes, sir.
Q. Did the company have a checking account?
A. I suppose so.
Q. Don't you know?
A. I know that I recived checks from the company.
Q. Did you have anything to do with the keeping of the bank accounts?
A. In what manner?
Q. The drawing of checks for the company?
A. No, sir.
Q. Do you know how many bonds the company has outstanding?
A. I don't.
Q. Ever hear how many?
A. I have heard rumors, nothing more than that.
Q. Never knew?
A. Not exactly, no, sir.
Q. And who would keep these records in your company?
A. I suppose the secretary.
Q. Who is he?
A. A. Kent Miller.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. You include engineering cost at 5 per cent, $22,800?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Was that actually paid out or is that simply an estimate of what would be paid for if an outside firm had constructed the road?
A. I figured that it cost us that much.
Q. To whom did you pay the $22,800?
A. We didn't pay it to anybody except the engineer?
Q. Who was the engineer?
A. I was the engineer. That was estimated from pay rolls and things, engineer pay rolls.
Q. This represents then your compensation over a period of years for your services?
A. Yes, sir, my serivces and others that belonged to the engineering department, transient men and so forth.
Q. Not included in any other item there?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you buy the stone and ballast amounting to $52,800?
A. We didn't buy any stone for that, we quarried our own stone and made the ballast in the tracks with the hammer. In other words, we put about 2 feet in some places, some places more than that, an average of almost that, when we raised the tracks the second time, the heavy big stones under the tracks, then we filled that in and we used tamping hammers and broke it off from the bottom of the ties and under the ties, what we rammed under the ties, on the top, the ballast under the ties is made up of big large stones.
Q. Did you personally expend the sum of $52,800 in this stone and ballasting operation?
A. Yes, sir. We estimated that partly from the pay roll, it was charged up to ballast different times, different months. We did that different years, a section at a time.
Q. Was that done by you personally or some other officer of the company?
A. I did that all.
Q. The money passed through your hands?
A. Yes, sir, that all goes through the pay roll, every cent, we didn't buy any poles.
Q. And the work done beyond Jerome, $44,000 did that money pass through your hands?
A. Not all of it.
Q. How much of it did not?
A. I should judge about—I don't know exactly, I paid the pay roll and paid some of the bills, the biggest portion of it.
Q. Went through your hands?
A. Yes, but it was mostly for pay roll, the big portion of it.
Q. Did you purchase the rights of way costing $15,000?
A. No sir.
Q. Did you purchase any of that?
A. Yes, sir, I did some, but not very much myself, I was with the purchasing agent several times but I was mixed up in that in some way or other.
Q. Then the $15,000 item is based on figures from the Secretary?
A. No, on my own knowledge what each cost.
Q. Your own personal knowledge?
A. Yes, sir, as near as I could tell.

By the CHAIRMAN:
Q. Mr. Houck, you said that the loss on the operating expenses for four years and a half was $9,000?
A. About $9,000.
Q. For what years, up nutil the present time?
A. Yes, we started to operate the line on the 29th of May, 1920. The first year the total receipts from the operating was $7,678.10. These are not the estimates, they are taken from the actual figures.
Q. What were your expenses that year?
A. Well I will come to that.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That was on five miles of the road?
A. Yes, sir, this part here now, that was on six miles operating, the first six miles.

By the CHAIRMAN:
Q. Let us understand, you began on May 29th, 1920?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Was it up until May 29th, 1921 that your total receipts were $7,678.10?
A. No. not to the end of the year, just the balance of that year. That was the receipts on the operation of it, 1 car on six miles. In other words, merely the operating to Kelso Junction.
Q. You are starting into details which I do not care for unless some of the rest of the Committee do. The only question I want to ask you is does this loss over the period of four and a half years include the unpaid interest on the outstanding bonds?
A. It has nothing to do with the bonds, simply operating loss, the car and the labor.
Q. Any unpaid interest on these bonds would represent an additional lose?
A. Yes, sir, it has nothing to do with that.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. And these figures do not include the depreciation either?
A. Nothing, only what it actually cost.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
A. To what did you attribute the lose in business in the number of passengers carried in the last year?
A. It is pretty hard to tell.
Q. Has there been a migration of foreigners who occupied the coal fields in there?
A. Partially to that and the work was not very good the last year, they didn't get quite as much money as they did before.
Q. The mines have not been running as strong?
A. No.
Q. And a number of people have moved away by reason of that?
A. After the coal strike.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. You spoke of rails being purchased and copper being purchased?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Were these purchased or leased by the company?
A. Purchased, paid for outright.
Q. Did you know anything of leases held by people on rails and part of material?
A. I don't think there is such a thing.
Q. Do you know William Kington (?)?
A. I don't. I heard the name mentioned.
Q. Did you deal with him?
A. No sir.
Q. Did you obtain anything from him?
A. No sir.
Q. Nothing whatsoever?
A. Nothing whatsoever.
Q. If the company had you would know it?
A. I don't know whether they sold him any bonds.
Q. I mean any material?
A. I certainly didn't get material from him. All the rails we bought were bought from the Cambria Iron Company, except one car load, which was bought from a firm in Pittsburgh to relay rails. In other words, there was 20 car loads, 19 of them were bought from the Cambria Steel Company and one from a second hand dealer, you might say for relaying rails.

By Mr. MOFFATT:
Q. Mr. Houck, the first construction of this line began in 1915?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And the first operation of the line was May 29th, 1920?
A. Yes sir.
Q. When you speak of the first construction that means survey?
A. No, the preliminary survey was made previous to that time and I didn't have anything to do with the preliminary survey. In fact that was money spent for nothing.
Q. The survey and construction work began in 1915?
A. Yes sir.
The CHAIRMAN: As a matter of information, do we not have some testimony here in reference to this road being operated or started or constructed, or something, in 1911?
Mr. WITKIN: Is that the organization?

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. When did your connection with the company begin?
A. On the 15th of August, 1915.
Q. When was the first rail laid?
A. I don't think I can give you that exactly without referring back to the books in some way, but it was some time about 1918 or 1919.
Q. And you gave here a record of 1920, which you have said began on the 7th day of May, if I recall correctly, 1920; is that the time the road went into operation?
A. That was the time we ran the first car that collected any fares.
The CHAIRMAN: What date?
A. The 29th of May, 1920. We ran work cars on it before and all that sort of thing.
Mr. MOFFATT: The first passenger?
A. Yes, sir, the first car that we took up any fares.
JOHN A. BERKEY, the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Judge, you are a resident of Somerset county?
A. I am a native of Somerset county.
Q. How long have you lived there?
A. Sixty-four years and one month.
Q. You are the president of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Will you tell the committee what you know of the organization, the construction and the operation of the company from its inception down until this time?
A. My best recollection is that the company was chartered in February, 1919, with a franchise from Somerset to Rockwood.
Q. Where is Rockwood?
A. Nine miles south of Somerset borough. Later extensions were put on carrying the route north to Johnstown.
Q. Covering a distance of how many miles?
A. Approximately thirty-six miles.
Q. What, if anything, was the demand for trolley accommodations in Somerset county at that time, and especially between Somerset and Johnstown?
A. The only service that the town then had was the Somerset & Cambria Railroad, operated by the B. & O., and it is possible that the Pittsburgh, Somerset & Westmoreland was then in operation or it was during a later period. The B. & O. Railroad operated the Somerset & Cambria and gave an inferior service, a very inferior service, so far as the passengers were concerned, their trains being uniformly late, resulting from the heavy coal traffic over that road. The automobile industy was in its infancy, and was not a factor in the transportation of passengers or in its uses. The company had an expert engineer go over the road, over the proposed line.
Q. By the company you mean the Somerset Street Railway Company?
A. Yes, sir,—and make an estimate. I do not recall the name. Mr. Miller, what is the name?
Mr. MILLER: Banks.
A. (Witness continuing) Yes, sir. Mr. Banks went over the road, over the proposed route, and made a favorable report upon the earnings that could be derived therefrom, based upon the expenditure of, I believe, approximately one million three hundred thousand dollars, and it was upon that information, with such information as we were enabled to gather from people who were operating interurban electric railways in a similar territory.
Q. You were originaly incorporated as the Somerset Street Railway Company.
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And later changed the name to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Will you tell, Judge, why you commenced the construction of the road from the Johnstown end of the line?
A. It was advised of the expert who had gone over the proposed route. It was the concensus of opinion of the officers of the road that by starting the operation in a community ranging—at the one terminus, there being a community of seventy-five to one hundred thousand, it would furnish better returns than to start the construction at any other point.
Q. You are familiar with the territory line between Johnstown and Jerome?
A. Yes, sir; I have been familiar with it for many years.
Q. And also familiar with the territory between Jerome and Boswell?
A. A light acquaintanceship.
Q. Now, will you just tell the committee what that population consists of, what are the industries and the things that make a railroad attractive in that part?
A. The territory in Somerset conty north of Somerset is underlaid with fine seams of bituminous coal, operated by the Consolidation Coal Company, Davis Coal Company, the company at Jerome has passed through various names—
Q. Hillman?
A. Now owned by the Hillman interests of Pittsburgh. The Haws Coal Company at Holsopple; and various companies around Holsopple.
Q. Knickerbocker?
A. Yes, Knickerbocker.
Q. United?
A. United, and others.
Q. What is the population, Judge?
A. And the Berwin White Coal Mining Company, the largest concern in our county owns much virgin territory that has not been operated there, and over which the tracks of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway passed. In addition to the coal interests, the territory lying west of the Stony creek, or west of the Somerset & Cambria Railroad, operated by the B. & O., is very excellent farm territory, as the coal is so deep as to, in most places, not interfere with agriculture.
Q. What is the population?
A. The population along the route covers the population of Benson borough, Conemaugh township, territory contributory to Benson borough, some of the population of Paint township, at Jeanor, for illustration, and of Genner township. The population of Conemaugh township is approximately six thousand, and the population of Benson borough, approximately one thousand. Those are the figures based upon the last census, but the population of Conemaugh township has increased very considerably about the Holsopple section, the village of Davidsville, and the borough of Benson, being a mile apart, are approximately built together.
Q. What would you say was the total population in there, approximately?
A. Approximately, the total population in Conemaugh township and Benson borough may be safely estimated at seventy-five hundred.
Q. I mean, Judge, what, in your opinion is the population that is covered by your line from Johnstown to Boswell, what would that be, that your line would be the feeder for the people to use the trolley service?
A. The population tributary to the line, I would fix at approximately ten thousand.
Q. Now, what was the original authorized capital of the company?
A. I think it was either sixty-six or seventy-six thousand dollars, I am not sure as to which is the correct figures.
Q. Judge, did the estimate that you gave awhile ago include Boswell?
A. No. sir.
Q. Well, what is that?
A. Boswell is a mining town that started about twenty-five years ago. The last census gave it a population of approximately or in the neighborhood of two thousand, twenty-one hundred. It is surrounded by Genner township, the population of which is approximately, by the last census, according to my best recollection, about fifty-five hundred. The tributary population to the road, if constructed from Jerome to the Lincoln Highway, which I believe is about 4.2 miles—or whatever that distance is—would draw from Conemaugh Quemahoning, likewise a township, and Ralphton, another mining village, and Gray, which I think is located in Lincoln township, and Bell, and Acosta, and Harrison, and what is known as Genners No. 2, which is in Genner; so that it would approximately double the population an additional ten thousand if the route were constructed to the Lincoln Highway.

Q. And all of the towns which you have mentioned are mining towns?

A. All of them, I believe, yes, sir.

Q. You say you were originally incorporated at sixty-six thousand dollars?

A. Sixty-six or seventy-six thousand dollars, I am not clear as to which is the correct figure.

Q. Was there a bond issue? Was your capital stock subsequently increased?

A. The officers of the company, in 1915, entered into an agreement with the J. A. Vandergrift & Company, Inc., of New York City, to build the road from Kelso through to Rockwood, I believe. The J. A. Vandergrift & Company, Inc., had just finished the construction of a road between Ephrata and Lebanon, and—

Q. Lebanon, Pennsylvania, you mean, down, just a few miles below Harrisburg?

A. Yes, sir—and came from that job on to this one. The contract provided that the company should create an indebtedness, a bonded indebtedness of one million, five hunred thousand dollars, and increase its capital to a like amount.

Q. Was there any bond issue before that?

A. No, sir.

Q. All right.

A. In pursuance of that contract, the officers took the necessary steps for the creation of that bonded indebtedness and the increase of the capital stock.

Q. What did the officers do, Judge, through the corporate action, in the matter of the increase of the capital stock?

A. They executed, under the provisions of the statutes, the proper papers for both of them.

Q. To whom was that committed?

A. Those papers were all placed in the hands of the president of the John A. Vandergrift & Company. Just at that time I had a breakdown, physically, which affected my eyes, and part of that winter of 1915 I was at the Medico Chi Hospital in Philadelphia. I returned to my home and was partially incapacitated all year, and because of my eye trouble was unable to give business the attention I otherwise would have given it.

Q. During that time, Judge, you lost the complete sight of your one eye, did you not?

A. I lost the sight of my left eye in that breakdown.

Q. And how long were you laid up in the hospital and incapacitated?

A. I was, I think, five weeks in the hospital, but I was worse when I came out of the hospital than when I went in. It was a matter of simply building myself up physically, and as I built up physically, I recovered my sight and the difficulties dissapeared and my other eye is as good as it ever was, but they were both very much affected at the time. Under those circumstances, the mortgage was prepared under my supervision in the law offices of Berkey and Shaver. I think there is a copy here—

Mr. MILLER: The copy is in the room at the hotel.

A. (Witness continuing) We have a copy here, I know. J. A. Vandergrift & Company secured the service of the Equitable Trust Company of New York as trustee. Mr. Vandergrift had come to us highly recommended, having references from the Harrisburg Trust Company, several national banks in Lebanon, I think, possibly, of a bank in Ephrata; he also had references from a bank in New York.

Q. Did you check up on these references as to his responsibility?

A. We did, and they were satisfactory to the officers of the company. Under these circumstances the papers were placed in his hands, the mortgages, the official papers for the increase of the company's indebtedness, the capital stock, the mortgage and the form of the stock certificates. He went away with all those papers, and posibly it took a month until he reported,—though he was going back and forth between Somerset and Harrisburg and New York weekly—until he reported that the matters were completed with the Equitable Trust Company and that the Equitable Trust Companies, counsel in this particular matter insisted that he supervise the business with the department and bureaus at the Pennsylvania State Capitol and that this counsel had supervised all this matter. It was agreed with him that he should advance the monies necessary to carry out these corporate arrangements, which he undertook and reported he had done. The monies were placed in his hands, derived from the sale of securities, and among the largest sales that he had made of securities was to the National Bank of Boswell, which I believe I was informed by him, and possibly by members of the bank, that he had received twenty thousand dollars as his first instalment on the expenses to complete the organization work and to begin the first construction. Mr. Vandergrift was with us for probably a year—the minutes will show just how long—when his work became, appeared to be unsatisfactory, and the company rescinded the contracts. He went off the job then in not very good humor about it, and carried with him the books and papers that were in his possession, and he instituted a suit in the United States Court in New York City and undertook to get service on the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company. I was a practicing lawyer then. I went to New York City and litigated, took exceptions to his service. It was referred to a master and the case heard. The master reported against him, and we obtained judgment. Since then we have not been in touch with Mr. Vandergrift nor have we been able to locate him, because there was a prosecution pending against him in Cambria county.

Q. Judge, I show you defendant's exhibit A, and ask you if that is a copy of the mortgage executed between the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company and the Equitable Trust Company, trustees, in the sum of one million, five thousand dollars, and recorded on the ninth day of November, 1915, in the recorder's office of Somerset county in Mortgage Book, Vol. 33, page 34. (Exhibit A-4 shown witness)

A. I believe that is a correct printed copy thereof.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: We offer in evidence respondent's exhibit A-4, being the mortgage given by the Johnstown & Somerset Railway to the Equitable Trust Company, trustee, dated the ninth day of November, 1915.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: May I ask you if your intention is to incorporate all that in the record, or just a memorandum as to it?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I am just simply offering it in order that the committee may have the mortgage to see its terms. I would not ask that it be incorporated in the record. I do not think a lot of this stuff is necesary to be incorporated in the record. It is just for the use of the committee or anyone it interests.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: It will make a long record.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I am simply offering it as a copy of the mortgage, and simply filing it with you.

Mr. MOFFATT: Then write in a note of it where it is recorded, etc.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I have already done that. The purpose in offering it was to show that the mortgage was executed and properly recorded.

Mr. MARSHALL: We would state to the stenographers, then, that the intention at this time is that they simply incorporate in the record the reference that Mr. Beidleman has read and if there is anything further that we deem advisable to put in, we can do so later.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: This is a copy which is simply left for the convenience of the committee.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. After that mortgage was executed, what, if anything, any arrangement, was made for the sale of the bonds?

A. The minutes disclose that, that the stock was sold at par and that the bonds be sold at such prices—

Q. You mean the bonds were sold at par and the stock was sold—

A. No, the stock was to be sold at par and the bonds at such prices that would be approved by the executive committee of the board of directors.

Q. And was there any arrangement made as to what a unit should be sold for?

A. The committee, I think, put the bonds and stock out as a unit, a certificate of stock, and one hundred dollars' worth of face value of the bonds for one hundred dollars, the two.

Q. That is, a one hundred dollar bond carried with it a share of stock, the par value of which was fifty dollars, a one hundred dollar bond and fifty dollars of stock was sold in a unit for one hundred dollars, is that right?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Now, what, if any contract was made for the sale of these bonds, and with whom?

A. After Mr. Vandergrift's contract was rescinded, the officers of the company sold approximately two hundred thousand dollars of the bonds themselves with stock, in the manner indicated. That was sold without any commission, and without any expenses to the company unless they were for transportation, such as automobile hire and things of that kind; but there was never even a dollar of salary paid to an officer for any services that any one of them rendered.

Q. What after that?

A. After that there was a contract entered into with E. A. Cohen in May, 1921, for the sale of the securities of the railway company.

Q. What was that contract?

A. That contract was arranged to go in force on the first day of June, 1921.

Q. Who was Cohen?

A. He was a business man that made—he had a specialty of handling and selling securities of corporations.

Q. How did your company come into contact with him and state whether or not you knew him before this relation with the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. Mr. C. C. Smucker, a member of the board of directors, was in communication with a gentleman whose name I will not be sure I can repeat—I think his name was Hemingway, or a name similar to that, who Mr. Smucker knew, and this gentleman put Mr. Smucker in communication with Mr. Cohen and through these two people Mr. Cohen was invited to Somerset and he had several interviews with the board of directors and gave us references from banks in Cincinnati and Omaha and probably other places, I do not recall, referring us to banks and business men.

Q. Did you know Cohen?

A. Not prior to that.

Q. Did you ever see him before that time?

A. Not until he got to Somerset in the manner I have indicated.

Q. Then you checked up on these references?

A. We did.

Q. And what did you find?

A. His reputation was good and his business relations with our company proved satisfactory. He was prudent in his methods, generally, and made his settlements weekly, and caried out his contracts in detail very satisfactorily to the company.

Q. Did he have an exclusive right to the sale of the bonds at that time?

A. He had the exclusive right for the sale of the bonds from the first of July, 1921, until about the first of October of the same year.

Q. Where did he maintain offices?

A. He maintained offices in the building know as the Hotel Vensar.

Q. Were they connected with the office of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway?

A. No, sir. The offices of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway were in the Berkey Bldg. on the third floor.

Q. And the Cohen offices were conducted independent of any connection with the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company or with your offices in any way?

A. Yes, sir. Mr. Cohen would see us occasionally in a business way or social way.

Q. Did your company have anything to do with the employment of any of the agents or sub-agents of Cohen?

A. No, he employed them and paid them and settled with them.

Q. Did you have anything to do in connection with the sale of these bonds except under the terms of your contract with Cohen?

A. Nothing more than there were a few men—a couple men that I was acquainted with that I introduced to some prospective buyers eithere by letter or individually, that I met on the street or posibly in company with them.

Q. Did you have any supervision or control of the sale of the bonds?

A. Oh, no, no, no.

Q. Or did your company have any supervision or control?

A. No.

Q. It has been testified to, Judge, that certain persons were sold bonds by you who at some time, either before or after the sale of the bonds, had appeared in your court as defendants and the inference is asked to be drawn that on that account you were influenced in your official conduct by reason of these bond transactions. I ask you whether or not you can recall any—not having had the opportunity since you came down to go over the records of the court of quarter sessions of Somerset county—if you can recall any of the bondholders who appeared in your court that were sentenced by you to the jail or penitentiary and, if so, who they were, or to the workhouse?

A. I beg to say that I went on the bench the first Monday of January, 1920. I had been connected with this railway company at that time and I very gladly would have laid down the entire thing to somebody else if I would have had any person available to—

Q. How much of your own money do you have in the road?

A. Well, I have at least ten times as much money in the road as the largest stockholder.

Q. How much do you have, Judge, approximately?

A. Well, it runs a little over one hundred thousand dollars. I felt that my business associates, business friends, have their money in that road and I could not abandon them in mid-stream, and I felt it a moral obligation to protect the investment if possible. The matter went along and the law firm of Kooser & Kooser, father and son took up litigation against the road. At the same time the same firm got a hold of numerous collections, in one instance of collection of about twenty-two thousand dollars, and while the father was the senior member of the firm, was most largely pressing the collections, the son, Mr. Earnest O. Kooser, was preventing us from getting money by taking suits against the company, coming into the court with petitions to open judgments and tieing up the money that we could not make collections. Therefore, they were pressing on the one side for money and preventing us from getting it on the other hand. This course of litigation started about the time that I went on the bench and has been continued by them to date, both the collections and the litigations against the company. I beg, however, to say to this committee that we have never lost a case that has been litigated to final judgment.

Q. And at least three of them have been in the appellate courts?

A. It was necessary that we raise some monies to keep this road from being driven to destruction. The officers of the company, and particularly myself, were making every possible effort to put this road on a paying basis, but letters were being sent out by Mr. Kooser investigating the company not as an attorney, but as an individual. He gathered numerous bondholders in his office. His offices is across from the chambers, just across the street, and knowing all these people, I could not help but see them there; and a great deal of this dissatisfaction was created out of that office with individuals who had invested in these bonds, and who told me, covering a period of practically ever since I am on the bench.

Q. During this time, when we were besieged for money by the Koosers and prevented from getting money by them, the company sold some bonds, the purpose of which was to meet the shortage in the earnings of the company and to keep executions from the door of the company. During this period of time bonds were sold to individuals, as was testified on the stand by the gentleman who appeared for the petitioners as witnesses, but there are numerous other sales made. I recall of selling fifteen hundred dollars' worth to Mike Ditko, and his two sons, each of them taking five hundred dollars. I beg to say that these bonds were sold in the territory through which this road operates and that which is tributary to it. The road connects with the Windber line of the Johnstown Traction Company six or seven miles from Windber, and the miners particularly were interested in riding from Windber to Kelsoe and then going up the line to visit their friends; therefore we sold bonds in territory that was tributary to the road, which was between Windber and Kelsoe, where it connected. We sold some bonds about Geanor and in Holsopple, along which the road passes, and in Jerome, because people living outside of the territory that was not tributary to the road felt no interest and were not inclined to buy. I sold a bond of a hundred dollars to Peter Vesta.

Q. Who are Ditkos?

A. Ditkos are coal miners living near the Kelsoe terminus, and when I sold them the bonds, I told them they were not paying interest on them. They said they were interested in the road, and it was near by them. I sold a bond to Peter Vesta, a hardware merchant in Windber. I sold a bond to Angelo Severino.

Q. Angelo Severino, who is he?

A. Angelo Severion is now a contractor and builder, used to be a barber in Windber.

Q. How much did you sell him, Judge?

A. Five hundred dollars. Sold to Ira J. Moon, a merchant who has a store at Holsopple and also at Jerome, both concerns being on our line; sold him one thousand dollars, I believe. Sold to Martin Gang, with Mr. Miller and I, sold the first instalment, and sold him this summer a bond.

Q. How much, Judge?

A. I do not have the record here of it. These are made up from recollections and I have not seen the record, I do not recall that. Sold to the same community in Seanor, to a man named Benson, I forget, I am not sure, but I think his name is Frank; I think that was a five hundred dollar bond, yet I am not positive of it. While Mr. Cohen was selling bonds, I had an interview with Frank Lowry in Windber, who is a contractor. He is an Italian, but a good business man, a man that is worth three or four hundred thousand dollars, and he bought five thousand dollars' worth. Then there was John Loughery, who is a large coal operator, a man worth one million dollars, he bought five thousand dollars' worth, and John O. Ream, a business man at Berlin, who has had broad and extensive business, came to me when he was canvassed by Cohen or one of his sub-agents—in fact, Loughery, Lowry and Ream all came to me before they purchased and had an interview with me, and went over the history of the road, and its purpose, its properties; its location, of course, they knew; and those three men each bought five thousand dollars apiece.

Now, as to answering the question directly asked me by you, Governor, I sold bonds to people without reference or knowing whether they had proceedings pending or not. If I had been on notice that they had a proceeding pending I do not think that I would have sold them. But as to the matter of sentences, the sentences introduced in evidence are correct. The surrounding circumstances of each case, of course, is not on record, because I usually interviewed, I make it a practice of not imposing sentences, and especially in liquor violations, without the prosecutor and the district attorney and the county detective all being present. I have refused to impose sentence for the district attorney when he came in without the prosecutor. All sentences that I have imposed in Somerset county have given, so far as I have been able to learn, very general satisfaction outside of the liquor cases, and they do not seem, in the most instances, to satisfy anybody. There is one class of people feel that I am too severe, they look at it from one angle. There is another class of people that think I am not severe enough, they look at it at a different angle, and I think I am warranted in saying that I am criticised generally in every liquor case I impose sentence, because of the quite different viewpoints taken by people resident within the county. My line of handling the liquor sentences is based upon facts that are developed at the trial or at the time they are called for sentence if they plead guilty. Where we have cases of individuals and they are usually the foreign people, who are found with a little liquor in their houses, making it on the cookstove, the tea kettle and wash boiler, or such like, I impose the minimum sentence under the statutes, unless the circumstances are such that the court should take into consideration those matters that appeal to the comfort of the wife and children and in such cases I sometimes suspend sentences. I make the best I can out of the situation that is hard to analyze. For illustration, I recall of a man and his wife being brought into court by the county detectives for manufacturing and selling moonshine whiskey. They had five children. The man had both legs off above the knees. They both pleaded guilty and they said that they were doing it because it was necessary to keep the wolfe from the door and that the community, outside of the coal company furnishing them a house to live in free of charge, were contributing very little to it. In that case I sent them back to their homes, made an order that the county pay the the costs, and sent my probation officer immediately to Mr. Porter, who was counsel for the poor board, and arrange for him to take care of the family. Instances of that kind are handled in that way. I had another class of cases where men were brought in for selling liquor without license. It was before the—it was when the Woner Act was enforced—it was before the Woner Act was enforced and before the Brooks law was repealed. There was an opinion handed down by the Attorney General of Pennsylvania, who is now on the Supreme Bench, who held that while the Volstead Act permitted the sale of beer with less than one-half of one percent of alcohol in it, you had to have a license, since the Brooks law was enforced, to sell it, and I had refused all licenses in my county from the time I went on the bench, I never granted any liquor license. There were a number of men in the county brought in by the county detective for selling nearbeer under those circumstances. They pleaded guilty, the county detective insisted that is what they did, and I uniformly, in all cases of that character, I let them off with the payment of costs. During the term of Mr. Truxal, the district attorney, he usually agreed with me upon the matter of sentences in liquor cases, and the sentences were usually imposed, agreeable to the court and the district attorney. Since Mr. Cober has been district attoreny, he has been persistent in desiring heavy penalties generally, not only in liquor cases, but in other cases. I do not feel that a person may be made good by imprisonment alone, but I have felt that the parole Act was a wise measure, and I have not been exactly in accord with the district attorney in my sentences, since he is in office, and I have imposed milder sentences than he sought, and I have used the parole law a great deal with first offenders in misdemeanors where the statutes permit it, and I feel that the county has received a great deal of money in fines it otherwise would not have gotten, and that putting a man a year or two years or three years under parole in the care of parole officers—I have a male and a female probation officer, that we were controlling the individuals far better than to send them to jail for sixty or ninety days, or six months, and then leave them entirely free from control by the courts. I have, however, enclosed sentences of this character where the violations were of such character that I felt that they were engaging in the liquor business purely from the mercenary standards and to corrupt the community. I recall of sending a man from the southern part of the county, whose name I do not recall, to the workhouse for two years, and he served eighteen months of his term when he was paroled. I recall of Albert Beck. He and I were schoolboys together in the mountains. He was discovered —he was the owner of Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway bonds— he was discovered running a regular distillery, a copper still of seventy-five gallons, I believe it was estimated. I sentenced him to pay one thousand dollars fine and one year in the workhouse. At the end of six months he applied for a parole, I heard the testimony and refused it, and he served his entire time and paid his penalty. I have not heard that he has violated the law or been accused of it since returning by any person.

Q. Do you know how much in bonds he had, Judge?

A. He had one thousand dollars, and I knew it at the time I sentenced him.

Q. How about—

A. And Albert Henry, residing in Milford township, a man that I had known many years, was brought into court about three months ago, and he pleaded guilty. The county detective reported that he had approximately one hundred gallons of moonshine in his barn, concealed in the haymow. He was sentenced to pay a fine, the amount of which I do not exactly recall, it was either one hundred dollars or one hundred and fifty dollars, and one year in jail. He is serving that time.

Q. Is he the owner of any of the securities of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway?

A. He owns at least a thousand dollars. If I had the book here, I could familiarize myself; I believe it is in Mr. Miller's hands; he had at least one thousand dollars.

Q. He is now undergoing his term of imprisonment?

A. He is in prison now. And Armistato—he is the man that testified last evening—

Q. What about him, Judge? What about the Armistato case?

A. He was brought into court and entered a plea of guilty. It is my impression that there were some of the people of the vicinity in court, at least the prosecutor was there when he was sentenced. The county detective made a report, and it was an aggravated case, and he was sentenced to pay a fine of several hundred dollars, I think it was three hundred dollars—I do not recall what the fine was, three hundred or five hundred dollars, and I sentenced him to prison for, I think, a year.

Q. The record sets forth a year in the work house.

A. Yes, a year in the work house. After the sentence was imposed, Mrs. Heckman, his attorney, said that his mother was lying at death's door and sought a parole. I refused the parole, but agreed not to send him to the work house and, as it has been my practice since I am on the bench, instead of keeping persons in the jail after they were sentenced, where they were married men with families, all were incarcerated for only thirty, sixty or ninety days, I have uniformly sent them out to our county home and hospital, where they have cells, and locked them up at night. We run our own coal mine on our poor farm and mine our own coal, have a farm of three hundred and fifty or three hundred and sixty acres, I believe it is, and we work them on the farm and give them an allowance on their costs and fines off their earnings. I put him out there, and his mother died while he was there and he was permitted to go to the funeral and return, and at the end of three months I heard another application for parole and I granted that parole, and he is still under parole. I have heard no complaint.

Q. What are the circumstances attendant upon the discharge of that defendant upon parole. If you can recall, Judge?

A. I do not know that I could recall that.

Q. Do you know anything about the size of his family?

A. Oh, he had—well, I take it for granted he had a large family; these foreigners usually have, and it was my impression that was the case here, but I do not remember any of the details.

Q. Anybody else that you recall of that same class?

A. Well, I remember Matmorshuka.

Q. Was he the owner of bonds?

A. Yes, sir; he had a bond of five hundred dollars. He lived or lives about two miles north of Boswell, rather between Boswell and Jerome, a little to the East. The officers went into his farmhouse and found out, as they reported, an outfitted distillery. He had a still there or two a large quantity of mash and a secret place for storage, and such like. He came in and he pleaded guilty, and I felt that it was a case where he was making the liquor and turning it out among the foreign elements in the mines of that vicinity. At the time of the sentence it was shown that, I think, there were sixteen members of the family, fourteen children, and I do not think that any of them had reached their majority, along there, the oldest was along twenty. I also discovered at the time that he was living without the school limits in the country. Under the School Code the compulsory law does not apply to a parent living more than two miles from a country school house, and I found the children were not going to school at all, he refused to send them. I fined him five hundred dollars and sentenced him to a year in jail. He went to jail and he paid the fine. After he had been in jail about thirty days he put in an application for parole. I heard the parole. The community was pretty evenly balanced, the people that looked at it upon the angle that the sentence was too severe testified that he ought to be paroled, and the people who looked upon it from the angle that everybody that violates the liquor law ought to go to jail were persistent in their testimony that he ought to be kept there. I held the matter open for about six weeks, and then I filed an opinion which is on the record. My parole was allowed on these conditions: That he go under the supervision of the parole office and that as a condition during the period of three years that I fixed for the parole, he should send to school the children under sixteen years of age and over six, being a half a dozen of them, during such time that their health and weather would permit. He accepted those terms and conditions. I ordered the clerk to certify a copy of that opinion and parole,—probably only the decree—the parole to the constable of the township, to the secretary of the school board of the township, and to the parole officer; and Mr. Morshuka is now under parole and is sending these children to school. Any time he refuses to comply with the order sending these children to school, the district attorney is authorized to issue process and bring them in.

Q. Up until that time the children have not attended school?

A. The school board testified at this hearing that they had made every possible effort to drive him to send the children to school, but he was beyond the limits and would not do it; but he is doing it now.

Q. And was it not also testified in that case that the road distance was at least two and a half miles to this school house?

A. Well, it was in excess of the two miles, yes, sir.

Q. Do you recall any other cases?

A. I have not had an opportunity to go over the records. There may be other cases of other people who owned railway bonds that were sentenced.

Q. The question of the ownership of bonds, has or has it not in any way affected the disposition of cases pending before you?

A. Certainly not, in no wise, because the sentences complained of in this hearing were largely imposed when Mr. Truzal was district attorney, and we agreed pretty uniformerly upon punishments.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:

Q. Judge, did I understand you to say that the defendant in the previous case was the owner of bonds?

A. Yes, sir, he was the owner of a five hunred dollar bond. I did not sell it to him.

Q. He was the owner at the time when you sentenced him, of a five hundred dollar bond?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. MOFFATT:

Q. Armistate was also the owner of bonds?

A. He owned bonds. He bought of Mr. Smucker. Mr. Smucker will explain that, he will be on the stand.

Q. This last one you mentioned, Morshuka, he had five hundred dollars of bonds, did he?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. BLUMBERG.

Q. Do you know whether it was paid for, Judge?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN.

Q. Judge, it was testified and intimated—rather not testified, but stated by counsel on the other side that a large percentage of the hotel men in Somerset county were the owners of these bonds. Will you state what, if anything, you know about that?

A. During the time that Judge Kooser was on the bench there were about sixty-eight or seventy licensed places in the county. His successor, Mr. Ruppel, cut them down to probably fifty, and I think that there are about that number of public houses in the county now, and the only people that I know that have bought bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company at any time residing in the territory contributory to the railway—there is one, two hotels in Windber that own bonds; there is one hotel in Holsopple, that is the name of the post office, Banson borough, as testified yesterday that Mr. Smucker sold bonds to. I had nothing to do with it. And Harvey Kline said that before I went on the bench that he had bought some bonds. He is a hotel man; and the man that operates the Mountain House—I do not know his name now, I cannot recall it—I know that before I went on the bench and Mr. Miller and I were selling bonds, he bought a five hundred dollar bond. So there are probably six or seven hotel men in the territory tributary to the railroad that have bonds; and then this man Leighty that was on the stand yesterday, he testified that he bought a bond, but I think he bought that from the Cohen people; I do not remember whether Miller and I sold him any or not. It is possible we did. .e is not in that territory tributary to the road.

Q. Outside of that, do you know of any hotel men that own these bonds?

A. No, I do not, I do not recall; there may be such but I do not recall any.

Q. Oh, did you go over the list of the hotel men, Judge, to see whether or not you recall that you sold any bonds held by them?

A. I have no records, but I canvassed them yesterday in my own mind, went over the list as I remembered them. I have not had access to any records since I am here.

Q. How many bondholders are there in Somerset county, if you know.

A. I have not counted. I have counted them, but so long ago that I do not recall.

Q. Approximately?

A. Approximately, I would say between five and six hundred, and I would say that I think half of the individuals are foreigners living in the territory tributary to the road. We sold them at Harrison, a mining town; sold them at Acosta, a mining town; we sold them at Bell, a mining town; and at Gray, a mining town; and at Jenners No. 2; and at Ralphton; and at Jerome; and at a little town right east of Jerome, Hyosata; and the mining community around Holsopple—that is the name of the post office—the town is called Benson borough.

Q. And a number of them in Boswell?

A. Oh, yes, we sold quite a bunch in Boswell. The foreign population there really carried us through, up to the time that we put the first car on, because during the war period, while it cost a great deal of money to do things, the miners were making a large amount of money. Mr. Frank Baldwin of the Hyosota mine, told me that he had a man who made eight thousand dollars mining coal one year during the war, and several above six thousand dollars a year, simply mining coal; and those men had money; they were interested in the road, and they subscribed liberally.

Q. Judge, there was a Mrs. Turroni has testified that she had a bond transaction with you. Will you just state to the Committee what you know of that?

A. The history of that matter starts about as follows: Victor Dudara is a Slav, a Pole, who speaks a number of languages. He acted as interpreter for Mr. Miller, who was with me in selling bonds at times; Miller, and Mr. Houck who was with me sometimes; sometimes Mr. Houck was alone making collections from foreign people with Victor Dudara, who was along and acted as interpreter among those foreign people. I do not recall the date as to the Turroni transaction, except as it was developed at the hearing, the only way I know the date. Victor Dudara, Mrs. Turornni and her husband came to me one morning. I assume the date they gave is approximately correct. I think my court was in session at the time, the argument court; and Dudara introduced this man and woman to me. Dudara said that he had sold this woman a five hundred dollar bond, and asked me whether I had any bonds in the office. I opened the safe in the chambers and took out a five hundred dollar bond and handed it to her. She looked it over, and the three talked their native language—

Q. Did you understand it?

A. No.—A few minutes, and the woman took from her pocketbook five hundred dollars and handed it to me and took up the bond. I thanked them and there was a little conversation in a general way Mrs. Turroni said that she had one thousand dollars up in a suit pending at Boswell for the appearance of a relative, Marcella, that she had been at the district attorney's office and the district attorney said that there was no case there, and how could she get the money?

A. I went across to the district attorney's and asked him about it. My best recollection now is that he said there was a case returned that came into his office, that he examined it and it was irregular.

Q. A case against whom?

A. Against Armistato.

Q. Against Marcella?

A. Against Marcella; and that he would not docket it. I said this woman says she has her one thousand dollars up for that man and she is very anxious to get it. Well, he says, there is no case, I will not docket it; and I went back to the chambers and wrote the letter that they introduced in evidence, Commonwealth vs. Marcella, and signed it.

Q. And when you put in that letter the reference to the case against Marcella, you did not mistake it for the case of Commonwealth vs. Turroni?

A. There was nothing said about the Turroni case.

Q. And did you know at that time whether or not any of the Turroni's had been arrested?

A. It was not mentioned, the Marcella case was discussed. I think either I went with her—I do not recall it—I either went with her to the district attorney's office or told her to take it and have Mr. Troxal join in it. It now appears that he did; whether he did it in my presence or at my solicitation only, I do not recall.

Q. It was testified to by this woman that you went out of your office and went to the district attorney's and came back and, in effect, said that it was a difficult job, the district attorney did not want to do it, but that you made him do it. Will you state whether or not that is true?

A. That is not true, and the district attorney's testimony that he gave himself at the beginning of this hearing corroborates my statement, if I recall it.

Q. What occurred, if anything, about that, Judge, in the Turroni case?

A. In a few days I got a letter from Arthur Turroni for one thousand dollars, and I took that letter and receipted on it and folded up a one thousand dollar bond and put them in a large folder—it would not go in an envelope—and mailed it. That was the end of my transaction with the Turroni's as I now recall it.

Q. It was testified by the Turroni woman that subsequently she was arrested, she and her husband were arrested in the United States court, and she came into your office and told you that she had been re-arrested on a charge that had been disposed of before you and you promised that you would finance her trial. Will you state whether or not any such conversation as that took place or any arrangement was ever made of that kind by you or by you with the Turroni's?

A. I did not. She came there and said they were in trouble, and I told her the only thing she could do was hire an attorney, and she wanted to know who to hire; I said I do not suggest any lawyers. She asked me whether a Johnstown lawyer would do. I said, certainly. She asked me whether I knew any Johnstown lawyers. I said I knew a great many of them. I said we used to exchange business with Col. Frank P. Barnhardt, he is a good lawyer, if you want to see him.

Q. Barnhardt was a member of the Legislature for many years, has been an honorable, honest, upright member of the Cambria county bar?

A. Yes, he was; that is his reputation.

Q. All right. Anything after that?

A. Mrs. Turroni came to see me. I can only approximate. My recollection is she came to see me in June and said she was ill, that her husband was out of work, whether I would not buy—this was her language—whether I would not take her bond back. I said, no, I would not do that, but if she was in distress I might buy her bond myself. Well, she said she would have to go to the hospital and her husband was out of work and she needed the money. I told her to bring the bond up, and she brought it and I gave a check on my own account to myself, and the librarian who does my messenger work, Miss Jennie Weller, went and got it cashed and handed me the money and I gave her the money and she gave me the bond.

Q. How much did you give her?

A. Five hundred dollars.

Q. She testified that you had some time prior to that time given her twenty dollars, and then paid her the four hundred and eighty dollars to cover the balance, is that true?

A. I gave her the five hundred dollars at one time.

Q. She testified at the time you gave her the four hundred dollars in cash, you said to her she should say nothing to anybody. Was anything like that stated?

A. There was nothing secret about it whatever. It was done open and above board.

Q. Now she testified that on one of the trips she came there with a fellow by the name of Cattoy, along with her husband. Do you know Cattoy?

A. I saw him here. I don't remember of having seen him. He was not in my chambers. He may have been before me in court, but I know he never was in my chambers.

Q. He also testified that he came there with a man by the name of J. D. Miller. Did you ever see J. D. Miller?

A. J. D. Miller never was in my chambers. I cannot tell who comes before me in the court room, because I forget these people, when they have been sentenced. He has never been in my chambers.

Q. Mr. Turroni testified that he came to your office with Victor and talked about geting cases settled against him, and you asked if they had any money. What, if anything, do you recall about Victor Turroni being there and was there anything said to him about having money to settle any cases?

A. Nothing whatever. He was only there with his wife and Victor Dudara.

Q. He said he talked to you in December, 1923, or the early part of January, 1924, about a man by the name of Miller, who had been arrested?

A. No, I do not recall anything.

Q. And he intimated if you would get the matter settled, Miller would be persuaded to take a five hundred dollar bond. Was there anything of that?

A. Miller never was in my chambers. Turroni was there with his wife once.

Q. Do you recall anything of Miller having been before you?

A. He may have been, but I do not recall the case.

Q. You do not even recall the case?

A. No. You see our cases run from five hundred and fifty to one thousand criminal cases per year, and it is impossible for me to remember these foreigners and their names.

Q. What proportion of these cases, Judge, are foreigners?

A. Oh, I would say more than fifty percent.

By Mr. MOFFATT:

Q. What proportion are liquor cases?

A. Well, I would say we run from one hundred to one hundred and fifty liquor cases a year, if we have five hundred cases; if we have one thousand cases, we have twice as many liquor cases. One thousand cases is exceptional, but during the strike we had in 1922—we had a thousand cases, something over one thousand cases.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. It was also testified by Mrs. Turroni and Turroni and Cattoy that at the time of one of the visits at your office, you gave Mrs. Turroni a thousand dollar bond and said she looked honest and she should just take the bond, and you would trust her. State whether or not that is true.

A. That is not true. As a matter of fact, I do not do business that way, and would not give a foreigner I never saw before one thousand dollars.

Q. You had never seen this Turroni woman until that day she came to your office—

A. Never.

Q. To see about the Marcella matter?

A. Never.

Q. Cattoy said that when you came back from the district attorney's office, you made the statement it was hard to get the district attorney to do it, but you brought him over, they should go home and sleep tight and think nothing more of it. Was any such statement as that made?

A. No sir.

Q. Were there any statements, Judge, made other than those that you have just indicated in your testimony?

A. I recall nothing now.

Q. I want to direct your attention to the Pacifico case. Will you state what you know about that?

A. Well, the record offered in evidence discloses the transaction in those cases and what the witnesses said occurred between me and Pacifico and Mr. Bose and Mr. Millar, in my judgment is substantially correct.

Q. Did you know Pacifico?

A. Yes, sir, I know him. He was in court often enough to learn to know him.

Q. What do you recall, Judge, of having discharged this man on probation?

A. I do not recall. The record would have to speak. I could not remember what the record speaks, but the record is correct.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Have you got that record, Mr. Geyer?

Mr. GEYER: No, I filed all the exhibits.

The WITNESS: I have a regular form, I want to say to the committee—

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Just a minute, Judge.

Q. All right, Judge. You said you had a regular form.

A. In order that the sentences are not bungled by the clerks, as our clerks seem to change, our people are democratic and elect a lot of people to the office who do not know anything about running the office, and we have had a number of things occur in sentences that were unsatisfactory. When I went on the bench I prepared form sentences, and after sentence is imposed, that form is filled up by the clerk and brought to me, and I glance over it and sign it, and it is filed, and I think that the records are as nearly correct as it is possible to get them in the matter of sentence.

By CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:

Q. You do not write them in your own hand on the docket, you have them written?

A. The paper is filed to the case, and a notation made on the docket, a docket entry made of it. We file a paper in every case in which there is a sentence. We used to simply have a docket notation of it. We have a minute made of it in the docket, and we also file the paper.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. There was an application made for a parole for Pacifico, in which there seems to have been considerable conference, wherein the district attorney and the county solicitor and the commissioners were present, a petition prepared and submitted to the county commissioners?

A. That was not a parole. That was for the purpose of relieving Pacifico of a portion of the fine.

Q. Now, what happened in that case, Judge, so far as your connection with it was concerned?

A. Just exactly what those witnesses said, outside of what John Miller testified that happened after they left my chamber. I do not know anything about that; but what Pacifico testified to, and what Mr. Boso testified to, and what Mr. Miller testified to happening in my chambers is as near correct as I could repeat it.

Q. At that time, had you modified your fines from one thousand dollars to one hundred and fifty to five hundred dollars, I mean?

A. Well, in the last year or year and a half, I have not been imposing as heavy fines as I had previously, for the reason that the county would not lose as much if I made them only half as large. They could not pay them. If I would impose a fine of five hundred dollars on a certain individual, he would go to jail and pay nothing, and the county would maintain him, and he would finally come out on a discharge free of the Judge and the courts and the law. If I impose a lighter fine and I would put him under parole, why he would pay the fine, and I would still have control of him; so that my fines have been modified according to the financial conditions of those men and women in that mining community. A fine of one hundred dollars just now is as severe on their pocketbooks as a five hundred dollar fine was during the war.

Q. It has been testified to that there has been a very considerable depression in the coal business and business generally in your county and the mines, and the entire mining industry has been affected. Will you state what you have to say about that?

A. We had a very severe and determined strike in 1922 that started on the first of April and the miners remained out, you may say, through the year. During that time our operators lost a lot of their customers, and their trade had gone to other coal fields and consequently they have not been able to regain the same business in so short a time as they had before. I have no doubt in the course of a year or two or three more, they will be able to again build up their trade and business will again be better, but it has been very seriously affected because of that strike and the operators losing their trade.

Q. Now, Judge, Sergeant Cohee, of the State Police, testified relative to the disposition of certain cases against Walter Borderczenski, and among other things he testified that after the jury had returned a verdict and imposed the costs upon him, he had a conversation with you wherein you said you ordered him out of the county and told him not to bring any more prosecutions. Will you state whether or not any such conversation took place?

A. The case was tried. I instructed the jury to return a verdict of not guilty in both cases, and submitted the question of costs. The jury put all the costs on the officer, as I recall it. He was called by the district attorney for sentence for costs, which sentence was imposed. At the noon hour he called at the chamber and requested that I set aside the sentence. I told him that was a matter for the district attorney, but I would hear him. But I did say to him, you testified in court that you had a warrant to arrest this man for having violated the liquor law, having sold previously to another State policeman. You arrested this man without a warrant, for gambling, which was not in your view. I said that I regret that police officers who represent the Commonwealth do not observe the law. You expect these foreign people to observe the law, but you do not set the example. Now, you ought to observe that liquor warrant if you wanted to arrest this man. You did not do it, but you arrested him without a warrant. You police officers ought to learn your job better, because it has a bad effect upon the public to have displayed in court your conduct when you represent the Commonwealth. I did say that to him.

Q. Did you say anything to him about driving him out of the county, and you did not want him to come back?

A. Oh, no. I had no authority, and certainly would not say it. I had occasion to admonish him as to his acts. I said he ought to learn the law and observe it if he wanted the people to obey the law.

Q. And you subsequently remitted the costs, did you not?

A. In one way, yes. Then the district attorney applied to relieve him of the costs, and out of consideration for that department, not out of consideration for this individual, but out of consideration of that department, I thought it was my duty to relieve him of the costs, which I did.

Q. Do you know anything about Albino Caoli?

A. I think I do recall that he was in court and entered a plea, and possibly he was sentenced, I do not recall that, whether he was or not, but I know he was in courtroom No. 2 one morning.

Q. It was testified that he—he testified that he came to your chambers and turned over, after he had seen—after Walter had seen you, two hundred dollars to Walter. Do you know anything of any such transaction?

A. No.

Q. And at the time the Caoli case was disposed of, did you have any information that he had—was the holder of any bonds of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. My impression is that it is not disposed of yet, never having been sentenced. I might be in error, but these are the impressions I have. Is his counsel here?

Q. Who was his counsel, do you know?

A. I do not know. Someone now says Mr. Shaver.

Mr. SHAVER. That case is not disposed of yet.

(RECESS)

AFTER RECESS: Hearing resumed.

Judge Berkey. If the committee please, I want to correct my testimony in one instance: In the Albert Beck case, as to the sentence, the fine was fifteen hundred dollars instead of one thousand dollars, as I have previously stated.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Judge, there was offered a check of Shober, the county treasurer, payable to your order, in the sum of fifty-five hundred dollars. Will you state that transaction?

A. The First National Bank of Addison, had discounted some people, considerable paper, of people living in their territory, arising from the sale of bonds by Cohen. Our arrangement with Cohen was that he would have to produce cash for one-half the sales he made, and the other we would take in paper; and he discounted a very considerable sum of money with the First National Bank of Addison, which was a small bank with a capital of twenty-five thousand dollars. The cashier and the president came to me and said that they had taken on too much of that paper, and we had some other obligations to meet, the character of which I do not recall, and I was desirous of relieving the bank of any embarrassment, though I had not been a party to their transactions, but they were acquaintances, business men of mine, and I told them that I thought the company could give them relief. I have known the Shober family for thirty years, did a great deal of business with the Shober boys' father, who was county treasurer a number of terms, county auditor and such like. I met Shober on his crutches in the lobby of the courthouse one day and asked him whether he had any money that he would loan on good security, and he told me it depends upon how much and the security. I said I would see him again, and I did see him, and I think I saw him the same day. I think that the bank was indicating that they wanted to get the thing adjusted before the next examination; and I took the paper that was exhibited here with the note, and I went to him and gave it to him, and he said that he would consider it. My recollection is that he came to my chambers the next day, a thing he rarely did, because coming upstairs was difficult, and told me that he would make the loan. I prepared the note, gave him the collateral, and he took it to his office and I called later in the day and we possibly had some more conversation about the details, I do not remember them, and he gave me his check. I gave him the collateral just as was testified to on the part of the petitioners. The change was made just as indicated and substantially everything that was testified in relation to that note is correct.

Q. There were three notes, as I recall, one of five thousand dollars, two of twenty-five hundred dollars each, and a certificate of deposit for one thousand dollars.

A. That was a certificate on the First National Bank of Addison.

Q. Will you state, Judge, whether or not that collateral was good at the time you delivered it to Mr. Shober?

A. I believed it to be good. I had know Robert W. McGregor as a farmer who resided in what is now a very fine coal region in the vicinity of Cairn-brook and Central City. He sold out his coal, got considerable money, and lived in Hooversville rather as a retired gentleman, did some work, and I believe at the time I gave that paper, that it was as good as any other paper that I had turned over.

Q. The other two notes were good?

A. The other two notes—Mr. Harvey S. Shaffer is a farmer that lives in the same vicinity where Mr. McGregor lives, and he was a farmer and acknowledged to me that he signed the note. He said the note is all right, and he is a man of liberal means as farmers go. Mr. Knepper told me he had signed the note and that the note was all right, that his family had criticized him for buying it, and he would like to unload it because his family did not agree with him on the business proposition, but he said that he signed the note, the note was all right, and so far as I know Mr. Knepper is amply good for the paper.

Q. Knepper testified this morning that he signed a bond for five thousand dollars, did you know anything about the transaction at all.

A. No.

Q. But you did say—you say now that Knepper admitted to you that he signed that paper and the note was good?

A. Yes, sir. Mr. Knepper has spoken to me on two or three occasions. I would say upon two occasions he was accompanied by Mr. Knepper, and there was no trouble about it, more than he said that his family had criticised him for buying the amount of bonds he did, and he would like to unload them, would like to sell them and get his money and relieve him from the criticism of his family. He did tell me that.

Q. Did you ever have any complaint from Mr. Shober about the sufficiency of the collateral?

A. Nothing whatever.

Q. At the time the transaction was closed, you had no complaint about it whatsoever and heard nothing about it until you heard it hear?

A. Never heard any complaints on Mr. Shober's part at all about the securities, and I say now that I feel that the loan, by the collateral itself, is absolutely secure; nevertheless, I would not take any advantage of the Shober's if it was not. If any body was to lose, I would pay it myself.

Q. Was that money, Judge, turned over to you as county moneys or as the personal funds of Mr. Shober?

A. I asked him as an individual whether he had money to loan. Now, I considered it and do now, as a personal matter between Marlin M. Shober and myself, and he and his brother have always so treated it with me in whatever reference there was made to it among us.

Q. There is a statement relative to certain notations on the report of the county auditors concerning the dispute arising by reason of certain liquor license moneys that were paid in for licenses granted to the licenses under and by operation of law. Could you state what, if any conversation you had with anybody concerning that liquor license money?

A. Well, the only conversation I remember was what Mr. Fox testified. I said when the board of county commissioners came in. I think that is as near correct as I could repeat it; that is to say, that he came in and said they wanted to re-audit the treasurer's account, and I said well, a couple years old; yes; well, I said, an appeal would have to be taken within the statutory period and would have to be settled on an appeal in court. I am satisfied that that is a full elaboration of eveything I said, and possibly a little more. I believe that Mr. Fox's statement was correct.

Q. There was not anything in that, Judge, that in your opinion would discharge the treasurer from liability for any moneys that did not belong to him, was there?

A. Oh, no, no. I dismissed the incident. I want to leave it as Mr. Fox put it, because I remember very little about it.

Q. Well, there isn't any doubt in your mind, Judge, of the right of the county to recover that money?

A. Well, I would not want to express a legal opinion now. The Supreme Court has filed an opinion and I have not read them since I rendered a couple of opinions. I rendered one that was introduced here in evidence, and I had an additional one in our Legal Journal that I rendered near about the same time. I find it reported in the Somerset Legal Journal, the case of McCormick's petition, in which I handed down an opinion on the petition for refund of liquor license fees, on January 27, 1921; and I am not fresh upon the matter now. I would not want to express an opinion.

Q. Well, is there any thought in your mind that by reason of that fourteen hundred dollars being involved of liquor license money, that the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company could profit in any way by reason of that?

A. Nothing whatever, because that matter of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway was not connected with it; that was a personal matter between Kent Miller and Mr. Rephorn. I never knew anything about that two hundred dollar note between Mr. Rephorn and Mr. Miller. As I now recall, I do remember that the other money or note for, I think, five hundred dollars, that he and I got from Mr. Rephorn and the four hundred and ten dollars, that was a personal matter between us; an the fact of the matter is, I never knew what moneys Mr. Rephorn had received from liquor licenses, whether it was three hundred or four hundred dollars, or whether it was fifty thousand dollars. I do not know anything about the details of it. I only know what I heard here in evidence to the matter, and what was heard when I heard the Sipe case in court, and I heard the McCormick case, and it has passed away from me, and I do not remember the details of what counsel argued or what was in the petition.

Q. Do you know how those cases came before you, Judge? Were they brought up as test cases by agreement of counsel?

A. Well, I don't know that I was informed that they were. Maybe they were, but I have no distinct recollection on the matter.

Q. Mr. Sharkey was called as a witness and testified that he was a hotel man. Do you know anything of the bond transaction with him?

A. I think what Mr. Sharkey said is every word true, as far as I can recall it.

Q. That is, that he bought the bonds from Doyle, and you know nothing about it?

A. Just what he said I think is correct.

Q. Do you know anything of this Doyle case?

A. I think what Mr. Boyle said is substantially correct.

Q. Were you influenced in any way in the disposition of any case, of any of these, in your judicial action, by any of these cases?

A. Certainly not.

Q. Do you know anything of the Marinelli case; that is, the Loyal Order of Moose? Did you belong to the Moose, Judge?

A. I am an "ex."

Q. You did belong, where?

A. Somerset. I belonged to the Lodge at Somerset for a number of years; but I am saying now,—I don't think I have been at a Lodge meeting in half a dozen years. I understand that it has got suspended animation.

Q. Do you know anything about the Leighty case?

A. I do not recall that I sold him any bonds at any time, but I may have early when Mr. Miller and I alone were selling them before I went on the bench, it is possible that we sold him a bond.

Q. Was that taken into consideration in the imposition of the sentence of one hundred dollars fine that you imposed upon him.

A. No. Those cases, the district attorney came into court with a bill to restrain five—four different hotel men and the Jenners Brewery from selling beer. I think there was an answer filed and the case stood upon the records without disposition for a year on petition and answer, approximately that time, and the court sitting one morning to hear some matters without a jury, the district attorney came into court and asked that the bills be dismissed except as to the brewers, and he either stated that he had motions or that he would file a formal motion and upon his request I dismissed the bills. I made examination of that record before coming to Harrisburg, having had a rumor that those records were coming to Harrisburg, and I discovered the district attorney has not filed a fomal wirtten motion, which sometimes occurs with counsel, all of us, in our practice, but I distinctly remember of his making the oral request. Now, in the brewery case I made a modified order, in which I took off the injunction restraining them from selling near beer, what was one-half of one percent in alcoholic contents, but I retained the feature of the preliminary injunction which had been granted when the bill was filed to restrain them from making beer with alcoholic content by volume in excess of one-half of one percent. That degree is still in force.

Q. Now, Judge, you know Miss Baer?

A. I do.

Q. You know the Somerset House?

A. I have known it for forty years.

Q. What is it worth?

A. You mean its market value?

Q. Yes.

A. Judging by a property that was sold right opposite this same property for forty-two thousand dollars, with a lot not as large as her lot, nothing but a dwelling house, a little storeroom on it, that sold for forty-two thousand dollars, judging by that sale, it ought to bring three times as much as that property brought. That property was sold about eighteen months ago at public sale in the winding up of an estate.

Q. How long have you known Miss Baer?

A. Oh, probably, I have known her ever since she is in the Somerset House, that must be six or seven years.

Q. Did you and your family reside in the Somerset House?

A. My wife and I constitute the family. We were there six months.

Q. Was there any reason why Miss Baer was not entitled by reputation and conduct of the business of the Somerset House, wherein she could sell near beer?

A. Well, she would have a right to engage in any legal business any other citizen would have.

Q. It was testified that you closed up the bar in the Somerset House when a man by the name of Clair had it?

A. No.

Q. Or Dietz?

A. Bills.

Q. Bills had it?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And sometime subsequent she was permitted to open the barroom. Was there anything in the reputation or conduct of Miss Baer in her hotel that would cause you to place an injunction against the use of that room?

A. I advised her to get Bills out of there, that would create trouble, because he was a man of known intemperate habits, and I simply advised her as a neighbor that would not do, and she disposed of it.

Q. Bills was under parole, was he?

A. He was under parole.

Q. And is now?

A. I think his parole has expired. Bills has been under parole several times.

Q. By reason of your last parole, you made a Sunday School scholar of him?

A. Well, Mr. Bills has very much improved in his conduct; as to the use of liquor, I do not know anything otherwise.

Q. Do you know anything about the Springer who was the keeper of a hotel at Holsopple?

A. I know that he keeps a hotel there and in connection with my visiting the road, the Johnstown & Somerset Railway, going over the road and visiting the power house on two different occasions, I had my dinner in his house. That is the only relations I ever had with him. I never had any business transactions with him.

Q. And it was stated that when he was arrested, the district attorney agreed to the imposition of the sentence you imposed upon him. Did you have anything to do with the terms of that agreement?

A. Well, my impression is that the record is correct. I think that record is correct, as was read by you from the court paper.

Q. What do you know about the Kline case?

A. What Mr. Kline testified to, I think is all true. I would not modify that any in my recollection of his testimony.

Q. Mr. Kline, I believe, testified that at the time he was arrested or his case was heard, he denied that the three and three-quarter gallons of moonshine that was destroyed belonged to him. Was that testimony presented in court?

A. Now, I don't recall that.

Q. You don't recall that?

A. But I have know Harvey Kline for twenty years as an industrious, hard-working German, never has been in trouble, and I felt as I knew his life's history that the imposition of that sentence would correct any mistake he had made.

Q. I want to call your attention to the case of Peter Hoffman. Will you just tell, Judge, what your connection was in that matter and what took place?

A. Well, I have know Peter Hoffman a good many years as a church man, a politician and financier.

Q. That is some combination?

A. He has been known by me for twenty years, and I know his sons, very nice gentlemen, and I knew him while he was county treasurer, and as a business man I have known him to be a success, reasonably successful in politics. I believe he is a Dunkard preacher. I never had any business with him myself in a financial way. I have had politically. In relation to what transpired as to the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway, he sent or gave Mr. Cohen his notes. In order to avoid any impositions on the people in our county and safeguard the interests of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company. I caused a blank to be prepared that Mr. Cohen was required to have signed and accompany the notes he took, which was called a certificate of note events, not so-called on the paper, but that is what it was. Mr. Hoffman sent his notes to the Railway company in the custody of Mr. Cohen, accompanied by the certificates of no defense. I had know Mr. Hoffman's signature for many years, and I had in my possession private papers that he had signed as county treasurer, probably I have a half-dozen tax deeds in my possession, belonging to me, that were executed by him when he was treasurer, and with my recollection of his signature and his signature that was in my possession, I examined the notes, and the certificates of no defense, and I felt that the signatures were all genuine, and the reason that I made that examination of the deeds that I had in my possession was that I knew the care with which Peter Hoffman transacted business, and I was rather surprised with the amount of bonds he had bought, and I examined those signatures and I verified them to my own satisfaction that the signatures to the notes and the certificates of no defense were genuine, and I accepted the notes; and these notes, half of them, were left with me and the other half were discounted by Mr. Cohen. I never heard anything from Peter Hoffman about the transaction, nor do I recall of seeing him, because he lives about thirty miles from Somerset in the Windber section, until March, 1922, or about the time that the notes matured; half of them were in the possession of the company and had not been used, as I remember it; and Mr. Hoffman came to see me, and I happened to be in the chambers, and he had with him a neighbor whose name is Rupple, whose initials I do not recall, a man of about Mr. Hoffman's age. Rupple also was the owner of some of the bonds. They both came to see me for the same purpose, and they both said this, substantially. Now, the bond salesmen that saw us were persistent in making sales, or in other words, you might interpret that they were rapid fire salesmen, and we bought a little more than we should have bought. Both of them said that they had overbought themselves, they had more bonds than they could well pay for. I said to both the gentlemen that Mr. Cohen had said to me when he closed business with the company on or about the first of October, 1921, that he would return to Somerset about the first of May, that he had never yet handled a proposition, but that there were some people that wanted to sell their bonds in the course of time, that he was in the bond selling business and he would call on them if there were any such, I should report the names and he would go to see them and handle their bonds and make the commission. I told Mr. Hoffman this, and I said, I will try to help you out. I think I see how to give you both relief, if you have overbought yourselves. Mr. Cohen will come here and he has sold these bonds before, and I am satisfied he will give you the relief you desire, but you must make your own contract, it is not a matter for me, personally, or for the railway company. Mr. Hoffman grew impaitient with that statement. He says, No, I will not agree to any such thing; I want you to take them off my hands now, and if you don't, and if you don't do that, I will bring suit against you personally. I laughed at him. I said, now, Mr. Hoffman, we have always been friends, there is no use for you to get into a passion about this matter; I am satisfied that your desires can be met, and you just be easy now about this, and the whole matter will be fixed up to satisfy everybody. But he took his man and went away, and I felt that he was dissatisfied. I heard nothing further about it until he brought his proceedings to open judgment and the matter is in litigation and you have heard what that is more fully than I can detail it.

Q. Is that the suit that is now pending?

A. It is.

Q. The one in which the seven different affidavits of defense have been filed?

A. I think there are approximately that many, probably one more. By the way, I wish to add that Mr. Rupple came back afterwards and was more reasonable and we made an adjustment with him that was satisfarctory.

By CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:

Q. How much did Mr. Rupple have?

A. Five thousand dollars.

Q. Did he sell his bonds?

A. He kept half of them. No, Mr. Cohen did come to carry out the proposition he had made to me, and I was sitting especially in Beaver County when he came to Somerset, and he came from Somerset down to Beaver and interviewed me, and he came back again, I think, about the time that I had arranged with him in the fall before to return, but the coal strike was on, and lasted for a year, and he did not undertake to do any business.

Q. He paid for the twenty-five hundred dollars of bonds and retained those, did he, Mr. Rupple?

A. I took the twenty-five hundred dollars of bonds off his hands myself.

Q. And he paid for the other twenty-five hundred?

A. He paid for the other twenty-five hundred; we made that arrangement with him; he has been satisfied. That is my recollection of it. If he has not paid for them he is carrying the paper for it. So far as we are concerned it is settled.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Judge, it has been testified by these gentlemen that a statement was made that the Equitable Trust Company would take over all of these bonds after the completion of the road, or within the period of six months, and return the notes, and that the persons who had subscribed for the bonds would have their stock as bonus for the favor to the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company.

Q. Was there ever any such agreement or understanding?

A. No, nothing of that kind whatever. The first that I recall of hearing that story was when Judge Sloan, sitting to hear the case by Mr. Hoffman the first time, it developed at that hearing. Mr. Kooser reiterated a portion of it in his argument, and from them on it was elaborated on. Mr. Kooser prepared additional papers. and every time he prepared additional papers, he elaborated on that matter, and then the bondholders, a bunch of them hovering around Mr. Earnest Kooser's office, and his father's Francis J. Kooser's and the matter developed and developed and it has extended to a great many people since then, apparently communicated from the Hoffman case by Hoffman and his counsel. I could not assign it to any other reason or any other source.

Q. When was that?

A. That hearing was in July, I think, of 1923, likely. I am not positively certain, but I think that is the date. Bondholders have come in and showed me letters that Earnest C. Kooser had written over his own signature, not as counsel for anybody, but as his individual nosing into the busineses of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway, wanting to know all about its private affairs, and through that source this story has been broadcast, so far as my information goes.

Q. Do you have one of those letters?

A. I thought I had brought it with me from my room, but it seems to me that I left it there this morning inadvertently and do not have it with me, but I will produce it in the morning.

Q. Who handed it to you?

A. Willis G. Singo, of Milford. He stated that he received several letters from Mr. Kooser. That was one of them, urging him to come in and tell his story as to his transaction with the railway company.

Q. Did your company have any connections with the Equitable Trust Company except that which is stipulated in the mortgage which has been offered in evidence here?

A. No, nothing else.

Q. And there is no agreement between that trust company and your company, except what is contained in that mortgage?

A. That is all.

Q. Did you ever tell anybody that there was any agreement between your company and the Equitable Trust Company, except what is stipulated in the mortgage?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or ever authorized any person to make any such statement in your behalf?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or in behalf of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company?

A. No.

Q. Now, certain testimony has been presented here that you refused to make the appointment of the Somerset Trust Company as guardian upon petitions presented for that purpose. Will you state what you have to say in regard to that?

A. As I undrestand the law and my official duties, I have discretion, absolutely, where the minor is under fourteen years of age, and a limited discretion where the minor is over fourteen years of age, and I do not know that I have at any time refused to appoint a guardian suggested by the minor where the minor was over fourteen years of age. I think I have always accepted the suggestion, except when individuals were mentioned. I have made it a policy since I am on the bench of appointing trust companies as fiduciaries. We have three different cases where men went on bonds and got hold of moneys of minors in the capacity of fiduciaries generally, and they defaulted. We had at least two very bad cases, one of which I myself adjusted through paying a considerable sum of money back on the guardian's bonds. For the protection of everybody, I felt it was better, and insisted as a rule, to appoint the trust companies. There are exceptions, where the amounts are small, or particular circumstances that I appoint individuals, but it is my general rule to appoint trust companies as guardians. There are three trust companies in Somerset county, one at Windber and two at Somerset. I have appointed all of these trust companies guardians. I have had complaints from members of the bar as to the Somereset Trust Company. I have had experience while practicing that they were rough in charges, unconscionable charges in a number of instances. I thought that these young people, reaching the age of twenty-one having no experience whatever in settling with their guardians, should be in the hands of people that would consider what was fair in settling with their wards instead of looking to the interests of the instiuttion to the prejudice of the wards. I had had that experience myself with them, and I had had members of the bar complain, and I have had individuals complain.

Q. What have they complained about?

A. More particularly their charges in settlement for the services they rendered, and there were some complaints as to their rates of interest. I had a very good case that I bear in mind from my own practice, where they had a hold of an old lady's money of three thousand dollars, and at the end of the year they wanted to settle with her for sixty-four or sixty-five dollars. They allowed her ninety dollars interest, took off the State tax, and the president charged an attorney's fee of twenty dollars for paying her that mney. She got—they offered her something like sixty five dollars.

Q. Sixty-five dollars upon an interest at six per cent that she would have been entitled to one hundred and eighty dollars?

A. Yes, sir. Now ,that had come in my own observation. I have a number of them during my experience as a member of the bar. I had complaints from Ross Scott, I think complaining, a member of the bar, and James Landis complained, and I did not appoint the Somerset Trust Company unless the fiduciary relation had already been established and then the family wanted them, and where they required them I did it. Their security is good, as far as that is concerned. It is a money making institution and is run for that purpose with emphasis. The County Trust Company has always been very considerate in treating its wards, and whenever they prepare an account, before they let their wards close with them, they bring the account, to me for my inspection, and I felt that dead men's estates ought to be taken care of by the court, and if the court did not do it, there was no refuge for them.

Q. What, if any complaints did you have from counsel about the execution of petitions for the allowances to the wards, or what, if any complaint did you have about the delay in settlement with the minor upon the arrival at the age of twenty-one?

A. Well, there is nothing done there without the president being consulted. He usually don't come to the institution until the afternoon, and in the summer he stays away and usually goes and plays golf, and he puts off the attorneys, and there is considerable growl about it, that he could not be seen and nobody would do business with them, and it inconveniences the counsel and their clients. But I want to say that the institution is perfectly safe as far as that is concerned.

Q. Well, you are not a stockholder of the county Trust Company?

A. Don't hold any stock in it. When I was Banking Commissioner, I arrived at the point that I got rid of all my bank holdings, and I hold stock in but one little bank in the county.

Q. You are not even a depositor of the County Trust Company?

A. No. I have never been a depositaor of the County Trust Company. I deal with the Farmer's National Bank pretty generally.

Q. Mr. Myers testified of a certain conversation that he had with you. What have you to say about that?

A. I would say that Mr. Meyer's statement is substantially correct.

Q. Just what happened?

A. That is just what happened.

Q. Do you know Mr. McMillan?

A. I do, sir.

Q. Did you have any conversation with him relative to his subscription to these bonds?

A. What Mr. McMillan said is largely correct. I have known Mr. McMillan for a long while. Mr. McMillan did not have any property until the war. He then took hold of a coal mine, a small operation, and he accumulated some property, probably thirty or forty thousand dollars worth, and he bought these bonds, and he came to me about this matter, and what he said is substantially correct. I was very much interested in Mr. McMillan. He had made such a rise, both as to his habits and to his business that I wanted to see him get along, and I took over myself the amount of bonds surrendered and provided payment to the company, and I did tell him that I would lift some more of those bonds and I gave him a letter to that effect, but he did not produce it; he has an agreement from me in which I agree that from a certain day within two years I would take up the balance of the one-half of the bonds that he bought, and he has that paper, and I will perform it, but he did not produce it in this trial. Mr. McMillan came to me when he was threatened with being issued upon by Uhle & Ealy, and I went to see counsel, and substantially what he said was correct. I wrote the letter that he introduced, and I did tell him we had some paper out, about seven thousand dollars, that I thought I could get a note and switch it, but meanwhile Mr. Kooser got a collection against the company, and the company had to take three thousand dollars and pay it on the collection that Kooser was forcing. It was a claim by the Brill Company that made our cars, for three thousand dollars, and instead of being able to help McMillan out and lift his note with company money, in order to take care of the Kooser claim, we paid Earnest Kooser those three thousand dollars that I had intended we could use for the benefit of helping out Mr. McMillan; and Mr. McMillan has every sympathy of mine and anything I can do to help him out of the financial trouble that he feels he is in, I want to do. That man is worth saving.

Q. Kochenour testified that he bought from an agent, and then came to see you afterwards? What have you to say about that?

A. What he said that occurred in my presence is substantially true and correct. He came to see me, and I said, well now, I have never seen Lawler. Mr. Cohen is the man that is selling our bonds; and I was just about to leave to keep some other engagement and I called Mr. Cohen, he came to the chambers, and I introduced Mr. Kochenour to Mr. Cohen, and I said, now, Mr. Cohen, I want you to straighten matters out with this man, and he went away, and I never saw him until the matter of collection came up, and he talked to me several times about it, and I told him that this railroad was in the condition of a half built house—a half built house could not be rented, could not make any money out of it, that if he would rest easy, that this road would be brought to a paying proposition, and I believed his investment would be safe, that I had my own in it, more than anybody else, and I was bound to take care of my own, and while I was doing that, I was going to take care of the other bondholders, and he went away from my office apparently satisfied with that statement, and has paid every dollar of it, I believe.

Q. Was there anything said by you, Judge, about the Equitable Trust Company taking over this entire proposition when the road was completed?

A. I never mentioned the Equitable Trust Company to any person.

Q. Did Kochenour make such a statement as that to you?

A. No, no.

Q. The first time that you say you heard it was in the Hoffman case?

A. That is my recollection now.

Q. Judge, has your company ever been sued by any member of the Somerset bar, except Kooser?

A. Yes. The first suit that was brought against the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company was brought by Frank Lindsey & Company, wholesale hardware dealers in Pittsburgh. That suit was brought by Frank Hilbert, and Boose and Boose. They tried it through the common pleas before Judge Sloan, and were non-suited. They then abandoned the case, and the father of Earnest O. Kooser, Francis J. Kooser, took the case up. While on the record, Earnest's name also appears, the father was the active man conducting that litigation, and pressed through the Supreme court, and the record below was affirmed. In all the other cases, Earnest Kooser was the moving spirit with Ray Patton Smith as a sidelight.

Q. And notwithstanding the fact that a number of litigants had always heretofore had other counsel of the Somerset County Bar?

A. Yes, sir. They all flocked to Kooser on this particular proposition; in fact, his letters would indicate that they were invited; and I do not know that any other member of the bar ever had a collection against us either.

Q. Do you know Gower?

A. Gower—well, I did not recall him when he went on the stand yesterday.

Q. You don't recall ever having any conversation with him?

A. I would not affirm or deny that, because my acquaintance with Gower, if it has been anything, has been very little. I did not recall him yesterday, and do not recall him now. It is possible that what he said is true, but I don't recall it.

Q. What about the Musser Case?

A. Dan Musser—as to that, Mr. Cohen said to me one evening in the summer—

Mr. GEYER: Of course, that is not hearsay.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: If the committee does not want it as hearsay, notwithstanding the fact that about seventy-five percent of your case was put in in that way, we are perfectly willing to withdraw the question.

Mr. GEYER: I will withdraw the objection and see what this is.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:

Q. Go ahead, Mr. Beidleman.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Go ahead, Judge.

A. I went to Dan Musser's home, which is about six or seven miles east of Somerset—

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: I would suggest this, that in making these responses you make them as near to the point as you can and eliminate as much collateral matter as possible.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is the reason I asked him the general question, in order that Judge Berkey could get to the point quicker.

A. I went to Mr. Musser's home after five o'clock in the evening, after I had quit the office, simply for a drive Mr. Cohen, and I think the salesman's name was Fetterman, were in the car, and when we got to the House, to the barn, I walked down through the yard to his house and we talked with him. Mr. Cohen and I walked back to the car, and Mr. Musser and the agent transacted business. After they were through they came to the car, and the agent said he had closed with Mr. Musser; we got in the car, and bid him good evening, and went back to Somerset. Mr. Musser came to me and said that we defaulted in the interest, after he had had that for some time, we defaulted in the interest, and he felt he did not want that kind of securities, and I made a compromise with him by which it was agreed, through the board of directors, that if he would pay the commissions of six hundred and twenty-five dollars on the bonds, that we received back that we would receive half of them, which he did; and he paid six hundred and twenty-five dollars, which he did not mention yesterday, and we settled with him on that basis.

By CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:

Q. Just while on that subject, you say in that particular instance, you say you went there in the evening about five o'clock?

A. Yes, sir, after business hours in the office.

Q. And did you close the deal that day?

A. The agent closed it. I did not help to close it.

Q. Was there any statement made by you at all at that time in regard to lifting the notes in six months and returning them?

A. I conducted no business with Mr. Musser, just met him in a social way. Mr. Cohen and I walked off to the car. The salesman dealt with him.

By Mr. MOFFATT:

Q. Fetterman?

A. I think his name is Fetterman.

By CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:

Q. When was it that the notes were over at the Berlin bank for discount?

A. I don't know that; that was done through Mr. Cohen.

Q. You were not present?

A. No, sir.

Q. Mr. Musser testified that you were over at his home about twelve o'clock and two hours after that he received a call from the bank to come there and see about the note.

A. Oh, no, we were there in the evening after supper.

Q. And then he said he went to the bank, and the bank cashier informed him that they presented the note and he refused to discount it because it was in lead pencil, and it was the next morning that Mr. Cohen came back with new notes which he signed in ink.

A. I do not know anything about that.

Q. He is mistaken about that, is he?

A. Yes, we were there in the evening after supper, after the farmers' supper hour.

Q. I ask the question now as to get clear on it.

A. I know Mr. was about the yard. It was in the evening. Mr. Myers had quit work, and I think he was taking care of the lawn. He has a nice lawn, a nice home. I think he was busy with that at that time.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Judge, do you know anything about Walter? He was Walter Borderczenski in English?

A. I do not recall anything that he said that transpired prior to the time he came to the chambers to see me. I paid him the coupons on, I think, two occasions, and I think the slip-up on the check is correct, I think that happened. Now, as to what occurred after his coming to my home, that is probably correct, but a man just dropping into my home and speaking to me, I don't remember it.

Q. Did you ever make any statement to him that you would give him twenty-five dollars for one thousand dollars worth of bonds?

A. No, certainely not.

Q. Has there ever been a bond sold by an officer of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company for less than par?

A. We sold a bond and share of stock, a bond of a hundred dollars, the two together for one hundred dollars.

Q. Has any officer ever sold any stocks and bonds of the company at a price less than that to anyone?

A. Not that I know of; several that have been—since Cohen's left the job we have sold no bonds—we have sold no stock, we sold the bonds alone.

Q. And no stock?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Will you state whether or not any of these checks that were payable to John A. Berkey or John A. Berkey, president, were used for your personal account?
A. I would say no, with this explanation: That I often advanced money when the railroad was short. Mr. Houck testiled that at times it did not make operating expenses. I have advanced that money, and then reimbursed myself. Only in that way, I have used checks that belonged to the railway company where I advanced money.
Q. But included in the more than one hundred thousand dollars that you have in the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company; that is, over and above every other moneys you ever received on that account?
A. Yes, sir. Kooser had a collection against the company of about twenty-two thousand dollars, and I have, I think, in my pockets, some of the receipts that I paid it, made payments that I paid to Francis J. Kooser. I lost the continuity of my thought. Oh, yes, what I want to say: That note of the company was indorsed by A. Kent Miller and myself. I not only paid my share of that collection that Kooser had against the company, but I paid Mr. Miller's share, except there is an unpaid balance of interest that the owner of the note and myself differed upon it, and that matter is still in the hands of the Kooser's for collection. I think I made it about seven hundred dollars, and they figured it two or three hundred dollars higher. So that, in addition to what I have said I have in it, I have advanced for the company and for the benefit of Mr. Miller that additional money. I really have it in the road. Of course, Mr. Miller would be liable to me, but we expect to work it out.
Q. What have you to say about Knepper?
A. About Mr. Knapper?
Q. Yes.
A. Well, I think he admitted this morning that he had signed both notes. He always said that to me. I have gone over that.
Q. He had admitted to you that he did sign them, did he?
A. Oh, certainly. I have been over that, I believe. I want to say this, that my transactions were open and aboveboard. I have been told by a member of the bar not long after I went on the bench that the Kooser's had said they were going to drive me from it. I know from the time I went on the bench that Earnest O. Kooser especially was putting himself out of the way to investigate the private affairs of the railroad company when he was not employed by clients. A member of the bar told me that he had said that he did not care to try cases before me, that he would rather that other judges would try them. I learned that Reverend Fisher, standing yonder wearing glasses (indicating) had been in the court house at the anti-saloon meeting in February a year ago, in which he made a speech in which he said that the sentences by the court in liquor cases were not satisfactory to the Anti-saloon League, and that the only way to get a judge that would be satisfactory to the Anti-Saloon League in liquor sentences was to impeach the judge. That report came to me from various persons—I do not know that I could name them now—right after that speech was made, and he and the Reverend Bastin, sitting beside him there (indicating) had previously visited my chambers and demanded severer sentences. I also learned from my son-in-law last May that I was being shadowed by detectives that were in town, and that particular evening were hanging around the country club. So that I knew all the time that these transactions were going on of which they now complain; that Mr. Kooser and the Anti-Saloon League, through these two gentlemen, were after me, and I did all this business with checks and notes that have been testified to, knowing that. It was done openly and above-board, because I felt that I was doing an honest fair and open transaction, and I had nothing to fear by the sleuths who were on my tracks.
Q. Judge, will you state to the committee your relation to the proposition of the Johnstown Traction Company to take over the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company?
A. The statements made by Mr. McAnemy and Mr. Murdock are substantially correct as I remember them.
Q. What was your attitude relative to the deferring or remission of the mortgage, or postponing the present mortgage for one they proposed for the completion of the road?
A. My attitude was just what they said. I felt then that we could complete this road to the Lincoln Highway without making the sacrifice of postponing the lien for the men who had put their money in at the beginning, and I am reasonably certain that if Mr. Kooser had left us alone and had not stirred up trouble and stirred up the minds of the investors, that that road to-day would be operating at least to the center of the town of Boswell. The greatest ecemies to the road have been the people who were dissatisfied with their investments, and there was no dissatisfaction until Mr. Kooser put his hands in it.
Q. Judge, it was testified to by Mr. Houck that certain moneys were expended in the construction of the road. Do you have any additional items over and above the five hundred and thirty-three thousand seven hundred dollars?
A. Yes, sir; the commissions that were paid to Cohen are not in that.
Q. How much were they?
A. They sold six hundred and thirty thousand dollars worth, or approximately that amount; say, in round numbers six hundred thousand dollars worth, I think it figures. Well, I am safe in saying it was not less than six hundred thousand dollars worth.
Q. What was the commission?
A. Twenty-five per cent.
Q. Anything else? How much interest has been paid on account of bonds?
A. I do not know that. Mr. Miller, I think, has a sheet that gives it, but I would estimate it at least fifty thousand dollars.
Q. Do you know anything of the cost of rights of way from Somerset to Boswell?
A. I would say that they did not cost much money; they were people that lived along the proposed route that were anxious for the road, that were willing to give us the rights of way for a nominal sum, and have done so. We bought property, might average one thousand dollars per mile; that is a nominal sum for it.
Q. How many miles?
A. One thousand dollars a mile.
Q. For fourteen miles?
A. For about eleven miles. I considered that a nominal sum for the charter of the ground we went over in many cases. They would naturally have to leave the coal stand where the surface was not heavy; and it is practically a nominal sum under those circumstances.
Q. Do you know how much money you have in notes that have been uncollected?
A. Well, I think we have about fifty thousand dollars of these assets.
Mr. LUDLOW: Fifty thousand dollars of what?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Of uncollected notes.
Q. They represent bonds, the value of bonds that are outstanding, do they not?
A. Yes sir.
Q. The time you were elected, Judge Kooser was a candidate for judge against you—I mean Earnest Kooser?
A. Hardly; he only got eight hundred votes.
Q. You did not regard him in the running?
A. No. Mr. Uhle, over there (indicating), was a candidate, and he got about three times as many as Kooser got.
Whereupon, at 5:40 o'clock P. M., the committee adjourned until 7:15 o'clock P. M.

March 4, 1925, 7 o'clock P. M.
Hearing resumed pursuant to adjournment.

J. A. BERKEY, recalled.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Judge, you have been president of this company since its organization?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And active in its affairs?
A. Fairly active.
Q. The original capital stock as disclosed by the records of the Commonwealth was $66,000; can you tell us how much of that capital stock was paid in?
A. I assume that we followed the statute and paid in the statutory requirement, I think that was it.
Q. How much?
A. That would be 10 per cent. wouldn't it?

Q. Was it all subscribed for at the time the corporation was organized?
A. I don't know, it was organized in 1909 and I would have to refresh my memory.
Q. Do you recall how much of that capital stock you had subscribed for?
A. No I don't.
Q. How much of the capital stock of the corporation do you now own?
A. I wouldn't know that without going over the books.
Q. Can you tell us approximately?
A. No, I could not.
Q. $50,000, have you?
A. I couldn't fix the amount, I would have to look at the books.
Q. Are your books here which would disclose that?
A. I wouldn't know that, they are in the hands of the secretary.
Q. What books have you here, do you know?
A. The secretary brought the books, I don't just know in detail.
Q. How many bonds of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company do you own?
A. I own the amount that I paid, dollar for dollar.
Q. Will you tell us the amount?
A. The exact amount, I don't have my book here it is down at the office, it is either $94,000 or $95,000.
Q. When did you get them?
A. Well I got them and I paid for them.
Q. From the company?
A. Well they were in the possession of the board of directors and I have some in my possession, more than I own.
Q. I am asking you about that, nothing more than in the bonds of the company?
A. Oh I invested, I have bonds dollar for dollar.
Q. You evidently don't understand my question. Do you now hold $90,000 of bonds of the Railway Company?
A. I think, I haven't counted them lately, they are tied up in a bundle in my safe.
Q. But did you buy them all from the company?
A. No, I had some that I took over from other individuals.
Q. How much did you take over from other individuals?
A. I couldn't tell you that now.
Q. Can you tell us about how many you bought from the company?
A. Well, this thing has covered a period of 10 years, I couldn't draw the line without going over the books.
Q. When you bought from the company did you pay the company 100 cents on the dollar in money?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Without any discount for selling?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And how much stock did you buy from the company?
A. I don't recall, I have said I would have to go to the books again and look at that.
Q. You can't tell us what your stock holdings in the company are?
A. I couldn't at this minute.
Q. Can you even approximate it, Judge
A. No, I wouldn't undertake to approximate it.
Q. Can you tell us the total outstanding stock of the corporation?
A. The stock book I think shows about $285,000, I think. I wouldn't say that that was absolutely the amount, but relatively or approximately.
Q. And how much in bonds of the company are outstanding?
A. Approximately $700,000, I guess it is.
Q. Will you think a minute? I believe you told us that in the campaign of 1921 a selling agent sold $600,000 of bonds on which their commission was $150,000, that is correct, is it?
A. I said they sold approximately $600,000 and the commission was 25 per cent.
Q. Did you not also tell us this afternoon that the officers of the company had sold about $200,000 of bonds?
A. I said between $170,000 and $200,000.
Q. Do you know of any other sales than these made by the officers and those selling agents on behalf of the company?
A. No, sir, I think not.
Q. Did the company redeem any of its bonds?
A. Yes, it redeemed some. I remember a settlement with a man by the name of Pyle, that had redeemed some bonds. The settlement was made by Mr. Coder.
Q. When?
A. He will possibly recall more accurately than I do.
Q. Can't you tell?
A. No I can't fix that date, I would say it was after March, 1922, after March, 1922.
Q. Does your company operate on a fiscal year or a calendar year?
A. We have been operating on a calendar year.
Q. And you closed your books on the 31st of December, 1924?
A. Well the books were not very accurately kept when Mr. Vandergrift went away he took our foundation books with him and we were left considerably at sea.
Q. That was in 1915, wasn't it, or 1916?
A. That was in the fall of 1915, I guess. Wait a minute! It was either in 1915 or 1916.
Q. Has no statement showing the assets and liabilities of the corporation been prepared since 1915?
A. Yes, we had a meeting of the stockholders at Boswell in 1923, where they were all notified and invited to attend and a complete statement given of the condition of the company.
Q. Have you that statement with you?
A. No, I don't.
Q. Have you one available?
A. I don't know whether the secretary has one with him or not.
Q. What time is the annual meeting of your corporation according to its by-laws?
A. I think the third Monday in January annually.
Q. Did you hold your annual meeting this year?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you hold it last year?
A. No, sir.
Q. When last did you hold a meeting of the stockholders?
A. I couldn't say, the minutes would show that.
Q. Have you any recollection of any being held in the last five years?
A. No.
Q. When did your company conceive the plan of selling its securities for $100 cash in exchange for $100 bond and $50 in stock?
A. That was in the fall of 1915, the minutes give the exact date and the resolution of the board of directors.
Q. Judge, what did you sell your capital stock for?
A. Just what I have said, the board passed a resolution that the stock should be sold at par and the bonds at such a price as the executive committee would agree upon.
Q. And were you a member of the executive committee?
A. I think not.
Q. Who was the executive committee?
A. I don't recall, I would have to look at the books, being the president of the board I don't think I was.
Q. How many members of the board of directors had you in recent years?
A. We have had since 1915, it has been Mr. Stotler, formerly a member of the House, Mr. Specht, a business man residing at Stoyestown, and Smucker residing at Boswell, A. Kent Miller and myself.
Q. How frequently did your board of directors meet?
A. Well we have been holding meetings probably on an average of probably four times a year, except during the stock selling, we met quite frequently.
Q. Did you sign a report to the United States Government of income of this corporation?
A. I may have, I don't recall that I did, but, I may have.
Q. Did you ever prepare a report as President of the company to the officers and directors of the business and operation of the company?
A. We prepared that report to which I have already testified.
Q. Just the one report in 1923?
A. There may have been others.
Q. That was a special meeting, wasn't it?
A. Yes.
Q. For what purpose called?
A. That was to give all the members a report of the condition of the company and the further purpose of seeing what money we could raise to complete the project up to the Lincoln Highway.

Q. When did your company first default in the payment of interest on its bonds?
A. I think on the first of January, 1922.
Q. Are you certain of that?
A. No, I haven't said so, I said I think so, I am not sure.
Q. How many bonds had it outstanding before your selling campaign began in 1921?
A. Between $170,000 and $200,000, along there somewhere is my recollection, I have not refreshed my memory recently.
Q. I show you a letter marked Petitioner's Exhibit No. 59, and call your attention to the signature at the bottom, is that your signature, Judge?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Will you look at that letter and tell us whether your company had not defaulted in the payment of interest on its bonds as early as 1919?
A. Possibly we had but they were paid up in 1921.
Q. Paid up out of the proceeds of the bonds sold?
A. Yes sir.
A. That is in 1921 when you sold those additional $600,000 of bonds you used practically all the proceeds of that issue to pay up the arrears of interest on former bonds sold, is that correct?
A. That is right, yes, sir.
Q. Can you tell us how much of that was used in paying the arrears of interest on the prior bonds?
A. Mr. Miller went to New York and made the settlement with the Equitable Trust Company, and he would know.
Q. You stated that you have sold about $170,000 to $200,000 of bonds before the campaign of 1921 and that campaign ended in the fall of 1921?
A. Yes sir.
Q. That is correct?
A. Yes sir.
Q. How many bonds has your company sold since the campaign was over?
A. Well I assume that it would not run over, it might run $5,000, along there.
Q. When the Turroni bond of $500 was sold, was that a bond of the company or a bond owned personally by you?
A. Company bond.
Q. When the next Turroni bond of $1,000 was sold was that a bond owned personally by you or the company?
A. Company bond.
Q. What did you do with the money you received?
A. I applied it to the company.
Q. That is, you credited your account with the company with that amount?
A. No, no. We were always embarrased for money and I either applied that direct to the use of the company or to reimburse me with money that I had advanced that had never been applied to the purchase of bonds.
Q. Can you recall which of the two you did with this $1,500?
A. Oh no, I could not remember that.
Q. What did you do with the $300 in cash, deposit it in bank?
A. I couldn't tell you now.
Q. What did you do with the $1,000 check, deposit it in bank?
A. I couldn't tell you now, but ifmy memory were refreshed I might be able to say whether I did or not.
Q. I show you the check dated January 12, 1923 with the endorsement J. A. Berkey and bank endorsement, and ask you whether that went into your private account or whether the company's account?
A. I would say from general appearance that went into my private account.
The CHAIRMAN: What exhibit is that?
Mr. GEYER: Respondent's Exhibit No. 2.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Have you any checks from yourself at or about that time to the company for this $1,000?
A. No, sir, but I hold in my hand two receipts signed by Francis J. Kooser where I paid for the company during the year 1923, in the beginning of the year 1924, $6,000.
Q. May I see the receipts?
A. Yes, sir. And that is more money than I ever got on the sale of bonds and I paid that for the use of the company.
Q. The first of the receipts, Judge, bears date the 25th of June, 1923?
A. Yes sir.
Q. The second bears date of the 3rd day of February, 1924, if I read that correctly?
A. Yes.
Q. In the meantime, between January 12, 1923, and June 3rd, 1924, where was this $1,000?
A. There never was a time in the last five years that the company was not in my debt. I advanced money on coupons, advanced money on shortage of operation and I have paid for the company to Judge Kooser over $20,000 and I have not been reimbursed, not for 25 per cent of the money I advanced.
Q. In the month of January, 1923, how much did the company owe you for moneys advanced other than on bonds?
A. January, 1923? Well here was the $5,000 and on February 2nd, 1924 I paid another $1,000 and I have advanced additional large sums of money since that date.
Q. You say here is a $5,000 item?
A. Yes sir.
Q. But that was not until the 25th day of June, 1923?
A. I have said to you there never was a time this company was even with me. Since I went on the bench and beforehand I have advanced the money to keep this company from sinking, to protect the bond owners who had put their money in and I have put my own in and I want the limit to save them from loss as well as myself.
Q. I understand your testimony Judge.
A. I don't ask you to understand it, this is for the Committee.
Q. All right, but my question still is, on the 12th of January, 1923, how much did the company owe you for moneys advanced?
A. I can't say to you but I say there never was a time—
Q. Approximately, how much, $25,000?
A. I can't say how much, I don't have the books and I will not undertake to say.
Q. Any moneys, however, owing to you were common claims against the company, were they not?
A. I don't know whether I understand what you mean by that.
Q. That mortgage, according to its terms, was a prior lien on all of the physical assets and property of the corporation, that is so, isn't it?
A. Yes.
Q. And on the first of January, 1923, your mortgage indebtedness for prior lien was something in the amount of $700,000, or over, that is so, isn't it?
A. In the neighborhood of that.
Q. And in addition to that there were several years of interest in arrears which was also secured by the lien of a mortgage, that is correct?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And any sums of money owing to you by the company were a common claim against the company, that is correct?
A. They went into the company for its direct benefit, just the same as any other money that came from the sale of bonds.
Q. But do you understand my question?
A. I don't think you understand my answer.
Q. I do, but it is not responsive to my question, sir, my question is whether the sums which were owing to you for moneys advanced to the company were not to secure claims against the company?
A. I am not expressing any legal opinion now, I am not handing out any law.
Q. Does the question present any difficulty to you?
A. You understand my answer.
Q. Is that the only answer you intend to make?
A. I think it is patent to everybody that this money went into the benefit of the company.
Q. But is it not equally as apparent that the moneys which you advanced were to secure claims against the company?
A. Then every account and every claim that becomes due from the company would be that kind of an account and under your theory no mortgage money could be used.
Q. Is that your answer?
A. That is my reasoning.
Q. Judge on the 8th of July, 1924 Walter Borderzenski gave you a note in the amount of $500, do you recall the transaction?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. I show you a photostatic copy of this note and endorsement which is marked Exhibit 10?
A. How did you get this note?
Q. Will you look at the note and will you look at a notation on the left hand corner, written in ink, and read it for us?
A. What do you want me to read it for?
Q. Will you read it?
Q. I asked you will you read it for me?
A. Yes, sir, why?
A. J. & S. Railway bond No. 1465.
Q. Judge is the notation in your handwriting?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And to whom is the note given?
A. Well we call that man Walter Borderczenski.
Q. To whom is it given?
A. To me.
Q. Were you present when the note was signed?
A. I wrote the note.
Q. You wrote the whole of the note except Walter's name?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where were you when the note was given?
A. That day I drove from Somerset to Windber on some business and I stopped with him and I asked him to buy a bond. He said that he could not buy a bond now and pay for it, that he had some obligations to meet and he didn't want to break on the fund he had in bank, but he would give me a note, and I think it was four months, I didn't look what that is.
Q. The note is four months.
The CHAIRMAN: What is the date of that note?
Mr. GEYER: July 8th, 1924.
WITNESS: He asked me to discount it at the first National Bank of Davidsville.
Q. Did you turn this note over to the officers of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?
A. I turned that note into the First National Bank of Davidsville and asked them to discount it and send me the proceeds. The cashier took it and said this to me, is my best recollection: "It is strange he didn't give you a check for it, he has $2,500 in the bank". And I said to him "I don't know why other than he said he had some obligations to meet and he wanted me to take the note". I left the note with him and returned to Somerset. I called Mr. Houck and told him the note was at the First National Bank of Davidsville, that the proceeds of the note belonged to the Railroad Company, that I was going on my vacation and he should see the bank and if that bank did not discount it he should bring it to Somerset to the bank at which I dealt and get it discounted there. I went on my vacation, had gone two weeks, and upon my return I made inquiry of Mr. Houck and he told me that the note had been discounted, that he received the proceeds from the bank, $490 for it, and that he had applied it for the use of the company by paying it to the Penn Public Service Corporation.
Q. Who was the cashier to whom you spoke?
A. J. E. Williamson.
Q. Judge, I show you a check dated September 8th, I believe, 1924, of Walter Borderczenski, it is marked Exhibit No. 12, to the order of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, and bears upon the back Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company in your handwriting, is it not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And the check is filled up in your handwriting?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And where were you when that check was filled up?
A. At my chambers.
Q. And I assume Walter Borderczenski was there?
A. He was.
Q. Two days before that he was brought into your court for sentence according to the records, is that correct?
A. It may be, I don't recall.
Q. What was said when this check was filled up?
A. This check was in payment of a bond that he had bought I think some time in February, 1924, he bought a bond then for $500, paid me $200 in cash and gave me this check and insisted that I accept that for the note, with interest, which I did and returned to him the note.
Q. Judge, were there any payments being made on there for interest on these deferred payments for bonds? That is, Walter Borderczenski you say had paid you $200 in February?
A. Yes.
Q. And now was paying $300; what about interest on this delayed payment of $300?
A. I say I remitted that.
Q. What did you do with the proceeds of this $300 check?
A. I applied them to reimbursing myself for money that I had advanced to the Railway Company.
Q. Judge, you stated that Walter Borderczenski paid you $200 in February?
A. I think he gave me a check for it, that is my recollection, I might be mistaken, may be he paid me in money. My recollection is that he gave me a check yet I would't say definitely.
Q. I show you check dated February 14, 1924, and marked Exhibit 9, to your order, for $200, signed by Walter Borderczenski; is that the check he gave you?
A. I think it is.
Q. It is filled out in your handwriting?
A. No.
Q. In whose handwriting is it?
A. I don't know.
Q. Will you look at the endorsement on the check?
A. Yes, sir, I endorsed it.
Q. How did you get that check, was delivered in person or come by mail?
A. I don't recall that, my impression is that he delivered it in person, but I wouldn't say absolutely.
Q. Judge, he was in your court the day before, wasn't he?
A. It is possible he was. When was that gambling case there?
Q. The verdict of the jury was February 13, 1924.
A. It is correct then.
Q. And the verdict of the jury on the day before had been that the defendant be acquitted?
A. That is the verdict.
Q. And you directed the jury to find that verdict?
A. I felt I was bound to do that under the law as I unerstood it.
Q. And on that day, the 13th, Walter Borderczenski received back $150 which had been with the state police on a bribery charge?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Is that the day on which he agreed to buy a bond from you?
A. On the 13th.
Q. On the 14th?
A. That is the day I got the check.
Q. Is that the day he bought the bond on which he completed the payment in September?
A. I would only know that by inference, I think that is the date.
Q. Judge, Walter Borderczenski had been in your office a few weeks before, on January 24, 1924, hadn't he?
A. Yes, sir. I don't know whether he was in the office or not but I had a transaction with him on that check.
Q. Judge, that check is filled out in your handwritting, isn't it?
A. Yes, that check is filled out in my handwriting.
Q. And it is endorsed by you?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. It is first endorsed by the Railway Company and then it is endorsed by you personally?
A. Yes.
Q. And that would indicate that you got the proceeds of the check personally?
A. Yes.
Q. Judge, what was that check for?
A. That was on the bond.
Q. Another bond?
A. Likely it was.
Q. When had you sold him that other bond?
A. I don't recall that.
Q. Long before?
A. Oh I couldn't fix any date.
Q. You told us a few minutes ago, Judge, that you directed a verdict because you believed that should be the decision; you heard the testimony of the officer that you told the jury that in as much as he was not present when the board was being operated he was not guilty of operating a gambling device, is that substantially what your direction was?
A. The charge is here and speaks for itself.
Q. Will you tell us you recollection?
A. The charge is here just what I said.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The charge is the best evidence and we have the record here.

Mr. GEYER: May we see that? We have not been permitted to see it yet.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is because you have not asked to see it.

WITNESS: I think Mr. Beidleman read the whole charge before.

Q. May I see it?

A. Yes.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: You also read the testimony, it is very illuminating.

Q. I read from the charge: "Ladies and gentlemen of the jury, the defendant has been prosecuted for operating a gambling device. The evidence is the wife was there and that she operated it and the evidence is that she owned the place. The District Attorney asked the prosecutor, the leading witness, and he said he believed she owned the place. Now in a criminal prosecution like this there may be circumstances arise where the husband will be liable for what the wife does, when it is shown in the testimony that she is his agent. There is no testimony in this case to show that it was under his control and he was operating this puch board under her direction, she being the owner of the premises, the presumption is the contrary, that she was doing business for herself and we cannot permit a prosecution to succeed under those circumstances, when there is no evidence whatever against the defendant, and we instruct you to return a verdict of not guilty". You recall that, do you?

A. There is the charge taken by the reporter.

Q. I read on.

A. I certified that to be correct.

Q. "The second indictment charges an attempt to bribe. Well, if he committed no offense and we have instructed you there is no proof that he did commit an offense, then there is no bribery in it. If he gave them the money he was not attempting to prevent these officers from prosecuting for an offense, if there was none committed, and if what the officer said is true there was no offense committed and we instruct you to return a verdict of not guilty in that case"; in that you mean the bribery case?

A. You have the record.

Q. Judge, is it your opinion that a man can be guilty of bribery or attempted bribery only if he is guilty of some crime?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That I object to as being immaterial and irrelevant.

A. I express that opinion in that case.

Q. And the next day Walter Bordorczenski gave you a check for $200, that is a fact, isn't it?

A. That is a fact.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: You did not read all of it, there is the question of costs.

The CHAIRMAN: That was read in before.

A. Yes, it was read before.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: If it was read before I don't know of any reason why it should be read in again.

Mr. GEYER: This was not read in.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: It certainly was.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Judge, will you be able to furnish us from the books the information as to the amount of capital stock of the corporation which you hold?

A. I think so, yes.

Q. Will you do so?

A. I will try to accommodate you.

Q. You told us that Vandergrift got $20,000 for security, or of securities; just what do you mean by that?

A. Bonds sold, proceeds of bonds sold to the First National Bank of Boswell.

Q. Who sold those bonds?

A. Mr. Vandergrift sold them under authority of the executive committee.

Q. You spoke of an agreement which you had with Vandergrift?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you that agreement here?

A. That agreement ought to be here in the hands of the secretary.

Q. Will you let us see it?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The agreement is not here.

Mr. GEYER: Is it in town?

WITNESS: You brought it with you.

Q. Is it in town?

A. The secretary says it is.

Q. You did tell us some things in the agreement to-day?

A. You should have the agreement.

The CHAIRMAN: We expect to close this to-night and I would suggest the secretary get it.

Mr. GEYER: May we suggest also if there are any other of these records in town that are not here that you bring them here.

The CHAIRMAN: Will the secretary get these records and bring them in.

WITNESS: Bring them in and the stock book with you.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. What were the total moneys that you paid Vandegrift?

A. I can't tell you that now.

Q. About how much?

A. I could not give you the figures.

Q. In excess of this $20,000?

A. You know you have a lot of grading in constructing a road.

Q. And he paid for it?

A. Yes.

Q. In what amount?

A. I cannot give you that now, that was in 1915,

Q. Do you have any books or records which show that?

A. You know I told you he carried all the records with him.

Q. Does the company have any books or records to show that?

A. Only approximately.

Q. Judge are you familiar with the Public Service Company Law?

A. Not very familiar, because while I was practicing Mr. Shaffer did that work.

Q. And after you went on the bench who was the attorney for the Railway Company?

A. Mr. Shaffer.

Q. And who was before you went on the bench?

A. The firm of Berkey and Shaffer.

Q. Judge are you familiar with the requirements for the keeping of accounts of public service corporations according to ascertain standards?

A. I would say I am not. I have not given it any study because Mr. Shaffer did that work, he being in the office while we were practicing he did the bankruptcy work and the bureau work here at Harrisburg largely.

Q. Judge you certainly are familiar with the corporation law requiring that when an increase is made in the capital stock indebtedness of a corporation that a return of the election shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth?

A. Oh yes, we gave it to Mr. Vandergrift to do that, I explained that.

Q. You are further familiar with the requirements of that law, within 30 days after the increase in the capital stock has actually been made and the stock issued that he shall then make return to the Secretary of the Commonwearth showing that it was issued and what it was issued for?

A. I think all these papers were given to Mr. Vandergrift.

Q. Before the stock was issued, I am speaking, will you let me refresh your recollection? The purpose of that is that the Auditor General may know how much stock has been issued and he may collect the bonus on the stock issued?

A. We provided he should pay the bonus.

Q. Did you ever prepare such a return?

A. I think all these things were done.

Q. Did you ever pay bonus on this stock issued?

A. In the first place, Mr. Vandergrift agreed to come here and do that and reimburse myself out of the fund we put in his hands.

Q. And Judge you certainly are familiar with the requirements of the law that the capital stock and elections report be prepared and sent to the Auditor General each year?

A. Yes.

Q. And you are familiar with the requirements of the law that they shall be sworn to by the president and treasurer of the corporation, are you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you are familiar with the provisions that there is a penalty, making it a misdemeanor for an officer not to do that for three consecutive years?

A. That may be.

Q. It is the Act of 1915.

A. Then I am not familiar with it.

Q. Judge, did you as President of this corporation send any capital stock or elections report to the Auditor General since 1912?

A. I think not. I may have but I don't recall it.

Q. As early as 1915 you had at least $20,000 of mortgage liens, hadn't you?

A. Yes.

Q. And you know that was taxable?

A. I think there was a return made of that, yet I would not be sure about it.

Q. You know there is a return required each year?

A. Yes.

Q. You heard the testimony of Mr. Lehman of the Auditor General's Department that none has been filed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You told us this afternoon that the officers of the company serve without salary; you mean by that yourself also, do you?

A. All the officers.

Q. And have you any claim now against the company for salary?

A. No, sir.

Q. A contract was made with Mr. Cohen in 1921 for the sale of certain securities, have you that contract here?

A. No, I don't have, but I assume the secretary has it

Q. Is he here?

A. He may have.

Q. Will you inquire of him, is that contract in town?

The CHAIRMAN: Do you have the Cohen contract here?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The minute book sets it out.

Mr. GEGYER: May I ask if you have a copy of the contract?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Yes.

The CHAIRMAN: I understand the secretary to say he has the Cohen contract.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: He said he had the Vandergrift contract at the hotel but not the Cohen contract.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Judge this contract provides the Railway Company shall forthwith cause its corporate name to be changed to Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?

Mr. GEYER: Gentlemen, you are giving me the contract back in 1924, I am afraid I will have to root to get the right one unless you give me the stock selling contract.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The stock selling contract is the Cohen contract.

Mr. GEYER: I am asking for that, have you it in the minutes?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The Cohen contract is not in the minutes.

Q. You do not have the Cohen contract in the minute book, is that a fact?

A. That is the man who has the minutes.

The CHAIRMAN: There is an apparent conflict between the records produced and the testimony of the Judge. From the Judge's testimony we understand that the books up until 1915 and until after these bonds were issued and started to sell them were taken away by this man Vandergrift; now you produce a minute here of a record made in 1914.

WITNESS: That is the minute book.

The CHAIRMAN: We understood from the testimony he had taken all records.

A. Of course he did not have the minute book.

The CHAIRMAN: What records did he actually take, for our information?

A. He took with him the books of the stock sold and of how it was expended and the corporate action of the board in creating the indebtedness and increasing the capital stock, we assumed he had filed that.

The CHAIRMAN: The corporate action of the board, would that not be in your minute book?

A. Yes sir.

The CHAIRMAN: This is the minute book, then it is there?

A. The minute book that we then had was a loose leaf book and that was transcribed.

The CHAIRMAN: Into this book?

A. Into this book.

The CHAIRMAN: Then it ought to be here?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: It is here, the resolution is in here authorizing $1,500,000. I had not seen the minute book myself up to this minute. Under date of August 30, 1915, is this minute:

"We, the owners and holders of the stock issued of the capital stock of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company hereby request the board of directors of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, by resolution, to declare that it is the desire of the corporation, the said Railway Company, to increase its indebtedness from nothing to by resolution, call a meeting of the stockholders of the $1,500,000, and that the directors of the Railway Company, Railway Company, to be held the first day of September, 1915, for the purpose of voting for or against said increase; and we (stockholders) do hereby waive the notice of such meeting of the stockholders required by law to be given.

John A. Berkey,
A. L. O. Hay,
Frank B. Fluck,
A. Kent Miller.

Q. Will you give us the number of shares owned respectively by them, while you are reading from the minutes so that it is complete?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is the request upon the directors

Mr. GEYER: On the standard form it has back of it the number of shares owned by each.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: September 1, 1915. A special meeting of the stockholders of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company was held at the principal office of the company in the office of the company in the Berkey Building, Somerset, Pa., on the above stated date, upon due and legal notice to all the stockholders of record, being as ordered by the Board of Didectors.

The President of the Company, Mr. Berkey, took the chair.

The total number of shares held by the stockholders present (There being no proxies) was three hundred and twenty (320) being the largest amount in value of the capital stock of said company for which certificates of stock had been issued.

The Secretary presented the following resolution, having been adopted by the Board of Directors August 30, 1915". Then they give the resolution:

"Resolved, That a meeting of the stockholders be called to convene at the principal office of the company on the 1st day of September, 1915, to take action on the approval or disapproval of the proposed increase of indebtedness of this company, the notice by publication required by law to be given having been waived unanimously by the stockholders."

"The Secretary also produced a list of the stockholders of the company, showing the name of each stockholder and the number of shares held by him."

"The Judges of Election appointed by the Board of Directors at the meeting held on the 30th day of August, 1915 took and subscribed an oath for the faithful performance of their duties. Said list of shareholders and affidavits are in the archives of the company.

Mr. Hay presented the following resolution:

"Resolved that the indebtedness of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company be and the same is hereby increased from nothing to the amount of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000). The resolution was seconded by Mr. Fluck.

The election was then held. There were voted for the approval of said resolution 320 shares, and against said resolution no shares, as appears from the records filed in the archives of the company.

Adjourned.

John A. Berkey, President stockholder's meeting.

Attest: A. Kent Miller, Secretary Stockholders meeting.

Q. Judge, you have heard the reading of this minute?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Can you turn to any records showing that there was a waiver by all of the stockholders of the corporation of the notice required to be given by the constitution of the proceedings to increase the capital stock indebtedness?

A. No, sir.

Q. Can you tell how much stock of the corporation was then outstanding?

A. The minutes book just read I assume is correct.

Q. How much of that did you hold?

A. I don't recall now what it was.

Q. Will the minute book help you to refresh your recollection?
A. Whatever was in the minute book is correct.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The minute book does not show the number of shares of each person.
A. I can't give you the information until I get the book.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. And the par value of the stock is how much?
A. $50.
Q. Judge will you tell us how much commission Cohen was to get for the selling of stock?
A. He was to receive 25 per cent of the cash yielded from the sale of securities.
Q. What were the securities to be sold for?
A. Just what I have already told you.
Q. If he sold $5000 of bonds and $2500 of stock for $5000 what did he get?
A. 25 per cent commission on $5000.
Q. $1250, that would be correct?
A. If your multiplication is correct.
Q. There is a confusion, Judge, because if I recall correctly you stated that half of it they were to return in cash and the other half in notes, which would be accepted by you?
A. That is not confusing, I don't think, to a rational man.
Q. Did he get 25 per cent on the whole of the cash and notes that they got from a prospect?
A. The notes were treated as cash.
Q. For the purpose of computing their per centage?
A. Yes.
Q. Have you any record showing the exact amount which they did sell?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Can you produce it?
A. No, I don't have it. I don't know whether the secretary has it with him or not, but I saw it before I came down here.
Q. You need the expression $600,000, is that accurate or only—
A. No, that is approximate.
Q. Is that a minimum or a maximum?
A. Well when it is approximate it is presumed to be neither minimum nor maximum.
Q. Sometimes we use the term of not less than that?
A. I did not.
Q. May it have been as much as $625,000?
A. The best information I can give you is approximately $600,000.
Q. Do you have a record which shows the entire transaction?
A. I think so.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. Would you produce it, Judge?
A. Yes.
Q. I think we could save a lot of time instead of juggling these questions if we get the record.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Judge, you complained that Mr. Kooser entertained suits against your company?
A. I didn't complain, I only told the fact.
Q. Is he the only member of the bar of Somerset County who could take a claim against your company?
A. Yes. I said Mr. Hilbert and the Booses principally. The first suit, there may have been isolated claims that other members of the bar had, I don't recall any now. You may refresh my memory if you have any such in mind and I will tell you.
Q. Do you know whether they had associated with them counsel out of the county?
A. Yes, one known as Ray Patton Smith.
Q. And one known as Rodd, Smith, Shaw and Beale?
A. Well I think Judge Kooser was non hors de combat and he had them argue the case for them in Pittsburgh.
Q. Do you know the case originally came from Pittsburgh?
A. I said that to-day.
Q. And you referred to a Brill Company case. Judge, do you recall that in that case Dixon, Butler and McCouch of Philadelphia were counsel?
A. No, I never knew that. Percy and Allen Rhoads of Johnstown had that note originally and we paid him $3,000 and gave him a note for $3,000 and because of some conditions that arose between him and the company the note came to the Koosers, they advised me, for $6,000. They didn't advise me, I got the information that that note had been sent to Somerset for collection. I assumed, of course, from past experience, it was in the hands of the Koosers. I called upon the office as soon as I heard it and my conclusions were verified that they had the note.
Q. Judge, did you know that the members of the bar of Somerset County were extremely reluctant to bring any suit against the company of which the President was the Judge of the court?
A. They never told me so.
Q. It is a fact that they did not bring suit, isn't it?
A. The Koosers seemed to.
Q. I mean the other members of the bar?
A. The Koosers seemed to have all that practice.
Q. Do you know whether or not it was because other members of the bar were reluctant to bring suit?
A. You must inqire of them, I never consluted.
Q. You spoke of inferences, did that inferance suggest itself to you?
A. Well now people differ on the inferences which they would draw, probably you would but I would not, because all the relations I had with the bar I don't think there was anybody stood in awe of me. They were generally my friends and I am their friend.
Q. In the cases on which defense was given on the note visiting Judges were called in to hear the case?
A. Yes sir.
Q. And you were the principal witness for the company in those cases?
A. No, sir.
Q. You were a witness for the company in those cases?
A. I have been on the witness stand in some of the cases but not in all of them.
Q. Do you recall any case involving the opening of a Judgment in which you were not a witness?
A. I didn't testify in the McMullen case, I don't recall that I testified in the Hoffman case. I did testify in the Miller case and I testified in the Mostollar case.
Q. While you are speaking of the Mostollar case, in that case did you not as a witness called testify there being a question of two notes, "One note was discounted and I was under the impression it was the Farmers National Bank when this answer was filed, but it may have been the Johnstown National Bank, I have no knowledge as to whether it was paid or not but we have never heard from it where it was discounted"; you did so testify?
A. If you have read the record correctly that is my testimony.
Q. You have no doubt that the printed copy of the record on the appeal would be correct?
A. I would think it would be correct. What of it?
Q. Judge, that was an important fact in the determination of the case by the Judge below, as well as by the Superior Court, wasn't it?
A. I don't recall, I have not refreshed my memory from the record.
Q. Judge, have you had any information, or anything happened since which would lead you to modify the testimoney that you then gave?
A. I don't know anything.
Q. Judge, did you thereafter find that particular note? Think a minute.
A. I don't know whether I did or not, I could refresh my memory by making examinations and give you the correct facts.
Q. Didn't you thereafter find that particular note in your possession and find that it never had been discounted by you at any bank?
A. That might be true. I neither affirm nor deny it, because I am not familiar with the facts at this moment, may be on proper investigation I could answer it.
Q. Did you not recently state that to Isaiah Good?
A. Not recently.
Q. After the matter was heard in the Superior Court?
A. When did that come down?
Q. The case was for the April Term of 1924.
A. I don't know from memory, I don't recall anything about any such conversation with Mr. Good. It may have occurred, I won't deny it.
Q. Judge, you will not deny now the fact that you thereafter did find that particular note, do you?

A. I don't remember now, it may be I did, I will have to refresh my memory. It is possible that what you say is true, I want to say frankly that I don't remember and if it is true I am ready to admit it. Now, if you have the note or any evidence of the note to refresh my memory I will be only to glad to tell the true facts.

Q. If you found it I would not have it, would I?

A. I might have surrendered it to Mr. Mostellar, he might have carried it to Mr. Kooser, you might have it.

Q. Judge, let us inquire a little about this loan to the County Treasurer?

A. All rigt, go ahead.

Q. I believe you have said you had been his friend for a number of years?

A. I have been acquainted with him since childhood.

Q. Did you get that in January, I believe it was, before this $5,500 was taken from the County Treasury?

A. It wasn't taken from the County Treasury, you are making a misstatement of fact.

Q. Permit me to withdraw the statement.

A. Thank you.

Q. In the January before this $5,500 transaction happened—there is no criticism of that.

A. Go ahead, you are a pretty nice gentleman.

Q. Thank you, it is very difficult to cross-examine a Judge.

A. Worse is to cross-examine a lawver.

Q. In that preceding January the salary or commission of the County Treasurer had been raised from 1 per cent to three per cent?

A. And I passed upon that question and filed an opinion, I don't know the date.

Q. And the opinion which you filed said that the County Treasurer was entitled to 2 per cent, where before that time he had been receiving 1 per cent, you recall that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it was after that that you met the County Treasurer, I believe you have said in the corridor and asked him to loan money?

A. Do you mean to insinuate that I was cheap enough to do a thing like that?

Q. Judge, I am asking the facts.

The CHAIRMAN: Let us not get into this controversy, just answed.

Q. It was after that opinion?

A. I don't recall the date, I filed the opinion, have you the date?

Q. No.

A. How do you know it?

Q. I am asking you.

A. I don't remember when I filed opinions, I couldn't tell you the date I filed one three months ago.

Q. Then you do not recall whether it was after you filed that opinion, after the $5,500 transaction?

A. I don't know when I filed the opinion, no.

Q. Judge, you knew this County Treasurer, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And had known him for a long time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know that every check in his office before that time had been signed by Mr. Davis?

A. No, sir, it may have been true.

Q. Did you have a discussion with Mr. Davis about it?

A. With Mr. Davis?

Q. Yes.

A. It is possible I had, I wouldn't say I did or did not, I may have had. Now that to two years ago and I had dismissed the matter from my mind. The loan was made and it was secured and just what happened in every detail I would not undertake to say absolutely.

Q. Judge you recall the Rephorn matter, as we call it here, an item of $3500 of license money?

A. No, sir.

Q. You heard the testimony?

A. I heard what was said here.

Q. You heard the testimony?

A. I heard the testimony.

Q. That there was $3500 which had been collected for license in the year 1919?

A. I heard you ask those questions.

Q. You do recall that you had a conversation with Mr. Fox, the auditor?

A. Yes, sir, I had just what he testified to.

Q. And you recall that Mr. Fox came to your office to say that there was $3500 of 1919 license money which did not appear on the books of the county?

A. No, he didn't say that and he didn't say it on the witness stand.

Q. What did he say then, Judge?

A. He said on the witness stand—

Q. What did he say when he came to you?

A. Just what he said on the witness stand I think is correct, that the purpose was to re-audit the account of the Treasurer, and I told him I thought it was too late

Q. Did you know what the subject of the re-audit was to be?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you not inquire of them what the matter was?

A. No, I dismissed it with a sentence or two just as he stated it.

Q. Did you not permit them to tell you what the matter was?

A. I didn't think they stated it to me.

Q. Had you had a conversation with the Ex-County Treasurer Rephorn before that time about this matter?

A. Was that before I handed down my opinion? If it was I know it because it was argued in open court.

Q. Did you know that those moneys had not been accounted for to the county?

A. If it was after the case was argued in open court, I knew it, if it was before I didn't know it..

Q. You produced a record here yesterday of an opinion given in a certain case.

A. I don't know the date of that.

Q. Will you turn to it and let us know when it was?

A. That opinion was filed January 27, 1921.

Q. That was before the Fox conversation, wasn't it?

A. I don't know that.

Q. Do you recall the testimony of Mr. Fox?

A. I guess it was, I believe the Fox conversation was.

Q. About January 22, wasn't it?

A. Probably a year afterwards. I had rather been under the impression it was in the mid summer.

Q. Do you recall the testimony of Mr. Fox, which you have said was substantially correct?

A. As to what occurred in my chambers between him and me I think was substantially correct.

Q. Let me refresh your recollection by recalling his testimony, as I recall it, that when—

A. Hadn't you better have the record read? I wouldn't want to rely on my own recollection.

Q. May I suggest if we are wrong probably, as you say in court, the jury will recall the testimony and reconcile it if we differ?

A. I don't want to say yes or no to your recollection.

Q. Unfortunately the testimony of Fox is not yet transcribed.

A. Unfortunately I can't answer your question.

Q. Let me ask the question first and see whether we can get along. The testimony of Fox, as I recall it, was that these licenses were not audited in 1920 for the year 1919, they audit right after the first of the year, and the matter was in litigation and the next year, which would be the year 1921, the matter was still in litigation and when they came to audit the 1921 return in the winter of 1922, the litigation was over, and then they asked for information as to where these moneys were; do you recall any such testimony?

A. I don't recall that Mr. Fox fixed the date, my impressions are that Mr. Fox and the other auditor came to me in July of 1921.

Q. Was that after the case of whether or not the licenses were entitled to the return of the money had been argued?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it after your decision?

A. Yes, sir.

And according to your decision the licensees were not entitled to the money?

A. No, it belonged to the county and state.

Q. And did you understand that they were inquiring how they could get these moneys back into the county?

A. No, they told me they wanted to reaudit the Treasurer's account.

Q. Who made that statement?

A. Mr. Fox.

Q. Was there any further statement made?

A. My reply I think covered the whole thing.
Q. Did you not inquire Judge what they wanted to reaudit and what was wrong?
A. No, with my answer they went away.
Q. When a county auditor came and said "we want to reaudit 1919" you didn't ask "What is the matter, is there anything wrong?"
A. No, I think it was 1920 they wanted to reaudit, wasn't it?
Q. No matter what it was, you didn't inquire what the thing was that they wanted to bring upon the books of the county?
A. No, it wasn't any part of my—
Q. And you didn't understand what it was about, is that it?
A. I don't recall now that I did. I dismissed it and never charged my memory with it and largely my memory was refreshed by what Mr. Fox said. I think Mr. Fox's testimony was substantially correct as to what occurred.
Q. Judge, you made the statement this afternoon that you had refused all licenses; by that you didn't intend to convey the impression that you were what we call a "Dry Judge" in Pennsylvania, who is opposed to the liquor licenses?
A. You may draw your own conclusion from that statement.
Q. When you went on the bench what Act was in force?
A. Brook's law, I think.
Q. And at that time the Volstead Act had been passed, making it unlawful to sell malt beverages containing more than one-half of one per cent alcohol, that is correct?
A. I think that is a matter of common knowledge.
Q. Then we can agree, we both knew it and at the same time there remained upon the statute books of Pennsylvania the Brook's High License Law, which provided that any one who would sell malt or brewed liquors was required to have a license, that was the state of the conflict of the law, was it?
A. That is my recollection of it.
Q. Judge, you say you refused all licenses under the Brook's law, did you write an opinion giving your reason?
A. There were two license courts held by me, I think and in each instance I refused all licenses.
Q. Did you give a reason for it?
A. I think I filed opinions each time, I am not absolutely sure.
Q. Judge, what reason did you give for refusing?
A. Well now my opinions are a matter of record, if you call down to the State Library to-morrow morning I think you will find them all filed.
Q. Don't you recall what they said?
A. Well I don't recall my reasons, I know I refused the licenses, I think the last time I held the act unconstitutional. There had eben no appellate court decision at that time.
Q. Which act did you hold unconstitutional?
A. I can't go into detail.
Q. You don't know which act you held unconstitutional?
A. I don't remember now.
Q. Judge, wasn't your reason for refusing the licenses that they did not need a license to sell malt liquors that had less than one-half of one per cent?
A. If you will present a copy of the opinion I will refresh my recollection.
Q. Can't you recall without seeing a copy of the opinion?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Some courts decide that and some courts the opposite.

Mr. BLUMBERG: Is it material, Mr. Geyer?

Mr. GEYER: The state took the position that the Woner bill had been passed and the Brook's high license law no longer applied, while in the other counties Judges took the position in that the Act of Assembly did not provide anything as to alcoholic content it was a question whether it was malt, brewed, vinous or spirituous liquors, irrespective of alcoholic content. Almost every county in the state differed in it.

The CHAIRMAN: Gentlemen, we sort of had a tentative understanding we would endeavor at least to close this to-night. We are not studying a question of conflict of laws, we all understand different Judges disagree. I make that statement because I think this question could have been answered quite awhile ago and saved all this time. I do not think for a minute that the Judge does not know which law he decided was unconstitutional.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: We are perfectly willing to refer to the case. If we had had notice that any such question as this was to be raised we could have had the records of the court here.

The CHAIRMAN: We understand that but we still think that the Judge knows which way he decided and if he will say so—

WITNESS: I refused the licenses.

The CHAIRMAN: That was not the question, he asked you another question.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: The Court does not have to assign a reason.

WITNESS: I did assign reasons.

Mr. BLUMBERG: Mr. Chairman, I asked Mr. Geyer whether he thought the question he asked was material. It wasn't the original question, the question was what his reason was, what the judge's reason was for refusing licenses, and the Judge answered he did not remember exactly what his reasons were, he believed in the latter cases he decided that act was unconstitutional and when pressed further he said he did not remember what act he declared unconstitutional. I asked Mr. Geyer whether that is material, and I would like Mr. Geyer to give me his reason for that line of examination, but I will withdraw the question.

Mr. GEYER: My thought is this: The Judge testified that he refused all licenses. It is well known that certain Judges of Pennsylvania refused all licenses because of their temperance views and I want to know whether the Judge comes in the class of these Judges or whether he believed they did not need a license.

Mr. BLUMBERG: Whether the Judge is wet or dry.

Mr. GEYER: He introduced it himself here by saying that he refused all licenses in justification of his attitude in the violations of the liquor law.

Mr. BLUMBERG: You do not think that the Committee is going to take that to mean that he is a wet or dry Judge, because certainly it makes no difference whether he is or not.

Mr. GEYER: I thought it was intended to create the impression that he was a dry Judge.

WITNESS: If you drew that inference of course that is not my fault.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. You did not intend that inference to be drawn?
A. I didn't know what inference you would draw from it, I find you did draw one.

The CHAIRMAN: I do not think we are going to get any place with this.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Will you give us another case where you rendered a decision?
A. Oh I had a lot of cases before me and I believe that I wrote one of the opinions in the case of Henry Winters at the Hotel Venear, Somerset. Now the next year I don't recall.
Q. Judge, referring to the Pacifico case, I show you the opinion filed, marked 60, to No. 40 February Sessions, 1923, in which you set aside the verdict of the jury; will you look at that opinion. Do you recall your charge to the jury in that case?
A. No, I wouldn't recall it.
Q. Do you have it?
A. I have.

The CHAIRMAN: Was there just one of these cases?

Mr. GEYER: No, there was one in which the verdict was set aside.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. I show you the Exhibit No. 61, being the transcript of your charge in that case?
A. Well there is nothing here on the paper to show that it is the charge other than it is a copy of a charge, I assume that it is the charge nevertheless, there is nothing here.
Q. Isn't it certified?
A. Oh yes, that seems to be the charge.
Q. And it seems to be certified by the clerk?
A. Yes. When was the charge filed in the quarter sessions, or was it never filed?
Q. Judge, if you can turn to your own record, there is no stamp?
A. Oh, I presume it is all right but there is nothing here to legally show it.

Q. Do you have a copy of the charge?
A. No, I didn't know it was transcribed.
Q. Evidently it was, because it is certified, isn't that so?
A. Well I wouldn't say, the Clerk has been green at the business and it may be that it is correct and may be it is not.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: All cases that are tried before you are reported?
A. Yes, but they are not transcribed without an order from me.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Judge I exhibited to your counsel earlier in this case a photostatic copy of the Newman letter in the Turroni matter, have you any objection to using the photostatic copy? We don't seem to be able to lay our hands on the original?
A. I guess it is all right.
Q. Your counsel supplied the photostatic copy, do you recall the testimony of District Attorney Truxal, and your coming down to inquire at his office concerning a certain case?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Did you tell us that his testimony was substantially correct?
A. I think not.
Q. Was his testimony substantially correct?
A. It was in part.
Q. And in what part was it not correct?
A. I inquired of him of the Marcella case, that is on the letter I wrote.
Q. Do you recall that Mr. Truxal testified and afterwards wrote a letter that he never had a Marcella case?
A. Yes.
Q. And do you still say that you inquired of him of the Marcella case?
A. I certainly did.
Q. And that when you inquired of him of the Marcella case, I think you told us that he said there was one there and he wasn't going to docket it?
A. That is my recollection.
Q. Did he tell you why he wasn't going to docket it?
A. I gave you the reasons to-day.
Q. What were they?
A. That it was irregular and the whole proceeding void.
Q. Did he tell you in what respect it was irregular?
A. I think he did.
Q. What was it?
A. Just for the reason set forth in this letter.
Q. What was it, Judge, using it to refresh your recollection?
A. This letter says. "In the case of Commonwealth vs M. Marcella was broght to my attention to-day and I find the proceeding was illegal and will not be prosecuted further, as the search and seizure was illegal and he is released from the bond. The bond is no longer in force and he is released."
Q. Judge, did you examine any proceedings in any Marcella case?
A. Not that I recall, I may have.
Q. Did you see any search warrant in any Marcella case?
A. I only know what I said in this letter and I obtained that information by word of mouth from the District Attorney, as I recollect it.
Q. What was the matter with the search and seizure?
A. The District Attorney told me just practically what I have written in this letter.
Q. Did you inquire of him what is the matter with it?
A. I usually respect what the District Attorney tells me as to papers in his possession and as to nol. pros. cases. I have always respected the legal ability and the word of the District Attorney since I am on the bench.
Q. Judge did you know anything about this matter before you went to the District Attorney's office?
A. Mrs. Turroni told me that she was on the bond, that she had to put up a thousand dollars as a bond for her relative Marcella.
Q. Judge, my question is, did you know it was illegal before you went to the District Attorney's office?
A. I didn't know anything, that it existed, I didn't know anything about it.
Q. Before you went to the District Attorney's office?
A. I knew it only after the bond transaction had taken place and he then spoke of this matter.
Q. Will you answer the question?
A. I did.
Q. Did you know that the proceeding was illegal before you went to the District Attorney's office?
A. I didn't know anything about it until I went to the District Attorney's office.
Q. Judge, answer this question: Where did you get this letter?
A. On my office table.
Q. After you came back from the District Attorney's office?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And where did the District Attorney sign it?
A. I said to-day and I repeat that, I am not clear on that, either I went with her to the District Attorney's office and he there signed it in the presence of me, or she went with it alone, I am not able to say which occurred. That is what I said to-day.
Q. Do you recall that you went to the District Attorney's office twice?
A. My answer already ought to indicate my knowledge on that.
Q. Judge, will you turn to the last three lines of this letter, and I will read them: "And he is released from his bond, the bond is no longer in force and he is released," what was your purpose in writing this letter?
A. The purpose was, for the District Attorney gave me this information, that this letter signed by myself and the District Attorney would enable her to get her money.
Q. The sum of $1,000? If it was no longer needed for the protection of the Commonwealth the manifest purpose of this letter then was to release that $1,000?
A. That is what it says, dosen't it?
Mr. BLUMBERG: Judge, will you answer the question directly.
The CHAIRMAN: Those evasive answers are not pleasing to the Committee and it takes longer to answer in that way than to say yes, and it wastes time.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: If we were trying this in court the Court would say the letter speaks for itself and the Court would interpret the meaning of the letter instead of having it done on cross examination by counsel on either side.
WITNESS: That is why I answered as I did.
By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Within two days you got that $1,000?
A. I don't recall the date I got the $1,000, it might agree.
Q. I will show you the check again. The check was dated January 12, wasn't it?
A. Yes, I got it a few days afterwards, I presume that was paid January 15.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That has been proved about 77 times.
The CHAIRMAN: Do you mean you are going to stop now?
Mr. GEYER: I think so, or may I suggest that if on examination of my notes there is a matter which occurs to me after the other examination I may be permitted to inquire.
The CHAIRMAN: You have nothing further just now?
Mr. GEYER: I have nothing further at this minute.

By Mr. LUDLOW:
Q. Judge, where does your Railway Company have its offices?
A. In my building in Somerset.
Q. Does it keep its records there?
A. Well a part of them are kept with Mr. Miller and a part are in the hands of Mr. Houck.
Q. Where do you keep the bonds that have not yet been sold?
A. Now I think they are all in my safe.
Q. How long have they been there approximately?
A. Mr. Miller brought a number of them there, I had the other portion probably six months ago.
Q. Do you mean the safe in chambers?
A. Yes.
Q. Is there a safe in the company's office in the Berkey Building?
A. No, there is no way to keep them there.
Q. Where were the unsold bonds kept during 1921, 1922 and 1923?
A. Mr. Miller had part of them in his safe and I had part of them.
Q. Approximately, how many did you have in your safe?
A. I may have had half of them.

Q. Are all signed and sealed and ready to deliver to the purchaser?

A. Yes, they were consigned by the trustee to Mr. Miller.

Q. Did you ever purchase any of your stock or bonds from holders for less than their face value?

A. I don't recall of any but Mr. Levy told me that he had bought some bonds that he would let me have at the price he paid for them.

Q. Did that happen in many cases or just a few cases?

A. That is the only isolated case that I know.

Q. Do you know whether that was the case of a large or small bond in amount?

A. I think it was said here in the testimony $700.

Q. You think you bought that back at something under par?

A. He said he would let me have them at what he paid for them, I don't know what he paid for them.

Q. You have testified to-day that you used a part of the proceeds of bonds sold by you for the company to reimburse yourself for advances made?

A. Oh yes, the company still owes me probably fifteen, twenty thousand dollars outside of the bonds I bought.

Q. How much, approximately, did you use in reimbursing yourself?

A. I would think that I was putting out more money than I got in.

Q. That does not answer my question. It is probably true, but I want to know how much money in that way you used in reimbursing yourself for advances which was made to the corporation?

A. Well it might amount to $5,000 I said to-day.

Q. And was any of that money that you personally advanced for the account of the corporation for the purpose of making up a deficit in operation? Your engineer testified to-day that there was a deficit in operation in the last few years.

A. I usually advanced that money personally and when money came in I reimbursed myself from that.

Q. In other words, you advanced the money as the company had to have it?

A. Yes.

Q. For the different current needs of the money, whatever they were?

A. For instance, take the bill due for electric current running from $650 to $800 a month, if the company couldn't earn it I advanced it and that would occur mostly during the lean summer months, it would be more effective in the summer months than in other months.

Q. In other words, Judge, at times of money shortage for the corporation you went down into your own pocket and paid bills and then as you sold bonds you reimbursed your personal account?

A. Yes, it was the only way to keep the road from being shut down and in order to protect my investment and that of all other bondholders, I was the only source from which it seemed money could be raised and I put it up.

Q. Now doesn't the mortgage under which these bonds were authorized to be issued and sold provide that the proceeds of the bonds should be used for construction of the railroad and not for operation?

A. I don't know.

Q. They would of course speak for themselves, but you don't know?

A. I would have to go over them and see, but in order to conserve the property, to keep it from shutting down and being forced into the hands of a receiver and the property interest of the stockholders and bondholders conserved I was bound to use that method and I believed it was for the best interest of everybody who had a dollar in it and I did it with what I thought was the best of good faith to bring this company across the danger point.

Q. Even though the bonds which you sold for the first time to new customers might have provided that the proceeds were to be used for construction and not for operation?

A. Yes, it was the only way it conserve the property.

Q. Judge, did these bonds at any time ever pay the coupon interest?

A. Not from the earnings.

Q. Did the corporation out of anything other than earnings ever pay any serial number of coupons?

A. Yes.

Q. How many of these coupons, to the best of your recollection, were paid to bondholders?

A. I think Mr. Miller has the report of the Trustee, that will give it to you exactly, and I will ask him to turn that over to the Committee.

Q. He is here now?

A. He is here now and I think he has it with him.

Q. Do you know that some coupons were paid but not out of profits?

A. Oh yes.

Q. Therefore to the extent to which they were not paid out of profits it was again necessary to deplete the principal account to pay the coupons?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now go ahead and explain it.

A. The board of directors had said there was a certain amount that accrued out of the proceeds of the sale of bonds as an estimate that would be needed for that purpose until the road would earn the fixed charges and with the slump that goes on, the strike and the efforts to sink this road financially we were not able to carry out our intentions.

Q. It has been testified in this proceeding that you paid the interest and took up certain coupons of some of the bondholders who were complaining and were disgruntled, is that a fact?

A. That is a fact.

Q. Did you in turn include that in your account of money due you by the corporation when you came to reimburse yourself?

A. Some of these coupons there was company funds that I paid, for instance you take the one check that I paid to Guy Walker. We had accounts in several banks of the railroad company and the first check I happened to draw on the account that I mistook the railroad company's balance and he explained how I issued the second check. Now those were paid out of deposits that belonged to the company. Others I paid out of my own pocket.

Q. Had it occurred to you as President of the Company that your failure to file reports with the Auditor General meant that your company in the last two or three years had saved between ten and twenty thousand dollars in taxes?

A. No, we expected that would have to be paid but we hadn't available funds to reach out if they had been rendered.

Q. Therefore the reports had not been filed?

A. Yes, and they were not rendered for several years. Of course the Secretary would receive all those communications.

Q. You understand, of course, did you not, in addition to taxes on bonus, on new stock, and taxes on capital stock that there would be an 5 mill tax on the gross receipts of your carrier companies?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now have you ever paid any of that according to the return testified to to-day?

A. I guess not, but we have the exact amount of our revenues and that can be collected when we have the money.

Q. Then if your company earned, as your engineer testified, $21,000 in 1923 and $26,000 in 1924, to say nothing of gross receipts for prior years, there is an accounting due the Commonwealth?

A. Oh yes, there is no question about that and we shall be very glad to meet it when we have the cash.

Q. Isn't it a fact, Judge, that you are the majority stockholder of this company?

A. The majority stockholder?

Q. Yes.

A. No, I probably am the largest stockholder, larger than anybody else but not the majority.

Q. Has your company held a corporate election in the last two or three years?

A. No. Under the by-laws as I recall them, they are recorded here, the officers elected held over until their successors are elected.

Q. And how long has it been since there has been an annual meeting of the stockholders, do you know approximately?

A. I couldn't fix the date, but we did have a meeting of the stockholders in order to report to them, a special meeting, as to the condition of the company.

Q. How long ago was that?

A. That was in 1923, I think it was in August. It was in 1920 or the summer of 1923.

Q. Judge, let us consider for just a few minutes, because that is one of the reasons for which this Committee is appointed, the propriety of your action in continuing as President of this public service corporation after you assumed the office of Judge of Somerset County: Had it occurred to you as a Judge that there was a distinct violation of duty, personal and public?

A. Well it didn't for this reason: My predecessors in office have held like positions, Judge Ruppel was President of a couple, or at least one, probably two mutual insurance companies and I am President of a mutual insurance company.

Q. Now?

A. Yes, and it had never occurred to me that there was anything irregular about it.

Q. Is that a position which pays you a salary?

A. No, no.

Q. If this Railway Company were financially solvent has it occurred to you that it would be proper for you to draw a salary from it?

A. It has occurred to me that it would not.

Q. Not?

A. No, I think not.

Q;, Has it seemed entirely proper for you, as a judge, understand now, I am asking your viewpoint?

A. Yes.

Q. To keep these corporation bonds in your safe in chambers and sell them there?

A. Well this was the situation, I thought that unless I kept my hand on the matter that the whole thing would be lost, and I would have been only too glad to have turned it over to somebody also.

Q. And do I understand that if anything had happened to you when you went on the bench, as for illustration your death, that this company would have gone to the wall?

A. Well it looked like it to me if I took my hand off of it.

Q. Would you say the same was true as at the close of 1924, three months ago?

A. Yes.

Q. The same is true now?

A. Yes, we were pressed more and more on dissatisfaction and trouble to collect money as time went along.

Q. Did it seem to you to be in violation of your duty as Judge to the entire consistuency in the County of Somerset that you should use your official paper and your personal signature in connection with the sale of bonds of the corporation while you were Judge, a corporation of which you were President and stockholder?

A. It didn't occur to me. I have written letters as to other corporation matters, it didn't occur to me. It probably would have been better to use the other letter heads.

Q. Has it occurred to you that the office of Judge in your County might fall into gross suspicion and certainly be open to attack—I am referring now to the office and not to you?

A. Yes.

Q. If the incumbent were to have before him litigants who were stockholders and bondholders in the company of which he was the President?

A. I don't think that the presidency changed the situation or business in hand because it was a nominal position.

Q. You have just testified that if you had died or stepped aside even as recently as a few months ago the company would probably have gone to pieces?

A. That was because withdrawing my personal efforts, nothing official.

Q. Would you say then that your position, whatever you call it, is nominal? Aren't you the most important man in that company? You can be as modest as you want to, isn't that a fact?

A. The position of President is self created, nothing which made me more prominent.

Q. Isn't it a fact, forget the office at present, that you John A. Berkey are essential to the continuance of this company?

A. Well I believe that it is.

Q. Isn't it a fact that you John A. Berkey are the President Judge, or the sole Judge of the Judicial District of Somerset County?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. With that in mind is it not projudicial to the best public interests, in your opinion, that a man holding that position should sit in cases involving litigants who are his bondholders and his stockholders of that company?

A. Well now I have other matters that are private or personal matters, I own stock in companies that I could not divest myself of without great losses and when those matters come up and I know them I always invite in another Judge.

Q. Do you not think it is unfortunate from the standpoint of the public welfare in your county and the confidence in the Court—forget yourself now as the man?

A. Yes.

Q. I am speaking solely about the Court, that the Court should, in chambers, sell bonds of a company in which the Court is interested, to men who are either under arrest and acquitted, sentenced or have just been sentenced, does that not place the Court in a very embarrassing position both personally and in public?

A. I didn't know it at the time I made sales that there had been such arrests made of parties in court.

Q. In one case wherein you directed the acquittal of a man on February 13, 1924 and he purchased from you on the following day, did it occur to you that that might be a misuse of your office as Judge?

A. Well the evidence on that trial gives this man a clean sheet.

Q. Regardless of that, didn't you think that the Court should not be subjected to that kind of an embarrassing or possibly double position?

A. Well it would no doubt be better that I was in the situation here where I was trying to take care of five or six hundred people that if I would abandon the institution that my money would be lost and all their money might be lost and it was a trouble to take care of them and maintain my reputation for integrity.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Judge, do you know the signature of Earnest Kooser?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you look at Respondent's Exhibit No. 5A and tell me whether or not that is his signature?

A. It is his signature.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. Had it occurred to you along the line of the proprieties of the situation which we were just discussing that it might have been better for you in protecting your five or six hundred stock and bondholders in Somerset County to stick to the ship of the company and to give up the position on the bench so as not in my way to lay the judiciary open to an attack, had you thought of that?

A. There is no such condition prevailing that brought that to my mind.

Q. In other words you haven't thought of it?

A. Until this attack was made on me and I wasn't going to run under fire.

Q. I see, but prior to that time when these positions were circulated and this proceeding started, that thought had not occurred to you?

A. No, the only criticism that I had heard of the public up to that time was as to the character of sentences I was handing down in liquor cases.

Q. There is a difference of opinion on that subject every place.

A. That is the only criticism I heard until this rapid fire matter occurred within the last six weeks.

Q. I am discussing solely the question of your duel relationship as Judge and as one who is so important to the continued well being of a big corporation?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. WITKIN:

Q. Judge Berkey, have you heard of any criticism directly against you by reason of the fact that you were holding the office of President of the insurance company?

A. No, never a word.

Q. That insurance company, I presume, is solvent and in good financial condition?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Just two general questions?

A. Yes.

Q. Have you ever considered the fact that a party litigant was or was not a bondholder in any case whatsoever that appeared before you to influence you in any manner whatsoever as to the decision that you should render in that case under the law?

A. Certainly not.

Q. Judge Berkey have you ever knowingly or wilfully made any misrepresentations to any prospective buyer of stock of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company in which sale you participated?

A. I did not. I sold to Ditko and his two sons, probably in November $1,500 and I told them specifically, giving them as an illustration that those bonds were not paying interest. They said "we live by the road and we are anxious that this road gets through to its destination, we are willing to put $1,500 in it, understanding that it is not paying the interest charges now."

Q. Judge Berkey, have you ever appropriated for your own use, excluding reimbursements for funds that you have outlaid any money or moneys whatsoever that you received from the sale of bonds of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?

A. I have not, because the company has always been in my debt beyond the amount of bonds I purchased and I put up the money frequently to my great inconvenience in order to save the investments of the bondholders, including the people that had been rendered dissatisfied.

Q. Judge Berkey, in any of your transactions with prospective purchasers of bonds, whether party litigants or not, have you ever suggested or have you ever done your business with respect to the sale of bonds in a secret manner so as to prevent the full and true facts from coming before the public?

A. Certainly not. I have handled checks openly and aboveboard, I have handled notes, I have given receipts and all of these things that business men usually do in the ordinary course of business.

Q. Did you, Judge Berkey, think that in all these transactions and in the signing of all these checks or notes which you did sign, that you were doing the right and proper thing?

A. I certainly did and I held nothing from the view of business men in any way connected or liable to become connected with the matter.

Q. Judge Berkey, at the time that you were elected by the people of your district to become their Judge I understand that you were President of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company?

A. I was, and I was also President of the insurance company.

Q. What was the total amount of the vote polled in your district, do you know?

A. My recollection is that the total amount of votes then polled, only males then voting, was 11440.

Q. And I understand that you received 51 per cent of the total electoral vote at that time?

A. I received over 155 or 255 more votes than 51 per cent.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. How many candidates?

A. There were four candidates.

Q. Who were they?

A. Mr. Boose, Mr. Norman T. Boose, Charles F. Uhl, Esq., and Earnest O. Kooser and myself.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. Judge, when you sold bonds in chambers to those foreigners Turroni, Kaoli and our alert friend Walter, did you tell them that these bonds were not paying interest?

A. I did. I didn't sell any to Paul Kaoli that I remember.

Q. Did you to Pacifice?

A. Sold to Pacifice on the 29th of March, 1921, Mr. Miller was with me and possibly Mr. Houak that day and we sold to 12 or 15 people at Jerome and Pacifice was one of them.

Q. Did it occur to you in the sales in chambers when these men came in that their purchases had anything to do with the fact that they had just been before you or might be before your court then?

A. No, because I felt that any business transaction as I had with anybody would not affect me. Now for illustration: I handle all my checking accounts at the Farmers National Bank, I have for years, and yet there was a criminal case brought by them came before me and was tried, in which the jury acquitted the defendant but put the costs on him. Now I couldn't foresee even in my banking institution, where I necessarily had to have some financial institution to do business with, that some day a case might arise. There is now a case on the calendar that arises out of that institution, in which Mr. Kooser is engaged as counsel, and I put that case when I had a Judge presiding specially at the last term of court, on that list, and in view of being told Mr. Kooser had antipathy for trying cases before me I put all the Kooser cases on the visiting Judge's list in order to give him peace of mind.

Q. The sales made by Mr. Cohen for your company realized 75 per cent only, did they not?

A. They realized only 50 per cent net on the stock and bonds.

Q. Combined?

A. Combined.

Q. The sales made by you to Turroni and Pacifiec and friend Walter realized 100 per cent?

A. Yes and all that we have sold since the campaign of the Cohens ended we have sold all of them, the bonds at par without any stock to everybody.

Q. What is the total of bonds sold since the exit of the Messrs. Cohen, altogether?

A. It may run between five and ten thousand dollars.

Q. And they sold $600,000?

A. Yes. We have sold that at par entirely, it has been the policy of the company since then.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:

Q. Before the first Monday of January, when you took office as a Judge, you had as a lawyer sold stock for the Railway Company?

A. Yes.

Q. And you were at that time President of the Railway Company also?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was that fact generally known throughout the county?

A. Oh yes.

Q. Have you sold a good deal of bonds yourself?

A. Yes and in company with Mr. H. F. Miller.

Q. So that you were President of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway was generally known throughout the county?

A. Oh yes, we had sold mainly to small investors and mainly among the foreign population along these mining towns.

Q. And the greater portion of your sales you sold the smaller amounts?

A. Yes, and we probably had three or four hundred of them on the list before I went on the bench.

Q. I also understood you to say, or at least it was brought out in the testimony, that the first default in interest in the ocupons took place in 1919, is that correct?

A. Yes, sir, but that was paid up.

Q. But there was a default in interest?

A. In 1919, yes.

Q. So that there was a default in interest and that was generally known?

A. Yes.

Q. And you were President of this Railway Company and it was generally known?

A. Oh yes, I have been president for 11 years.

Q. And those facts were generally known before election?

A. Oh yes they were known to the public all over the county and was specially so in the northern part of the county, where our largest population is.

Q. Was there a spirited campaign in that election by any of the candidates?

A. Well it was a very pleasant agreeable campaign, there was no mud slinging or anything of that kind.

Q. Was this matter at all brought up in the campaign?

A. Oh no, there was nothing mentioned.

Q. Was Victor Dubara, the estimable gentleman that Mrs. Turroni mentioned, an employe of your company?

Q. Was he in your personal employ?

A. No.

Q. Was he ever a defendant before you in court that you can remember?

A. No.

Q. One other question, Judge: Do you recall the witness Kochonour?

A. Yes, I recall him.

Q. Mr. Kochonour testified that after the purchase by him of some bonds he finally called at your office, in your chambers, with a certain agreement given to him by Mr. Cohen, I believe it was, at any rate by the salesman Cohen or Ketterman, at any rate by the salesman?

A. Yes.

Q. That he displayed this agreement to you, that you sent for Mr. Cohen and then you left, that Mr. Kochonour testified that he went to Mr. Cohen's office and Mr. Cohen left?

A. Yes.
Q. And saw his agreement?
A. Yes.
Q. Judge Berkey, do you recall that agreement mentioned by Mr. Kochenour?
A. No, I don't. I recall that he called at my office and that I sent for Mr. Cohen.
Q. Do you recall Mr. Kochenour showing you a certain agreement?
A. No.
Q. If he had shown you one would you remember it?
A. No I wouldn't recall unless it was something special, I don't deny that he showed it to me, he may have but I do not remember that.
Q. Did Mr. Kochenour ever complain to you that he had an agreement which Mr. Cohen took away with him?
A. He hasn't mentioned it since then I am confident.
Q. Did you ever hear of that agreement before Mr. Kochenour testified yesterday?
A. No I didn't unless it was the day he arrived there, I wouldn't say that he didn't have it but I don't remember it.
Q. Have you, Judge Berkey, ever received any compensation from this company?
A. Not a dollar.
Q. Do you have any account that you can show us showing the total amount of money advanced by you personally to the company?
A. I don't have it with me, I have with me the money I paid for the purchase of bonds, I can produce that in the morning, I have that in my room.
Q. It isn't that that I wanted to see.

By The CHAIRMAN:
Q. Judge, I believe you have testified that there were between $500,000 and $600,000 bonds outstanding at the present time?
A. There are more than that.
Q. Between $500,000 and $600,000 that this man Cohen sold?
A. Yes, sir over $600,000, there is over $700,000 out I think. No, in the neighborhood of $700,000.
Q. What is the par market value of those bonds?
A. Well they have no market value, that was established by sales that I know of. There have been a few sales in decedent's estates and I never was present where any was sold. I assume that the testimony in regard to what took place at these sales given is correct.
Q. Then what is the real value from the standpoint of the assets of the company?
A. Well this railroad was projected to be built to the Lincoln Highway. It is now like an unfinished building.
Q. I am speaking of it from the standpoint at the present time because the value of the bonds was dependent upon its value now?
A. Yes.
Q. What is the present real value of those bonds?
A. Its physical value is equal to I would say 75 per cent of the money invested, its market value would not be that.
Q. You are speaking of the railroad itself?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You say these bonds are about $700,000 of bonds?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Supposing you realize the 75 per cent of the investment in your road, what per centage would that pay on each bond?
A. That would pay probably 75 cents on the dollar.
Q. You do not have $700,000 invested in your road, do you?
A. Well no, you see in making that deduction we paid a lot out on interest and paid out for commissions, that would make that deduction.
Q. To get $700,000 in value you would have to have $1,000,000 invested, practically?
A. I said it would bring 75 per cent of $700,000, because we would have to take off its physical value what we paid for the sale of bonds and overhead charges in bringing it to its physical condition.
Q. Mr. Berkey, when Mrs. Turonni came to your office the first time with her husband and the other gentleman, had you ever seen her before?
A. No.
Q. You were acquainted with her that time?
A. I never saw her before.
Q. Was that the first time she was in, when she bought the bond?
A. Yes, she was brought there by Victor Dubars.
Q. We have got that all on the record, we do not care to have it repeated. The first time she was in your office she bought the bond?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. At that time when she bought the $500 bond did she arrange with you to pay an additional $1,000 bond?
A. No.
Q. Did you see her between that time and the time she sent you this check?
A. No, he sent the check, her husband sent the check.
A. Did you arrange with him in the meantime to buy a bond?
A. No.
Q. You had not seen him until you got this letter?
A. No.
Q. The day he was in the office he did not have a bond?
A. No.
Q. Did he contract for a bond?
A. No, she did all the business.
Q. She just contracted for a $500 bond?
A. Yes.
Q. And there was nothing said by him or any one in his behalf on that day in reference to purchasing this $1,000 bond?
A. No.
Q. Did you see him between that time and the day you received the letter enclosing the check?
A. I did not.
Q. Judge, the letter which has been offered in evidence, Exhibit 3, reads as follows:

"Johnstown, Pa., January 12, 1923.

Dear Sir: Enclosed you will find check for $1,000 being my payment in full of my bond. Accept my thanks and oblige.

Arthur Turroni"

A. Yes.
Q. Now why did he write a letter like that if he did not have some previous agreement with you for the purchase of those bonds?
A. He didn't; it is a peculiarity of the foreigners. I enclosed him a thousand dollar bond on the head of that letter.
Q. You acknowledge it: "I beg to acknowledge receipt of your check for a thousand dollar bond, J. and S. Railway Company. J. A. Berkey"?
A. Yes.
Q. You say that you hadn't any conversation with him before in reference to this bond?
A. No.
Q. And he expresses it "being my payment in full of my bond"?
A. That was what he wrote me, that is just what transpired.
Q. Was it before or after you received this check for $1,000 of Mrs. Turroni that she came back to your office and stated that she was having some trouble?
A. That was afterwards.
Q. And when she returned did she state what that trouble was?
A. Yes, she told me that her husband had been arrested.
Q. What for?
A. She said he had been arrested by the United States Marshal.
Q. Did she say what it was for?
A. Yes, she said he was in trouble on moonshining or liquor trouble.
Q. Did she think it was the same thing he had been arrested for before?
A. I don't recall that she did.
Q. He had been arrested prior to that time?
A. I believe it appears from the record that he was.
Q. His case had been disposed of by you?
A. No.
Q. I think we have it in the record?
A. Probably it was. No, his case was not nol prossed until in June or July.
Q. It was pending then at this time?
A. It was pending then.

Q. Why did she come to you Judge with this matter if she had never seen you but once before?
A. I don't know.
Q. You were Presiding Judge, instead of going to an attorney?
A. She came into the room, I think that Miss Covolla brought her in because she always brings in the foreign people.
Q. Who was she?
A. She was the court interpreter and she is always in the library and in the attorney's room and she attends to their wants if they call for her. She is permitted to go to the various offices in the court house, she is permitted to go with them to the county jail.
Q. This lady you speak of who possibly might have brought her in would scarcely have taken her to your office if she had not made a request?
A. Oh undoubtedly she made the request of her.
Q. Is that the lady who interpreted here last evening?
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Yes, we are going to call her.
Q. There is in the testimony here that this man Cohen made certain representations when he was selling these bonds that they were not required to pay for them but were merely loaning their security; you did not authorize him to make any such statements?
A. I did not, I never heard of it until Peter Hoffman brought his action.
Q. Did not Charles R. Miller also advise you that he has so informed him when he purchased?
A. You mean Charles R. McMillan.
Q. McMillan, yes.
A. I don't think that he ever said that to me. He incorporated it in his petition to open the judgment, that is the only time I recall that he ever reiterated that statement.
Q. Do you remember Peter Hoffman so stating in your office?
A. Oh no he did not.
Q. Did any one ever state to you or complain to you that he had made that representation?
A. Yes, after Peter Hoffman had started it than a number of people came with that story.
Q. After you got that information did you take the matter up with Mr. Cohen?
A. I don't know Mr. Cohen's address at the present, the last I knew it—
Q. I am speaking of the time of these complaints?
A. No, because I didn't know his address.
Q. Had he left at that time?
A. Yes, I saw him in San Francisco in the summer of—it was the year that the American Bar Association met in San Francisco, was that in 1922? He lived there then and I met him.
Q. This man, Andrew Kochenour, when he came to your office and complained about the agreement that he had and you called Mr. Cohen, what did he say to Mr. Cohen when he came into your office?
A. I sent for Mr. Cohen in order that he would adjust the matter.
Q. I just asked you what you said to him, you know you sent for him, what did you say to him when he came?
A. I said "Here is Mr. Kochenour wants to take up the matter with me, you are the bond salesman, you take up the matter and straighten it out with him.
Q. Had Mr. Kochenour gone into details with you to any extent?
A. I don't remember anything of the conversation.
Q. Did Mr. Cohen later report to you as to whether or not he had straightened the matter out?
A. Yes sir, he reported to me that he had went away satisfied.
Q. And he didn't tell you that he had taken his agreement and had not returned it?
A. No; and Mr. Kochenour has visited me and talked with me, calling a number of times to see me just in a social way and he never made any such complaint to me, never heard of it until he was on the witness stand.
Q. You didn't see him for sometime?—He lives 30 miles away?
A. Yes; but I have seen him since 1921 four or five different times; I met him in the court house lobby.
Q. Mr. Cohen, you say, did report to you that he had fixed things up with him and he had gone away satisfied?
A. Yes.
Q. And he did not tell you that he had taken his agreement and gone into another room and had not seen him until he went away?
A. No, I didn't know anything about that until he testified here.
Q. You testified that Mr. Cohen's services rendered to you people during the time he was with you was entirely satisfactory in every respect?
A. Satisfactory to the people with whom he dealt, so far as I know.
Q. Is this the only complaint that you ever heard where he had made representations or done anything that was complained of?
A. I never heard any until after Mr. Hoffman had filed his petition to open the judgment and I don't know that I have heard any one complain of the individual conduct of Mr. Cohen, but this matter that was stated on the stand yesterday.
Q. In reference to the Somerset Trust Company there was testimony here in regard to your not appointing them; you gave as your reason excessive charges on their part in administration of estates?
A. And in addition to that the dissatisfaction of members of the bar as to getting business transacted with the President.
Q. When did that line of complaint come to your ears first, Judge, if you recall?
A. I had some experience when I was practicing, as I testified to-day.
Q. Have they reformed in that respect?
A. They have put up the interest that they allow to wards and I required all accounts to be delivered to me at chambers and I examine them before they are presented for confirmation.
Q. Is that a new policy on your part?
A. That is a new policy that was instituted by myself and I have had but little trouble with them since they first—
Q. When did you inaugurate that new policy?
A. Immediately when I went on the bench.
Q. 1920?
A. 1920, and I remember a couple cases I complained to counsel, one was I made complaint to Mr. Levy, I think it was, the Scip estate. He assured me it would not occur again.
Q. You adopted that policy immediately after you went on the bench?
A. Yes.
Q. There was quite a period you did not give them anything, was there not?
A. I always appointed them when I felt the law required me to appoint a guardian named by the ward over 14.
Q. There were cases we had in the testimony last night where they were under 14, there were three or four cases in the testimony where the request was made and you refused and they were under 14?
A. Yes, I appointed another trust company or trust companies, I don't know which.
Q. Now you had adopted that policy and they must bring their account and have it approved?
A. Yes.
Q. Why, if they had to file an account and it must be approved by you so far as the charges were concerned, what was the advantage of refusing?
A. Well members of the bar, several of them, complained of it, to put it in their language, "You have to pry the money out of the institution to get it."
Q. The attorney who brought a petition in and made a request for the appointment of this trust company he was not complaining, at least not on that day?
A. No.
Q. And still you refused in some cases?
A. Yes, I felt that I had a legal right to determine the appointment of a fiduciary when the child was under 14 years of age.
Q. There is no dispute about that Judge?
A. Yes, and I did it.
Q. What we are trying to find out, possibly you had a good reason for doing it, and that is what we are trying to get at.
A. I tried to explain that and I felt that their charges had been exorbitant and I didn't want to sit up and watch them all the time.

Q. The last year or so you have been making more appointments than you had previously of that Trust Company, have you not?

A. Yes, I felt that they were more inclined to adhere to my policy than they had been.

Q. In this letter in reference to this Turrona bond that has been touched upon before, when you went to the District Attorney's office did you inspect and go over and discuss with the District Attorney the papers and make an inspection?

A. No, I had his statement, I always do that with the District Attorney.

Q. You discussed with him the Marcello case?

A. Yes.

Q. Because Mrs Turroni had said they were on the bond of Marcello?

A. She said she had $1,000 up on the Marcello case, and she said she had been with the District Attorney before she saw me.

Q. The District Attorney has testified here he had no such case and gave the letter in which he stated he thought you had mistaken the name. As a matter of fact, Judge, the bond that was released, the $1,000 that was released, was actually put up not on the Marcello case but in this other case, Turrona, was it not?

A. Well yes, it so appears now, but I wrote my letter on the transaction that was before me and that was the Marcello case.

Q. As a matter of fact the letter that you wrote then did not release the bond in the Marcello case but it released the money that had been put up as security for the bondsman in the Turrona case?

A. It seems that the cashier released it in the Turrona case. However, I had not written any letter regarding the Turrona case.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: If the Chairman will remember, the banker did not release it until he wrote the District Attorney and that never was called to the attention of the Judge, it was never submitted to Judge Berkey.

Mr. BLUMBERG: My understanding was he released the Turrona money, then advised them the letter said for the Marcello and he discovered his error later.

A. It was not called to my attention by the District Attorney.

Mr. BLUMBERG: He did not say it was called to your attention, just a private matter between the cashier and the District Attorney.

Mr. GEYER: It was really Marcello's money.

The CHAIRMAN: It is also in testimony here that on May 7, 1924, you sold a $500 bond to the Windber Moose Club, when was that bond sold?

A. I didn't sell that bond direct, that bond, as I remember it was sold by somebody else because I don't recall of being at the Moose Club, only of seeing this man Morelli. I may have seen him but I don't recall that now. Morelli, I believe, was his name.

By The CHAIRMAN:

Q. Mr. Morelli testified he purchased it and it was on the second floor of the Moose Club; that is not correct then?

A. I wouldn't say that it is or that it is not, I don't have any recollection of that.

Q. Then you would not say that you did not sell it?

A. No, I wouldn't, I don't have any recollection about that transaction.

Q. If you did sell it to him, Judge, did you explain to him that the company was in default for quite a period on the interest?

A. I don't recall the transaction and I wouldn't want to say that I did or did not, because I don't recall the transaction.

Q. Would you sell it to him without explaining that?

A. I have no recollection of it and the probabilities are, I usually told those people that these bonds were in default and I have no memory of that transaction and I don't know more.

Q. You were asked in regard to the population along this street railway and you spoke of the population of different sections which were in close proximity, or sections through which it passed; what is the total population of those living along in proximity to your entire line?

A. Well we figured that—

Q. Not including the City of Johnstown.

A. We figured as directly tributary to the road two miles on either side of it, unless the road is connected with another trolley line, in that instance the territory that the other trolley line leads to is tributary, would be Johnstown, Windber, Penn Borough, Windber and Penn Borough have a population, the two of them, of about 15,000.

Q. You do not go through either town?

A. No, but the road we connect with terminates with it.

Q. Suppose you would go out a mile on each side of that railroad?

A. It would cover the territory of—

Q. I don't care for names, I am asking for numbers?

A. I testified in chief that the population of Conemaugh—

Q. I do not care for that, that is what you did this morning, you spoke of Conemaugh, three or four places.

Mr. BLUMBERG: Judge you can give us the estimated population? Mr. Moffat asked you and I also wodld like to have it.

A. I think about 12,000.

The CHAIRMAN: That would cover everything?

A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. MOFFAT:

Q. Prior to the Cohen campaign all of the bonds had been sold by the members of the company?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In what amount?

A. $170,000 to $200,000.

Q. What time was the Cohen campaign put on?

A. The first of June, 1921.

Q. About $630,000 worth sold then?

A. Approximately $600,000.

Q. Since that time there has been some five to ten thousand dollars worth sold?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. $170,000 and the five to ten thousand went into the company, no commissions paid on it?

A. No.

Q. What commission was paid on the Cohen sales, not to the company I mean.

A. Not to the company?

Q. Not to the company?

A. We sold a certificate of stock and a $100 bond which on its face amounted to $150 for $100.

Q. And the net difference would be about 50 per cent?

A. Would be $75, 50 per cent.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. I assume you are familiar with the literature which was used in the Cohen campaign? I show you Exhibit No. 43; do you recognize it?

A. I guess that is all right, I don't recall it.

Q. It contains a fac simile of your signature?

A. Yes, I presume it is a fac simile and this cut was in the Somerset Standard office and I authorized the Standard office to permit them to use that cut and this fac smile for one paper.

Q. Judge, I did not intend to cross examine you as to its contents.

A. Whether this is the paper I authorized I am not certain, it probably is, but I wouldn't say definitely.

Q. Judge in the same way I show you an endorsement being Exhibit No. 44, which has a fac smile of yours to it?

A. I only authorized the one paper and I think that is the one.

Q. Do you say that you did not know that the exhibit 44 was being used or distributed in that campaign over your fac smile signature?

A. I don't recall that I saw it until yesterday.

Q. I show you a form letter addressed to John L. Gower, marked Exhibit No. 53, it contains a fac simile of your signature; did you authorize such a letter?

A. I don't recall that.

Q. Did you know of any such letter being used?

A. I won't say that I did or that I did not but I don't recall it now.

Q. I show you exhibit No. 56, being another form letter with a fac simile of your signature, have you see that?

A. I would not say that I did or did not. My recollection is I authorized the use of the facsimile on one document and what the document is I don't recall now.

Q. Judge were you in and out of the office while this campaign was going on?

A. In my office?

A. No, the Railway Company office?

A. You mean the Cohen office?
Q. Yes.
A. No, I don't think that I was in that office, I don't recall being in it at all. I may have been in it, I don't recall it. It was in a side room in the Vencar Hotel, it seems to me that if I had been in it I would recall it.
Q. Judge, I show you a letter dated July 24, 1921 to Mr. Gower?
A. That is my signature.
Q. And that letter says: "Yours of July 28th received", doesn't it?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. I show you the copy which Mr. Gower testified of a letter written to you on the 18th, do you have the original of that copy?
A. No, I may have it on the file if I got it.
Q. Do you dispute that that is a letter to which you replied?
A. No, I don't know, I would not be in shape to dispute it nor affirm it, I don't know.
Q. Then Judge, let me call your attention to this letter, I think we handed it to you when it was presented?
A. Yes, I don't recall anything about it.
Q. Judge, particularly I want to call your attention to the letter of Mr. Gower when he says "there was a Mr. Lawler called here yesterday, agent for the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company. soliciting credit for the above Company by me giving notes to the amount of $5,000 and in return would receive a bond for that amount and $2,500 common stock of the company, guaranteeing me that at the end of four months I could take the bond to you and get my notes, saying that you would take the notes to the bank and have them certified and that you would hold the notes yourself and by returning the bond to you I could get the notes without me paying one dollar."
"Now Mr. Berkey is that statement correct? Because if I would have to pay the note it would be impossible as I have no way to get that amount of money". Does that refresh your recollection as to when you heard of representations being made in the campaign that these people would not be required to pay the notes?
A. I don't recall of any, I even did not recall Mr. Gower yesterday when he got on the witness stand, didn't know him among the witnesses here.
Q. Judge, there was a letter offered in evidence here which introduced an agent and said the agent will explain to you the plan?
A. My signature was on it, I signed it.
Q. And you do not dispute having written it?
A. Having signed it?
Q. Yes.
A. No, my recollection is that there was a letter of that kind introduced yesterday, but whether it was to Peter Hoffman, I don't recall, but all the letters that were introduced yesterday that purported to have my signature on that were not fac simile were submitted to counsel and it was my signature.
Q. Judge, you spoke of the criticism of certain gentlemen and you recalled no criticism of your conduct; do you recall there was a meeting of the Allied Church Associations of the County in the Court House about a year ago, protesting your official conduct?
A. I stated to-day that it had been reported to me that the Anti-Saloon League had a meeting in which Rev. Fisher made an address and the purpose of that address I have already stated.
Q. Judge don't you know that it was a fact that it was a meeting called of the churches of the county and the Men's Bible Classes and church organizations?
A. No, sir, it was reported to me as the Anti-Saloon League.
Q. And you see the gentlemen in the room who came to you after that meeting?
A. No, they never came to me after that meeting.
Q. The gentlemen came to you to talk to you about the sentences which were being imposed?
A. A couple years prior.
Q. Before that time?
A. Yes, there were four gentlemen, three of them were from Meyersdale, Rev. Kochenour of the Dunkard Church, is my recollection, and Mr. Martin, Mr. Fisher and Rev. Bastian, is my recollection.
Q. You know Rev. Bastian and Mr. Fisher?
A. Yes.
Q. They have been here in attendance at all times?
A. Yes.
Q. And they are here now?
A. I see Mr. Bastian now.
Q. He did call on you to discuss with you the manner of the enforcement of the law in the county?
A. No, not the manner of the enforcement of the law generally, only as to sentences in liqour cases, that was the only thing he was interested in, he was not interested in robberies, burglaries and rape and things of that kind.

ROSS R. SCOTT, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Mr. Scott, you are a member of the Somerset County Bar?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Practicing how long?
A. About twenty years.
Q. Are you counsel for the Turronis?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Will you tell the committee what you know about those cases?
A. Mr. Turroni and someone else, or two of them. were arrested on December 9, 1922, and about—
Q. Cattoy, the other fellow?
A. Well, I don't know, there were two defendants, and a few days after their arrest they came to see me about their cases. I think the way it occurred, there had been some people arrested sometime previous for violation of the liquor laws and the atttorneys, or at least some of them who were concerned, I was one of them, thought we discovered some defects in the procedure and we filed petitions for the suppression of the evidence. I believe with the return of the property. These cases were argued and were returned before the court and have been disposed of, and I think in some of these cases Mr. Sterling, who appeared here as a witness last week, was the prosecutor. After the cases had been argued Mr. Truxal and myself, Mr. Fox was the district attorney then, and Mr. Sterling went down what we would call the rear steps of the courthouse, the argument was on the second floor, and when I came to the foot of the steps Mr. Sterling and this other man were there and they told me what they wanted and explained the facts to me. They had come there when I was away from home and this was their return visit, but it was already then a couple days afterward. I told Mr. Truxal, gave him the facts as related to me, and asked him whether he intended to press those cases, and he turned to Mr. Sterling, he has two rooms, and we were then inside of what we call the stenographers' room, and he called to Mr. Sterling and asked him whether the statement of facts as made by me was correct. Mr. Sterling then said the only thing to do in these cases would be to ask for a noll pros.
Q. Do you know when that was?
A. This conversation, if he was arrested on the ninth, probably along about the thirteenth or fourteenth, something like that, I don't recall the date, but the information and return had not yet come in from the squire's office and Mr. Truxal said, after Mr. Sterling had told him this, that he would wait until the return would come in before he would ask for a noll pros, that he wanted to see the papers.
Q. So that there was an agreement that these cases should be noll prossed before the return was made by the squire to the quarter sessions?
A. Yes, but Mr. Truxal last week was mistaken as to the time when it was first discussed. I think he said on the ninth and I think he was confused. According to the return now it was only I think on the ninth and one of the letters in this case was written on the tenth, I think the letter signed by him and Judge Berkey.
Q. Do you know who was bail in that case, who put up the money?
A. I think they told me they had put up cash bail with Newman at Boswell.
Q. Do you know who furnished the money?
A. I don't recall that, no. He might have told me but I don't recall.
Q. What do you know about the previous case?
A. Mr. Davis was arrested, I think, in October, 1924, for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. A day or two after his arrest he came to see me about it and wanted to know whether I would act as counsel. I told him I would. At that time he was, and still is, one of the supervisors of Somerset Township and we had been building quite a good deal of road in Somerset Township and Somerset borough is surrounded by Somerset township and naturally we were interested in getting all the good road we could for Somerset township, and we had also approved a million dollar bond issue and we wanted our share of that, if we could get it, and still want it, and so I knew if he were convicted, or entered his plea, that he would lose his license and could not operate his car for a year, which in his case would mean his resignation as supervisor and the loss of his services to the community as such. So I went to see the squire, Mr. Garver, and I believe at that time Mr. Beseker, I have my office in his building—Mr. Beseker is now in Europe. I don't know whether I went to see him or sent for him; anyhow we talked to him. I talked to Garver I think I had an interview alone or in the presence of Mr. Beseker with Mr. Cober, the district attorney, to the same effect. In addition to that, P. S. Davis came over there to see me and went to see the district attorney and stated that his mother—

Mr. GEYER: Were you with him?

A. Yes. That is, when he went to see the district attorney?

Q. Yes.

A. No, not any statement that Mr. Cober made but Mr. Davis also requested, on account of the age of his mother and her physical condition, if he were to be convicted of this crime the blow might mean death to her and asked me to intercede and I did. I might say in addition to that I think Mr. Davis would have had no trouble in getting practically every member of our country club, which has a membership of probably three hundred, to have joined in the same request that this matter be delayed at least until this present season of 1925 was past.

Q. Did Judge Berkey have anything to do with that?

A. Nothing whatever. We did have an interview in the presence of Mr. Berkey, however, later.

Q. With whom?

A. Mr. Beseker, Mr. Cober, the district attorney and myself, and I believe Mr. Knepper was present, I am not sure.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Did you ask the squire not to return the case?

A. I did.

Q. Why didn't you acquit them?

A. Because we felt he was guilty, he was always ready to enter his plea and we wished to retain his license so that our community could get the benefit of his services.

Q. Did it occur to you, you might have asked the court to suspend sentence?

A. He did not suspend sentences in cases of that kind, at least that has not been his practice.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Mr. Scott, there has been some testimony here of some case relative to the return of liquor license money; were you of counsel in those cases?

A. Some of them.

Q. How did they come before the court?

A. By agreement of counsel, I think there were four or five who were concerned there. In neither of these cases was I concerned but there were two selected as test cases, and that is how they came before the court.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. Mr. Scott, do you happen to know why they did not noll pros the Turroni case until the following July.

A. No, I heard nothing afterward.

By Mr. BLUMBERG:

Q. Mr. Scott, did you have cases similar to the Turroni case before that day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it, as testified to, the practice in the district attorney's office in at least six other prior case to have noll prossed the bill?

A. That was the final disposition of what I was concerned in.

Q. I don't think that was the fact, they were not noll prossed?

A. No, the court made an order.

Q. The court made an order that those search warrants were illegal and no bills submitted.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your request to the district attorney was not unusual in that manner, you had ample precedent.

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. WITKIN: Your conversation with Truxal took place before the return was made in that Turroni case?

A. Yes, sir, three weeks.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Were you a counsel for Boyle?

A. I was in one of his cases.

Q. They were beer cases, weren't they?

A. Yes, sir.

ANNIE COVOLLA, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Mrs. Covolla, you are the court interpreter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mrs. Turroni?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. How long have you known her?

A. I have known her about ten years.

Q. How do you happen to know her?

A. She lived in my home town where I was reared.

Q. Do you recall her coming to the courthouse for the purpose of seeing Judge Berkey?

A. I do.

Q. Will you just tell the committee what took place?

A. She came in the Spring of 1923, she was in the attorney's room, I was down stairs, the judge sent me down for some papers and on my way up I talked to her. She asked me if she could see the judge and I told her she could if he isn't busy. I went in and asked the Judge.

Q. Did she say why she wanted to see him?

A. Yes, she did, we talked about it in the attorney's room. She said that her husband was in trouble, that they had a federal case in the Pittsburgh court and she would like to see the Judge. So I went in and told the Judge what she wanted and the Judge said he couldn't give her any legal advice, that she has to see an attorney. I went to the attorney's room and I told her. "Well, she said "I would like to see him about a minute anyhow." And so I knew the woman and I went back to the Judge and I told him I would like him to see her about a minute. He said, "Bring her in." I brought her in and this is what the Judge said: "Madam, I can't do anything for you, I can't give you legal advice, you will have to see an attorney." She said, "Whom shall I see?" "Well, it is up to you, we have attorneys here, you can see whom you want." She said, "How about going to Johnstown to get an attorney?" He said, "It is all right that suits me if it suits you, I haven't anything to do with it." Then he mentioned the name of Frank Barnhart and we went out into the attorney's room and sat there and talked a while and she asked me to write the name of Frank Barnhart, the attorney, and so I did, I went to my drawer and brought paper and wrote the name, Frank Barnhart, and gave it to her.

Q. Was there any discussion about any money?

A. No.

Q. Was there anything said by the Judge about paying any money to her?

A. No, not in the chambers.

Q. Did you detail the full conversation that took place in there that afternoon?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see her after that?

A. Yes, I saw her.

Q. Where?

A. Well, I saw her in the courthouse a number of times.

Q. Did you see her in Judge Berkey's chamber after that?

A. I have not.

Q. When you saw her in court she was in the courtroom?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. GEYER: We have no questions.

WILLIS G. SINGO, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Where do you live?
A. Somerset county.
Q. Where?
A. Middle Creek township.
Q. How far from the town of Somerset is that?
A. We call it eleven miles.
Q. Do you have an attorney?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you ever have any use for one?
A. No, not in particular; I have asked some advice of them.

(Respondent's exhibit 5-A marked, being a carbon copy letter under date of January 15, 1925, to Willis G. Singo, signed, Ernest O. Kooser).

Q. I desire to show you defendant's exhibit 5-A and ask you if you received that letter?
A. (Witness, examining letter) Yes, sir, I did.
Q. When?
A. Well, now, I cannot say the date.
Q. It came to you by mail?
A. Yes sir.

(Respondent's exhibit 5-A shown to counsel for petitioners).

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I desire to offer, if the committee please, respondent's exhibit No. 5-A, being a letter written in carbon, except the address "Mr. Willis G. Singo, R. F. D. No. 2, Rockwood, Pa.," and the signature thereto of Earnest O. Kooser, in ink.

(Respondent's exhibit No. 5-A is as follows):

FRANCIS J. KOOSER
ERNEST O. KOOSER
Attorneys at Law
Somerset, Pa., Jan. 15, 1925.

Mr. Willis G. Singo,
R. F. D. No. 2,
Rockwood, Pa.

Dear Sir:

Did Mr. C. C. Schmucker, Vice President and Director of the First National Bank, of Boswell, ever collect any interest from you on account of any note you gave to the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company?

Very truly,
Earnest O. Kooser.

P. S. If you have any letter or paper recommending anyone as agent, or signed by any agent of the Street Railway Company, especially N. G. Cohen, please send same to me by registered letter. I shall return the postage.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: This letter is signed, "Ernest O. Kooser, and identified by Judge Berkey as the signature of Kooser, when I showed it to him as an exhibit.

Q. Did you receive any other letters beside that?
A. Yes, I think I got one before.
Q. One before? Signed by whom?
A. Kooser & Kooser.
Q. Do you have that letter?
A. No, I do not have it.
Q. Kooser & Kooser are not attorneys for you?
A. No. They have done business for me already, of course

CROSS EXAMINATION.

Mr. GEYER: We have no questions.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: The committee has no questions.

JOSEPH LEVY, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. You are a member of the Somerset County bar?
A. Yes sir.
Q. Practicing how long?
A. Twenty-five years.
Q. Been a member of any other bar?
A. Philadelphia bar for the last eighteen years.

Q. It has been testified to here by Mr. Kochenour that he had a certain agreement that was taken by Mr. Cohen in 1921, will you state whether or not you saw that agreement after Mr. Cohen left Somerset?
A. I did.
Q. Who submitted it to you?
A. Mr. Kochenour.
Q. Where?
A. In Somerset, at my office.
Q. Mr. Levy, I desire to call your attention to a note of Harvey Shaeffer, what do you say as to the sufficiency of that note?
A. I know Mr. Shaeffer's circumstances, I have had occasion to look into it on account of the bank I represent and I know that he is perfectly good for several times that.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. When did he show you the agreement?
A. It was a long time after Mr. Cohen left.
Q. What time?
A. I couldn't tell you that, without I had my papers here.
Q. What year?
A. I couldn't tell you that.
Q. Didn't you know you were going to testify?
A. I didn't.
Q. And you don't have your papers?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: He didn't know until five minutes ago.

A. If I had my office here I could tell you very definitely.
Q. Now you can't tell us what time it was that he showed it to you?
A. No, sir, but I lived at the hotel where Mr. Cohen had his office, I know when he left there and I know this was sometime afterwards and I know from the conversation that it was after he left.
Q. Mr. Kochenour consulted you about it professionally?
A. He did.

Mr. WITKIN: How long have you been a member of the Philadelphia bar?

A. Since 1906.

Mr. BIDELSPACHER: Mr. Levy, was this the original agreement or a copy?

A. The original, so I understood it when it was submitted to me that it was the original.

By Mr. MOFFATT:
Q. How was it written, typewriting or pen?
A. My recollection is it was typewritten, an agreement written on thin typewriter paper.
Q. That is your recollection?
A. That is my recollection. I think Mr. Kochenour was mistaken when he said it was written by hand.

The CHAIRMAN: Do you know what was in it?

A. I know in a general way, but I don't feel that I have a right to testify to what was in it. Mr. Kochenour is not here.

The CHAIRMAN: I do not think it is material.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I don't think it is privileged when the witness himself has testified to the contents of the paper, but I did not attempt to ask Mr. Levy what was in the paper, I asked him whether or not he saw the agreement and that is not privileged.

The CHAIRMAN: I was not going to ask him that either, I asked him if he remembered what was in it.

A. I remember it in a general way.

WILLIAM C. SMITH, a witness called in behalf of the respondent, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows on

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Mr. Smith, where are you employed?
A. In the Treasury Department.
Q. In what capacity?
A. Corporation Clerk.
Q. How long have you held that position?
A. About six years.
Q. Will you tell what the practice of the Department is relative to striking corporations from the books?
A. Well, it is done by the Auditor General as a rule. We try to clean the dead wood and it is done by affidavit of somebody who is connected with the company, if the officers of the company can be located, or somebody familiar with the company takes an affidavit they are out of existence.

Q. What has been the experience of the Department relative to resusciation of corporations that have been marked on the books "out of business"?

A. Well, ofttimes in general but there is times where a company has been marked out of existence that it is revived, quite a number revived every year. We find, in other words, that they are doing business and the reports have been filed and the "out of business" which has been marked on the books is stricken off and the company revived again.

Q. And the purposes of striking them off is what?

A. To get rid of the dead corporations.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. That has been done in the Auditor General's Department?

A. And the State Treasurer.

Q. Is there an affidavit filed by you too?

A. With us.

Q. Yes.

A. No, it is filed in the Auditor General's Department as a rule.

Q. And they notify you that that has been done?

A. We have a report sent to us.

Q. Do you ever hear of them being stricken off on the recommendation of the Attorney General?

A. That has been done too. The Secretary of the Commonwealth sometimes does it.

Q. Either an affidavit of an officer, or letter from the Secretary of the Commonwealth or Attorney General of the State?

A. Done on affidavit, as a rule.

Q. If the Attorney General certifies that that is so that takes the place of an affidavit?

A. Certificate, it would.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: And there have been many cases where the Attorney General certifies that that you have found the corporation alive?

A. I don't know whether the Attorney General, there have been such cases by the Attorney General, yes, I will say the Attorney General, where the corporation has been revived.

Mr. MOFFATT: Revived?

A. Yes, sir, the corporation actually dead and filed reports later on.

A. KENT MILLER, being duly sworn, was examined and testified as follows:

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: This is A. Kent Miller, secretary of the Johnstown & Somerset Street Railway Company. He is at your service.

AS ON CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. GEYER:

Q. Mr. Miller, will you give us a financial statement of the assets and liabilities of this company?

A. I could not do it today.

Q. Well, give us the last one you have.

A. I do not have any with me.

Q. Well, you were subpoenaed to bring all the books and records of the corporation in your possession.

A. We don't have a statemnet made up.

Q. Don't have a financial statement of the company?

A. No.

Q. Well, tell us how many bonds the company has outstanding?

A. About seven hundred thousand.

Q. Well, did you take an oath of office as secretary of this company?

A. I did.

Q. And you recall the oath?

A. No, I don't.

Q. What are your duties as secretary of the company?

A. To keep the minutes.

Q. To keep the minutes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, who keeps the accounts of receipts and expenditures of the company?

A. The treasurer.

Q. Is he here?

A. The treasurer is here, yes, sir, the fellow that was treasurer.

Q. Who is treasurer now?

A. There is no acting treasurer now.

Q. There is no treasurer of this company?

A. No.

Q. What do you do with your money?

A. We have no money.

Q. Well, who pays the bill?

A. Well, Judge Berkey has been paying them.

Q. Judge Berkey pays the bills?

A. Judge Berkey pays the bills.

Q. Who gets the receipts?

A. He gets the receipts.

Q. He gets the receipts and he pays the bills?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long has he been doing that?

A. Well, Mr. Houck pays a lot of bills too.

Q. How long has Judge Berkey been getting the money and paying the bills?

A. For the last four or five years.

Q. How long is it since you have had a treasurer?

A. About that long.

A. Haven't had a treasurer for four or five years?

A. I don't believe we have.

Q. Who was your last treasurer?

A. Emert.

Q. What became of him?

A. He is around.

Q. Well, was he a director?

A. No, sir, never was a director.

Q. Have you his resignation as treasurer?

A. I don't know as we have his resignation as treasurer.

Q. How did he come to quit being treasurer?

A. I don't know that.

Q. You don't know that? You have been secretary of the company.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever audit his accounts?

A. I did not.

Q. Ever examine them to see whether he turned over all the money he had?

A. I don't think he ever had any money in his hands.

Q. Then it is a fact that Judge Berkey has been treasurer since the company started, is that it?

A. Well, the fact of the matter is that every dollar we got had a place to go to the minute we got it.

Q. Who applied it there?

A. Either Mr. Houck or Judge Berkey.

Q. That is, Judge Berkey was president and acting treasurer, is that it?

A. Well, I do not know whether you would call him acting treasurer or not.

Q. Did you ever have an audit prepared of the books of the company?

A. No.

Q. Did you ever prepare a financial statement for the directors of the company?

A. Yes, sir, we did.

Q. When?

A. In 1923.

Q. Well, have you that here?

A. No, I don't.

Q. What did that show as to the bonds outstanding of the company?

A. I think seven hundred thousand dollars, or a little better.

Q. How did you get to that figure of seven hundred thousand, Mr. Miller, because the Judge said so?

A. No. I have counted over them myself.

Q. Well, you heard the testimony of the Judge that the officers sold some hundred and seventy to two hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds, didn't you?

A. I helped to sell them.

Q. Which is right, a hundred and seventy or two hundred thousand?

A. Well, about a hundred and seventy thousand, I think.

Q. Then the Cohen's sold how much?

A. About six hundred thousand.

Q. How much more than six hundred thousand?

A. Well, a little more, but there were some disputes there and there were some notes turned back and released.

Q. And then when you were all done, it was about six hundred thousand?

A. I think so.
Q. And then Judge Berkey sold about five thousand or ten thousand more?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. That would be six hundred thousand and a hundred and seventy thousand and ten thousand, that would be about seven hundred and eighty thousand?
A. Well, we have about fifty thousand dollars of notes on hand.
Q. Well, you have the bonds outstanding?
A. We have the bonds outstanding.
Q. That would make about eight hundred and forty thousand dollars of bonds outstanding?
A. No.
Q. Well, let us count again: There is a hundred and seventy to two hundred thousand first issued, you say?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And then six thousand issued?
A. About.
Q. That would make six hundred and seventy thousand, wouldn't it? And then you say fifty thousand not paid for?
A. Approximately.
Q. But they are out, aren't they?
A. Well, I think some of them are held in trust at different places.
Q. You mean out in the hands of the banks as collateral?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. But they are out?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. That would make eight hundred and twenty thousand?
A. Yes, sir, that are certified or out.
Q. You tell me this: Under the terms of your mortgage, how many bonds have been certified and delivered to the company by the trustee, the Equitable Trust Company?
A. Nine hundred thousand.
Q. Now, where are those that are not issued?
A. About two hundred thousand we have.
Q. You have two hundred thousand?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How could you have two hundred thousand out of the nine hundred thousand if you are right in the number issued?
A. I don't know.
Q. Was there not a million dollars certified?
A. I don't think so.
Q. Where are the bonds that are issued?
A. That are issued?
Q. That are not issued?
A. They are in Judge Berkey's safe.
Q. They are in Judge Berkey's safe, in his office in the court house?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. When did you last check over them to see how many there are there?
A. Oh, six months ago.
Q. How many were there yet when you checked over them?
A. I think there were about two hundred thousand.
Q. In the safe, about two hundred thousand?
A. I think there were about two hundred thousand.
Q. Well, when you checked them over, did you make a list of them?
A. No, I did not.
Q. Did you make a notation of how many were there?
A. No, just my recollection of it.
Q. Why did you check them over?
A. I don't know under what conditions we checked them over.
Q. Who checked them over?
A. I was present.
Q. Well, who did it?
A. I think probably Berkey and I were alone.
Q. Yes, Berkey checked them over and you were present?
A. Yes, sir.
A. Do you know whether any of those two hundred thousand were his?
A. I don't.
Q. You heard him testify he had ninety thousand?
A. I don't think there were; that is just my impression.
Q. Were they his, do you know?
A. I don't know where he got them.
Q. Did you make an income tax report last year to the Federal government?
A. I don't think we did, I don't know.
Q. When you did that, didn't you have to put a balance sheet on the report, a sheet of what your assets and liabilities were?
A. I did not make up the report.
Q. Well, did you sign it?
A. If one was made up, it required my signature.
Q. And you swore to it?
A. If one was made.
Q. Who would make it if you did not make it?
A. It is a very intricate report.
Q. Who would make it?
A. Judge Berkey and Mr. Houck.
Q. You don't know whether one was made last year?
A. I don't know.
Q. Was one made this year, for 1924?
A. I don't know.
Q. Then you don't remember having ever seen a financial report of the company?
A. In 1923 we made one.
Q. What books of the company have you?
A. I have the stock ledger.
Q. Bring it here, turn to the stock ledger, and tell us how much is outstanding?
A. I will show it to the committee.
CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: No, answer the question.
A. I could not tell you, it would take me—I would have to add this up.
Q. Who kept the book?
A. I did.
Q. And you say you have no entry in that book any place that tells how much stock is outstanding?
A. I have the name and certified number and amount of stock of each subscriber, but I have not totalled it.
Q. Will you turn to Judge Berkey's account and tell us how much stock he has in the company?
A. (Witness counting over book) Sixteen thousand.
Q. He has sixteen thousand shares, or sixteen thousand dollars par value?
A. Sixteen thousand dollars par value.
Q. How much have you Mr. Miller?
A. (After counting up book) Seventeen thousand dollars.
Q. When did you get this?
A. I got some in 1915.
Q. How much did you get in 1915?
A. Two thousand.
Q. When did you get the rest?
A. In 1916.
Q. How much?
A. A hundred and twenty-five dollars.
Q. When did you get the rest?
A. I got all but five hundred of the balance in December, 1916, that where issued then.
Q. What did you pay for it then?
A. I paid par.
Q. How much in cash—to whom? How did you pay it?
A. In cash.
Q. To whom?
A. To the company.
Q. To what officer of the company?
A. I paid it on bills and notes and accounts.
Q. What is the total issue of stock of the company?
A. One and a half millions.
Q. How much is still in the treasury?
A. Only about three hundred and fifty thousand out.
Q. There is about three hundred and fifty thousand issued, is that it?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Who is the biggest stockholder of the company?
A. Well, Judge Berkey is entitled to the most stock.
Q. Well, how much is he entitled to, more than he has got there?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How much more is he entitled to?
A. Well, I saw his account and—
Q. Where is it?
A. He showed it to me sometime ago.
Q. Let us see that account.
A. It is not in here.
Q. Oh, does he have an account with the company?
A. He has a private account, showing where he paid the money.
Q. And you say you saw his account? When?
A. Oh, not very long ago, probably a year.

Q. And what did it show?
A. Well, I think it showed upwards of ninety thousand dollars at that time.
Q. Ninety thousand dollars of what?
A. In money that he paid for the company.
Q. Did it show the money he had received for the company?
A. I think it did.
Q. How much had he received for the company?
A. I don't recall.
Q. Who keeps the books of the company?
A. Mr. Houck keeps most of the books.
Q. Where are those books kept?
A. He keeps them in his office in Johnstown.
Q. And you as secretary don't keep them?
A. He sends me a statement at the end of the month showing receipts and disbursements.
Q. And what books did you keep other than this stock ledger?
A. I keep minute books and stock records.
Q. Produce the stock records.
A. I mean the certificate books.
Q. That is the one you write the certificates out of?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. All right, will you produce that?
A. (Witness produces stock certificate book)
Q. Are these all the books of stock certificates you have ever had?
A. There may be some full books yet.
Q. Can you tell us down to what number of certificate you are now? You are down now on this one to eight hundred and forty-seven, are you not?
A. Yes.
Q. Mr. Miller, do you know anything of the requirement of revenue stamps on original stock issues?
A. No.
Q. Did you ever put a revenue stamp on stock issued?
A. I did not.
Q. Did you ever see any books or records of the company that had revenue stamps on them?
A. No.
Q. Either state or federal?
A. No.
Q. Who attended to your business?
A. The attorneys.
Q. Who were the attorneys?
A. There were a number of attorneys on the board.
Q. Who is the one whose business it was to do it?
A. I don't know. Judge Berkey, Mr. Shaver, and Mr. Myer and Mr. Hay were originally the attorneys on the board.
Q. Did you ever see cancelled revenue stamps on stock issues?
A. No, I didn't.
Q. What other books do you have? What other books did you keep?
A. That is about all the books I had.
Q. You have a minute book?
A. That is the minute book there (indicating).
Q. Will you produce the minute book?
A. (Witness produces minute book).
Q. Is that the only book you had to put the minutes in?
A. No, sir, we had a loose-leaf book.
Q. Who wrote up the minutes of this corporation?
A. I took them on a scratch pad.
Q. You took them on a scratch pad, and when did you write this?
A. This I had Mr. Burd F. Landis transcribe them.
Q. When?
A. Well, I think right after the last minutes that are in here. (Looking in book) August 18, 1916.
Q. That is, this other book was transcribed to August 18, 1916, into this book?
A. Soon after that last entry.
Q. Where are the minutes since August, 1916?
A. I think I have them in my grip there. (Indicating). They are loose. (Witness produces loose minutes).
Q. Is this your minute book? (Indicating loose sheets of minutes).
A. They are the minutes, yes, sir.
A. Don't you have the minute book?
A. Well, these are to be transcribed into this book.
Q. They are to be transcribed into this book, when?
A. Yes sir, well, I don't know just how soon.
Q. Who wrote these minutes?
A. I did.
Q. Have you any other books?
A. No.
Mr. GEYER: I have no further questions.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:
Q. Who was Landis, that you say transcribed the minutes into this book?
A. He was a resident of Somerset; he was a clerk to the courts.
Mr. BEIDLEMAN: He writes a good hand.
The WITNESS. That is the reason I got him.

By Mr. MOFFATT:
Q. A stockholder in the company?
A. No, not interested in the company.
Q. A bondholder?
A. No, not a bondholder.

By CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:
Q. The last minutes transcribed in the large book was in 1916?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have you had any meetings since that time?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How many?
A. I don't know.
Q. Did you have one each year?
A. Oh, yes, sir. You mean directors meetings?
Q. What minutes have you recorded here, the minutes of the directors or stockholders?
A. I have both.
Q. Well then, have you had a directors' meeting each year since 1916?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And have you had more than one each year?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. How many have you had each year?
A. Oh, we tried to have one every month.
Q. Well, in 1916, does this book include the minutes up to the end of 1916?
A. To August 18, 1916, I think.
Q. Well then, there would be four, if you had a meeting each month, you would have four more in 1916, and then you would have twelve in 1917 and twelve in '18 and twelve in each succeeding year; therefore, up to the first of this year, that would make, I find, one hundred meetings. What have you done with the minutes of each of those meetings? Do you have them all on that sheet of paper?
A. Oh, no, there are other sheets here. (Producing loose sheets).
Q. Are the minutes of all these meetings in these loose leaves you have there?
A. I think so.
Q. Why do you not transcribe them into the book?
A. Well, I am not as good a writer as this man, and I want to get him to transcribe the whole bunch in there at one time.
Q. Well, since 1916—that is more than eight years?
A. Yes, it ought to be done.
Q. How many meetings do you have each year of the stockholders?
A. Well, we have not had any every year.
Q. When was the last meeting?
A. In 1923.
Q. And when the one before that—by the way, the meeting in 1923 was a special meeting, was it not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. When was the last annual meeting?
A. Well, here is one in 1917. (Indicating from loose minutes).
Q. Is that a regular meeting?
A. That is a regular stockholders' meeting and election.
Q. Have you had one since 1917?
A. I do not find a minute here of them, but I think we have.
Q. Well, Mr. Miller, you take the minutes at these meetings, do you not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Of both directors and stockholders?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Are they all in that bunch of papers that you have there?
A. I think they are.

Q. And you have not had any of them transcribed into the books since August 18, 1916?
A. Not since August 18, 1916.

By Mr. GEYER:
Q. Mr. Miller, have you the stock selling agreement?
A. No.
Q. Didn't you go down for it?
A. I don't have it in Harrisburg.
Q. Don't have it in Harrisburg?
A. No.
Q. The Cohen agreement?
A. No.
Q. Never had it here?
A. You asked me for that trust company statement of the interest. I don't know whether you want that or not.
Q. I asked for a statement from the Equitable Trust Company, have you that?
A. Yes, sir. (Witness produces statement).
(Financial statement of interest paid on bonds by Equitable Trust Company marked "Petitioners Exhibit No. 62")
Q. This statement which you produced and is marked "Exhibit No. 62" is dated August 9, 1921, from the Equitable Trust Company, is that right?
A. That is right.
Q. Have you had one from them since?
A. I have not.
Q. And the letter which you produced bears the same date, does it not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have you had a statement from them since?
A. No.
Q. Where are your coupons payable?
A. At the Equitable Trust Company, New York.
Q. When did you last put money there to pay the coupons?
A. On the first of September, 1921.
Q. How much did you put there to pay the coupons then?
A. Thirteen thousand four hundred and ninety dollars.
Q. That paid the coupons then out?
A. To July first, 1921.
Q. And since that time you have not paid the coupons?
A. No.
Q. Mr. Miller, as secretary of the company, does the company have any record whatsoever of the moneys which Judge Berkey received and which he paid out?
A. Whether the company has?
Q. Yes, sir.
A. I don't know whether they have of all of it.
Q. Well, do you have any of it?
A. Yes, sir, we have some of it.
Q. Where is the book or record or account of the company with Judge Berkey?
A. Well, we have in our operating statements that Mr. Houck sends me, he shows where he received moneys from Mr. Berkey.
Q. Where is the book or record or accounts of the company that shows the money received from the sale of bonds?
A. I don't think there is such record.
Q. Or moneys received from the sale of stocks?
A. No.
Q. There is not any such?
A. No.
Q. Is there any place in your minutes a copy or abstract of your agreement with Cohen about the sales of bonds?
A. No.
Q. Is there any resolution on the minutes, authorizing the isuing of stock to Cohen?
A. Issuing stock to him?
Q. Yes.
A. I don't think so.
Q. Or to the people who bought bonds of him?
A. I don't think so.
Q. Turn to your minute book and see.
A. (Witness examines minute book and loose leaves)
Q. Mr. Miller, can you find it in your minutes since 1916?
A. No, I don't find it.
Q. Well, you did not know Cohen before 1916, did you?
A. 1915.
Q. Yes, you did not know him before that time, did you?
A. No.
Q. Did your company have by-laws?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have you got them?
A. Right here they are. (Indicating in book)
Q. Copied into that book here?
A. Yes, sir.
Mr. GEYER: I have no further questions.

By CHAIRMAN MARSHALL:
Q. Mr. Miller, you say that Judge Berkey is entitled to more stock than he has?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Because of obligations of the company to him for money advanced?
A. Well, he has bought more bonds and is entitled to more stock than he has certificates for. He put in five hundred or six hundred—
Q. What was your answer?
A. He would give the company five hundred or six hundred or seven hundred dollars, or whatever the pressure required.
Q. You mean to say that if the company was to pay him for money advanced and pay him back in stock, there would be about ninety thousand dollars of stock coming to him, is that what you mean to say?
A. No, not under the way we sold the stock.
Q. You said there was more stock coming to him?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What did you mean by that expression?
A. Well, he has a contingent fund there that he is trying not to buy any more bonds with. He has advanced some money and he is reimbursing himself trying to get squared up to a certain amount of bonds he has purchased.
Q. How is he doing that?
A. In the manner he indicated.
Q. How is he doing it?
A. If he sold a bond, he would reimburse himself to that extent.
Q. Who is keeping that record?
A. He is keeping that record.
Q. Mr. Miller, you are secretary of this company, I believe?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And they have sold over seven thousand dollars of bonds to various people?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. It is your duty, is it not, as secretary, to keep a record at least of the management of this company, and in doing so, to properly protect the interests of those who are represented and holders of these bonds and stocks?
A. That might be my duty, but I cannot do it.
Q. You say you cannot do it?
A. No, I cannot do it.
Q. What do you mean, that you cannot do it?
A. If the money was put into a bank and checks issued on it, I would have some way to keep track of it; but if some attorney presents a bill or note or obligation to Judge Berkey and he gives his personal check for it, I cannot keep track of it.
Q. Do you think that is the proper way to run it?
A. No, I don't.
Q. Have you ever complained about it?
A. No, I have not complained, I could not see any remedy for it.
Q. Well, if a treasurer were elected and setting for this company in a proper manner, and you were furnished with the proper records, that would be a remedy, would it not?
A. That would be a remedy.
Q. Are you a director?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. As a matter of fact. Mr. Miller, who does control or manage this company?
A. Judge Berkey has; we depend upon Judge Berkey largely for that.
Q. Does Judge Berkey actually dominate and control the policy of this company?
A. Well now, I cannot say he just dominates.
Q. I mean, whatever he wants done is done, is that it? Are you consulted in regard to any policies of the company?
A. Well, yes, we are, the directors all are, as far as that goes.
Q. Well, in regard to the duties that devolve upon the secretary, you don't seem—you say you cannot perform under that policy in the management and conduct of this company?

A. If someone hounds him for a bill and pays it, I cannot get a record of it.

Q. And if money is paid in, you don't get a record of that, do you?

A. No, I don't.

Q. As a matter of fact, you don't know very much about the business of this company, even though you have been secretary for many years?

A. I don't know much about it.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. What other business have you?

A. I am in the implement business.

Q. What is that?

A. I am a merchant.

Q. And what if any salary do you receive from the railway company?

A. Not one cent.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: Are you through, Governor?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Yes sir.

By Mr. MARSHALL:

Q. You say you have seventeen thousand dollars in stocks?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you paid how much for that?

A. Seventeen thousand dollars.

Q. Paid that in cash?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. To whom did you pay those checks to, to Judge Berkey or to the company?

A. No, I had to pursue about the same method that Judge Berkey had to keep us living.

Q. To whom had you made your checks payable when you paid for it?

A. To different people.

Q. You paid bills and took stock?

A. Yes, sir, I paid bills and kept paying bills and kept an account of it and then, at one day we issued stock certificates to cover up to that date.

Q. Did you buy any of your bonds from outside parties?

A. Yes, sir, I got some bonds.

Q. I am speaking of stock. Did you buy any of your stock from anyone outside?

A. I did buy a block.

Q. What did you pay for that? Full value?

A. Full value. That came about because I was present when other stock was sold, and I guaranteed to make it good, and when they became dissatisfied, I lifted it.

Q. How many bonds do you own?

A. Well, about twenty-two thousand, I guess.

Q. And what did you pay for them?

A. Well, I got them along with the stock, except some of this.

Q. I am speaking of the bonds. Don't confuse the stock. You say you have twenty-two thousand dollars of bonds. From whom did you buy them?

A. Well, I bought some of them from the company.

Q. How many did you buy from the company?

A. Most of them, and probably—

Q. More than half?

A. Yes sir.

Q. What did you pay for those?

A. I paid one thousand dollars for five hundred dollars' worth of stock and a thousand dollar bond.

Q. You got fifty percent of stock for every amount of bonds you bought?

A. I bought a five hundred dollar share of stock, and got one thousand dollars worth of bonds with it for one thousand dollars.

Q. Well than the stock that you got that way, is that included in your seventeen thousand of stock that you say you have?

A. Well, all the stock is included in the seventeen thousand.

Q. You said a few minutes ago that you paid seventeen thousand dollars for that seventeen thousand dollars in stock. As a matter of fact, a part of it you got by paying the full value of the bonds.

A. Well, the resolution requires us to sell the stock at par and bonds at a discount.

Q. You are getting off the question; you merely confuse us. You said you had seventeen thousand dollars in stock and you paid seventeen thousand dollars for it. Now you say that part of that stock you got with bonds, and if you paid the full value of the bonds, that gives you the stock?

A. Well, I have more bonds.

Q. That don't make any difference whether you buy a million dollars' worth of bonds. Part of this stock that you have included in the seventeen thousand you got as bonus with bonds, is that correct?

A. No, sir, I did not get any bonds.

Q. When you bought a thousand dollar bond, you got five hundred dollars of stock, did you not?

A. Yes sir.

Q. And you paid one thousand dollars for all of it, is that correct?

A. That is correct.

Q. Now, part of that—how much stock did you get in that way?

A. Well, I think I got nearly all of the seventeen thousand I got from the company.

Q. You say you got practically all of the seventeen thousand that way?

A. Yes, sir, I think I did.

Q. Then you did not pay any money for it? You bought the bonds and got the stock for nothing?

A. That is not correct.

Q. Well, according to your own statement, you bought bonds and so you got them without paying anything?

A. I might clear that up. With every five hundred dollars' worth of stock I got a thousand dollar bond, and I paid one thousand dollars for the stock and bonds.

Q. Well then, if you are getting a credit of five hundred dollars on account of that, then you are getting a thousand dollar bond for five hundred dollars?

A. That is correct.

Q. Just what rate did you pay on your bonds, did you just pay fifty cents on the dollar?

A. That would be fifty cents on the dollar, yes, sir.

Q. Then when you bought a thousand dollar bond, you really paid five hundred dollars for it, is that correct?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Now, just how many bonds do you have?

A. I have about twenty-two thousand.

Q. And you paid about eleven thousand dollars for the twenty-two thousand of bonds?

Yes, sir, that is the same as everybody else paid. We did not sell any bonds any other way to anybody.

Q. Did you continue to sell them that way?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Up to the present time?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you bought any lately?

A. No.

Q. Have you bought any since 1921?

A. I have redeemed some since then.

Q. From other people?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Have you sold any, have you personally sold any since 1921 to anyone, either for the company or of your own?

A. No sir.

Q. Do you know of anyone else that has sold anyone else since 1921?

A. Why, Judge Berkey testified he did.

Q. Do you know of any particular sales made to any individuals?

A. No, I don't.

Q. As secretary, do you know of any one that has bought a bond in the last year or two and got fifty percent of the face value in stock together with the bond?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Well, you said a minute ago that you still follow that policy?

A. No, we did follow that policy until we finished our contract with Mr. Cohen.

Q. Well then you are qualifying what you said a minute ago. Then you did not continue on with that policy to the present time?

A. No, not at this time.

Q. When did Cohen leave you?

A. Some time in October, 1921.

W. CURTIS TRUXALL, a witness on behalf of petitioners, being recalled, was examined and testified as follows, as on rebuttal:

DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. You have been sworn before?

A. Yes sir.

Q. Did you hear Judge Berkey's testimony this afternoon and this evening on the Turroni case?

A. I did so.

Q. There is an apparent discrepancy between the testimony you gave before the committee when you were sworn and the Judge's testimony. After hearing what he had said, do you wish to modify your testimony or do you want it to stand?

A. I want my testimony to stand, except that I think the committee or else I, made a misstatement in this fact; that Mr. Neuman did not write to me in the second letter that Mrs. Turroni came to me in Judge Berkey's absence, but I wrote that letter.

Q. Wasn't that many months later?

A. Yes, sir. That was, I think, September, 1924.

Q. How many times did the Judge come to see you or call to see you at the time you added the postscript to that little letter?

A. Oh, I could not be sure of that.

Q. You could not be?

A. No, I could not.

Q. It must have been once or twice?

A. It may have been twice, or it may have been only once.

By Mr. WITKIN:

Q. Do you recall whether your conversation with Mr. Scott took place in the manner he indicated before the return was made?

A. Well, Mr. Scott and I talked about the matter right afterwards, because we both were trying to refresh our memories, and it is possible that Mr. Scott's statement as to—I know we met there in the hall, I know we walked in and talked; I would not say that Sterling was there, the State Policeman, was there or not, but I think it is likely that he explained the case to me, and quite likely that I said I would wait until the papers came in, because I would not pass on it until I saw the papers.

By Mr. MARSHALL:

Q. The Judge says that when he went to your office, that he discussed the Marcella case, that is the case he discussed with you?

A. I have to say that I think the Judge is in error as to that.

Q. There was no such case?

A. There was no such case, and we never spoke of the name.

Q. You did not go over any papers at that time?

A. No, I think not. I know that I read the letter and hesitated—I mean I could not quite understand why it was to Neuman just that moment, and then the Judge stated to me what it was about, and I then readily signed the letter. It was to get this woman her money.

Q. Mr. Truxall, if when he presented that letter to you in the beginning and you hesitated as soon as you saw it and observed Neuman's name, then wouldn't that indicate to your mind that the first time it was brought to your attention was when he presented the letter to you, because if you had discussed it before, that matter would have been straightened out between you, would it not?

A. Yes, sir; I would not say for sure that I talked to him, or whether I took the papers up to him and talked to him, or whether it was merely handed over and held up. No cases were noll prossed before; I think that is the only one; but there had been rulings on this same search warrant, and I think it was the search warrant, to my recollection, handed to us by the Attorney General, or sent me, that the State Police were using at that time.

Q. Your general recollection of the whole affair is a hazy one, isn't it?

A. Positively so. There are some things that are distinct. I did not know Mrs. Turroni at that time.

By Mr. LUDLOW:

Q. Is it positive as to the point or might there have been a mistake as to whose bond was being released, as to who the defendant in the proceeding was?

A. Oh, no; it was Turroni's, no question about it.

Q. You are positive on that?

A. Absolutely.

By Mr. WITKIN:

Q. Excepting when you discussed the case with Judge Berkey you did not discuss that name. You discussed it as a case where the money was deposited and Mrs. Turroni wanted to get the money back; that is the conversation with Judge Berkey?

A. Yes, sir, something like that.

By Mr. MARSHALL:

Q. Well, you mentioned the name of the case?

A. Yes, sir, Commonwealth vs. Turroni. I know that before I spoke to Mr. Scott.

CROSS EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. If you hesitated as to why it was addressed to Neuman, there is some reason for having your attention called to it as the Marcella case?

A. No, the Judge and I understood—as soon as the Judge stated what the letter was for, I understood it was to get the money for her.

Q. Well, you read the letter, didn't you?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. If you read the letter and had in your mind the Turroni case, why would your mind not be directed to the case of Commonwealth against Marcelli in light of the statement you just made that you were struck with the fact that this was addressed to Mr. Neuman?

A. Because I was struck with the fact that Mr. Neuman had put up the money and that he was cashier of the bank; that was done sometimes.

Q. If your attention was called and you read this letter, and you had in mind the Turroni case, upon what possible theory can you explain why you did not discover the name Marcella instead of Turroni?

A. I could not explain it at all. I knew the person but did not pay any attention to the name.

Q. So that you did not know whether it was Turroni or Marcella?

A. I know there wasn't any case of Marcella.

Q. I say why wouldn't your attention be called to it, why send a letter to the cashier of the bank, particularly in the light of the fact that you saw the letter was addressed to the cashier, why wouldn't you be concerned in having mentioned the proper name of the defendant?

A. For the reason that I was satisfied that that was the case, that we were discussing. I know it was the Turroni the case, but I won't say we talked about the names.

Q. Then, if you did not talk about the name, how can you explain that Commonwealth vs. Marcella was not a matter of importance in that letter to you, notwithstanding that you were directing the cashier of the bank to discharge one thousand dollars for which the bank would have been liable if the money was released in the wrong case?

A. Well, I presume that the bank would have been liable if I committed the error, unless I would have reached into my pocket and paid it.

Q. If that bank was liable and your attention had been directed, and you were particularly struck with the thought that this was Neuman, cashier of the Boswell bank, wouldn't you have been particular to have mentioned the defendant?

A. No, I think not, Governor. The papers—my recollection is that I looked at the papers, either that day or probably the day before when they came in.

By Mr. WITKIN:

Q. At any rate, you know it was Mrs. Turroni who was to get the one thousand dollars?

A. On, yes, sir; because I recall the Judge said he wanted this woman to get this money.

Q. That was the real question of this conversation?

A. Yes, to get this woman the one thousand dollars.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. And under the circumstance, you might have been referring to Turroni and the Judge referring to Marcella?

A. Well, I don't know what was in Judge Berkey's mind, of course.

Q. When this letter came back, this letter from Neuman, sometime afterwards, you did not go up and say anything to Judge Berkey about it?

A. No. The Judge was away. I wrote that letter, and went down and talked to Mr. Scott about it immediately.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is all.

ROSS E. SCOTT, a witness on behalf of respondent, being recalled, was examined and testified as follows, on

RE-DIRECT EXAMINATION.

By Mr. BEIDLEMAN:

Q. Mr. Scott, after you had your conversation with Mr. Truxall, did you pay any further attention to the Turroni case?

A. None whatever.

Q. Did they come back to you after that?

A. Never came back to me or consulted me in any way.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: That is all. WE REST.

Mr. LUDLOW: Are you through, Mr. Geyer?

Mr. GEYER: WE REST, from our labors.

Mr. LUDLOW: When do you gentlemen want to argue this, or do you want to argue it?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: If the committee want to hear argument we will be glad to argue it after testimony is written out, and we have had a chance to read it.

Mr. WITKIN: I do not think we want to have argument.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: It is entirely up to you counsel; this is an important matter, and whatever you want to do we are at your service.

Mr. GEYER: I have but one thought, and that is that I might desire to submit to your honors some of the authorities and probably can best do it in the form of a brief. It is my intention to submit the proceedings, arguments and authorities in the Archbald case as impeachment proceedings are not reported in any of the Federal reports.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: Then our understanding is we will have no arguments, but will be glad to have any briefs you may desire to submit, counsel to exchange briefs. We have had several exhibits offered here this evening.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: I want to offer all of the exhibits, including the two court copies.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: You only have five or six.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN: Five all told. I stated last week, Mr. Chairman, that the typewritten copy of the transcript of the notes of testimony, Commonwealth vs. Walter Borderczenski, had been transcribed, and we were ready to submit that to committee. We think it would lumber the record to transcribe it in full, but we think it ought to be submitted to you for your attention.

CHAIRMAN MARSHALL: Which one of the Borderczenski cases? There are four of these cases, I believe.

Mr. GEYER: There was one offered from which I read tonight, the gambling case.

Mr. LUDLOW: Mr. Chairman, I should like the record to express not only for myself, but I feel I speak for all of my colleagues on the committee, the appreciation of this committee for the splendid way in which Mr. Geyer and Mr. Beidleman have represented their respective interests, the endurance of the stenographers, and the humor of the Polish gentleman from Somerset.

Mr. GEYER. May I express my appreciation of the extreme courtesy of the committee at all times in this matter.

Whereupon, at 12:15 A. M., Thursday, March 5, 1926, the hearing adjourned.

C. J. Newman, Cashier, Boswell, Pa.
Dear Sir:—Mrs. Turrony handed me a letter of Judge Berkey's, dated January 10th, 1923, in which I joined at the bottom thereof. I find, upon examination of the record, that the Judge evidently made a mistake in the name of M. Marcella, where it should have been Arthur Turrony. A Nol Pros was entered in this case and you were relieved from the Bond. The Nol Pros was entered at the time for the reason that the Court held all search warrants issued on the form of affidavit which was used in that case to be illegal, and all evidence secured thereunder could not be used in the trial of a case.

Yours very truly,
W. Curtis Truxal.

TO THE COMMISSIONERS OF SOMERSET COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA:

The petition of Nuncio Pacifico, above Defendant, respectfully represents:

1. That the above Judgment Note was given to secure payment of a fine imposed by the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County, at No. 101 Dec. Sessions, 1921.

2. That he has paid on said Judgment at various times a total of $725.00 dollars, and is unable to pay any more at this time, by reason of slack times, investment in Johnstown-Somerset Street Railway Bonds, in the total sum of $800.00 dollars, Numbered 1352 ($500.00 & 148-422-423, each 100.00 dated the 1st day of January, 1921, and purchased the 29th day of March, 1'21, and has not received any interest on same.

3. That he has contracted for one $500.00 Bond with Judge John A. Berkey and paid to the said Judge John A. Berkey the sum of $200.00 dollars on same and owes a balance of $300.00 dollars. I paid the said $200.00 in the year 1923.

4. That at the request of Judge John A. Berkey, I with my Attorney, B. B. Boose, asked the County Solicitor, John S. Miller, to stay a Writ of Execution for the sale of my property for collection of above Judgment, and that on the same day, to wit., day of November, 1924, I went with said Attorneys before Judge John A. Berkey, and the Judge in the presence of the said Attorneys requested that the County Commissioners relieve me from payment of the balance of the above stated Judgement.

5. That the High Sheriff of Somerset County has a Writ of Execution on above stated Judgment, by authority of which he has posted Sheriff Sale bills on my property at Jerome, Somerset County, Pa., and is about to sell the same.

Wherefore, I ask your Board of County Commissioners to have the Writ of Execution aforesaid stayed, for the reason that I have paid the aforesaid large sums of money and am not able to pay any more at this time.

In the Matter of the Petition of MICHAEL H. SIPE for Refund of Retail Liquor License Fees. } In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County, Pennsylvania.

TO THE HONORABLE JOHN A. BERKEY, PRESIDENT JUDGE OF SAID COURT:

The petition of Michael H. Sipe, of Jenner Township, in said County, respectfully represents:

1. That on the 8th day of February, 1919, he was duly granted a license by this Court, to sell vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquors at retail, according to the provisions of the Act of May 13, 1887, P. L. 109, known as the Brooks License Law, which said license became effective on the first day of April 1919, and will expire on the first day of April, 1920.

2. That prior to the first day of April, 1919, and before the license so granted was issued, your petitioner paid to the County Treasurer of Said County the full annual license fee of $100.00 for the year ending April 1, 1920.

3. That on the first day of July, 1919, by reason of the enforcement of various federal laws and regulations, he was prevented from selling under the license granted by this Court, the liquors hereinbefore mentioned, whereupon, on said date he abandoned the sale of all liquors the sale of which was provided for in said license, closed up his place of business, and from the date mentioned until the present time fully surrendered all of his rights and privileges under said license, and has never since said date exercised any rights thereunder. And he avers, that through inadvertence only he failed to make an actual surrender of said license to the Clerk of this Court, and he now offers to surrender the same.

He therefore, prays the Court to make an order and decree, directing the County Treasurer of Somerset County to refund to him the sum of $75.00, being the portion of the license fee paid by him for such license for the year ending April 1, 1920, based upon the unexpired portion of said year during which no rights under said license were exercised by him, to which he is entitled under provisions of the act of Assembly, approved June 26, 1919, P. L. 673. And he will ever pray.

Michael H. Sipe.

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA,
DEPARTMENT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

Harrisburg, April 15, 1920.

County Treasurer, Somerset, Pa.

Dear Sir:—This Department has just been served with copies of the petitions and rules in the matter of the applications of Michael H. Sipe and Joseph T. McCormick for refund of liquor license fees paid for the year 1919.

As we are so far removed from the locations of the establishments, and the amounts involved in cases of this kind are, as a general rule, so small, that the policy of this Department is to submit itself to such order as the court may see fit to make on the petition.

I give you this information so that you will abstain from filing an answer to the petition on the belief that the Commonwealth will appear.

Yours very truly,
Frank M. Hunter,
Deputy Attorney General.

ANSWER OF MARLING M. SHOBER, COUNTY TREASURER.

Now, April 19, 1920, comes Marling M. Shober, Treasurer of Somerset County, Pennsylvania and to the petition filed in the above stated proceeding to the above mentioned number and term, makes answer as follows:

1. He neither admits nor denies the allegations set forth in the first paragraph of the said petition, but asks proof of same by the records of the Court of Quarter Sessions.

2. In answer to the second paragraph of the petition, he states that he entered upon the duties of his office on Monday the 5th of January 1920, and if said full license fee was paid to the then County Treasurer as alleged, it must have been paid to his predecessor in office, John W. Rephorn, and therefore demands proof of the allegations contained in the said paragraph.

3. In answer to the third paragraph of the petition, he states, that he has no knowledge of the matters of fact or law alleged therein and therefore demands proof thereof upon the hearing of this proceeding before the Court; all of said acts or failures to act, having occured prior to his term of office as Treasurer of Somerset County, Pennsylvania.

4. Respondent alleges further that in so far as he is informed, all payments of petitioner's license fees were made voluntarily and not upon the solicitation or demand of his said predecessor in office and that no part of said license fees were paid to him, the said Marling M. Shober, as Treasurer of Somerset County, Penna.

In Re Petition of Michael H. Sipe, For refund of retail Liquor License Fee. } In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County, Pennsylvania. No. 24 February Sessions, 1919.

OPINION OF THE COURT SUR PETITION FOR DECREE OR REFUND.

The Petitioner, Michael H. Sipe alleges that on the 8th day of February, 1919, he was granted a license by this court to sell liquor at retail, which said license became effective on the 1st day of April, 1919, for a period of one year thereafter; that prior to the 1st day of April, 1919 and before the license so granted was issued, petitioner paid to the county treasurer of said county the full annual license fee of $100.00; and that on the 1st day of July, 1919, by reason of the enforcement of various Federal laws and regulations, he was prevented from selling under the license granted by this court; whereupon he abandoned the sale of all liquors, closed up his place of business and from the date mentioned until the present time, March 29, 1920, surrendered all his rights and privileges under said license; also he avers that through inadvertence only he failed to make the actual surrender of said license to the clerk of this court and he now offers to surrender the same, and "prays the court to make an order and decree directing the county treasurer of Somerset County to refund to him the sum of $75.00, being the portion of the license fee paid by him for such license for the year ending April 1, 1920, based upon the unexpired portion of said year during which no rights under the said license were exercised by him," Whereupon the court awarded a rule to show cause upon the county treasurer, State treasurer and auditor general of Pennsylvania, why they should not refund to the petitioner the sum of $75.00 as prayed for, returnable the third Monday of April, 1920. Service of the rule was made upon the respondents. The state treasurer and auditor general filed no answer, but the county treasurer avers that he went into office January 5, 1920, and no license fee had been paid to him. The court in the absence of any denial of the allegation "that prior to the 1st day of April, 1919, and before the license so granted was issued, your petitioner paid to the county treasurer of said county the full annual license fee of $100.00" assumes this allegation of fact to be true.

That the petitioner is not entitled to the decree prayed for under the Act of May 8, 1919, P. L. 107, is clear under authority of Burkel's Petition in Re License Fee, 74 Pa. Sup. Ct. 416, and that the petitioner is not entitled to the decree under the Act of June 26, 1919, P. L. 673, is established in as much as the petitioner admits he did not surrender his license to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions, which admission under the language of said act is fatal to the petitioner.

DECREE.

And now, January 27, 1921, after argument and upon due consideration, the rule to show cause heretofore granted is discharged.

By The Court,
John A. Berkey, P. J.

In the Matter of the Petition of JOSEPH T. McCORMICK for Refund of Retail Liquor License Fees.

In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County, Pennsylvania.

To the HONORABLE JOHN A. BERKEY, President Judge of said Court:

The Petition of Joseph T. McCormick, of Windber Borough, in said County respectfully represents:

1. That on the 8th day of February 1919, he was duly granted a license by this Court, to sell vinous, spirituous, malt and brewed liquors at retail, according to the provisions of the Act of May 13, 1887, P. L. 109, known as the Brooks License Law, which said license became effective on the first day of April 1919, that will expire on the first day of April, 1920.

2. That prior hereto and before the license so granted was issued, your petitioner paid to the County Treasurer of said County the full annual license fee of $200.00 for the year ending April 1, 1920.

3. That on the first day of July 1919, by reason of the enforcement of various federal laws and regulations, he was prevented from selling under the license granted by this Court, the liquors hereinbefore mentioned, whereupon, on said date, he abandoned the sale of all liquors the sale of which was provided for in said license, closed up his place of business, and from the date mentioned until the present time fully surrendered all of his rights and privileges under said license, and has never since said date exercised any right thereunder. And he avers, that through inadvertance only he failed to make an actual surrender of said license to the Clerk of this Court, and he now offers to surrender the same.

He, therefore, prays the Court to make an order and decree, directing the County Treasurer of Somerset County to refund to him the sum of $150.00, being the portion of the license fee paid by him for such license for the year ending April 1, 1920, based upon the unexpired portion of said year during which no rights under said license were exercised by him, to which he is entitled under the provisions of the Act of Assembly, approved June 26, 1919, P. ANSWER

Now April 19, 1920 comes Marling M. Shober, Treasurer of Somerset County, Pennsylvania and to the petition filed in the above stated proceedings to the above mentioned number and term, makes answer as follows:

1. He neither admits nor denies the allegations set forth in the first paragraphs of the said petition but asks proof of same by the records of the Court of Quarter Sessions.

2. To the second paragraphs of said petition he states that on the 31st day of January, 1920, he received $16.67 in payment of petitioner's monthly installment of license fee for the month of February, 1920, in accordance with Act of 1919 P. L. 10, but received no other license fees from or on behalf of said petitioner before or since said date.

In further answer to the statement of license fee paid by petitioner, he says, that he entered upon the duties of his office on Monday the 5th day of January, 1920, and if said full license fee was paid to the County Treasurer as alleged, it must have been paid to his predecessor in office, John W. Rephorn, and therefore demands proof of the allegations of said paragraph 2.

3. To the third paragraph of the petition, he makes answer, that he is not acquainted with the matters of fact or law alleged therein and therefore demands proof thereof upon the hearing of this proceeding before the Court; all of said acts of failures to act, having occurred prior to his term of office as County Treasurer of Somerset County aforesaid.

4. Respondent further alleges that all payments which were made to him, to-wit, $16.67, were voluntary payments and not upon his solicitation or demand, and is informed and believes, that all payments made to his predecessor in office, John W. Rephorn, were likewise made voluntarily.

SUPPLEMENTAL ANSWER.

Now, July 7th, 1920, comes Marling M. Shober, Treasurer of Somerset County, Pennsylvania, and for further answer to the second paragraph of the petition of Joseph T. McCormick for Refund of Liquor License Fees, says:

1. That the actual facts with regard to the payment of retail liquor license fees into the hands of his predecessor, John W. Rephorn, were not known to him at the time of the filing of the original answer.

2. That the full annual license fee of $200.00 for the year ending April 1, 1920, was not paid into the hands of the then County Treasurer, John W. Rephorn, but was on the contrary paid as follows:

March 25, 1919 for three months fifty ($50.00) dollars.
June 20, 1919 for two months thirty-three and ($33.79)
Aug. 23, 1919 for two months thirty-three and ($33.34)
Oct. 28, 1919 for two months thirty-three and ($33.34)
Dec. 30, 1919 for one month sixteen and ($16.67)

and on Jan. 31, 1920 for one month as recited in the original answer, sixteen and ($16.67) dollars.

In re Petition of Joseph T. McCormick for refund of retail Liquor License fee. } In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County, Pennsylvania. No. 58 February Sessions 1919.

OPINION OF THE COURT SUR PETITION FOR DECREE OR REFUND.

The petitioner alleges that on February 8, 1919, he was granted a license by this court to sell liquors at retail, which license dated from the first day of April, 1919. effective for a period of one year; that prior to and before the license was issued, the petitioner paid the county treasurer of said county the full annual license fee of $200.00; that on the first day of July, 1919, by reason of the enforcement of various Federal laws and regulations, he was prevented from selling under the license granted by this court; whereupon on said date he abandoned the sale of all liquors, closed up his place of business and from said date until the date of filing of this petition, March 29, 1920, surrendered all of his rights and privileges under said license; further he avers that through inadvertence only he failed to make an actual surrender of said license to the Clerk of this Court and now offers to surrender the same, and prays "the court to make an order and decree directing the county treasurer of Somerset County to refund to him the sum of $150.00, being the portion of the license fee paid for such license year, based on the unexpired portion of said year during which no rights under said license were exercise by him. The court awarded a rule upon the state treasurer, the auditor general of Pennsylvania, and upon the county treasurer of Somerset County to show cause why the refund should not be made as prayed for, returnable the third Monday of April, 1920. The rule was duly served and the auditor general and the state treasurer made no answer, but the county treasurer made answer avering that the petitioner did not pay the annual license fee prior to the issue of the license, but that the fee was paid in six separate installments. With the record in this case appear the receipts of the county treasurer to the petitioner which agree with the averments contained in the answer of the county treasurer.

The petitioner contends that he is entitled to the refund by virtue of the respective acts of assembly approved May 8, 1919, P. L. 167, and the act of June 26, 1919, P. L. 673, as he is affected by the Act of Congress of November 21, 1918. By the prayer contained in this petition hereinfore quoted, it is clear that the decree prayed for must be refused under the authority of Burkel's Petition in Re License Fee, 74, Pa. Sup. Ct. 416; neither is he entitled to the decree prayed for under the facts of this case under the Act of June 26, 1919, P. L. 673. Section 1 provides: "That any  retail dealer—licensed under the laws of this Commonwealth  to retail any vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquor or any admixtures thereof, who has heretofore paid at or before the time the license was issued, the full annual license fee  (and) surrendered such license fee to the clerk of the court of quarter sessions out of which the license isued, thereupon such licensee shall be entitled to receive from the county, the municipality and the Commonwealth as a refund for such surrendered license a portion of such license fee  based upon the unexpired portion of the year for which such license was granted."

The petitioner has failed (1) to pay at or before the time the license was issued the full annual license fee; and (2) the petitioner has failed to surrender such license to the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions out of which the license issued; either or both of which facts is fatal to the petitioner; and while the establishment of the fact that the fee was paid in installments is somewhat irregular, the fact that he did not surrender the license to the Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions is admitted by him.

DECREE.

And now, January 27, 1921, after argument and upon due consideration, the rule to show cause heretofore granted is discharged.

BY THE COURT,
John A. Berkey, P. J.

To which action of the court the petitioner excepts and at his request bill sealed.

Sept. 12, 1924, Defendant pleads guilty et de hoc; whereupon the Court made the following order:

The above case was set for trial on Thursday September 11, 1924, but upon representations made by the defendant that he would come into court on Saturday, September 13, 1924, and enter a plea of guilty of the charge laid in the indictment against him, the case was continued until said date at 1:30 in the afternoon. The case was then called by the District Attorney for sentence. Whereupon, Counsel, before plea entered, called the attention of the Court to the fact that there never had been an information lodged against the defendant in the case, and that was ground for quashing the indictment; whereupon, an agreement was made by the District Attorney and Counsel for the defendant that he would enter a plea of guilty to the charge notwithstanding the irregularities in the beginning of the prosecution, and that the sentence of the Court should be postponed until Saturday previous to the second Monday in December, upon payment of the costs by the defendant, when final disposition would be made of the case upon request of the District Attorney, and what action should then be taken or recommended by the District Attorney, Counsel agree should be determined by the conduct of the defendant from this ate until then; and furthermore, that the fine and costs to No. 53 May Term 1924, should be paid in the interim.

FACTS FOR THE INVESTOR

The Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company's Electric Road is a rapid transit development projected in a section which is now the scene of the greatest bituminous coal exploitation in Pennsylvania. Somerset County mines yield the coal which gives the best analysis for steaming fuel of any seams in Pennsylvania. Surveys by United States geological experts, carefully checked up and counterchecked, show that the fuel beds in Somerset County will last for more than 100 years at the present tremendous rate of output and shipment—approximately twelve million tons a year.

This extraordinary mining development is backed by the most prosperous farming area to be found anywhere in the State. Towns are springing up constantly; demand for interurban rapid transit, with ever-increasing need for freight and express transportation, insures the Johnstown & Somerset Railway, when completed steadily growing, profitable traffic. Indeed, the line would have been completed several years ago, but for the industrial and development stoppage due to World War Activities in this country and the consequent profound effect on our money, labor and material markets.

ROUTE

The Johnstown & Somerset Railway will connect Johnstown the Northern Terminal, in Cambria County, located on the Pennsylvania Railroad Main Line, with Rockwood, the Southern Terminal, in Somerset County, located on the Baltimore & Ohio and Western Maryland Railroads. The line when completed will be thirty-six (36) miles in length, and is a connecting link between the three trunk lines above mentioned.

The Johnstown & Somerset Railway will run through Kelso, Davidsville, Holsopple, Woodstown, Hyasota, Jerome, Pilltown, Boswell, Acosta, Ferrellton, Jenners, Harrison, Somerset, Edgewood, Milford and Shamrock to Rockwood.

Six miles of the line has been constructed between Kelso and Holsopple and for a year past has been operating, carrying from five to six thousand passengers per month. Connection with the Wimber Line at Kelso involves a traffic arrangement whereby the company operates in Johnstown, a distance of five miles into the heart of the business district of the city.

Every move made by the Company thus far has been warmly received by the public and by other transportation lines, proving conclusively that the Johnstown & Somerset Railway has entered a waiting field, rich in traffic business and certain to furnish still more business as a result of the further development made possible by the line when entirely completed and in operation.

While Johnstown's Census Bureau population is 75,000, the city is the center of a population, residing in a contiguous built-up area, of more than 105,000 persons. The importance of the Johnstown Traffic Field is proved by the fact that the Johnstown & Somerset Railway's connection is made with the Johnstown Traction Company, on local service, and from that city the Southern Cambria Railway maintains service to Ebensburg and Nanty-Glo. In addition, the Windber Line brings into the Traffic Field the districts of Windber, Scalp Level, and Paint Boroughs, with a population of more than 20,000, while several towns along that line still further increase the traffic service demand represented by the Johnstown environment, and which will directly contribute to the revenues of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway.

The development of new coal operations almost daily in the territory to be served insures a steady growth which cannot be limited or even measured. Each development represents a mining town, and as these spring up the demand for traffic service facilities is constantly increasing. Probably in no other scetion of the United States is development more urgent or promising or is there a larger crowded into so limited an area. The fact that for every mile of interurban line now in operation and to be served by the Company's electric road, there is a patronage-producing population of more than 1,250 persons is in itself bona fide, undeniable proof of the traffic business prospects of this region. These traction business prospects, once realized through the completion of an electric railway line, will mean assured returns on investments.

The road passes through many towns having no other railroad service or service limited to carload lots. It passes through a section of the country not served by the Baltimore & Ohio Railway, nor are there improved highways near the route of the line, save for a few miles at the north.

MAIL AND EXPRESS

The line is now carrying United States Mail and has assurances from the Post Office Department that the Company shall have the mail-carrying privilege along its entire route. The Express Company has made a similar tender on all its business between Johnstown and Rockwood, in all the towns it touches. The steam railroads now operating in the zone are agreeable to the changes, because thereby they will enjoy increased long-distance haulage.

INVESTMENT FEATURE

The resumption of work brings the project into the investment market, and hence this statement of the actual facts of a situation which is one of the most promising and inviting in the entire United States. On passenger and freight service patronage the development situation is proof positive of business waiting to be handled.

The Fairmont & Clarksburg and the Greensburg & Uniontown Interurban Lines, operating within a radius of 100 miles, have proved highly profitable. The Greensburg & Uniontown Road not only retired its Bond Issue within a short time, but has earned as high as 27 per cent annually on the common stock. The Greensburg & Uniontown Line operates in the county adjoining Cambria and Somerset counties on the west and caters to the same kind of population as will be served by the Johnstown & Somerset Electric Road. The success achieved by the Greensburg & Uniontown Electric Road is only an indication of the possibilities awaiting the Johnstown and Somerset Line.

The adjoining Western State of Ohio as well as the State of Indiana are a net work of interurban railways.

The intensified stage of industrial and agricultural development of these states can be attributed mainly to the fact, that progressive and broad minded citizens realize the urgent necessity and demand of rapid and frequent transportation facilities.

The liberal and quick response received by the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Co., in disposing of its securities is no doubt due to the full realization by the people of this vicinity, that population and development follow transportation facilities, and that increase in land values that cannot be measured follows population.

The Bonds offered by this Company are secured by First Mortgage upon the entire assets of the Company. The Company owns its right-of-way in fee. Its franchises are granted for a period of Sixty Years, supported by provisions for Renewal. The sixty-year term is greater than twice the life of the Bonds and with its Renewal Provision is practically perpetual.

Railway Bonds rank highest of any public utility securities and are recommended in preference to all other securities by the Leading Financial Institutions of the United States.

We are offering for a Limited Time, subject to withdrawal at the option of the Board of Directors, our Bond as follows:

On subscription of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars we will issue Five Thousand ($5.000.00) Dollars of Par Value Bonds and Twenty-five Hundred ($2,500.00) Dollars, of common Stock. All other subscriptions on the above ratio.

PROGRESS OF THE LINE

The Board of Directors, in view of reduced cost of material and labor, and prompted further by the amount of business the road has been doing, has determined to push the construction of the road at once and drive the project through to an early completion. Four miles, from Holsopple to Jerome, the grade of which was completed two years ago, will be finished within ninety days.

Two carloads of rails were required for the one mile of track already laid and surfaced, between Holsopple and Jerome.

The Board of Directors of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company, at its meeting June 16, 1921, awarded the contract to Adam Laidlow & Co., of Pittsburgh, to grade line and build culverts and bridges from the end of the present grade, which is at the lower end of Jerome, to the Lincoln Highway by way of Boswell.

Work on this contract is to begin as soon as the contractors can get on the ground, which must not be later than July 1, 1921, and the work to be completed within ninety days, save the large bridge over the Quemahoning Ravine at Boswell, which will require a longer time to complete. The Company plans to have in operation the entire additional link of nine miles from Holsopple to the Lincoln Highway via Boswell by the end of the year.

The construction of the line will be under the personal supervision of U. S. Houck, who has had more than thirty years' experience as an engineer for the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Santa Fe Railroad and for Charles Sims & Company of Philadelphia, the latter firm the most prominent construction engineers in the United States.

The sound and strong Directorate of the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company, consisting of wealthy and prominent residents of this region, will have the advice and executive assistance of an additional body known as the Board of Governors. The Board of Governors is composed of widely known men of successful affairs of the entire environment. The company is certain that the addition of the Governing Board will strengthen its affairs in every way and most favorable brought to public notice in this section for many years.

The Public is invited to inspect the portion of the road that has been completed and being operated, which is to be the standard of construction for the entire line.

Prudent Persons who can realize and interpret what they see will at once become convinced that the Bonds we offer are not only Safe Investments, but give every assurance of being highly profitable and desirable.

Very Respectfully Submitted,
Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company,
J. A. Berkey, President.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Since construction work was started last month between Holsopple and Jerome, by the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, three miles of track has been laid and surfaced, and the ballasting on this stretch has begun.

The additional mile of road to be graded, and the track laid and surfaced into Jerome should be completed by the first of September.

The Bridge at Jerome is now under construction, as well as the Bridge at Pilltown. All overhead wire has been purchased. All poles have been bought, most of them delivered, and the digging of holes and setting of poles has begun. Ten thousand ties have been purchased. The Company now negotiating for the purchase for all overhead work.

All rights of way between Jerome and Boswell have been bought and paid for.

Mr. J. C. Knavel, Windber, Pa.

My dear Mr. Knavel: I beg to say that the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company has been operating six miles of its road since May 29th, 1920. Since then, the earnings of the Company have increased 150% over the first month's earnings, and at present the Company is earning at the rate of $4,000.00 per mile gross, annually. Within a year the Railway will be completed to the Lincoln Highway, when we will have fifteen and two-fifths miles of our own track, plus five miles over the tracks of the Johnstown Traction Company to City Hall, Johnstown, or an operation of twenty and two-fifths miles.

The Company is now carrying mails to Boswell, and has assurance from the Postal authorities that we shall have all their business into towns our line touches. Furthermore, we have assurances by the American Express Company of its business, and the freight business that we shall then have, will be worth as much as the passenger business.

Under these circumstances, there is no reason why, after operating from the Lincoln Highway, our Railway should not earn a gross sum of $8,000.00 per mile annually. Such earnings would be sufficient to pay the operating expenses, the interest on the Bonds, five percent (5%) interest on the stock, plus a substantial amount to the sinking fund. I believe these securities promise, by 1925, to be as good producers of revenue as the average bank stock in Somerset County.

Very truly yours,
J. A. Berkey,

Pres. Johnstown & Somerset Railway Co.,

Mr. J. C. Knavel, Windber, Pa.

My dear Mr. Knavel: I beg leave to call your attention to the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, as to its past, present and future prospects. I have been the President of this Company since its incorporation, and I am pleased that you believe in the securities of this railway as an investment as well as being a friend and loyal supporter of the writer, personally, which I much appreciate.

This proposition, like every progressive movement, has had its "knockers", and due to reports that have been circulated in the past by these people, as well as other asperions now being cast upon the proposition, I beg further to state that I have invested my savings in this proposition, all of which now are intact in this Company; as I have never offered for sale my individual securities, nor shall I do so, for I believe that these securities ultimately will be as good as any banking securities in Somerset County.

I trust that the Railway Company, as well as the writer, can count on your continued support, and co-operation in the future, and being financially interested, would urge you to defend the Railway Company when attacked by the "knockers", if there be any, who have no interest in the road, never did anything for their community, or the County in which they live, and who are too self-centered and selfish to be interested in their neighbors and their success.

The Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company has six miles of its road in operation, the earnings of which are beyond my expectations. Four miles additional have been graded three miles of rails have been laid, surfaced and ballasted, and in less than ninety days the Company will be perating its cars from Jerome to City Hall, in Johnstown, a distance of fifteen miles. The work southward from Jerome to the Lincoln Highway, by way of Boswell, is progressing very nicely, and we hope to be able to operate cars to Quemahoning Creek bridge, at the Boswell Borough line, by New Year.

I desire that at any time you are in Somerset you would take the time to call upon me, for it would be a pleasure for me to discuss with you our mutual interests in the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company.

Very truly yours,
J. A. Berkey,

My dear Mr. McMillen: I want to thank you for your kind words of expression and sentiments conveyed to my representative Mr. A. M. Kirshbaum, who reported to me that he had a very pleasant interview with you and to assure you that same is appreciated by me.

I would call over and see you personally, but my official and other duties makes it imperative that I send my representatives personally to thank you and my other friends for their loyal support in one of the biggest enterprises ever put through in Somerset County. It is such men as yourself, whom I can depend upon, and no doubt you are aware that you have been placed upon the Board of Governors as one of the Founders of the Road, which in my opinion will be one of the best dividend payers when completed than any line of its size in the United States.

We are completing the Board of Directors, which will consist of ten of the most prominent and influential citizens and among my most loyal supporters, and I am taking the liberty of extending to you my personal invitation to qualify as a Member of this Board, and to represent me in your section, as to the governing of the road. My representative will explain to you in detail just how your acceptance will be taken care of, which I assure you will in no way discommode or inconvenience you in the least, as I want your advice and assistance on matters which will be of mutual benefit to us both.

Again thanking you for your loyalty and kind expressions toward myself, and trusting that you will close and accept the Directorship with my representative, as it is very important that I complete the Board at once, I am with kind your full amount of Bonds and Stock subscribed for. My dear Mr. Gower: Yours of July 28th received yesterday, and I am sending to you the bearer of this letter, Mr. C. E. Lohman, as my personal representative, to see you in reference thereto.

The writer was heartily appreciative of your loyal support and co-operation in our Railway project, and the Company considered it a pleasure to add your name to the Board of Governors. We trust that after your interview with Mr. Lohman, and everything has been explained to you in detail, you will be entirely satisfied with your investment.

Again thanking you for your loyal support and hoping that you will favor me with a visit when you are again in Somerset, I remain

Very truly yours,

Mr. James L. Gower, Harnedsville, Pa.

My dear Mr. Gower: I beg leave to call your attention to the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company, as to its past, present and future prospects. I have been the President of this Company since its incorporation, and I am pleased that you believe in the Securities of this Railway as an investment as well as being a friend and loyal supporter of the writer, personally, which I much appreciate.

This proposition, like every pregressive movement, has had its "knockers", and due to reports that have been circulated in the past by these people, as well as other aspersions now being cast upon the proposition, I beg further to state that I have invested my savings in this proposition, all of which now are intact in this Company; as I have never offered for sale my individual Securities, nor shall I do so, for I believe that these securities ultimately will be as good as any banking Securities in Somerset County.

I trust that the Railway Company, as well as the writer, can count on your continued support and co-operation in the future, and being financially interested, would urge you to defend the Railway Company when attacked by the "knockers", if there be any, who have no interest in the road, never did anything for their community, or the County in which they live, and who are too self-centered and selfish to be interested in their neighbors and their success.

The Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company has six miles of its road in operation, the earnings of which are beyond my expectations. Four miles additional have been graded, three miles of rails have been laid, surfaced and ballasted, and in less than ninety days the Company will be operating its cars from Jerome to City Hall, in Johnstown, a distance of fifteen miles. The work southward from Jerome to the Lincoln Highway, by way of Boswell, is progressing very nicely, and we hope to be able to operate cars to Quemahoning Creek bridge, at the Boswell Borough line, by New Year.

I desire that at any time you are in Somerset you would take the time to call upon me, for it would be a pleasure for me to discuss with you our mutual interests in the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company.

Very truly yours,
J. A. Berkey,
Pres. Johnstown & Somerset Railway Co.

Mr. James L. Gower, Harnedsville, Pa.

My dear Mr. Gower: I beg to say that the Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company has been operating six miles of its road since May 29th, 1920. Since then, the earnings of the Company have increased 150% over the first month's earnings, and at present the Company is earning at the rate of $4,000.00 per mile gross, annually. Within a year the Railway will be completed to the Lincoln Highway, when we will have fifteen and two-fifths miles of our tracks, plus five miles over the tracks of the Johnstown Traction Company to City Hall, Johnstown, or an operation of twenty and two-fifths miles.

The Company is now carrying mails to Boswell, and has assurance from the Postal authorities that we shall have all their business into towns our line touches. Furthermore we have assurances by the American Express Company of its business, and the freight business that we shall then have, will be worth as much as the passenger business.

Under these circumstances, there is no reason why, after operating of $8,000.00 per mile annually. Such earnings would be sufficient to pay the operating expenses, the interest on the Bonds, five percent (5%) interest on the Stock, plus a substantial amount to the sinking fund. I believe these Securities promise, by 1925, to be as good producers of revenue as the average bank stock in Somerset County.

Very truly yours,
J. A. Berkey,
Pres. Johnstown & Somerset Railway Co.

IN THE COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS OF SOMERSET COUNTY, PENNSYLVANIA.

Commonwealth vs Nunzio Pacifico } No. 40 February Sessions, 1923.

OPINION OF THE COURT SUR MOTIONS FOR NEW TRIAL AND ARREST OF JUDGMENT.

The indictment under which the defendant was convicted charges that he did unlawfully sell, offer for sale, transport, manufacture, furnish and possess intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. The only testimony offered by the Commonwealth in support of the charge against the defendant was by M. R. Leckemby, county detective, who testified in chief (see notes of testimony page 6): "I saw the operation of the still in the back room, and from the fumes that was in the room I knew there was whiskey being distilled in the building. I could smell it from the outside. I saw about six or eight inches of the coil and there was a jug setting on the floor and the whiskey was dropping into the gallon jug, and it was probably about one-third full where it had dropped." On cross examination he testified: "Well, it (the coil) extended out what I could see by looking through the door, about six or eight inches and was leading to a gallon jug." He was then asked: "Was there any fire under this still? A. Well, I don't know anything about that. Q. Was whiskey dropping out or was it water? A. I don't know that". In Re-direct examination, in reply to a question by the district attorney he said: "It was moonshine whiskey." This was the only competent evidence offered by the Commonwealth to establish the offense charged in the indictment.

The defendant, at the close of the Commonwealth's testimony, moved the court to direct a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the evidence introduced by the Commonwealth was not sufficient to warrant a conviction upon any of the offenses charged in the bill of indictment. This motion the court overruled, when the defendant called numerous witnesses who testified in contradition of the evidence by Mr. Leckemby, the county detective. The court is of opinion that the defendant's motion offered at the close of the Commonwealth's testimony should have been sustained; wherefore, the first reason in defendant's motion in arrest of judgment is sustained. The county is directed to pay the record costs.

COMPLAINANT'S EXHIBIT No. 61.

Commonwealth vs Nunzio Pacifico	In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County Pa. No. 40 February Sessions, 1923.

CHARGE OF THE COURT,

Tuesday, May 15, 1923.

GENTLEMEN OF THE JURY: The Commonwealth in this bill of indictment charges that on the first day of January, 1923, within the jurisdiction of this court, Nunzio Pacifico did unlawfully sell, offer for sale, transport, manufacture, furnish and possess intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. Any sale that took place that is properly proven two years prior to the 30th day of April, 1923, is within the purview of the offense laid in the indictment, though the first day of January is specifically laid therein.

Every defendant in a criminal case goes upon his trial with the presumption of innocence in his favor and the burden is upon the Commonwealth to establish the offense or offenses charged in the bill of indictment by competent, credible evidence beyond a reasonable doubt. A reasonable doubt is defined to be that doubt which remains in the minds of the jury when after a careful consideration, analysis and comparison of all the evidence in the case leaves their minds in such condition that they are neither morally certain of the defendant's guilt not morally certain of his innocence. The evidence in this case produced on the part of the Commonwealth is only with reference to the matter of sale and manufacture of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes, and those are the only two factors in this indictment that are properly before you under the evidence, and the court instructs you as a matter of law that there is no such sufficient evidence in this case to warrant the court in submitting to you to determine the guilt or innocence of this defendant on the matter of a sale, and the court instructs you that there can be no conviction on a sale. The Commonwealth put a witness on the stand seeking to prove a sale, and he has said that he had bought liquor in the defendant's house from another man but not in the presence of this defendant. Then the District Attorney raised the question that he had been suprised, that the witness had stated otherwise to him and the county detective at another time and other place, and the court permitted them both to testify to the contradictory statement that the witness had made, but that testimony of the District Attorney and the county detective is not substantive evidence, it only neutralizes the evidence of the witness that contradicts and neturailzes his evidence and takes the evidence out of the case and you have no testimony as to the sale; that is the rule of law when a witness testifies and is contradicted under the circumstances that was presented in this case. Therefore, the only matter that you have for your consideration under all the evidence bearing thereon is. was this defendant engaged in the manufacture of intoxicating liquors at any time two years prior to the 30th day of April last, the date this bill was found by the grand jury? The county detective testified alone that he saw a part of a still from which there was liquor dropping into a jug or jar that was partially filled by that process. In corroboration of that statement the Commonwealth adds a circumstance as it alleges, and that is that the county detective and the constable both smelled the fumes of liquor and that is competent evidence for you to consider in connection with the statement of the county detective that he saw a portion of a still and what followed, because it is known in the realm of human experience that man have lived that are in this jury box when licenses were in vogue all over the country and it was legal to sell, and they became more or less acquainted with the circumstances that surround a place infested or infected with intoxicating liquors; and you will have that testimony as a circumstance and give it such weight and such consideration in connection with the statement of the county detective as to what he saw as your judgment and experience as reasonable men dictates. On the other hand, the defendant says that it is true that he lived in the village of Jerome; that he had a building there that was occupied by him as a residence and a store; that there were basement rooms, and there was a miners' strike during the last year, and at the time of this alleged manufacture or the discovery thereof, that he had permitted the miners to make his basement room a place of comfort where they could meet socially and while away the time; and he says that he had no liquor in the place; that he manufactured none; that the statement of the county detective is an error or a mistake, and in that assertion he called the men that frequented the place who corroborated him as to the denial that he was engaged in the manufacture of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. There you have the issue. You will take into consideration all the circumstances that surround the affair on that day; the doors were all open; they were all unlocked; persons could come and go as they chose; did that indicate that the man was engaged in an illicit business or did it not so indicate? You will take all those matters into consideration and give them such weight as your general experience teaches you and determine that fact according to the evidence alone. You will not be influenced nor guided one feather's weight nor one whit by your own convictions upon this liquor question, the fact that you may believe that the law might be otherwise, on the one hand that it ought to exist as it is and on the other hand you, believe that it ought not, that must have nothing to do with your deliberations, your convictions upon the moral question, the right or wrong of handling of liquor will have nothing whatever to do with it; you will consider nothing except what came from the witnesses upon the stand, the instructions of the court; supplemented by such weight as the arguments of the counsel are persuasive upon the testimony you heard from the witness and the law that was given you by the court. The credibility of the witnesses is alone for you; you will take into consideration the interest or lack of interest, the bias or lack of bias, the prejudice or lack of prejudice either or all of the witnesses may have in testifying in this case. You will consider their manner upon the stand; you will consider the opportunities that the respective witnesses have had to know the facts concerning which they testified, and consider all the evidence in the case and the law as the court has laid it down to you and render a fair and just verdict. If you find the defendant guilty of manufacturing liquor, then your verdict, will be, "We find the defendant guilty in manner and form as he stands indicted." If you find him not guilty, you will so say, and in that event the question of costs is for your determination, for under the law in misdemeanors, the law says the jury shall pass upon the question of costs save only that when the prosecution is brought by a public officer in the proper discharge of his duty, you may not visit the costs upon the public officer; and we say to you as a matter of law that we think this investigation was proper and you will not place the costs upon the prosecuting officer; he represents the County of Somerset; and you will determine, if this defendant was wholly innocent of any wrong; if he didn't do anything that brought about this prosecution; if he didn't do anything that cast suspicion upon his acts and conduct, then he should not be visited with costs and you should put the costs upon the county, because it was brought by its officer, though properly, as we have said to you but if you find that there were such circumstances and such conduct that his conduct induced this officer to become suspicious of the surroundings and circumstances then he may be blamable and you may visit him with costs.

Is there any request for further charge?

By Mr. Truxal:

The Court said you should find him guilty as indicted if they find him guilty.

By the Court:

Yes, there is only one count here and your verdict should be, if you find him guilty, "we find him guilty in manner and form as he stands indicted."

You may retire and return your verdict.

Now, to-wit, May 15, 1923, before verdict, counsel for the defendant except to the charge of the court, and request that the same, together with the notes of evidence be transcribed by the stenographer, filed by him, and made a part of the records in this case, and at their request a bill is sealed.

Nuncio Pacifico

Before me, the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace, in and for said County, personally came M. R. Leckemby who upon oath administered according to law, deposes and says that at Jerome in the County of Somerset, on the first day of July A. D. 191 and on divers other dates and times before as well as since said date the defendant did sell, offer for sale, transport, manufacture, furnish and possess intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. This information received which I believe to be true.

Complainant therefore prays and desires that a warrant may issue and the aforesaid Defendant Nuncio Pacifico may be arrested and held to answer this charge of Violating Liquor Law, of 1921. And further deponent saith not.

M. R. Leckemby, Complainant sworn to and subscribed before me, this 13th day of October, 1921.

In Re: Discharge of Defendant on Probation

UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THE ACT OF ASSEMBLY APPROVED THE 19th DAY OF JUNE, A. D. 1911.

And now, to-wit, January 9th, 1922, after an investigation of the circumstances in the above case and the former good character of the defendant, and the Court being satisfied that the defendant should be given an opportunity to show that he should not be classed as a criminal, to this end imposition of sentence is postponed, and he is placed on probation for a period of one year .... on the following terms and conditions:

Payment of costs and fine.

That he will accept supervision of his conduct by and under the advice of W. Scott Matthews, Somerset, Pa. Probation Officer, to whom he shall report at such times and places as said probation officer may require, who will aid him in his purpose to lead an industrious and reputable life.

That he will immediately seek and obtain reputable employment and that he will not depart from the territorial limits of the jurisdiction of this Court without the leave thereof.

That he will abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors during the period of his probation, and that he will keep good company and indulge in no bad habits.

If at the end of the probationary period the Court, after investigation and having a report of his conduct from the Probation Officer, shall find that he has compiled with the terms and conditions of his probation, he will be entitled to an honorable discharge from his probation and allowed to go free of the charge in this case made against him.

If at any time during said term of probation, or at the termination thereof, the Court finds that he has violated the terms and conditions of his probation, a process will be issued for his arrest, and, upon being brought before the Court, sentence will be imposed.

The proposed sentence in the case is Imprisonment in the County Jail

John A. Berkey,
President Judge.

And now, to-wit, ...day of.... 192 , it appearing to the Court that the defendant is at this time without means to pay the costs, the same are hereby directed to be placed on the County; and that as a further condition of his probation, the defendant is ordered to deposit with the above-named Probation Officer the sum of.....Dollars per month until the full amount of said costs is paid; the money thus deposited, to-wit, ...Dollars shall be paid to the County of Somerset by the Probation Officer quarterly.

vs.
Nuncio Pacifico.

Before me, the subscriber, a Justice of the Peace, in and for said County, personally came M. R. Leckemby who upon oath administered according to law, deposes and says that at Jerome in the County of Somerset, on the July day of 29, A. D. 1923 and at divers others dates and times, the defendant did unlawfully manufacture, sell, offer for sale, barter, furnish and possess intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes.

This information made on information received from John McHugh State Police which I expect to be able to prove on trial of the case.

Complainant therefore prays and desires that a warrant may issue and the aforesaid defendant Nuncio Pacifico may be arrested and held to answer this charge of Violating the Liquor Law. And further deponent saith not. M. R. Leckemby, Complainant, Co. Detective, sworn to and subscribed before me, this 29th day of Aug. 1923.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. Nuncio Pacifico	In the Court of Quarte Sessions of Somerset County Pennsylvania. No. 40 Feb ruary Sessions, 1923.

MOTION FOR NEW TRIAL.

And now, May 17, 1923, the defendant respectfully move the Court for a rule to show cause why a new trial shoul not be granted in the above stated case, for the followin reasons:

1. The verdict is against the evidence.
2. The verdict is against the weight of the evidence.
3. The verdict is against the law of the case.
4. The verdict is against the charge of the Court.
5. The evidence introduced by the Commonwealth was n sufficient to warrant the submission of the issue involve for the determination of the jury, and does not support th finding of the jury by their verdict.
6. The bill of indictment, under which the defendant wa tried and convicted, was laid and founded under and upon repeal statute, to-wit: the Act of May 5, 1921, P. L. 40 commonly called the "Woner Act."

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania vs. Nuncio Pacifico	In the Court of Quart Sessions of Somerset Count Pennsylvania. No. 40 Fe ruary Sessions, 1923.

MOTION IN ARREST OF JUDGMENT.

And now, May 17, 1923, after verdict against the abov named defendant, and before sentence, the said defendar by his attorneys, respectfully move the Court to arrest jud ment herein, and not pronounce the same, for the following reasons:

1. The evidence introduced by the Commonwealth was not sufficient to warrant the submission of the case to the jury, and is not sufficient to support the verdict of the jury.

2. The defendant was arrested, indicted, tried and convicted under an Act of Assembly, to-wit: the Act of May 5, 1921, P. L. 407, commonly called the "Woner Act," which said Act of Assembly was expressly repealed by the Act of March 27, 1923; and, therefore, said conviction is without warrant of law.

3. The evidence introduced by the Commonwealth does not support the averments and allegations contained in above indictment.

4. Because no judgment against the said defendant can be lawfully rendered upon said record in the above case.

Boose and Boose,

In the Court of Quarter Sessions of Somerset County, Pennsylvania.

Commonwealth vs Nunzio Pacifico } No. 40 February Sessions, 1923.

Opinion of the Court Sur Motions for New Trial and Arrest of Judgment.

The indictment under which the defendant was convicted charges that he did unlawfully sell, offer for sale, transport, manufacture, furnish and posses intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes. The only testimony offered by the Commonwealth in support of the charge against the defendant was by M. R. Leckemby, county detective, who testified in chief (see notes of testimony page 6): "I saw the operation of the still in the back room, and from the fumes that was in the room I knew there was whiskey being distilled in the building. I could smell it from the outside. I saw about six or eight inches of the coil and there was a jug setting on the floor and the whiskey was dropping into the gallon jug, and it was probably about one-third full where it had dropped". On cross examination he testified: "Well, it (the coil) extended out what I could see by looking through the door, about six or eight inches and was leading to a gallon jug." He was then asked: "Was there any fire under this still? A. Well, I don't know anything about that. Q. Was whiskey dropping out or was it water? A. I don't know that." In Re-direct examination, in reply to a question by the district attorney he said: "It was moonshine whiskey." This was the only competent evidence offered by the Commonwealth to establish the offense charged in the indictment.

The defendant, at the close of the commonwealth's testimony moved the court to direct a verdict of not guilty on the ground that the evidence introduced by the commonwealth was not sufficient to warrant a conviction upon any of the offenses charged in the bill of indictment. This motion the court overruled, when the defendant called numerous witnesses who testified in contradiction of the evidence by Mr. Leckemby, the county detective. The court is of opinion that the defendant's motion offered at the close of the commonwealth's testimony should have been sustained; wherefore, the first reason in defendant's motion in arrest of judgment is sustained. The county is directed to pay the record costs.

By the Court,

Johnstown & Somerset Railway Company, Use of First National Bank of Davidsville, Penn'a. vs. Peter Hoffman.	In the Court of Common Pleas of Somerset County, Penn'a. No. 311, May term, 1922.

OBJECTIONS TO READING OF DEPOSITIONS OF JOHN Y. ROBBINS TAKEN ON BEHALF OF PETER HOFFMAN.

Now, January 13th, 1925, the deposition of John Y. Robbins having been filed January 12th, 1925, the First National Bank of Davidsville, Pennsylvania, the use plaintix, by its attorney, C. L. Shaver, in accordance with Section 10 of Rule XX of the Rules of Court of Common Pleas of Somerset County, Pennsylvania, files the following objections thereto:

FIRST: There has been no compliance with the Rules of Court in regard to the issuing of the rule to take depositions with respect to Section 10, Rule XX of the Rules of Court of Somerset County which requires, in connection with Section 16 of said Rule, that the party desiring to take depositions of a witness wether within the State and out of the County, or without the State, shall first obtain leave of Court therefor, verified by an affidavit, which Rule was not observed in the above stated case.

SECOND: The use plaintiff having by its answer set forth a copy of a declaration by Peter Hoffman that there were no off-sets or conditions against the note in suit, which in effect is a certificate of no defense upon his part, not denied by him in the pleadings, and thereby having led the use plaintiff to purchase the note in quit upon such representation and declaration by him, the said Peter Hoffman he is thereby stopped from availing himself of any matters which took place between himself and the alleged agents of the Equitable Trust Company, or of the Johnstown and Somerset Railway Company; and the deposition of the said John Y. Robbins is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial to the present issue.

THIRD: The use plaintiff having merely agreed to waive the personal attendance by the parties, or their counsel, with direct examination and cross-examination of the witness, and agreed that the deposition might be taken upon interrogatories and cross-interrogatories, and the use plaintiff having submitted no cross-interrogatories, now further reserves until itself the benefit of the provisions of Section II of the aforesaid Rule XX of the Rules of Court of Somerset County in order that after said depositions are offered in evidence, it may further object to the admission of the same on the grounds of their incompetency and inadmissibility in accordance with the Rule of said court.

COMMONWEALTH vs NUNCIO PACIFICO	No. 56 September Sessions, 1921. Charge, Mfg. & Possessing Intox. Liquor. Prosecutor M. R. Leckemby

In Re Discharge of Defendant on Probation.

Under the provisions of the Act of Assembly approved the 19th day of June, A. D., 1911.

And now, to wit August 29th, 1921, after an investigation of the circumstances in the above case and the former good character of the defendant, and the court being satisfied that the defendant should be given an opportunity to show that he should not be classed as a criminal, to this end imposition of sentence is postponed, and he is placed on probation for a period of one year on the following terms and conditions: Pay costs of prosecution, a fine of $100 and report by letter once each month to probation officer.

That he will accept supervision of his conduct by and under the advice of W. Scott Matthews, Somerset, Pa., Probation Officer, to whom he shall report at such times and places as said probation officer, may require, who will aid him in his purpose to lead an industrious and reputable life.

That he will immediately seek and obtain reputable employment and that he will not depart from the territorial limits of the jurisdiction of this court without the leave thereof.

That he will abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors during the period his probation, and that he will keep good company and indulge in no bad habits.

If at the end of the probationary period the Court, after investigation and having a report of his conduct from the Probation Officer, shall find that he has complied with the terms and conditions of his probation, he will be entitled to an honorable discharge from his probation and allowed to go free of the charge in this case made against him.

If any time during said term of probation, or at the termination thereof, the Court find that he has violated the terms and conditions of his probation, a process will be issued for his arrest, and, upon being brought before the Court, sentence will be imposed.

The proposed sentence in the case is one year in county jail.
